RAZOR USED TO END LIFE

BY CONSTANCE FARMER — BODY IS FOUND BY WIFE OF VICTIM — WAS WORLD WAR VETERAN.

Frank Dolwick, 41 years old, ended his life at his home in Constance, early Tuesday by slashing his throat with a razor. Howard Huey, Petersburg, Boone County Magistrate, reported that Dolwick, a World War veteran, had suffered a nervous breakdown several weeks ago.

Huey said his investigation showed that Dolwick, without giving any indication of his intention, left his residence early Tuesday and entered an outhouse, where he ended his life. His body was found by his wife.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anna Marie Dolwick; a daughter, Kathryn; a son, Frankie; four sisters, Mrs. John Flottman Bethel Ohio, Mrs. John Kress, Ludlow and Mrs. George Tungate and Miss Alma Dolwick, both of Constance, and three brothers, John, Louis, and Alfred Dolwick, all of Constance.

Services will be held at the Constance Christian Church at 2:30 Friday afternoon, with Bullock and Catherman, Ludlow funeral directors in charge. Burial will be at Hebron.

RICHMOND QUINTET TO PLAY WESLEYAN TONIGHT

Richmond, Ky.—Having cut their vacation short by reporting to Coach Rome Rankin early last week, Eastern's Maroons are putting the finishing touch on their drills for the two conference tilts that they are to play this week. On Thursday, the Maroons entertain the Kentucky Wesleyan quinet at Richmond and on Saturday the Rankin men will travel to Danville to do battle with Centre's Colonels.

During the early drills the play of Ray Fritts, a newcomer to the Maroon fold this year from Cumberland Junior College, Bob Hatton, the elongated Hoosier lad that jumps center for the Maroons, and Les Voshell, a sophomore from Burlington, have stood out. However, Coach Rankin is not breaking up the combination that has won easily from a strong Alumni team and Transylvania. He is holding on to the machine composed of Woodie Hinkle and Tommy Scott at Forwards, Hatton at center, and Capt. Demmisey and Roy King at the guard posts.

With the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Basketball tournament only seven weeks away Eastern is beginning preparations for the biggest tourney that has ever been staged in the state. Eastern is the host college this year for the first time in the history of the school and nothing is being undone by tournament manager T. E. McDonough to insure a great tournament.

Last year Eastern was the runner-up in the state meet being nosed out by a great Western Kentucky Teachers team in the final tilt of the tourney at Bowling Green.

WEED PRICES ARE STEADY

AS MARKET REOPENS—TOBACCO TRADING HEAVY IN LEXINGTON—2,102,348 POUNDS SELL FOR AVERAGE OF $51.70.

Lexington, Ky., January 4—Reopening today after a ten-day recess, the Lexington tobacco market remained generally steady in disposing of 2,102,348 pounds of leaf for $1,086,922.83, an average of $51.70 a hundred pounds. The sale was the largest of the entire season, and marked the fifth consecutive daily average of more than $50.

The prices in the auctions today ranged upward to $73 a hundred, and although the very tops appeared from $1 to $2 lower than in the peak sales before the holidays, this drop was more than offset by the increased activity on the medium and common end. Some of the red and other medium and common tobaccos were as much as $4 to $6 a hundred higher than in any of the pre-Christmas auctions.

Several individual crop lots were sold today for averages of $70 and above, with the highest a consignment of 4,884 pounds that brought $71.07 a hundred.

The sales today sent the total volume of leaf disposed of on the market here this season to more than 20,000,000 pounds sold for $9,000,000.

A GOOD START FOR 1937

Yes, are off to a good start for the new year, too. In the past week this newspaper has received approximately fifty new subscribers, which is an exceptionally good record for one week. We have made no special effort to accomplish this record, but it seemed that that the new subscribers all wanted to start the year with their county newspaper.

Since this time last year, our subscription list has increased approximately 30 per cent, and we are very proud of this accomplishment. We hope that we can give you a still better paper for the coming year.

MRS. AGNES AFTERKIRK

Mrs. Agnes Afterkirk, aged 60 years, passed away Monday night at her home near Devon, Ky., after were removed to the Taliaferro Funeral Home for preparation. She is survived by her husband, Frank H. Afterkirk, two sons, Hugo and Frank Afterkirk.

The pallbearers were Frank, Hugo Afterkirk, John Loth, and Milford Afterkirk, Jr., and Senior.

Services were conducted Thursday at 2 o'clock, by Rev. Everett Bedinger, at the Taliaferro Funeral Home, interment following in the Hopeful cemetery.

TOBACCO IS DISCUSSED

ONE OF MAJOR SUBJECTS OF LEGISLATION HAS BEEN DELAYED THIS WEEK BY OTHER STATES.

A vote on repeal of the omnibus sales taxes on ice cream, soft drinks, nuts, candy, cosmetics and chewing gum occupied the minds of State Senators Tuesday at the meeting of the State Legislature, with a vote being promised late Tuesday.

The House Monday passed and sent to the Senate Representative John M. Hunnicutt's bill exempting building and loan associations from the income tax law.

The Senate had a hearing on a bill enlarging the powers of the State Revenue Department in collection of delinquent and omitted taxes.

One of the major subjects of the legislature, that of tobacco control, has been delayed this week because of the failure of a part of the burley growing states to agree to pass similar legislation. The bill here though will probably be introduced by Senator Ralph Gilbert of Shelbyville. At the present time, Ohio, Indiana and Missouri can not be counted upon to participate in the control program, according to Senator Gilbert.

The repeal of the omnibus tax law will be effected as soon as an agreement is reached on whether to insert the "emergency" clause which would make cessation of paying taxes immediately instead of waiting until 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature, Governor Chandler has asked that 90-days elapse before the bill is put into a law, while Senator John T. Murphy, Democrat, Kenton county, claims enough votes to insert the "emergency" clause.

MENINGITIS IS REPORTED IN VIRULENT FORM IN HARLAN

Harlan, Ky., Jan. 5—Dr. F. W. Caudill, state epidemiologist, told the Harlan County Board of Health today that the meningitis epidemic is "very virulent," pointing out 11 deaths in the 25 cases reported within the last 40 days.

The eleventh fatality from the disease was reported today at Wallins. A miner left home ill. He succumbed several hours later.

Dr. Caudill said cases were scattered and so far there appeared no tendency toward "localizing."

Health officials last week ordered all public gatherings, with the exception of schools, suspended in Harlan County. This action prevented a meeting of union miners at Evarts. A union miner convention at Middlesboro asked Governor Chandler to investigate the order.

EIGHT YEAR RECORD BROKEN

BY D. H. I. A. DAIRYMEN—COWS AVERAGE 345 POUNDS OF BUTTERFAT FOR 655 COWS, ACCORDING TO REPORT.

Twenty Shelby-Boone-Carroll County dairymen in the northern Kentucky Dairy Herd Improvement Association broke the eight year record for butterfat production during the 1935-36 year, just completed, with an average of 345 lbs. of butterfat per cow on a total of 655 cows, according to John V. Hood, tester for the association. This exceeds by 10 pounds the previous 1934-35 year record of 335 pounds.

The association, under the work of John Hood, ,tests has shown steady progress. The average production per cow in 1928-29 testing year was 5947 pounds of milk and 255 pounds of butterfat. This production has increased steadily until the production for the past 1935-36 year of 7371 pounds of milk and 345 pounds of fat was produced. This growth demonstrates the importance of continuous dairy herd improvement association work.

The Dairy Herd Improvement Association plan is based on the tester spending one day each month with the dairyman, testing and keeping complete detailed production and cost of production records on each individual cow in the herd. The dairymen in turn pays $4.00 per month for this complete service. The work of the association is supervised by the dairy department of the College of Agriculture.

Four Boone County dairymen, Joel Gray, Burlington; W. G. Kite and O. W. Purdy Waterloo; Ben Nichting, Beaver and O. R. Russ, Limaburg completed 935-36 years testing work in the association. Interesting points in the analysis of the year's testing work are as follows: Number cows years in association 530.4; Number pounds milk per cow 7371; average butterfat test 4.7; average pounds of Butterfat 345.4; average value of product $165.55; average cost of roughage including pasture $28.96; average cost of grain feed $30.49 average cost of feed $59.45; average value of produce above feed cost $106.10; average return for each $1.00 spent for feed $2.78; average cost 100 pounds milk 81 cents; feed cost per pound of butterfat, 17 cents. It should be noted costs do not involve depreciation, overhead other than feed, taxes, interest and other costs involved in production. The production per cow is also more than double the average production outside the association.

Boone County cows averaging more than 400 pounds of fat for the year were Gis, Starlight, grade Jerseys, owned by Ben Nichting, of Beaver; Big Girl and Jolly, grade Jerseys, owned by O. R. Russ, Limaburg; Buffy and Nancy, grade Guernseys, owned by Joel Gray, Burlington. Leading Boone County dairymen who will compete in the 1936-37 testing years on March 1st are Robert Youell, Burlington; Kite and Purdy, Waterloo; Joel Gray, Burlington and Ben Nichting, Beaver.

MILK CONTROL BILL PRAISED

AND OPPOSED AT HEARING—FORMER JUDGE LEADS FOES —HEATED ARGUMENTS GIVEN BY BOTH SIDES.

Frankfort, Ky., January 4—Praised by its supporters a a measure to insure equitable prices and attacked by its opponents as legislation that would "freeze out" independent producers and distributors, the proposed state milk control bill was discussed for more than three hours today at a public hearing in the House Chamber.

The hearing was conducted by the Agricultural Committee No. 1, of which Representative John C. Robinson, Danville, is Chairman. Former Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson, of Louisville, led the attack on the measure. He was supported by John Ingram and A. C. McMakin, both of Shelby County; John Bradbury, Shepherdsville, and B. F. Wells, Lexington, all independent milk producers.

Chief proponents of the measure were Ben Kilgore, Executive Secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau and B. A. Thomas, President of the Falls Cities Cooperative Association.

Dawson, in the milk producing and distributing business in the Louisville milkshed, declared opposition to price fixing in any form termed the bill "so outrageously unfair," that anyone accurately informed as to its provisions "could not conscientiously" support it.

Adding cooperatives were the bill's proponents, he said the measure, which would set up a State Milk Control Board of five members, allowed the man not belonging to a cooperative no voice in the board member's selection.

"I'm not in favor of having the farmer from whom I buy milk having the cards stacked against him, being told what price I should get for milk and having someone else tell me how I should run my business," Dawson said.

Thomas termed the bill necessary for maintenance of a fair price structure, adding that a poll taken of producers in the Louisville Northern Kentucky and Paducah areas, showed farmers favoring a control bill 875 to 206. Asked by Chairman Robinson, if the ballots sent to these farmers explained the bill fully, he stated they had listed the main provisions only.

"A distributor who is able to buy milk cheaper than his competitor and consequently undersell him, brings down the entire price structure," Thomas said.

Asked if the bill would result in higher consumer prices, he said it would not—that if prices passed a certain range, the increased profits were eliminated by decreased consumption.

Thomas introduced Guy Roberts of Indianapolis, member of the Indiana State Milk Control Board, who said a similar law in Indiana had worked out satisfactorily.

The Kentucky bill provides the State Board may set up local control boards if 65 per cent of the producers in the area favor it. The local districts would embrace two or more counties containing a city of the first or second class.

Organization and control of production were pictured by Kilgore as vital to the farmer's welfare. He said enactment of a milk control law was a part of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation's legislative program and predicted it would mean higher prices for the farmer.

Robinson said the bill probably would be reported in the House tomorrow.

SHOOTS SELF BEFORE ARREST

MAN SOUGHT IN WIFE'S DEATH TO BE SENT TO CINCINNATI—WAS FOUND ON FARM NEAR HEBRON.

Self-wounded almost to the point of death, Clarence Cox 1121 Broadway, Cincinnati, was moved from Covington to Cincinnati Tuesday morning to face police questioning in the strangulation murder of his wife, Bessie, found slain last week in a Mount Adams apartment.

Cox, who shot himself near Hebron, Monday as Ludlow police sought to arrest him, waived extradition to Ohio at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Cox, sought by detective George Schattle as a suspect since the body of Mrs. Cox was found by her sister, Miss Maude Cafferey, in an apartment at 1010 Celestial Street, Mount Adams, Cincinnati, was located Monday on the ground of the country home of his sister, Mrs. Ben Reeves, Taylorsport road. He was found by Police Chief Harvey Searp, of Ludlow, and Ludlow Patrolman Thomas Young, who were investigating information received from Mrs. Reeves that Cox was in the vicinity.

Told that Cox was sleeping in an automobile in a garage at the rear of the Reeves summer home, Searp and Young started toward the garage. As they neared it Cox raised up from the back seat of the automobile. He had a shotgun in his hands.

"Look out, the man's got a gun," Young shouted. Searp and Young drew their revolvers and separated. As they leaped apart to continue their approach, Cox shot himself in the left chest with the .410 gauge gun.

The officers took the wounded man to St. Elizabeth Hospital in the automobile of Mrs. Elmer Peeno, Constance.

Searp said Mrs. Reeves told him Cox had taken the shotgun from her home Sunday and that she was afaird he would hurt someone. The police reported that Cox apparently had been hiding in the country near his sister's home for several days.

When the body of Mrs. Cox was found by her sister, Wednesday of last week, Dr. Ward H. Ventress, Deputy Hamilton County Coroner, reported that she had been strangled to death. He also said she apparently had been struck on the chin before she was strangled.

CO. ASSESSMENT IS COMPLETED

BY JANUARY 1ST—TOTAL ASSESSMENT FOR 1936 APPROXIMATELY $630,000 MORE THAN IN 1935.

According to Wilton Stephens, Tax Commissioner of Boone County, the assessment for 1936 has been completed again by the first day of January, the period of time allotted for this work. This is a very difficult task to accomplish in the short time allowed, but this has been done each year since he took office.

The increase this year over last, is due principally to advance in price of stocks and bonds. There is a slight increase in real estate, tangible personsal property and livestock with a slight decrease in bank shares.

His comparative report for the past two years is as follows:

	1935	1936
Real Estate	8,283,255	8,309,295
Intangible	996,910	1,436,205
Tang. Personal	638,130	737,815
Bank Shares	291,865	270,250
Sub. State Tax	10,377,290	11,110,505
Sub. Co. Tax	8,991,430	9,017,625
Dogs	2235	2,300
Poll tax	2,714	2,717

The County Board of Supervisors will convene the second week in February, 1937, to examine the above assessment. If you are a property owner and haven't been assessed, you should call on the assessor immediately, or appear before the board of supervisors at their regular meeting. In case of dissatisfaction on the part of any property owner with the present assessment, you are entitled to bring same before the Board of Supervisors.

MAN IS KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

COVINGTON MAN DIES OF INJURIES AFTER CAR IS SIDESWIPED NEAR FLORENCE ON HIGHWAY 42.

Carl McKiney, 26, bartender, of Covington was seriously injured last Friday, and died en route to St. Elizabeth Hospital, following an auto accident on Route 42, three miles south of Florence.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ethel McKinney, 26; a son, James, 2, and a daughter, Jeannie, 1.

The McKinney family and a brother-in-llaw were en route to Louisville when the collision occurred. According to relatives the car was sideswiped by a truck. Mr. McKinney, who was driving, suffered internal injuries. The wife, children and the brother-in-law, Everett Brewitt, Waynesburg Va., suffered body bruises.

After the car was sideswiped it turned over three times. At the Martin Garage, Florence, mechanics said the car was a total wreck.

Mr. McKinney was removed to the hospital by Floyd Scott, Bellevue, and Raymond Jones, California, O., who were passing the scene.

Mr. McKinley also leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McKinney, Berea, Ky., and nine brothers and sisters.

WILLIAM P. GARDNER

William P. Gardner, elder of the Erlanger Christian Church, died Sunday night at his home, 118 Elm Street, Erlanger, following an illness of two months. He formerly was Cashier of the old Erlanger Deposit Bank. He also was a former employee of the Southern Railroad, serving as depot agent at Erlanger.

Mr. Gardner was a member of Good Faith Lodge No. 95, Free and Accepted Masons, Erlanger. He was 73 years old. His widow, Mrs. Lutie Gardner; a daughter, Mrs. Gayle W. Arnold, Erlanger; , a son, Dr. Carl E. Gardner, Macomb, Ill. and one grandson Gayle C. Arnold, Erlanger, survive him.

MRS. JULIA WEBSTER

Mrs. Julia Webster, of the Hebron neighborhood passed away at her home December 21st.

Her son and husband found her dead in bed, where she had evidently been for some time. She was respected by all who knew her and will be greatly missed by the family and friends.

COMMUNITY PROGRAM

IS PLANNED BY COUNTY FARMERS—MUCH PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE THRU THIS WORK IN THE PAST.

Boone County farmers cooperating in the County Extension Agricultural Improvement program will meet in their respective communities during the next two weeks to plan the improvement program to be carried out in their communities during 1937 according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The community improvement programs are chiefly of an educational nature. Interested farmers meet together to discuss the agricultural progress made in the community during the past year and to outline those lines of improvement which in their opinion should be carried out in 1937.

Much progress in livestock and poultry improvement, new and improved varieties of crops, field meetings, community organizations and other lines of improvement has been made through this work in the past. Farmers have shown a splendid spirit of cooperation. It is hoped that the 1937 programs will be the most constructive planned to date. The community programs will be organized into a county program of work following these meetings.

The dates and meeting places for the various community meetings will be announced next week.

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1880

Editorial of the Week

A BRIGHTER OUTLOOK

The New Year was ushered in last Friday amid ringing of bells, shouting and singing. With the coming of the new year we are optimistic, prophesying this year to be the most prosperous since 1928.

Boone County farmers and businessmen seem to be in high spirits, and are wearing smiles that have been vacant from their faces for several years. The farmer is especially elated over the prices being paid for his produce. Tobacco sales are higher than they have been since the World War. Cattle, sheep and hogs are bringing high prices on the market today.

It has been said that prosperity would return when farmers received a fair profit for their produce, and we are of the opinion that this is true. This year the farmer will be able to carry on his farm operations in a more business like manner.

Under the leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt this country has prospered far beyond expectations, and emerged from one of the worst depressions in the history of this nation.

Boone County farmers are in better condition today than they have been in many years. This has been brought about through the agricultural program, and the cooperation of farmers and the County Agent. Farmers have been paid for reducing acreage, thus saving soil that would otherwise be cultivated and over-worked. They have realized more cash income from their crops during the past year, according to acreage planted than any other year in their farming career.

The Recorder management wish to state that 1936 was a good business year, and we are looking forward to 1937 as one of the best years in the history of the paper.

We are proud to be residents of Boone County, and believe that it is one of the best counties in the State. Our lands are fertile and well adapted to general farming, and our financial condition is far above the majority, ranking among the highest in our commonwealth.

WASHINGTON COUNTY MAN FIRST IN STATE HOG RAISING CONTEST

By raising 2 pigs to weigh 2,520 pounds when 165 days old, R. A. Wheatley, a Washington county farmer, is declared by Grady Sellards of the College of Agriculture to be winner of first prize in the Kentucky ton litter contest in 1936.

The contest is held annually to promote more economical swine production. By having the pigs farrowed early in the spring, and then following methods which the college prescribes regarding feeding and sanitation, hogs are brought to market condition when prices are near the peak in late summer or early fall. Not only does the farmer obtain rapid turnover, in that he feeds the litter only 165 days, but he often gets the season's best prices.

The Wheatley litter was farrowed March 7, and sold when 165 days old for $10.70 per hundred pounds. The pigs ran on lespedeza pasture, which helped reduce their feed bill. The profit from the litter, after making allowance for feed, pasture and labor, was 114.46.

Second prize went to Elwood Kessler, a Taylor county farmer, who made a litter of 10 pigs weigh 2,325 pounds when 165 days old, and third prize to Elliott Edlin of Larue county on a litter of nine pigs that weighed 2,250 pounds.

Medals for the winners were provided by the Cincinnati Union Stock Yards Company.

FARM IN METCALFE IS WELL MANAGED

The D. O. Carter farm, operated by Glenn Kingery, is one of the most outstanding examples of soil-building in Metcalfe county, writes County Agent R. B. Rankin. A program of liming has been followed in recent years, until 100 acres, or all of the cleared land, has been limed. Twenty-nine acres were limed in 1936 at the rate of two tons to the acre.

Several crops not usually grown in Kentucky have been tried on the Carter farm. On part of the corn land bur clover was sowed in September at the rate of 20 pounds of seed to the acre. This will be turned under next spring for soil improvement.

Winter barley was seeded on three acres of corn land at the rate of two bushels to the acre and alfalfa and orchard grass will be sowed on the same land in the spring.

Two acres were seeded to Austrian peas at the rate of 50 pounds to the acre. This legume crop will be turned under in the spring. Eleven acres were put in Crimson clover, and this crop also will be turned under to build up the soil. A few acres were seeded to alfalfa.

Since the land has been limed, much of it will grow bluegrass, Mr. Rankin notes, and one field now is solid bluegrass sod. Much of the stable manure is used to top-dress the pastures of korean lespedeza, orchard grass and bluegrass.

MOST HOUSES TOO WARM FOR PLANTS

With "regular winter" here in full force, those who have household plants are checking up on the temperature and the amount of light and water, it is said by N. R. Elliott, landscape specialist for the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Usually the temperature of the home is too warm for the average plant. Most plants do best when the thermometer stays around 50 to 55 degrees, which is too low for the human occupants of the house to be comfortable. The easiest solution is to put the plants in or near windows, where cold outside air will filter in. If this is done, the home owner must use care that the plants do not freeze.

Different plants require different amounts of light, and for best results these varying needs should be known, Mr. Elliott states. Ferns, for instance, thrive in a partially shaded location similar to their native state. The Sansevieria or Bowstring Hemp, on the other hand, will stand direct light such as comes through a window.

The household plants needs a thorough watering every four to six days, rather than a little watering every day. Where water is applied daily not enough is used at any one time to soak the soil around the roots of the plants.

All household plants collect dust on the leaves. This dust may be removed in several ways. The plants may be taken to the basement, and water thrown over the tops to wash the dust off, or a soft cloth may be used to rub it off. If the temperature approximates 50 to 55 degrees and a gentle rain is falling, the plants may be taken outdoors and the rain allowed to do the work.

BULLETS OF JUSTICE

By REX COLLIER

Copyright, 1936, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.

Inspector Cowley's Chart of Dillinger Trap in Chicago.

JOHN DILLINGER

JOHN DILLINGER would be alive today, in all probability — and in Alcatraz prison — but for one thing: a determination never to be taken alive by officers of the law.

With the permission of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, this writer has been privileged to delve into the grim files of the F. B. I. on the lurid case of the late public enemy number one.

I have seen for myself—and am able to reveal publicly for the first time—intimate details of the carefully laid plans which led up to the fatal shooting of Dillinger outside a Chicago movie house on the night of July 22, 1934.

Those plans, locked in a steel cabinet at the Department of Justice and guarded until now from any but official eyes, disclosed a number of interesting things bearing on the recently agitated question: Was the shooting to death of Dillinger justified?

1. Specific orders were issued by Hoover that Dillinger must be taken alive, if possible.

2. Four men were stationed on the sidewalk, near the theater entrance, with instructions to "seize Dillinger bodily as he passes."

3. By Hoover's order, relayed to the agents, by Inspector Samuel P. Cowley, there were no machine guns, rifles or shotguns at the scene. The agents were armed only with pistols and warned not to draw them unless "absolutely necessary."

4. Dillinger quickly saw two agents starting to close in and seize him, turned to face them, bent to a crouching position, whipped out a .38 caliber automatic pistol and was about to fire when three agents beat him to the draw.

Unjustified? Well, of course, the agents could have let this known killer fire first, but in so doing, they would have endangered not only their own lives, but the safety of a gathering crowd of men, women and children emerging from the theater.

The circumstances surrounding the shooting of Dillinger have been the subject of an "ill-advised" inquiry by secret service men. They went to the Chicago police for information, it is said, but the Chicago police knew nothing of the plans.

Those plans were made in the Chicago office of the F. B. I., after telephonic conversations with Hoover at Washington. Only one other law enforcement agency was "in" on them. That was the police department of East Chicago, Ind., a sergeant of which had brought to the F. B. I. a woman who said she knew the whereabouts of Dillinger.

This woman was after $5,000 which the Department of Justice had offered for information leading to the capture of the gangster. After Dillinger's death, she calmly collected the money and signed an extraordinary receipt in which she released the government from any further obligation "whatsoever." More about that receipt later.

The woman was Anna Sage. Her identity was guarded closely by the G-men after Dillinger's death because they had promised solemnly not to "put her on the spot." Since Mrs. Sage herself has elected to disclose her connection with the case, the bureau no longer feels obligated to adhere to the promise of secrecy and consequently has given me the whole inside story of the Dillinger trap.

Mrs. Sage, well-known to police of East Chicago, told Inspector Cowley on the afternoon of July 21, 1934, that she had been attending movies with a man who had been introduced by a girl friend as "Frank Sullivan." The other woman's identity will not be disclosed. Her first name was Polly.

Mrs. Sage asserted she recognized "Sullivan" as Dillinger and asked him outright if he were not the much-hunted fugitive. Dillinger admitted his identity. She declared she accompanied Dillinger and Polly to the Marbro movie theater in Chicago on several occasions, and that she would be willing, for $5,000, to tip off the agents when another visit was planned.

Cowley and his men bided their time anxiously the remainder of that Saturday evening, but no further word came from the woman.

All available agents in the Chicago area were ordered to "stand by" in anticipation of the tip that would start them into action. The agents sat around restlessly in the Chicago office on Sunday until 5:30 p. m., when, by phone, Mrs. Sage advised that she, Polly and Dillinger would attend either the Marbro or Biograph theater, on Chicago north side, about 8 p. m.

Plans were made to "cover" both theaters. Two agents were assigned to the Marbro and two to the Biograph to watch all persons entering them and to flash the word to headquarters as soon as Dillinger was spotted. At 8:50 p. m. the agents at the Biograph phoned that Dillinger had just entered the movie house with Mrs. Sage and Polly. Polly, it should be explained, was wholly unaware of the approaching trap.

Cowley mobilized a force of sixteen agents and five policemen of the East Chicago department. A careful study had been made previously of the "layout" of the theater. Seven agents were assigned to guard emergency exits in the rear of the theater, while the others were stationed along the block in front, hidden in vestibules, areaways and other points of vantage.

Among the four assigned to "seize Dillinger bodily" was Special Agent E. E. Hollis, who later was killed alongside Cowley by "Baby Face" Nelson. Names of the other agents are withheld. Hollis was standing at the curb, a few feet south of the theater entrance. Agent D was in the vestibule a little further south. If Dillinger walked to the south, it was the job of this pair to grab him as he passed between them. At the curb, about the same distance to the north of the theater, were two policemen in plain clothes.

Agent A, loitering in a vestibule opposite the point where Hollis was standing, was to light a cigar as a signal that Dillinger was emerging. Agent B sat in an automobile parked near Hollis.

Agent C was beside Agent D in a vestibule, about midway between the theater and an alley. At the curb, near the mouth of the alley, were Agents G and H, with instructions to watch for the cigar signal and then close in from the south. At the other side of the theater, near Policemen 3 and 4, were Agents E and F, who were to close in from the north. Across the street was the remainder of the detail.

Inspector Cowley kept moving back and forth along the block, surveying the situation. At the moment Dillinger appeared, Cowley was across the street, but he crossed quickly as his men closed in.

When Dillinger and the two women came out, they turned to the south. Agent A lighted his cigar.

The files show that Agent D said to C: "That is Dillinger with the straw hat and the glasses." As Dillinger passed, Agent D stepped quickly across the sidewalk to a position on the right of Dillinger, while Agent C approached him from the left. Agent Hollis, by prearrangement, moved in behind Dillinger.

As this maneuvering started, Dillinger became aware of the fact he was being surrounded. Affidavits of eyewitnesses agree that he reached quickly into his right trousers pocket—he was wearing no coat—and whipped out his pistol.

Immediately he began to crouch and dodge and was bringing the gun into firing position when Hollis and two other agents, in self-defense, drew their own pistols and fired. Dillinger fell without uttering a word and was dead when he reached a hospital. As the firing began, the two women ran.

Cowley met Mrs. Sage in Los Angeles on October 11, 1934, paid her the promised $5,000 and obtained her signature and fingerprints on a statement reading, in part:

"The U. S. Department of Justice did employ me to secure information leading to apprehension of John Dillinger, alias Frank Sullivan. I, Anna Sage, did secure and deliver personally to an official of the division of investigation, Department of Justice, information as to the whereabouts of the said John Dillinger at a particular time.

"I, Anna Sage, for and in consideration of the sum of $5,000 lawful money of the United States to me in hand paid by S. P. Cowley, known to me as an official of the U. S. Dept. of Justice . . . do hereby release the Department of Justice from all . . . debts, dues, sums, reckonings, covenants, contracts, agreements, promises, damages, judgments, claims and demands whatsoever in law or in equity . . ."

Lesson for January 10

NEW LIFE IN CHRIST

LESSON TEXT—John 3:1-17.

GOLDEN TEXT—Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.—John 3:3.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Answering a Man's Question.

JUNIOR TOPIC — the Most Important Question.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How the Christian Life Begins.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—New Life in Christ.

The only entrance into the Christian life is by the door of the new birth. Regeneration is the act of God whereby the divine nature is imparted to the believing sinner and he becomes the child of God. He who has not entered by this way has not entered at all. He is still dead in trespasses and sins, without God and without hope (Eph. 2:1, 12).

Men are seeking to enter the household of God by almost any other means—culture, reform, character building—and are neglecting God's way. This lesson should therefore be studied and taught with earnest prayer that this foundation truth may lay hold upon the hearts of the hearers of the Word. Let no one who is not born again attempt to teach it to others, lest the blind attempt to lead the blind, and both fall into the ditch (Luke 6:39).

The coming of Nicodemus to our Lord took place at the time when he was in Jerusalem for the Passover. Jesus had chosen six of his disciples, had been at Cana of Galilee, where he performed his first miracle, and had made a brief visit to Capernaum, after which he came to Jerusalem for the feast. In high and holy indignation he had driven the money changers out of the temple. The Pharisees who looked for the coming of the Messiah as a secular conqueror wondered at this new spiritual leader. It was probably as much on their behalf as his own that Nicodemus came to inquire of Jesus. In answering his questions Jesus reveals the necessity, the nature, and the method of regeneration—in other words, the Why, What, and How of the New Birth.

I. Why? (vv. 1-7.)

Jesus was not unduly impressed by the dignity and high station of his visitor, nor by the visitor's courteous acknowledgment of his own position as a great teacher. With decisive boldness Jesus declares that this man, a cultured and distinguished ruler of the Jews, must be born again, if he is to see the kingdom of God.

God is no respecter of persons. This "doctor of divinity" must be born again, just as was the illiterate fisherman. D. L. Moody once said that he was thankful it was to such a man as Nicodemus that Jesus presented the necessity of the new birth—or men would have said that only the down-and-outer needed to be saved.

Two reasons are given by our Lord for the "must" of verse 7: (1) The Kingdom of God is a spiritual kingdom, and cannot be entered by way of our human nature; and (2) "That which is born of the flesh is flesh" and is radically and essentially bad. To learn why the flesh is bad read Jeremiah 13:23, and Galatians 5:19-21.

II. What? (vv. 8-13).

The new birth is a divine mystery, not fathomable by human reason. Those who insist that all spiritual truth be put through the little norm of their intelligence will never understand it or receive its blessing. The striking illustration of the life-giving and energizing wind used by our Lord is most illuminating. Wind is unseen, but the results of its movement are evident.

III. How? (vv. 14-17.)

Just as there was healing and life in a look at the uplifted serpent (Num. 21:8), so there is life for a look at the Crucified One. Faith receives God's perfect provision for sin.

Verse 16 may well be regarded as the greatest sentence in the greatest Book in the world. It presents the whole plan of salvation—its source, its ground, its recipients, its condition, and its result.

This glorious salvation is for all men — "whosoever" — but some reject it. Notice that God does not condemn them. Their own evil works and desires condemn them (vv. 17-20). God in his grace is ready and willing to save, but men love "darkness rather than light"; for their works are evil.

God's Mercy

O God, the whole world is as a drop of morning dew. But Thou hast mercy upon all . . . For Thou lovest all things that are, and abhorest nothing that Thou hast made . . . But Thou sparest all, for they are Thine, O Lord, Thou lover of souls.

Doing Well

He doeth much that doth a thing well. He doeth well that rather serveth the commonwealth, than his own will.—Thomas a Kempis.

THE FARM AND HOME

(Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station)

Some persons sleep better when they eat lightly just before going to bed. Try a bowl of hot milk and bread or crackers or warm porridge. Eating heartily before retiring, however, is of doubtful value, and may keep one awake.

Cracks in the plaster are usually due to the settling of the foundation of the house, poor structural framing, poor lathing and lumber shrinkage. Better construction throughout the house is the way to prevent plaster cracking.

Instead of taking a chilled lamb to the fire, wrap it up well in a blanket or with sacks. It is difficult to keep a lamb from developing pneumonia after it has been by the fire for several hours. If a lamb can be induced to nurse, it will usually revive rapidly.

Selecting a dozen or more good hens and mating them to a male bird of high production blood is a good way to improve the flock. The hens should show laying ability, be of medium size, and of good type and color, and free from defects of all kinds.

A light covering of manure will help protect strawberry plants through the winter. Straw or hay may be put on top of the manure, for further protection, and then raked off in early spring, leaving the manure for fertilizer.

Eggs benedict recipe: Toast slices of bread. Place on each piece of toast a thin slice of cooked ham or crisp-cooked bacon, and on top of this a poached egg. Cover with hot Hollandaise sauce and serve at once.

SPOTS ON CLOTHES SIMPLE TO REMOVE

Winter garments sometimes have spots and stains that can be removed without cleaning the garment all over, points out the home economics department of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

Warm water will remove most of the spots on winter clothes. For grease spots, carbon tetrachloride may be used. Obtainable at drug stores, it is a non-inflammable material and may be used indoors if care is exercised. Place the garment over a bath towel and sponge the spot, using light strokes from the outer edge toward the center of the spot.

Absorbents such as chalk, magnesia, fuller's earth or cornmeal are simple to use and inexpensive. They do not effect color or fiber. Spread over a spot or over every part of the dress that comes in contact with the body and absorbs oiliness. Leave on overnight, and then brush off thoroughly. Repeat as often as necessary.

198 PERSONS IN PLAY

A play sponsored by the Farm Bureau of McCracken county attracted approximately 2,000 persons to two performances and made a profit of $400, according to County Agent W. C. Johnstone. The money will be used to start a revolving fund for livestock improvement. Arousing county-wide interest, the play had 198 persons from every part of the county as members of the cast.

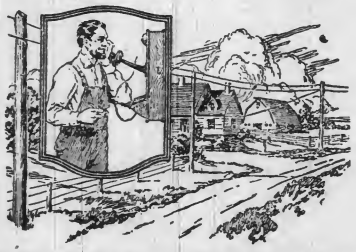
Mr. and Mrs. Garland Huff and daughter Barbara spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Sebree Wednesday.

Mrs. Francis Aylor spent the week-end with her father, Waller Jones and daughter Dorothy.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rogers, of Covington, spent several days with her father Waller Jones and her brothers, Robert and Everett.



Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ryle, Waller Jones and Mrs. Shields are on the sick list. We pray for their speedy recovery.

This community has been in deep sorrow the past week in the passing of John Henry Hamilton and wife, Sallie, within three days of each other, from bronichal pneumonia. The double funeral took place Sunday at 1:30 p. m. at Big Bone Baptist Church. Rev. Johnson and Rev. Baldwin officiated. A large crowd of relatives and friends attended the services. They leave to mourn their passing one daughter, Mrs. Louise Storey, of Covington. We extend sympathy to her and all relatives.

GEORGE YATES ATTENDING UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

Champaign-Urbana, Ill.—Among the 1,117 graduate students on the Champaign-Urbana campus of the University of Illinois is George Yates, of Burlington, according to a tabulation of graduate names released by the secretary of the university board of trustees.

The number of graduate students increased 273 this year over last. An additional 100 graduate students in medicine, pharmacy, and dentistry are enrolled in those colleges on the university's Chicago campus.

Enrollment in the graduate work has been increasing every year since it was first organized in 1892. Many business and professional positions aside from those of college teaching require advanced study in specialized fields.

Every graduate student is engaged in some form of research work. Many of their thesis researches have added materially to the world's store of knowledge.

This is, however, only a part of the University of Illinois' research work, to which 13 per cent of every operating dollar is devoted.

DEMOCRATS ELECT RAYBURN

Washington, January 4—By an overwheling vote, House Democrats today elected Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas as their majority Floor Leader, placing in his care the task of guiding the vast Democratic membership through the Seventy-fifth Congress.

Rayburn defeated Representative John J. O'Connor of New York by a vote of 184 to 127. The position is considered a stepping-stone to the Speakership. Rayburn's nomination, at O'Connor's suggestion, then was made unanimous.

With his election, Rayburn assumes with Speaker William B. Bankhead of Alabama the duty of steering administration legislation through the House.

O'Connor, graciously accepting defeat, said:

"I expect to go along with Representative Rayburn and help him in his job as floor leader. I lost because I did not have enough votes."

Bankhead was nominated unanimously for reelection as speaker before the vote was taken on the House Leadership.

Following his election Rayburn predicted the next session of Congress would last until June or July. He said:

"I feel mighty good about it all.

"When the administration program is fixed at a conference of President Roosevelt and Senate and House leaders, that will be my program 100 per cent.

"The day of short sessions in Congress is over. I don't see how we can get out of here in less than five or six months."

He added that there is "a fine chance for harmony" among House Democrats.

Ratification of the Democratic nomination comes tomorrow when the House is organized. Election of Bankhead and Rayburn is assured by the overwhelming Democratic majority.

The Senate Democrats re-elected Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, as majority floor leader. Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois we retained as whip. While Robinson was authorized to appoint an assistant leader and assistant whip.

Nomination a Formality

Earlier, House Republicans, in caucus, named Representative Bertrand H. Snell of New York as their candidate for Speaker and majority floor leader.

Snell's nomination as Speaker is a formality, as the Democrats are rectain to elect Bankhead. Snell, however, automatically will become minority floor leader.

Progressives and Farmer-Laborits, in a separate caucus, named Representative George K. Schnieder, Wisconsin Progressive as their candidate for Speaker. The Progressives and Farmer-Laborites agreed to unite whenever possible on legislative matters.

The Republican caucus also named William Taylor Page Joseph T. Rogers, and John B. Andrews as candidates for Clerk of the House, Sergeant-at-Arms, and Doorkeeper respectively.

The Democratic nominations for these three posts were South Trimble, Kenneth L. Romney, and Joseph J. Sinott, all of whom will be elected by the overwhelming majority.

The Democratic caucus, ending one of the most turbulent leadership fights in years, opened with the nomination of Representative Bankhead for the speakership. His name was presented by Representative Henry B. Steagall of Alabama and seconded by Representative Lindsay C. Warren of North Carolina.

Rayburn's nomination was made by Representative John J. Boylan of New York and seconded by Representative J. Bayard Clark of North Carolina.

TWO STATES BENEFIT FROM TOLL CUT ON LOUISVILLE BRIDGE

Increased motor travel is expected to result from the reduction in tolls on the Louisville Municipal Bridge, effective January 1. Not only is the reduction of the toll from 35 to 25 cents sure to reduce costs for each motorist, but the cut is expected to stimulate travel between Kentucky and Souhern Indiana.

Indiana's unexcelled system of State Parks, many of the finest of which are in the Southern part of the State, are expected to benefit almost immediately by an influx of Kentucky pleasure seekers. At the same time Kentucky shrines such as the Lincoln birthplace, Old Kentucky Home, Fort Harrord and Mammoth Cave all are that much more within the reach of Indiana motorists.

The Louisville Bridge Commission, which ordered the reduction, is hopeful that despite the reduction, the lower rate may stimulate traffic to the extent of actually increasing revenue. The Municipal Bridge, built at a cost of more than $4,000,000 under a permit of the War Department, will become free on amortization of its outstanding bonds. It leads directly into the heart of downtown Louisville, and is on all routings from the metropolis through Jeffersonville, Ind.

Unless there is a tobacco control program outlined for the 1937 crop, we are of the opinion that the price will be considerably lower next year than farmers are receiving at present. If the market is not controlled, you will see tobacco growing in every available space, regardless of how small. Better watch the ladies, because they are likely to get the idea that tobacco would look better in their flower beds than flowers.

The wise man might get an inspiration that next year would be a good time to do gardening, as many gardens will be completely occupied with this very valuable weed.

In a general conversation the other day, someone made the remark that tobacco was hardly the suitable word for the crop this year. He added that a more appropriate term would be, "the golden weed."

Boone County farmers are receiving their just share of the proceeds from the weed this year, as we are known for the quality of tobacco that is produced here. Boone County does not go in for quantity, but specialize in quality.

There is an active demand for but production is relatively light. hatching eggs in Warren county,

Many ornamental shrubs and trees were planted last month by Hardin county farmers.

George Crum, Floyd county, has bought eight purebred Holstein yearling heifers.

AMONG THE COUNTY AGENTS

William Mansfield of Montgomery county sold 2,000 tons of marl to farmers living out of the marl belt.

Bracken county farmers are selling lespedeza seed from the trasher at 13 to 14 cents a pound.

Caldwell county farmers have started a bull block to conserve better breeding bulls and save expense in buying bulls.

Mack Rodgers, Taylor county, sold 1½ acres of tobacco raised on a demonstration field for $600.

Several Pike county farmers have lost hogs from feeding waste material from restaurants.

Late gardens supplying beans, cabbage, beets, etc., have saved much money, Rockcastle county farmers believe.

Gus Tally, a Christian county Negro farmer, planted 50 cents worth of beans and obtained a 42-bushel yield which sold for $1.10 a bushel.

Rowan county farmers have culled poultry to the limit to save feed costs during the winter.

An estimated increase of 25 per cent in the wheat acreage is reported from Adair county.

Many lambs were finished for market in Owen county on grain, distillery slop and pasture.

Grayson county 4-H club members will feed three carloads of calves next year, of which two carloads will be Angus.

The Hopkins county terracing equipment has been used on 48 farm during the past year.

Thirty Marshall county farmers attended a meeting on the winter feeding of beef cattle.

HOME UNSURPASSED IN CHILD TRAINING

The home is an unsurpassed medium for teaching many things that children need to know; in child care and training, the main thing is to start early enough. Sometimes parents seem to go on the assumption that only when the child starts to school does he become capable of learning. In actual fact, the child's education was started when he was old enough to see, hear, feel and smell things with which he came in contact. This point of view is explained to University of Kentucky students by Miss Mary Mumford, assistant professor of home economics and in charge of the university nursery school.

During the child's very early years, there are many things he can learn to do that develop judgment, poise and muscle control. Boys as well as girls take a quick interest in kitchen devices such as food grinders and orange squeezers. Putting the parts together and screwing the instrument on the table top will be a challenge to their constructive powers. It will take a little time for the child to understand the whole process but soon the moth can ask him to grind food and get a successful response. At three years of age, children like especially to play in water. With a rubber apron on and standing securely on a stool far removed from the stove, the three-year-old can learn to wash dishes in warm, soapy water.

Children take delight in baking, and they can come to do it well if they are taught patient. Six and eight-year-olds can cook eggs and make toast, and after they have learned to follow a recipe baking powder biscuits are a possibility.

DROUTH FORCED CULLING

Far be it from him to defend the drouth, but in spite of itself it seems to have helped accomplish one or two good things, says N. L. Goebel Spencer county farm agent. First, the Bang's disease program was rushed, due to the lack of feed. Reaching fully 50 percent of the dairies, "a full year's work has been gained due to pressure from the drouth-induced feed shortage." Second, the herds are culled to the limit, only the best cows being kept and those that are retained are given the best of attention.

Mrs. Reed was a member of the Elsmere Baptist Church, and her pastor, Rev. J. A. Miller, conducted services Saturday at 10:30 a. m. at the Taliaferro Funeral Home, interment following in Highland cemetery.

MIKE HOLZWORTH

Mike Holtzworth, aged 82 years passed away Saturday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Noll, Buttermilk Pike, near Crescent Springs, Ky., after a few days' illness with pneumonia. The remains were removed to the Taliaferro Funeral Home for preparation.

Mr. Holtzworth is survived by two daughters, Mrs. John Noll, and Mrs. Harvey Senour, and one son Andy Holtzworth and several grandchildren.

The pallbearers were John Noll, Adam Noll, Jack Frisch, W. B. Gatewood, Maklin Baker and Allen Holtzworth.

Funeral was from the Taliaferro Funeral Home Tuesday at 8:30 a. m., with requiem high mass at St. Henry' Church at 9 a. m. by the Rev. Edmond Corby, interment following in St. Mary's cemetery.

Recent estimates in Fleming county indicate that 85,000 blood-tested, accredited chicks were bought last spring, though large sales leave a small crop.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our many friends and neighbors who were so kind and helpful to us during the time of our sorrow. Especially do we thank those gave the beautiful flowers; the choir; Bro. Brewer and Bro. Smith for their consoling words; and the undertakers Chambers and Grubbs for their efficient manner in conducting the funeral.

The Jess Louden Family.

Personal Mention

J. P. Dolwick, of Constance, paid this office a call recently, having the date of his subscription moved up two years.

D. B. Hoffman, of Petersburg paid this office a call Monday, having his subscription moved up another year.

L. C. Acra, of Florence, was a business visitor at this office Monday. Mr. Acra had his subscription moved up for another year.

Shelby Beemon, of Florence was a recent visitor in Burlington. He is another of our good subscribers who always has his paper paid in advance.

John J. Maurer, of Grant, was a caller at this office Wednesday, paying his subscription for another year. He also advertised his farm for sale.

Robert Miller, of Covington was a business caller in Burlington Monday morning. He has purchased a dry cleaning plant in Covington. His advertisement appears on another page of this issue.

Everyone in this town seemed to have a very enjoyable Christmas this year, even though the thermometer never was far below fifty degrees at any time during the entire week. Yes, when we look back, even some seemed to try to celebrate in just a little too big a way.

J. L. Jones, of Florence was a business caller at this office Wednesday. He had his subscription moved up another year, and the subscriptions of his son and daughter who are in other states. Mr. Jones stated that he had been a subscriber to The Recorder for the past forty years.

John Klopp, of Petersburg was in town Monday displaying some $70 tobacco. This was not Mr. Klopp's crop, but he got a few samples that sold from fifty to seventy dollars per hundred. Two years ago, tobacco of this same quality and color would probably brought from ten to twenty dollars. The advanced tobacco prices this year has certainly brought smiles to the faces of many farmers and their families.

J. W. Berkshire, electrical contractor, of Walton, was a business caller at this office Monday and reported that he has had plenty of work in the past few months. He has just recently completed wiring the following homes: Mr. Neal, Florence, Rome Respess, Florence, Tom Knox, Florence, Geo. Eubank, Ft. Mitchell and the newly erected funeral home of Chambers and Grubbs, Walton. Mr. Berkshire was very enthusiastic over the business he has had in 1936 and expressed an even brighter outlook for 1937.

W. A. Rouse, operator of the local pool room and grocery has recently installed a new Skee Ball game of skill and is offering a case of beer to the person getting the highest score each week. The game is of the same nature as bowling, only scored in a different manner.

Calvin Cress, our local blacksmith, has recently completed a "store to your door" truck body for a prominent Covington grocerman. He did the first job so well, that he immediately received another job of the same nature. Justin Dolph, Burlington, i official painter and touch-up man.

BARNEY BLOMER

Barney Blomer, aged 88 years, passed away Monday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Harrison, 852 Garvey Ave., Elsmere, after a long illness. The remains were removed to the Taliaferro Funeral Home for preparation.

Mr. Blomer was a cabinet maker. He is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Anna Wilson and Mrs. Geo. Mussman, of Cincinnati, Mrs. Wm. Wortman, of Latonia, Mrs. Dan Wilkins, Mrs. Geo. Harrison and Mrs. Geo. McHugh of Elsmere, Ky. 15 grandchildren .

Funeral was from the Taliaferro Funeral Home, Thursday at 8:30 a. m. with requiem high mass at St. Henry's church at 9 a. m., interment by the side of his wife in St. Mary's cemetery.

Eighty-four Fleming county farmers attended limd-phosphate demonstrations and saw large growths of alfalfa and crimson clover.

ECONOMIC POSITION OF BURLEY IMPROVED

Three years of production adjusted to consumption has improved the economic position of burley tobacco, says a statement by Prof. Dana G. Card of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Less tobacco was produced than was consumed in each of the past three years, with the result that stocks have been reduced. The total supply of tobacco on Oct. 1, 1933, was a billion and 400 million pounds. Since then about 675 millions pounds have been produced and 875 millions pounds consumed. Thus the surplus has been reduced by 200 million pounds. The supply now is about 900 millions pounds, and in another year, if consumption continues at the present rate, the supply should be near 800 millions pounds.

Thus Prof. Card points out that favorable factors in the burley tobacco situation include not only reduced production but also increased consumption. Sales of cigarettes haye been of record breaking proportions in every month but one during the past two years.

Consumption may be at such a high level as to create over-confidence among growers, Prof. Card fears, and he added that he wished "to emphasize the need for caution in planning for the future, lest new surpluses be accumulated and unsatisfactory prices result."

"Yields per acre this year are estimated to be unusually low. Normal yields would have produced 35 million pounds more than the 217 million pounds now estimated for the 1936 crop. While some increase in acvreage next year may be justified, Prof. Card thought that it could easily be overdone. "If an acreage of burley equal to the average of the five years prior to 1933 were planted and normal yields were obtainde, the resulting crop would exceed the present annual consumption by 30 million pounds," he said.

ANNUAL CATTLE SHOW ATTRACTS 900 HEAD OF 4-H CLUB CALVES

The recent 15th annual fat cattle show at the Bourbon Stock Yards in Louisville brought out approximately 2,000 head of highly finished cattle, including 900 head of 4-H club calves from 40 counties. It was one of the largest 4-H club shows ever held in the United States.

For the seventh consecutive year and for the 12th year in the history of the show, the Garrard county 4-H club had the grand champion carload. It also took the highest award on single calves for the second consecutive year. It has won this honor in seven of the 15 years.

Forty-seven county carloads of cattle and a large number of less-than-carload lots were exhibited by 4-H club members. The first 10 winners on carloads were Garrard, Woodford, Wayne, Harrison, Garrard, Clinton, Union, Henderson, Garrard and Union.

The first 10 placing on single Clark, Garrard county; Lawrence calves were in this order: Ross K. Townsend Harrison county; Haskel Dalton, Wayne; Robert Hicks, Woodford; William Pike, Washington; Gilbert Wilson, Garrard Inez Pace, Shelby; James Bean, Nelson. Jack Dickens, Montgomery, and Kenneth Hinshaw, Union.

Ross Clark's grand champion calf sold for $1 a pound, and Garrard county's grand champion carload brought 15½ cents a pound. Thirty cents a pound was paid for Lawrence Townsend's reserve champion in the 4-H division.

Trips to the International Live Stock Exposition will go to Ross Clark, owner of the best Angus calf in the 4-H club show; Kenneth Hinshaw, Union county, owner of the best Hereford, and Ralph Garman, Cumberland county, who showed the best Shorthorn. Clark is the new state champion calf club member.

GOOD TIME TO PUT TOBACCO ON LAWNS

Now is the time to put tobacco stalks or stems on the lawn for best results, according to N. R. Elliott of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky. Either stalks or stems, if they are fresh, will supply an abundance of plant food that will benefit the grass. This plant food is in a form that is readily usable by the plant without danger or injury.

In addition, the stalks or stems will furnish a certain amount of protection to the sod during the cold weather, Mr. Elliott adds. Stalks should be spaced from 4 to 6 inches apart and arranged in an orderly fashion so as to bring them in contact with the sod. Stems should be scattered, taking precaution that they do not smother the grass. It is not necessary to crush the stalks before they are placed on the lawn, as winter rains and alternating freezes and thawing teperatures will liberate the plant food.

While tobacco is an excellent fertilizer for the lawn, Prof. Elliott thinks it should not be used to the exclusion of good fertilizers. In fact, if a lawn fertilizer was used in the late fall it will not be necessary to use the tobacco this winter, but it should be used in the winter of 1937 instead of fertilizer.

Tobacco can be left on lawns until about the middle of March, when it should be removed and the lawn raked. The grass may have made some growth before the tobacco is removed but that will do no harm.

Grass seed can be sown before the tobacco is removed from the lawn.

4-H CLUB TOBACCO AVERAGES $52.91 AT LEXINGTON SHOW

Two hundred and forty-seven club members from 22 counties made exhibits at the Central Kentucky 4-H club tobacco show and sale at Lexington. The 120,880 pounds which they exhibited sold for an average of $52.91 a hundred.

The championship of the show based on crop average and record book, went to Reginald Prather, of Woodford county, whose crop of 998 pounds averaged $73.91. Donald Toadvine, Nicholas county, sold 222 pounds for an average of $76.41 and won the reserve championship.

Highest price paid at the sale was $1.25 a pound, for 34 pounds grown by Bobbie Montgomery of Woodford county. Donald Toadvine sold 48 pounds for 90 cents a pound.

The best ten crops came from Woodford county, and the average price for this tobacco was $72.55 a hundred. Jessamine was second, Magoffin, third; Johnson, fourth; Fayette, fifth; Clark, sixth; Garrard, seventh, and Robertson, 8th.

In the record book class, Thomas and Reginald Prather of Woodford county were first and second, respectively; Homer Massey, Clay county, third, and Otis Wright and Noah Mulholland of Scott county, fourth and fifth respectively.

In the Utopia club division, Monroe Morgan, Clay county was first; Jack Lynch, Fayette county, second, and Ray Wilson, Jessamine county, third.

Reginald Prather will receive a trip to Chicago for winning the championship, and a total of about $500 was divided among exhibitors The show was held by the 4-H club department of the State College of Agriculture and the Lexington Tobacco Board of Trade.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

Starting with the first issue in 1937, all classified ads, obituaries, cards of thanks, etc., will be payable in advance, and no advertisement will be published unless the money accompanies your order. This is not that we do not trust you, but the cost of bookkeeping and billing on such small accounts is greater than the price received.

It is easy to figure the correct amount of any classified advertisement by just counting the words. Count each figure (such as 2, 3, etc.,) one word. The rate is 1 cent per word, minimium of 25 cents.

When telephoning your ads direct to this office, be sure that your money reaches us before Wednesday at 10:00 a. m. (our publication deadline) or we will not be responsible for the publication of your advertisement..

In the past we have been compelled to keep records of these small advertisements, taking many hours of our time, and it is very necessary that we make this change, and hope that our advertisers and readers will bear with us in this resolution.

In making this change it will enable us to devote many more hours to gathering of copy, and general work required to publish a County weekly, thus helping us to give our readers a better paper for the year 1937.

We are carrying many dollars on our books in small classified accounts, and if you are among the many who still owe for classified advertising during the year 1936, we will greatly appreciate your coming in and settling, so that we may close our books for the past year.

PROTESTS BUYING POULTRY REMEDIES

A protest against buying alleged poultry remedies from farm to farm salesmen is made by W. M. Insko, Jr., of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

Samples of so-called worm expellants, sold in two counties, were analyzed at the Agricultural Experiment Station and found to contain epsom salts, ground limestone, sulfur, charcoal and tobacco. Although worth about 10 cents a pound, farmers paid $1 a pound for the mixture.

While epsom salts and tobacco have value as worm remedies, it is pointed out that the above product sold entirely too high. Directions may be had from the Experiment Station or from county agents for using tobacco, epsom salts, kamala and other materials to combat worms.

Mr. Insko says the best way to keep a flock in good condition is to give attention to sanitation. Worm infestation is usually found in unsanitary quarters. Pullets do better when raised on ground where there have been on chickens for at least a year.

It also is advisable to keep houses and equipment clean and disinfected. Dropping boards should be scrapped at least tiwece week, and water vessels kept clean at all times. A revolving type of hopper helps keep feed sanitary.

HOUSE VOTES TO ADJOURN

SATURDAY NIGHT—CHANDLER TO PRESS FOR PASSAGE OF CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT—BILLS MAY BE DEFEATED.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 12—Assurance that Governor A. B. Chandler will personally back the child labor amendment was given the House of Representatives of the Kentucky General Assembly Monday night.

Proposed ratification of the amendment was sponsored in both houses by Senator Joe P. Tackett, Prestonsburg and Representative Carl Scheben, Newport.

The House also voted to adjourn sine die Saturday and for repeal of the omnibus tax law to take effect in 90 days..

Meanwhile all bills proposed by the governor in his amended call of last Friday made their way into the legislative hoppers, and both House and Senate spent more actual time in session today since convening three weeks ago.

There was the possibility that many measures would be defeated unless some action was taken, especially in view of the fact that adjournment now is a certainty.

Lieut. Gov. Keen Johnson held without the purview of the legislative call a bill of Senator J. T. Murphy, Covington, to allow Circuit judges to conduct courts of inquiry, the same power as county judges now have.

"I thought since we have so liberally and adroitly interpreted the Constitution around here, that a liberal construction might be accorded this worthy measure," he said laughing.

4-H HOME ECONOMICS LEADERS' CONFERENCE

The 1937 Home Economics program was outlined to leaders at a conference in Burlington last week. Miss Edith Lacy, clothing field specialist in 4-H work, from the University of Kentucky, discussed the newest methods of presenting the clothing projects to 4-H club girls.

The selection of patterns, materials and color was especially stressed by Miss Lacy. She told the leaders that "Good Grooming and posture," are just as important as a well-made garment in making a girl well dressed. Samples of Spring materials were examined by the leaders. Each person present made a set of ensemble cards for dresses made in each unit of clothing.

Project work is being started in January with plans to be completed by the 15th of May, according to Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

FISH AND GAME MEETING TO BE HELD AT BURLINGTON

PETERSBURG VICTORIOUS

OVER RED CROSS SHOES IN FAST BASKETBALL GAME AT HEBRON SATURDAY NIGHT—SCORE 35 TO 32.

In a fast and hard fought basket ball game Saturday night, the Petersburg boys defeated the Red Cross Shoes in a Mid-West league game 35 to 32. The game was played on the floor of the Hebron high school gym.

This game was hard fought from beginning to end, and the outcome was in doubt until the final whistle. "Woody" Woods, with 12 points was high score man for Petarsburg, while E. Reichman with 12 points was high score man for Red Cross.

The Petersburg quintet will entertain the Morris Furniture team, of Cincinnati, O., Saturday night, January 16th at the Hebron gym. This promises to be a very fast game. The local boys are in very form and are very apt in hitting the basket from most any position on the floor.

A preliminary game between Florence Independents and Petersburg Independents, will start at 7:00 (slow time).

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT

What records must employers keep in connection with the tax returns to be filed in compliance with the old age pensions provisions of the Social Security Act?

Every employer liable for the tax must keep accurate records of all wages paid to his employes after Dec. 31, 1936, showing:

1.—The name, address and account number of each employee.

2.—Occupation of the employee.

3.—Total wages (including the amount deducted for the tax), the date of each payment and the period covered.

4.—Total amount deducted from each employee's wages for the tax.

Is any particular form specified for the keeping of the records?

No. The employer may use the form he finds most convenient, providing he uses a system of accounting which allows a check of the reports. All such records must be kept at some convenient location, readily accessible to internal revenue officers.

In cases where an employer makes an error in collecting the emlopes' tax from two or more of his employees, must a seperate adjustment be made with respect to each employee?

Yes. Thus, an overcollection of employee's tax from one employee may not offset an undercollection of such tax from another. Also, erroneous payments of employers' tax and of employes' tax must be adjusted separately.

If an employee is retired by his then gives up his job and enters college, can he keep his account number.

Each employee's account number is permanent. Therefore, in this case the account number would be maintained and if the student afterward reenters an employment coming under the old-age annuity provisions he would continue to use the number in all his transactions with the Social Security Board.

If an employe is retired by his employer before he reaches 65 is he entitled to the benefits of the anuuity payments?

If he has fulfilled the minimum requirements as to length of employment he will be entitled to receive certain benefits after he reaches 65. But until he reaches that age he is dependent on State or local aid.

When should the employer deduct the tax from employees' wage?

At the time wage payments are made. If an employee's wages are "constructively" paid, that is, if the amount is credited to a drawing account, the tax becomes due when withdrawal from the account occurs.

LOAN ASS'N. TO HOLD MEETING

IN BURLINGTON NEXT TUESDAY, JANUARY 19TH—RADIO PEFORMERS TO BE ON PROGRAM.

A. B. Renaker, Secretary-Treasurer of the Boone County National Farm Loan Association has issued invitations to 217 borrowers of the Federal Land Bank and Land Bank Commissioner, whose loans are serviced by the Boone County National Farm Loan Association, to attend the annual meeting in Burlington, January 19th. Invitations have also been extended to County officials and officers of other farm organizations.

The meeting will be held in the bank auditorium beginning at nine o'clock a. m. (slow time), with an hour of old time music by the well known radio performers in person, "The Boone County Kids," follow by a two-hour program of short snappy speeches on subjects of interest to farmers, including:

Welcome address and review of business of the past year—E. A. Martin, President Boone Co. N. F. L. A.

Reports and introduction of directors—A. B. Renaker, Sec'y-Treas.

Agricultural Outlook and Government Farm Program for 1937—H. R. Forkner, County Agent; E. A. Johnson, Marketing Specialist, College of Agriculture.

Soil Conservation—W. M. Adams, CCC Camp Superintendent, Walton..

Observations of a Vice President—John G. Grimes, Vice President Boone Co. N. F. L. A.

A Lawyer and a Farmer—H. G. Hightower, Attorney.

The Federal Land Bank—C. B. Wunderlich, Asst. Treas., Federal Land Bank, Louisville, Ky.

Discussion from the floor—led by Walter D. Vest, Attorney.

Appointment of Cmmittees.

Report of Committees.

Eelection of officers.

A buffet luncheon will be served at the close of the program and there be no afternoon session.

The Boone County National Farm Loan Association is the largest farmers' organization in the County, servicing loans to farmers of almost a million dollars, through the Federal Land Bank of Louisville, out of whict total only a few borrowers are delinquent in their payments. John L. Vest and Walter D. Vest are the attorneys and abstractors for the association.

The Secretary-Treasurer and the directors of the Association are very anxious to have every borrower represented at this meeting and have arranged a worthwhile program of speakers and entertainment.

The Boone County National Farm Loan Association closed its first loan of $4400.00 in June 1922 and while this loan has been reduced considerably by small semi-annual payments, under the long time payment plan, it is in good standing and still being serviced by the association.

The interest rate on Federal Land Bank loans has been 3½ per cent for the past two years even though the contract rate was 5½ per cent, while commissioner's loans carry a 5 per cent rate.

Beginning February 1st the Federal Land Bank plans to have all payments by borrowers handled by the local Association instead of being sent direct to Louisville, as has been the custom in the past. This plan places considerable extra work on the officials of the Association.

Last year at the annual meeting about 25 borrowers and visitors were entertained and a much larger attendance is expected this year.

The present directors are E. A. Martin, John H. Grimes, B. E. Aylor, Karl Rouse and Thos. Hensley, who attended every meeting of the Board during the year except two members being absent at one meeting on account of inclement weather.

The meeting on the 19th will probably be the largest gathering of representative farmers from section of the County ever held in Burlington.

BILL COLLINS CHEVROLET TAKES OVER NEW GARAGE

The management of Bill Collins Chevrolet Inc., stated Monday that they had purchased the business located at Dixie Highway and Goodridge Drive. This garage is modern in every way and is one of the best locations in this section.

Mr. Collins stated that they would handle new and used cars, both in their Erlanger garage and at their new garage. Repairing and general garage work will be a specialty at their new branch, and your patronage is earnestly solicited by the management.

With this new addition to the firm, Mr. Collins stated that they woud be in a position to handle the increasing mechanical work without any delay whatsoever.

BOONE COUNTY HOMEMAKERS

EXPECTED TO ATTEND FARM AND HOME CONVENTION TO BE HELD IN LEXINGTON, JANUARY 26-29.

Several Homemakers of Boone County are planning to attend the Farm and Home Convention in Lexington, January 26, through 29th. Some of the clubs are planning to send members to Lexington just for one day's program. Part of the Burlington Club are are planning to go down Wednesday morning and stay until Friday afternoon. The LaFayette, Phoenix and Drake Hotels are making special rates to Homemakers, according to Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Boone County will be accepted into the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers on Friday, January 29th. The Kentucky Federation is a member of the "Associated Countrywomen of the World." Boone will have two voting delegates attend business meetings of the Kentucky Federation.

The program of the twenty-fifth annual Farm and Home Convention will be of interest to all Homemakers. The talks of Judge Camille Kelly, Memphis, Tenn.; Miss Julia Newton, Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C.; Miss Fannie Brooks, University of Illinois; Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, Washington, D. C.; and Miss Bess M. Rowe, editor Home Department. The Farmers' Wife, St. Paul, Minn., will be one of the highlights of the week's program.

The Campbell County Homemakers' chorus will put on a minstrel show. Friday, January 29th is devoted entirely to the program of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers.

Homemakers who want to make hotel reservations for the convention should notify Miss Gillaspie.

SATURDAY LAST DAY . FOX'S COVINGTON STORE

On Saturday night, January 16, Fox's Store, 526 Madison Avenue, Covington, will close its doors for good.

Mrs. Fox announced that further drastic reduction on all stock will be made for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, final days of her qutting-business sale. During this time, for instance, new-style hats of $1.39 value will be sold for only 25 cents. First-quality silk hose for only 19 cents. The store's final announcement appears in this issue of The Recorder.

LOCAL GIRL PROMOTED

Miss Mary Louise Renaker, who has been employed by the Kemper-Thomas Lithograthing Co., of Norwood, O., has recently been promoted. She was former Secretary of the Collection Manager, but was promoted as private secretary to the President of the firm, receiving a substantial increase in salary.

Miss Renaker goes to Law School at the Y. M. C. A. two nights each week and is taking a course in Collections and Credits one night each week at the Cincinnati University.

COMMUNITY PROGRAM MEETING DATES SET

Boone County farmers will plan Community Agricultural Improvements program for 1937 in a series of ten community meetings, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The meetings will be held during the next two weeks and all who are interested are invited to take part..

The dates and place for the community meetings are as follows:

Petersburg—January 14, 7 p. m. at School.

Hebron—January 16, 7 p. m. at School.

Verona—January 16, 7 p. m., at school.

Verona, January 16, 1 p. m. bank.

GAS IS PLENTIFUL

According to a report received at this office Monday, the Limaburg neighborhood must have plenty of gas veins.. According to the report, William Waters noticed while the creek was at a high stage that bubbles were being forced to the surface by a gas vein. Immediately after the creek had receded he obtained a shovel and one of the old time phonograph horns used many years ago—the kind which was funnel-shaped. He spaded a shallow hole in the creek bed, then placed the horn in the hole, large end down, packing it with dirt. He then placed a garden hosen on the small end, running it to the Old Grist Mill a short distance away.

It is reported by residence of the Limaburg neighborhood that the small well is producing enough gas to supply a stove in the establishment of Mr. Waters.

If the information handed us is correct, and we believe that it is, the Limaburg residents will be looking up their old phonograph horns and will probably be spading up the creek bed in search of other new gas wells.

One of the men furnishing us with this information stated that the name of the burg should be changed from Limaburg to Gasburg.

It was reported that Mr. Gooch Popham had been selected as president of a new gas company being formed in that neighborhood.

DR. R. N. ALLEN TO BE SPEAKER AT FLORENCE M. E. CHURCH, SUNDAY

Dr. R. N. Allen, Louisville, Ky., and assistant Executive Secretary of the General Board of Church Extension, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will speak at the new Florence Methodist Church, Florence, at 11:00 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, next Sunday, Jan. 17.

This noted speaker laid the corner stone at this new church on Oct. 16, 1936, after having delivered an address inspiring and helpful to those present, according to the expressions of many.

The present house of worship of this congregation was opened for services on December 20, 1936. It has already had a wedding ceremony performed in it with a large audience present and a baptismal service of four infants and children.

The Rose Epworth League Union held a banquet on Monday night of this week in the dining room and social hall. A fifty-cent chicken dinner will be served to the public on Saturday, January 23 from 5:00 to 9:00 p. m.

STATE BAPTISTS PLAN GREAT BIBLE CONFERENCE

Baptists of the State are looking forward to the meeting of the Kentucky Baptist Bible Conference recently authorized by the General Association at Paducah.

The meeting is to be held in Louisville, January 17-22, at the Walnut Street Baptist Church, 3rd and St. Catherine Streets.

The Committee announces an imposing array of speakers and Conference leaders, including Dr. W. T. Conner, of Texas; Dr. Ellis Fuller, of Altana; Dr. J. R. Sampey, President of the Southern Baptist Convention; Dr. E. F. Haight, of New Orleans, besides several other State and Southwide men.

The Louisville Churches are throwing open their homes, and several hundred State pastors are expected to be in attendance. The Committee is suggesting that churches provide traveling expenses for their pastors, which will be about all their cost.

It is thought that this Bible Conference will grow into some such institution as the Winona Lake Conference of Indiana or the Northfield Conference of Massachusetts.

Dr. Finley F. Gibson is the host pastor, and Dr. E. C. Stevens is General Chairman over the meeting.

A. B. RENAKER TO ADDRESS MEMBERS OF NORTHERN KENTUCKY CREDIT ASS'N.

Our local banker, A. B. Renaker, has been invited to address the annual meeting of the Northern Kentucky Production Credit Association at Williamstown next Friday, January 15th on the subject, "Observation from the Standpoint of a Banker and National Farm Loan Association Secretary."

Another one of our Boone County citizens, C. Liston Hempfling, also appears on this program, covering report of the Executive Committee, of which Mr. Hempfling is a member.

This is an all-day meeting with a luncheon at noon.

LOCAL BANK HAS ANNUAL ELECTION

BANK IS IN STRONG POSITION, BOTH AS TO CASH RESERVES AND CONDITION OF NOTES AND INVESTMENTS.

Last Tuesday, January 12th, the Peoples Deposit Bank, held its annual election for directors, electing N. E. Riddell, A. W. Corn, S. B. Nunnelley, C. F. Blankenbeker, W. P. Beemon, F. L. McGlasson, R. S. Cowen, Henry Clore and Al Rogers to serve for the ensuing year. W. L. Cropper and F. H. Rouse held the election in the directors' room of the bank.

Three hundred fifty-seven shares of stock out of the five hundred were represented at this meeting without a dissenting vote for directors.

The stockholders also voted their approval of the Directors' action in taking the necessary steps to eliminate the double liability on the stock of the bank July 1st.

The board will meet the first Monday in February for organization and election of officers which will, in all probability be the same as last year, being N. E. Riddell, President, A. W. Corn, Vice President, Al Rogers, Secretary of the Board.

All employees of the bank were reemployed for 1937 at the December meeting, as it is the usual custom, they being A. B. Renaker, Cashier, Neil H. Martin, L. C. Beemon, G. S. Kelly and C. L. Cropper, Assistant Cashiers.

The report of the cashier to the stockholders present showed the bank in a strong position both as to cash reserves and condition of all notes and investments, with deposits nearing the million mark, capital $50,000.00 and surplus and undivided profits $83,000.00, besides a large appreciation in the bond account not shown on the books of the bank, this being the difference between the book value and the actual market value of the bank's bond account.

A four per cent semi-annual dividend was paid to stockholders December 31st.

Mr. Aylor reports that his son, Elmo, who is at the present time in Vermont, completing his electrical engineering course, is doing fine and seems to enjoy his work more and more each day. We are certainly proud of Elmo, and assure him that he has our full support in all his undertakings.

A. C. P. FORMS ARE COMPLETED

AND FORWARDED TO STATE OFFICE FOR PAYMENT—191 FORMS REMAIN IN COUNTY OFFICE UNSIGNED.

Eight hundred and twenty 1936 Agricultural Conservation program forms have been completed and forwarded the State office for payment, according to John E. Crigler Secretary of the Boone County ACP Association. One hundred ninety-four remain in the County office that are ready to be forwarded as soon as farmers will sign same.

The program has moved rapidly to completion during the past two weeks, with payment expected on the first shipment of forms within about fifteen to twenty days.

Farmers who have not signed the remaining 194 forms are urged to do so immediately. Full performance for payment on this program has already been met and signing is all that remains before payment can be completed. The signing of the 1936 forms in no way affects the farmer, whether or not he takes part in the new 1937 farm program. It is hoped all forms not signed will be completed at the earliest possible date. Late signed forms put extra work on the County office.

Editorial of the Week

THINGS WE CAN DEPEND ON IN 1937

As the new year begins, one of the finest things to do is to consider what are the principles, the policies, and the rules of life and conduct that we can depend on—things that we can lean on and be sure that they will not fail us at any time during the coming year.

I would like to pass on to my readers these brief thoughts with the hope that you will benefit therefrom:

I know that the laws of nature were made on a universal scale, and that they will never be changed for my private benefit. I may pray unceasingly, but gravitation will remain constant. This knowledge makes me careful to obey that law, and not presume against it. The other laws in the net in which we are enmeshed are all enchanging.

I have learned another fact about happiness. I can't make myself happy apart from contacts with other people. If I try to make another person happy, I always get a part of the glow reflected to my own heart. We cannot lift ourselves off the earth by pulling on our bootstraps, but we can lift our souls into the presence of Christ by trying to life someone else.

I have learned that as a book for personal guidance, both in thought and action, there is none equal to the Bible. I pass by the wordy disputes of men about the inspiration of the Bible and look into its inspiring pages, and am myself inspired by what I find there.

I have learned that Christ's greatest teachings will fit into my daily life and that His example will act as a corrective for every weakness I discover within myself.

Let Christ and His teachings be your guide all during the coming year, and your burden will be much lighter.

WHERE THE STATE CAN HELP TAXPAYERS

It would be disappointing if the present Legislature should mar its exceptionally excellent record by repealing the act abolishing the office of County Jailer, which was enacted by the 1934 Legislature over the opposition of the same influence which is agitating for repeal.

It would be an astonishing abatement of zeal were the present Administration, after pioneering reforms at Frankfort, to neglect the 120 county sub-divisions of State government. They stand just as much in need of reform. They consume most of the farmers' taxes, and this is not merely the consequence of eliminating State levies on real estate. In 1917, the Efficiency Commission report shows, general property paid State taxes of $5,070,878 and county taxes of $6,124,927; but by 1922, when the survey was made, the State taxes were $7,685,437, county taxes $15,133,734.

"From the more immediate standpoint of the taxpayer," the commission concluded, "the county governments and their expenditures overshadow the State . . . There can be little room for doubt as to where an inquiry into the high cost of government should begin," Mayor Miller's study of government costs led to the same conclusion.

The Jailer's is one of the "unnecessary jobs" that party platforms and candidates are forever promising to dispense with, in the opinion of the Efficiency Commission. It is no argument for the restoration of the office to dispute the anticipated saving in direct expenses, however open to dispute that may be. The net reduction in overhead at Frankfort by reason of the reorganization cannot be much, if anything, when the staff for old-age pensions and other extensions of public service is included. Nevertheless, this Administration has conserved millions. The Louisville audit and survey resulted in economies and better returns from taxes; but it also entailed investment in expensive equipment, and payroll reductions do not account for the lower tax rate.

This Administration and this Legislature wisely reorganized the Government at Frankfort to coordinate Executive functions and make economy possible, the only way it is possible, by an efficient system faithfully operated. That is the way the object was accomplished in the counties.

The Administration and the Legislature have recognized this theory and proved it in practice. They are responsible for the system in the counties if they let it stand. "County government in this State as elsewhere," said the Efficiency Commission "has received less impetus toward improvement than any other branch of government," and that was twenty-two years before the modernization of State Government in Kentucky. "Many of the needs as regards reform of county government closely parallel those which have been recognized in the case of municipal government and which have been taken care of."

Realizing that counties are the most avaricious taxeaters, nearly every State is considered county reorganization. The citizens of New York and Ohio adopted constitutional amendments to facilitate drastic reform. Kentucky has an amendment pending to ameliorate conditions in metropolitan areas. The time is favorable for Kentucky to take the lead in the solution of this problem, while it has an Administration heartily supported by public opinion. It would complete the record so ably initiated and leave no conspicuous neglect of a subsequent issue to obscue meritorious performance. Above all, it is inconceivable that public servants would deliberately mar their own records by such a precipitate retreat from the responsibility as restoration of the

BUY INSURANCE CAREFULLY

Practically everyone agrees that insurance is a good thing. Practically every one wants it. And more than half of the population own it.

That means much to the economic future of the country—to requote a familiar statement, "A thoroughly insured people would be a depression proof people." However, the wise life insurance buyer will exercise considerable caution in making his policy purchases.

"Any old kind of insurance" isn't good enough. A policy that may completely fit the needs of your neighbor may be the wrong kind of policy for you. A sound life insurance program must be predicated upon the individual's needs and problems.

In recent years, life insurance agents have taken greater care in suggesting programs, and this has been a strong influence in bringing about better insurance coverage. And the policy-buyer as well should study the various contracts offered, and learn something about them on his own account.

You can get more of the kind of protection you need for $100 a year with a well chosen program than for $200 with a badly chosen program. No purchase demands more forethought than life insurance."

House in St. Paul Where Green Was Trapped.

EDDIE GREEN

EDDIE GREEN, St. Paul gunman and bank robber, who had the underworld distinction of active membership in the Dillinger and the Karpis-Barker gangs at the same time, invited death—and got it.

Circumstances surrounding the fatal shooting of Green by federal bureau of investigation agents, who set a trap for him on April 3, 1934, at a house in St. Paul, were the subject of an under-cover inquiry recently by secret service agents.

The "ill-advised" secret service activities apparently were prompted by recurring rumors that G-men fired at Green without knowing his identity, that they only learned who he was by questioning him on his death-bed at the hospital, that Green was "mowed down" mercilessly and without warning and that he was a "minor hoodlum" who deserved better treatment.

Well, let's look at the record.

With the co-operation of Director Hoover of the F. B. I., I have gone thoroughly over the bureau's heretofore confidential files on the Green case and, I believe, have found the answer—officially—to the questions which puzzled curious secret service men.

In the first place, a study of the criminal record of Edward Green—alias Eugene Green, George Graham, Charles Ryan, George Green, Fred Rogge, Frederick Riley, Fred Graham and Eugene Riley — fails to support the rumor that he was just a bad boy who became involved innocently with big-time killers.

He started out as a small-timer—his first sentence having been served in the house of correction for grand larceny, but he graduated into such select gangland company as that represented by Frank Nash, cause of the Kansas City massacre; Verne Miller, one of the massacre "trigger men"; Alvin Karpis and the Barker brothers, of kidnaping note, and, finally, John Dillinger.

He robbed banks with the Karpis-Barker gang and with the Dillinger gang.

His home was the haven to which members of both gangs would flee in time of trouble, the "post office" through which they received their mail, the clearing house through which they kept in touch with one another, the headquarters where many desperate crimes were plotted.

At the time of his death he was custodian of much of the heavy artillery composing the arsenal of the Dillinger mob.

A second point supplied by the records is that Hoover's men knew exactly whom they were shooting when they opened fire. They had set their trap for Green and no one else.

A third point is that Green was shot only as a final resort—as he answered a command to halt by starting to run and reaching for his hip pocket.

The fact that he lived for eight days after the shooting and was conscious until a few hours before his death belies reports that he was "riddled with bullets."

Full details of the events which led up to the capture of Green are disclosed herewith, by permission of the F. B. I.

It will be recalled that on March 31, 1934, Dillinger, Homer Van Meter and Evelyn Frechette shot their way out of a St. Paul apartment house. A careful inquiry at this apartment provided G-men with the address of another apartment, on Marshall avenue, which they immediately investigated.

At the second apartment they learned that apartment 106 had been occupied by a man of suspicious habits until the day of the Dillinger shooting affray, and that the man had not returned since that time. His description tallied with that of Van Meter. The manager said the apartment had been rented two weeks before by a "Mr. D. A. Stevens" and that the latter had turned the apartment over to the man answering Van Meter's description.

The agents obtained permission to enter this apartment. They found: a leather bag, a Thompson machine gun stock that fitted a stockless gun abandoned by Van Meter in his escape on March 31, a large quantity of ammunition, a revolver holster, a pair of field glasses, a two-foot piece of dynamite fuse and several "get-away" charts and road maps used in bank robberies.

While the agents were in the apartment, two colored women appeared and announced they had been sent to "clean the apartment." These women, upon interrogation, eventually admitted that the "D. A. Stevens" who had rented the apartment was really Eddie Green, for whom they had worked at a roadhouse.

They said Green and his paramour had called at their house that morning and asked them to go to the "Stevens" apartment on Marshall avenue and get a suitcase, a coat and some laundry. Their instructions were to take these articles to their home, where Green would call for them later that day.

Several agents were "planted" in the colored women's home. They were armed with rifles and automatic pistols — for they believed they were to face a desperate man, an associate of Dillinger and Van Meter. The latter pair had machine-gunned their way to freedon only a few days before. The agents were determined not to let anothcr member of the gang escape.

One of the colored women was instructed to open the door and hand the bag to Green when he appeared, then step aside. Three agents were hidden at strategic places on the first floor, where they could watch developments through curtained windows.

Just before 6 p. m. a sedan pulled to a stop in front of the house. There were a woman and a man in it, Green and his paramour.

Green began getting out of the car almost before it stopped, ran up to the front door of the house and received the suitcase from the colored woman.

Then he turned quickly and dashed back toward the car, the motor of which had been left running.

As Green leaped down the front steps, the agent in charge of the squad commanded him to halt.

Instead of obeying this command, the F. B. I. files show, Green quickened his pace and, startled by the command, reached toward his pocket as though to draw a gun.

That instinctive, menacing gesture was a fatal one—it was the signal for the agents to fire, or seek safety and let another gangster escape without so much as a struggle.

Actually, that impulsive sweep of Green's hand toward his gun pocket was a futile move. He had left his guns at home—and it proved to be quite an arsenal, when G-men found it later.

His woman companion was arrested and questioned. She had on her $1,155.

Green was found to have two safety deposit boxes containing $4,000 and $4,700, respectively.

Green, questioned at the hospital, made the following admissions to F. B. I. agents:

He had been downstairs in the St. Paul apartment when Dillinger and Van Meter made their sensational escape on March 31, 1934, fleeing during the confusion.

He had arranged for Dr. Clayton E. May, Minneapolis physician (since convicted of harboring Dillinger) to treat a bullet wound Dillinger received in the apartment house battle.

He had committed numerous bank robberies in association with the Karpis-Barker and Dillinger gangs.

He had paticipated two weeks before with Dillinger, Van Meter, John Hamilton, "Baby Face" Nelson and Tommy Carroll in the $52,000 robbery of the First National bank at Mason City, Iowa.

He was planning to rob a bank in Newton, Iowa, at the time he was shot.

Part of his long criminal record in the fingerprint division of the F. B. I. follows:

As Eugene Green, arrested by police, Milwaukee, Wis., August 11, 1916, charge, grand larceny; sentenced to six months.

As Frederick Riley, arrested by police, Des Moines, Iowa, suspicion of safeblowing; released to St. Paul police, who also wanted him for safeblowing and robbery; August 12, 1922.

As Eddie Green, received at State reformatory, St. Cloud, Minn., November 15, 1922, under sentences of forty and five years and transferred to Minnesota State penitentiary.

As Eddie Green, paroled from Minnesota State penitentiary, July 1, 1930.

As Edward Green, arrested St. Paul, Minn., April 3, 1934 and charged with attempting murder of F. B. I. agent.

This was the "bad boy" whose death appears to have aroused the sympathies of some critics of the G-men.

CHEVROLET NEWS

Chevrolet's new car sales totaled 101,286 units, in December, it was announced today by W. E. Holler, general sales amnager. This figure represents an increase over the same month in 1935, of more than 21,000 units, as the record for a year ago was 80,189 new car sales.

Sales of new trucks included in the total unit sales figure, were 17,516. Used car sales during the month were 148,163.

Mr. Holler cited these figures as added proof of the fact that American buying power is on a decided upswing and that a general increase in the potential market for new cars exists.

Lesson for January 17

JESUS THE WATER OF LIFE

LESSON TEXT—John 4:7-26.

GOLDEN TEXT—Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst. John 4:14.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Answering a Woman's Question.

JUNIOR TOPIC—How a Stranger Became a Friend.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus Meets My Greatest Needs.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Meets Our Deepest Need.

Life, light, water, bread are elemental, fundamental things. Life must come from God. But it can exist only where there is light, and only God gives light.

It is therefore a blessed and significant fact that Jesus was declared to be the life of men. He also says of himself that he is the "light of the world" (John 9:5); "the bread of life" (John 6:35). In our lesson today we see Him as the one who gives "living water" (v. 10).

The incident at Jacob's well in Sychar took place when Jesus, leaving Jerusalem because of increasing hindrance to his work, goes up to Galilee. Unlike his Jewish brethren, who detoured around the land of the hated "half-breed" Samaritans, he "must needs go through Samaria," for there was a sin-sick soul that needed him.

Space will not permit a full consideration of all the beauty and the depth of spiritual truth found in this story.

I. A Sinner Tactfully Approached (vv. 7-15).

Every Christian is by his very calling a soul-winner. We dare not delegate this responsibility to the pastor or missionary. As soul-winners we are vitally interested in our Lord's approach to this woman who was far from God, apparently hopelessly involved in sinful associations, a citizen of a hostile nation and an adherent of another religious faith.

By asking a favor of her he tactfully placed himself (as does any petitioner) for the moment, on her own plane. He was not a distant, learned religious leader deigning to cast a bit of religious philosophy to her. He was a tired, thirsty man asking for a drink of water.

But he was more! He was the gracious Son of God, ready to give the water of life.

II. A Moral Problem Faced (vv. 16-18).

One may speak knowingly of the promises of God's Word, and may understand the "way of salvation," but one will never find peace and joy until there is a frank and open facing of sin in the life. Let us make no mistake at this point, for the moral law of God is the same now as it was on that far-off day when Jesus brought the woman of Samaria face to face with her own sin.

III. A Theological Problem Solved (vv. 19-24).

Possibly in an effort to evade her moral problem by theological discussion (a common practice in our day, too!), and partly because of her ignorance of true worship, she asks a question about a controversial matter relating to outward ceremony. Is it not a singular thing how men who know nothing of spiritual life delight in the propagation and defense of organizations, and in the conduct of outward religious exercises?

True worship is revealed (v. 23) as being (1) "In spirit." We do not cast aside all external helps to worship, but real worship goes through and beyond both place and symbol to real soul-communion with God (2) "In truth." Sham, superstition, hypocrisy, have no place in true worship. We can worship in truth only when we really know the truth. MacLaren rightly said, "The God to whom men attain by any other path than his historical revelation of himself is a dim, colorless abstraction, a peradventure, an object of fear or hope, as may be, but not of knowledge." Truly spoke Jesus — "We know what we worship" (v. 22).

IV. The Messiah Declared (vv. 25, 26;.

Jesus honors this poor fallen woman by making to her his first declaration of himself as the Messiah. He is the high and exalted one, but he is at the same time the friend of sinners. To the learned ruler of the Jews, Nicodemus, he spoke of the new birth. To the poor woman of Samaria he declares his Messiahship.

And she forthright left her water pot and went to bring others to him.

Height of Our Destiny

It is from out of the depths of our humility that the height of our destiny looks grandest. Let me truly feel that in myself I am nothing, and at once, through every inlet of my soul, God comes in, and is everything in me.—W. Mountford.

Love and Fears

The warm loves and fears, that swept over us as clouds, must lose their finite character and blend with God, to attain their own perfection. —Emerson.

Inside News from the Nation's Capital

BY DAN GILBERT

Presents Ready to Be Distributed

Washington is once more a scene of bustling activity. Apartment houses and hotels are crowded to capacity. Congressmen, Senators, their wives, families, and secretarial help, are pouring in from every part of the country.

The President comes bearing gifts. For weeks, he and his helpers have been preparing presents for distribution to members of the House and Senate. It will be some time, however, before the nation's duly elected representatives learn of all they have in their stockings. His message on the state of the Union probably gives only a hint.

Disclourses from sources close to the inner sanctum of the White House, reveal that the dear public will do well to brace itself for some unique thrills and shocks. New legislative measures, heretofore unknown to the American people, are on the way.

On the evening of November 3rd, when it was definitely known that the President had been reelected, he said from the front porch of his home at Hyde Park: "I am going back to Washington. During the joyous Christmas season, I shall be preparing gifts for the next Congress.

How Much?: One of the bitterest struggles looming on the battlefield of the 75th Congress, has to do with this year's spending of relief money.

When the President gave out his suggestion that $500,000,000 would be required, as a new appropriation to suffice until June 30, he drew fire from several directions.

Practically all members of both houses were given to understand before leaving home, that something must be done about the mounting tax burden.

Senator King (D-Utah says that such a sum as the President mentions is "unnecessary." King advocates "reducing overhead" and applying "economy." In his opinion States should absorb a growing proportion of the burden and not more than $300,000,000 should be appropriated at the present time. All agree that no one should go hungry.

Spanking the Baby Senator: West Virginia's thirty-one year old baby Senator, Rush D. Holt, will feel the big stick of his Democratic colleagues in the present session. Senator Carl Hayden (D. Ariz.), chairman of an "unofficial" but powerful committee, has already notified him that such patronage as he has dispensed in the past is soon to be taken out of his hands.

"It has become my duty to advise you that you will in all probability be deprived of the patronage positions now assigned to you" says Hayden in a letter to Holt. The only answer made by the youthful Senator was: "I see the era of good feeling has begun."

Baby Congressman Marries: Lyle Boren of Stillwater, Oklahoma is the "baby" Representative of the 75th session. He has just passed his 27th birthday.

Boren defeated the "Cowboy Congressman" Percy L. Gassaway, whose boisterous utterances will be missed this year on the hill, Gassaway, used to take particular delight in hurling invectives at Huey Long. Being the father of 14 children, he rediculed Boren during the campaign for "not even having a wife."

"I'm young yet; just give me time," pleaded the youthful opponent. Boren was married a few days before leaving Stillwater to come to Washington and is now being seen around the Capitol with his 22 year old bride at his side. They appear to be a very happy couple.

Dickstein Plans Treat for Pleasure-Loving Congressmen: Congressmen who fancy play-acting in the role of inquisitors will have a wider stage on which to perform, if reported plans of Representative Samuel Dickstein materialize.

After securing from the 73rd Congress a special appropriation of $50,000. Congressman Dickstein led a troupe of congressmen on a cross-country inquisition into alleged Nazi activities.

Infirmation is that he now is prepared to ask for $200,000 more with which to track down those of Hitler's henchmen who may have escaped the congressional sleuths who two years ago rode Pullman cars from coast-to-coast in fruitless pursuit of phantom fascists.

There probably will be no appropriation to investigate communist activities, as such an investigation might prove embarrassing by revealing the beneficiaries of the votes of communists who bolted their ticket in the recent election to form a "united front" against "reaction." There are said to be more communists in Mr. Dickstein's New York district than there are in any other congressional district in the United States.

Flying A Kite: Some men from over in the war department sent up a kite the other day to feel out John Citizen on the question of dictatorship. A definite recommendation was made to Congress that the President be given "dictatorial powers over men and materials in time of war."

Sherlock Holmes would not be able to find a man, in the war department, who doesn't expect war within the next four years. It is evident that John fails to comprehend what it's all about because as yet he has said little or nothing about the kite.

Whirlpools in the Cross Currents Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., who tried to scalp national Republican chairman Hamilton is still smarting from the effects of his Chicago drubbing . . . The Republican national Committee has put a taboo on Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling's new book "The Roosevelt Red Record and its Background" . . . Wiseacres declares that the Democrats have selected Senator Ashurst (D.-Ariz.) to introduce the bill for a constitutional amendment giving new dealers authority to regulate agriculture, commerce, industry and labor . . . Evangelist R. T. Richey of Houston recently called at the White House with petitions bearing 101,729 signatures requesting the President to call a day of prayer . . . Professional pacifists, who wish to see America disarm while Russia goes on building the greatest military machine in the world's history, are already busy here turning the heat on Congressmen . . . Strong pressure is being marshalled behind pending bills to limit to $25,000 contributions of any organization to a presidential campaign. Capital cynics are wondering if John L. Lewis will brand the bills as "anti-labor."

L. & N. EMPLOYES TO HOLD MEETING

A gigantic "safety-friendly service" meeting of nearly 30,000 Louisville and Nashville Railroad employes and their families, residing in 13 southern states, will be held, via radio, when that company broadcasts from WSM at Nashville, Tenn., on January 15.

A thirty-minute program of song and story portraying incidents in railroad life, including a short talk by the railroad's president, James B. Hill, will go on the air at 9:30 p. m.

The broadcast will be made from the stage of the War Memorial Building at Nashville as a feature of a meeting of some 2000 railroad employes from that vicinity.

It is indicated that the program will be unique and will have wide public appeal.

STOCKHOLDERS TO MEET

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 11—Annual stockholders' meetings of four of the 12 production credit associations of Kentucky have been called by the respective boards of directors for the week of January 12-16, President Walter F. Gahm of the Production Credit Corporation of Louisville stated Jan. 7.

Members of the Falls City Production Credit Association met in Louisville Tuesday, January 12, followed by conventions of stockholders of the Danville District Association at Danville on January 13 Northern Kentucky will meet at Williamstown on January 15 and the Flemingsburg Association on January 16. The Nolin Association holds it meeting at Elizabethtown on Tuesday, January 19, while members of the Mammoth Cave Association will meet at Glasgow on January 20, West Kentucky at Hopkinsville January 21, Jackson Purchase at Mayfield January 22 and Owensboro, January 23. Meeting of the Big Sandy Production Credit Association is at Paintsville on January 26, the Cumberland Association at London January 28 and the Central Kentucky at Lexington on February 17.

The 12 production credit associations of Kentucky made 4,704 short-term loans to the farmers of the state during 1936 for $2,122,000, according to Mr. Gahm.

"The most important business to come before the meeting is the election of directors for the ensuing year," he stated. "For this reason we urge all production credit association members to attend their stockholders' conventions. These organizations are cooperative institutions for permanent credit service to farmers. The stockholders' meeting is one time of the year when members have full opportunity for discussing the affairs of their credit association."

During the 33 months since these organizations made their first loans farmer-members in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee have bought and paid for more than $753,000 of the capital stock. All voting stock is held by farmer-members. This places responsibility for managament of the organization directly in the hands of the borrowers.

GOLD HOARD TO START MOVING TO FT. KNOX SOON

Washington, Jan. 10—A mint Bureau report indicated today the Treasury would begin moving within a week or so approximately $4,000,000,000 of its vast gold hoard to a new momb-proof vault at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Final arrangements for the transfer from New York and Philadelphia to the fort-like inland structure are being effected in a series of secret conferences by Army, Treasury and Post Office officials. The shipments probably will be made over a period of several months, utilizing heavily guarded and armored trains.

The Mint Bureau report said that transfer of gold from the Philadelphia Mint and the New York Assay Office "will relieve the vaults in those institutions, thus providing addtiional work facilities there."

It had been generally assumed that $6,000,000,000 would be placed in the new depositaory, but the report showed that only $4,504,663,000 now was held at New York and Philadelphia, of which $3,752,979,000 was at New York.

Stocks in the New York Assay Office now are the largest in the country, having been supplemented steadily by gold imports.

In line with the Treasury's policy of storing the yellow metal in protectin ginland cities, $292,843,000 was sent to the Denver mint during the 1936 fiscal year, bringing its stocks to $3,117,599,000.

Two Conference Games Friday

When the New Haven Tigers entrain the Walton-Verona Bearcats on the New Haven hardwood, there will be blood in their eyes, for the heretofore undefeated Walton boys are planning to make it one more toward their goal of winning the championship. Much interest centers in this gam as well as in a game in the other end of the County when Hamilton tries to raise their standing at the expense of the Hebron Cardinals.

In other games Friday night the Burlington boys will try to get one on the right side from the Gallatin County boys from Warsaw, while Florence tackles Lloyd. Both Boone County floors at Burlington these games will be played on the and Florence.

Hebron and Walton Win

In a contest at Burlington Friday night to see if a cellar team is worthy of company, the Hebron cagers decided to the contrary. They downed the Tomcats by a count of 22 to 19. With two minutes to go the Burlington lads were tied with the Cardinals, but fate, or what ever it is, decreed that they must not share a cellar with birds such as the Cardinals. Cats and birds might not get along so well together. This game was hard fought, and in nearly every respect revealed a high type of basketball.

At Florence the Florence boys were not allowed to do much toward scoring the last half, after holding the Walton lads to a 15 to 14 score at half-way period. It seemed that the defense of the Florence team completely broke down, once the Walton-Verona boysboys started going through. It ended with the visiting team on the long end of a 43 to 24 score.

It must be remembered in the interest of the nights that the Bearcats have yet to meet a Conference foe that has power enough to whip them. Fast offensive play coupled with accurate work under the basket account for most of the success of the Walton cagers.

The New Haven quintet got mixed up with a semi-pro team from Southgate when they get a supposedly high school team from that suburb.

The game was unusually close with the town boys receiving very much of a set-back when the final whistle caught them on the little end of a 26 to 24 score. The Tigers lived up to their name all the way and when all looked dark near the end of the tilt, came through to win.

Knights and Tomcats Visit

While Hebron and Hamilton were playing host to two good teams from out of the County Saturday night, the Florence and Burlington boys were straying away from home only to be sent back with a couple of defeats.

Alexander, led by Parker, defeated Hamilton by a score of 22 to 21 in a hard fought battle. The Farmers thought it was in the bag with 20 second to go when Parker got loose for a field goal to win by one point.

The margin of one point held also for Hebron, only the Cardinals were able to have the edge when they won from Crittenden by a score of 15 to 14.

The Hebron game was a very slow one, and not featured by as much lose defensive work as the score might indicate.

The Dry Ridge basketeers turned the Florence Knights away with another one-point victory Saturday night when they finished with a score of 25 to 26. Coach Helton's boys failed to show the class they have displayed in some games, and almost wasted too much time to make the score that good. Good goal work on the part of Dry Ridge together with a lax defense on the part of the Florence Knights allowed the foreigners the victory margin.

The Campbell county lads at A. J. Jolly handed the Burlington Tomcats a stinging defeat Saturday night. When it was all over the scoreboard showed that the local boys had collected only 17 points while their opponents had 50. The Burlington team displayed an almost opposite type of basketball as that shown against Hebron at home Friday night.

Reserves Play Good Games

While most of our attention goes to the first string men on most basketball squads, we must not overlook the fact that boys for future teams are getting the necessary experience in preliminary games. Most of the Boone county school have very shifty lads who play about as thrilling games as the regulars. These boys should command a great deal of attention from rooters who have the future athletic programs of the school at heart.

Getting started right has a lot to do with making stars. Encouragement helps the beginners even more than the older players.

The scores for the reserve games played by Boone County schools last week follow: Hebron 25, Burlington 21; Walton 32, Florence 14; New Haven 14 Southgate 31; Hamilton 28, Alexander 25; A. J. Jolly 30, Burlington 20; Hebron 18, Crittenden 10; Florence 13, Dry Ridge 20.

Conference Standing

	Won	Lost
Walton-Verona	5	0
Hamilton	3	2
New Haven	3	2
Hebron	2	3
Florence	2	3
Burlington	0	5

The average for a 200-pound hog is 13 to 14 percent of lard and may run as high as 20 percent, depending upon the condition of the animal. In other words, a hog of this size will render 26 to 40 pounds of land, depending upon its condition and the method of trimming.

Pasture is now being provided in several Jackson county communities from the planting of wheat, rye and crimson clover.

Due to the high cost of feed, Jefferson county farmers are culling poultry closely.

SEES ALL---KNOWS ALL

My, what a relief now that we have all had time to get back to feeling good after so much over-indulging during the holidays.

Of course athletes do not over-indulge during vacations even if they do have many temptations. Did someone say there should be a couple of question marks after that word over-indulge? Now, if you did, you just don't know real athletes. You should know by this time that a lot of fellows wear suits on the floor who make no pretense at being athletes. How many of these there may be in Boone County, none of us are prepared to say.

Just off hand, I think we have our share of well-trained boys, but you know, this is a big world we are in.

But let me do a little warning about another little matter. If some of these Boone County basketball teams don't use a little more skill, these Walton-Verona Bearcats are going to have this Boone County Conference Championship all in a bag and tied up heading toward the District Tournament in March. Now somebody ought to be making it a little more interesting for the boys from the railroad towns. When a team keeps on winning games every time they play it can't be long until something definite has happened.

Of course there is little doubt about who is going to be in the cellar when it's all over. Those poor Tomcats have been holding on to that place so carefully that no other team has had a chance to get closer than the next to the lowest step. When the Hebron Cardinals, true to the nature of all birds, saw they were going into a hole filled with Tomcats, they immediately did an about face and gracefully made their exit. The Tomcats all leaped for a bird, but had to be satisfied with only a few feathers yanked from the winging creatures.

It looks like Hamilton and Walton will have pretty tough going Friday night as they tie up with the Cardinals and Tigers on the floors of the latter teams. The dope says Hamilton and Walton-Verona will carry off the laurels, but it's time for a good old-fashioned upset. I hope the rooters of the Cardinals and Tigers will not fall out with me for suggesting that it will be upset victories if they win, but a look at the Conference records will show it to be true, what with Walton having no losses to five winners and Hamilton three victories to two set-backs. One of the Hamilton victories was at the hands of the Cardinals earlier in the season.

Anyway, we shall see what we shall see. So with a hint regarding a conference track and field meet, I'll say good luck to all of you and don't lose because you didn't try.

LAUNDERING SUGGESTIONS

Because of the many labor-saving aids available at a fairly reasonable price, many women prefer to do at least part of their laundry at home. For good results, the home economics department of the Kentucky College of Agriculture offers the following suggestions:

Use powdered soaps for heavier fabrics, but be sure that it is a soap not containing lye. Use soap flakes for fine fabrics, silks, woolens and colored clothes, or else shave a good soap and dissolve it in warm water. Be sure it is all dissolved before adding the garments.

LOCUST GROVE

KENTUCKY 4-H CLUB NEWS

More than 500 4-H club members, parents and friends attended a county baby beef show club held in Montgomery county. Cash premiums were awarded for the best animals. These awards were made possible by the Farmers' Cooperative Stockyards and the Rotary Club of Mt. Sterling.

Gran't Lick Consolidated school in Campbell is a new institution, but already a 4-H club group of 33 members is active. The school takes in nine communities that had carried projects last year. Two periods a week are devoted to project work.

More than 70 different products were exhibited in store windows in Morgantown by five clubs, at the end of the year's work. Seventy-five ribbons were presented at achivement day exercises. Mable Raymer, who won the state clothing judging contest, is a Butler county girl.

Some of the best calves raised in Wayne county were sent to market early, due to the high cost of feed and scarcity of water, but even at that they brought a pretty fair return. Calves on feed until late were kept in the barn for the most part.

A silver cup for having the best planned and arranged window show of products in Grant county went to the Mason club. This is the second year Mason has come out on top in this contest. So much interest was aroused that the competition will likely be stiff in 1937.

To improve school grounds, the Carpenter club in Whitley county had a program and tree-setting meeting. Twenty-six trees were set. Several talks were made by friends in which the value to the community of this kind of work was stressed.

Alarmed at the rapid cutting of trees, Marshall county farmers have organized to plant new trees with 4-H club help.

Good weather during the latter part of the season brought corn yields in Lyon county to half the normal crop.

Breckinridge county 4-H club members bought four bred gilts from A. P. Adair, Bourbon county, for their pig project.

SHEEP GROWERS SHOULD USE CARE IN FEEDING OF PREGNANT EWES

For several years sheep raisers in Boone County have had severe losses in ewes, caused by accidosis or prenancy disease. Now is the time to feed a proper ration to prevent the occurrence of acidosis, according to David Colville, Assistant County Agent.

Accidosis develops as a result of improper nutrition, just previous to lambing time. Prevention of pregnancy disease depends on the selection of good vigorous ewes as breeders, good feeding and the control of parasites, especially stomach worms. At this time of the year ewes should receive at least one-fourth to one-half pound of grain daily and a large part of the hay should consist of some legume, alfalfa, lespedeza, red clover, soybeans or a good mixed hay.

A good grain mixture is equal parts of corn, bran and oats, with linseed oil meal in the proportion of one pound to 8 pounds grain mixture. When ewes are in poor condition the quantity of corn should be increased. It might be advisable to feed a suitable mineral mixture. A mixture of one part pulverized limestone dust, one part of sulphur and ten parts of common salt will be more satisfactory than salt alone.

It is almost impossible to do anything for ewes once they get down with this disease. Invariably they will be lost. A cheaper method would be to prevent the occurrence of this disease by good feeding and management practices.

Many people think that sheep can go several days without water. Experiments have been carried out which show that sheep can go without feed longer than they can without water, without suffering ill effects.

A circular has been prepared by Dr. F. E. Hull and Dr. W. W. Dimock, of the Kentucky Experiment Station, on Pregnancy Disease of sheep. These circulars are on file at the County Agent's Office and are available to everyone who desires a copy.

HEBRON SCHOOL NEWS

The whole high school is busy studying for the mid-year exams next week. Many hairs will turn grey and many tears will be shed in this coming event. We only hope Miss Cropper, Mr. Lucy, Mr. Walton and Mr. Goodridge have some of the New Year's spirit left in them when they make out the tests.

The basketball team seems to have gained their foothold again, when they won Friday night in their game with Burlington 21 to 25 and 19-22. Saturday night they defeated Crittenden 10-18 and 14-15. Friday night they will play Hamilton at Hebron.

GRAYSON POULTRY FLOCK PROFITABLE

One of Kentucky's best poultry raisers, Charles W. Probus, Grayson county, made a profit in 1936 of $4.08 a pullet on a flock of 198 Rhode Island Reds. As this approximates 1,300 percent dividend, it is definitely out of the small business class, in the opinion of County Agent R. T. Faulkner. Starting with 467 pullets, the number was gradually decreased. From sales of eggs and of chickens, $1,556 was derived with an expenditure of only $747.

RURAL GROUPS TO MEET AT FARM AND HOME CONVENTION

Farm organizations to meet in Lexington during the 25th annual Farm and Home Convention at the University of Kentucky January 26-29, include the Kentucky State Horticultural Society, the Kentucky Beekeepers' Association, the Kentucky Rural Church Council, the Kentucky Holstein Cattle Club and the Bluegrass Jersey Cattle Club.

There also will be special sessions for farmers interested in problems of marketing and finance, in livestock production, and in special problems relating to soils and crops.

There will be a general session for farmers throughout the four days, and another for homemakers.

The list of speakers includes Gov. A. B. Chandler, who will address the general session January 29; r. E. G. Nourse of the Bookings Institution; Dr. W. I. Myers, governor of the Farm Credit Administration; Dr. H. R. Tolley, administrator of the agricultural conservation program; Bess M. Rowe, editor of The Faremr's Wife; Judge Camille Kelley, Memphis, Tenn.; Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, Washington, D. C.; Miss Fannie Brooks, head of the home economics department of the University of Illinois; Ernest Rice of the Farm Credit Administration; Ben E. Niles, secretary of the state horticultural society and A. H. Teske. Virginia fruit grower.

MONTHLY ROSES NEED PROTECTION

The monthly or hybrid tea roses need protection during the winter, and straw, soil or tobacco stalks are often used for the purpose. Soil is one of the most satisfactory things to use, in the opinion of N. R. Elliott, landscape specialist for the Kentucky College of Agriculture. Tie the stems of the roses together rather loosely with a string, and then pour about one-half to one bushel of soil around each plant so that it will make a mound around the stems about 12 inches high. It is better not to use the soil from between the plants for this. If straw or leaves are used, they must be weighted down with stones or wire netting to keep the mulch from blowing away. Care must be taken to prevent packing, resulting in decay of the plants. Corn or tobacco stalks are usually tied around the stems of the plants.

BETTER TIMES CUT TAX DELINQUENCIES

Farm real-estate tax delinquency is again normal in Kentucky, it is indicated by a survey made in 13 representative counties by C. J. Bradley of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. There were fewer farms delinquent in 1936 for taxes than there were in 1929. Since the extent of tax delinquency is taken to reflect general business conditions, it is apparent that the finances of farmers in the counties surveyed are improved over what they were in major depression years. The year 1934 was the peak for delinquency for the section studied. In 1929 the acres of tax delinquent farm land were 130,287; in 1934, they totaled 264,056, and in 1936 they fell to 73,330.

25-YEAR WEIGHT IS BEST TO KEEP

The real time to worry about overweight in middle age is while still relatively young, 25 years old for instance. Anyone who at 25 years weighs the average amount for his height and years should not start putting on pounds. By gaining a pound a year, at 35 years of age there will be 20 pounds of overweight to care for. It is estimated that this amount of fat adds about 12 miles of blood vessels through which blood must be pumped, making a definite tax on strength and efficiency.

To avoid overweight: eat plenty of fruit and vegetables, drink plenty of milk, and use a moderate amount of meat and eggs; go slow on cereals, fats and sweets, eating only enough for energy needs, advises the University of Kentucky home economics department. If the scales begin going up, it is obvious that too much is being consumed.

If anyone already has the extra 20 pounds, what can be done safely?

It is well to get rid of the extra poundage, but use discretion in doing it. No matter how much exercise is taken, and whether reducing or gaining, the amount of tissue building food needed is the same. Therefore, meet that need with a pint of milk and an egg a day, and a serving of meat three or four times a week or even daily. The amount of regulating food will not vary, so always include vegetables and fruit, some of them raw. The additional energy need will have to be met to a certain extent from the extra poundage, depending on how fast a reduction in weight is wise. When more than two pounds a week are lost, a little more bread and butter should be added to the day's food supply.

Thomas Lee, of Florence is taking a business course in Cincinnati.

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

The "dress up ensemble" has created much interest among homemakers in Fayette county. One club made a day of it and held a special meeting when members cut and fitted dresses, the more expert helping the newer and less experienced members.

Intent on raising money to send a big delegation to the annual Farm and Convention at Lexington, Campbell county homemakers are holding a series of parties to raise money for the purpose. The county chorus is leading the enterprise.

Bracken county farmers made extensive use of the state lime pulverizer while it was in their county, having 3,000 tons of limestone ground at a cost of 37 cents a ton. The machine has been moved to Madison county.

Many Boyle county farmers would be glad to use electricity both for the home and for farm buildings, if lines can be extended to their property, a survey of 400 farms indicated. The survey is also covering the approximate amount of electricity that would be required.

Poultry records kept in Fleming county showed that two flocks produced 100 to 150 eggs per hen, four flocks 150 to 200, and three flock 200 to 210, for the year. The three top flocks were owned by Mrs. Roy Gray, Reuben Graves, and Mrs. Thomas O'Conner.

Achievements in Warren county in 1936: ore lime used than was ever used in any previous year; a record crop of alfalfa totaling 1,135 acres; more lespedeza planted than in any former year. County Agent A. E. Ewan says that the soil conservation program is in part responsible.

MUSIC TO BE PERMANENT FEATURE OF SUMMER SCHOOL CURRICULUM

Richmond, Ky., Jan. 9—Last summer Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, as a special feature of the first summer term, offered five weeks of music instruction to high school students in the form of a music camp. About 100 high school students from 13 Kentucky counties and 4 other states took advantage of this training. They were housed in special sections of the regular college dormitories and received their meals at a private dining room operated in connection with the college cafeteria.

Including this work in the summer school curriculum was an experiment last year; but because of the enthusiastic way in which it was received by high school music people, Dr. H. L. Donovan, President of Eastern Teachers College, and the members of the music faculty have decided, according to an announcement received from the college today, to make this high school music training a permanent part of the summer school curriculum. The music instruction for high school students will be offered during the first summer term this year, which begins June 14 and ends July 17. In order that no good high school musician may be denied this instruction because of a lack of funds, the college authorities have agreed to charge only the actual cost of board, entertainment, and a small incidental fee.

Prof. Henri Schnabl, director of bands at Eastern, will be in charge of all music instruction for high school students. Before joining the Eastern music faculty in September, 1936, Prof Schnabl was director of the Portsmouth, Ohio, high school band. Under his direction the Portsmouth organization won several state and national honors. His wide experience with high school music camps makes him an ideal person to direct the Stephen Collins Foster Foster Music Camp at Eastern Teachers College.

The entire music faculty will assist Mr. Schnabl in working out the music program for the high school students.

In addition to music instruction, a complete program of recreational and social activities under the direction of the physical education staff will be provided for those students who are enrolled for the music group.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

Starting with the first issue in 1937, all classified ads, obituaries, cards of thanks, etc., will be payable in advance, and no advertisement will be published unless the money accompanies your order. This is not that we do not trust you, but the cost of bookkeeping and billing on such small accounts is greater than the price received.

It is easy to figure the correct amount of any classified advertisement by just counting the words. Count each figure (such as 2, 3, etc.,) one word. The rate is 1 cent per word, minimium of 25 cents.

When telephoning your ads direct to this office, be sure that your money reaches us before Wednesday at 10:00 a. m. (our publication deadline) or we will not be responsible for the publication of your advertisement..

In the past we have been compelled to keep records of these small advertisements, taking many hours of our time, and it is very necessary that we make this change, and hope that our advertisers and readers will bear with us in this resolution.

In making this change it will enable us to devote many more hours to gathering of copy, and general work required to publish a County weekly, thus helping us to give our readers a better paper for the year 1937.

We are carrying many dollars on our books in small classified accounts, and if you are among the many who still owe for clssified advertising during the year 1936, we will greatly appreciate your coming in and settling, so that we may close our books for the past year.

ELECTRIC HORSE NEEDS FRIENDLY HAND

Laboring under misunderstandings and political attacks for the past decade, the private electric industry of the United States has never lost heart.

It has kept up its properties, added to generating capacity in advance of all needs of the nation, improved service and continually tried to adjust itself to the rules and regulations heaped upon it.

It has not shirked in its responsibility to serve the people, in the face of a prolonged and aggressive campaign of many years' duration, to establish public ownership of electric power development as a national, state or municipal policy.

Hundreds of thousands of good American citizens have invested billions of dollars of savings in this industry which has given our country more of the advantages which can come only from widespread electric development, than are enjoyed by any other nation.

And this has all been brought about in the face of obstacles that would have discouraged anything but the pioneering spirit of American initiative and enterprise.

The industry now faces another gigantic electrical development program. It is again preparing to meet its obligations to render service and take up the load demand.

While doing this it is trying to adjust itself to new state laws and regulations, new taxes, new Federal laws and a national policy of government competition that might well discourage the strongest heart.

The situation reminds one of the picture used for so many years as a symbol on humane publications --it showed a willing horse struggling to the point of exhaustion with a gigantic load while its master stood by beating it with a blacksnake whip.

The electric industry, like the horse, is one of mankind's most faithful servants. It has had its faults and, like the wild horse, it has had to be curbed and trained.

IS CANCER CURABLE?

The answer to this repeated question is "Cancer is Curable if Detected and Treated in Its Early Stages." Most everyone knows of someone who has died of cancer. Few persons are aware of the fact that there are alive today tens of thousands of men and women who have been treated and cured of the disease. More than two years ago the American College of Surgeons reported that it had authenticated records of 24,440 persons who were still alive, ten and in some cases fifteen years after treatment for cancer. The figures for today, if available, would, no doubt, show a large increase over that number.

Cancer, in its early stages, may often be cured, by X-rays, radium and surgery. These, in the hands of skilled physicians, are today recognized as effective methods of cancer treatment. Cancer can never be cured by quack injections or salves or pills or internal medicine or any kind of diet.

There are two ways which offer the safest insurance against cancer. These are, first, to have regular periodic physical examinations and, second, to be always on the watch for the appearance of danger signals. The cancer danger signals are:

1. Any persistent lump or thickening, especially of the breast.
2. Any irregular bleeding or discharge from any body opening.
3. Any sore that does not heal—particularly a sore about the tongue, mouth or lips.
4. Sudden changes in the form of rate of growth of a mole, wart or wen.
5. Persistent indigestion.

If any of these danger signals appear between physical examinations, they should be immediately and thoroughly investigated. Go to your physician at once and be sure to select a physician who is qualified to recognize precancerous conditions and who will either himself correct them properly or refer you to a specialist or a cancer clinic.

The time to cure cancer is when it is beginning. Every day's delay may be dangerous.

CONDEMNS SEVERE PRUNING OF TREES

The utilation of beautiful shade trees, done on the theory that pruning every year or two is necessary, is condemned in an article by Prof. N. R. Elliott, landscape specialist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Most trees used for shade need little pruning, he declares, and the severe dehorning so often given is never advisable.

The practice sometimes followed of trimming back all branches, often leaving stubs 3 to 6 inches in diameter, is declared to be a sure way of forever ruining a tree that otherwise might have been beautiful.

"There is no excuse for disfiguring shade trees in such a manner" Prof. Elliott asserted. "The number of trees, especially in towns and cities, that have been treated in this way is amazing, and the results of such treatment are never outgrown. Home owners should stop and realize that it takes years to grow large beautiful trees that can easily be permanently injured in a few hours by pruners who measure the effectiveness of their work by the amount of brush they remove."

Occasionally, shade trees do need some pruning, but Prof. Elliott would limit to careful thinning where a few of the of the overlapping branches are removed or headed back slightly. In removing branches, the cuts should be made close to the main stem or lateral and the wounds painted with a good grade of paint.

The work should be done during the winter, when the tree is dormant, since brances can be removed at that time with less injury to leaves and young growth. Trees damaged by storms should have the wounds treated as soon as possible.

Frequently cleaned sewing machines give better service, in the opinion of 100 Garrard county homemakers who tried it.

NFLA MEETING HUGE SUCCESS

NINETY-NINE IN ATTENDANCE —C. B. WUNDERLICH GAVE VERY INTERESTING ADDRESS PROGRAM ENTERTAINING.

A very instructiv as well as entertaining meeting was held Tuesday in Burlington, by the Boone County National Farm Loan Association and lunch served to ninety-nine people. The meeting was called to order by the President, E. A. Martin and a hearty welcome extended in well chosen remarks.

The Secretary-Treasurer reported 178 Fedral Land Bank borrowers with $688,400.00 loans in force and 132 Commissioner borrowers with $272,300.00 in loans serviced by the local association. His report further showed only three federal borrowers delinquent in the sum of $145.11 and five commissioner borrowers delinquent in the amount of $446.53 as of December 31st.

The principal address was made by C. B. Wunderlich, Assistant Treasurer of the Federal Land Bank of Louisville who gave a clear picture of the operation of the Federal Land Bank as has been the custom in the past.

The Boone County Association is not indebted to the Federal Land Bank in any way and the one-eighth of one per cent of loans outstanding to be paid by the Federal Land Bank to take care of any losses. This fund is not paid to the association for any purpose, but to take care of losses. The Association already has over $4,000.00 credit with the Federal Land Bank by reason of profit on real estate sold during the past year. This added reserve amounts to about $800.00 per year to the Boone County Association.

A resolution committee composed of C. C. Sleet, A. G. McMullen and Mrs. Byrde H. McCord recommended the same directors, E. A. Martin, John H. Grimes, Karl Rouse, B. E. Aylor and Thomas Hensley for the ensuing year, which report was unanimously adopted.

Music was furnished by the Boone County Kids.

Immediately following adjournment the directors met and elected A. B. Renaker, Secretary-Treasurer with the same loan committee and alternate loan committee as had served during the past year.

Many present expressed their interest in the meeting and suggested that an all-day meeting be held next year.

Aside from the regular program, talks were made by C. D. Linley, personal contact man of the Federal Land Bank, C. Liston Hempfling, member of the Executive Committee of the Northern Kentucky Production Credit Association, W. S. Norris of the Norris-Brock Company, Cincinnati, John L. Vest, Attorney and C. C. Sleet. Mr. Norris distributed booklets and yard sticks to those present while The Boone County Recorder distributed copies of the paper.

The lunch was served in the assembly room by L. A. Conner, local restaurateur.

The day being Robert E. Lee's birthday and a holiday in Kentucky, was referred to by Mr. H. G. Hightower in a very patriotic address, in addition to his other remarks in connection with the work of the association.

The addresses of H. R. Forkner, E. A. Johnson and D. B. Redman were well received and brought out much information of interest to farmers.

John H. Grimes, Vice President of the Association made one of his characteristic humorous talks that is always enjoyed by his fellow members.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HAVE OYSTER SUPPER

The young men's Bible Class of the local Baptist Church gave an oyster supper Tuesday night. Approximately sixty persons were present from various sections of the county.

Elijah Stephens, president of the class called on Rev. James to take charge of the meeting. Rev. James asked each man or boy present, by what name did his wife or girl friend call him, which was very interesting and entertaining.

Bro. Van Velzel gave a very interesting address entitled "What Has the Church Meant to you?"

C. L. Cropper, E. E. Kirkwood and Supt. D. H. Norris, also gave short address which were very interesting.

Albert William Weaver has been selected as teacher of the Bible class of the Hi-Y boys.

ORDINATION SERVICES

Services for the ordination of T. C. Crume, Jr., to the full work of the Gospel Ministry, Florence Baptist Church Sunday, January 24th at 2:00 p. m. (fast time.)

Several prominent ministers of Northern Kentucky will take part in this service. Dr. T. C. Crume, father of young Crume, a noted Baptist Evangelist of the South will preach the ordination sermon. Rev. R. F. DeMoisey, pastor of the church will be in charge.

SPORTSMEN TO HOLD MEETING

AT BURLINGTON WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 27—ALL FARMERS AND FOUR-H MEMBERS REQUESTED TO BE PRESENT.

Next Wednesday, January 27 the Boone County Fish and Game Club will hold a very interesting meeting at the courthouse, 7:00 p. m. Major James Brown, Executive Agent of the Fish and Game Commission will be present at this meeting and will explain conservation of fish and game.

All landowners, superintendents and principals of schools, and 4-H club members are urged to attend this meeting. According to J. G. Smith, President of the club, all 4-H club members will be made honorary members.

Mr. Smith stated that during the spring and summer many native Bob Whites will be distributed to 4-H club members to be released on the land of their parents, and feed will be furnished by the State Fish and Game Commission.

If the 4-H members and farmers will cooperate in this movement our county will be well stocked with birds for the next open season, November 24th.

Mr. Berge, former president of the Gallatin county club will be present at this meeting.

Every person in the county interested in the conservation of wild life should attend this meeting, as it will be of interest to all sportsmen and farmers as well. Refreshments will be served.

MOORE-RICE

The many friends and relatives of Mr. Carroll Rice, Burlington, were greatly surprised to hear of his marriage to Miss Susan Moore, of Erlanger.

Mr. Rice is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rice and has made his home with his parents until his recent employment in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice were united in marriage January 2, 1937, and have kept their marriage secret until recent date. The bride is 17, and the groom is 21. They are at present making their home in Cincinnati, where Mr. Rice is employed with the Mid-West Motor Corp.

Their many friends and relatives in Boone county join with us in wishing this young pair a happy and prosperous married life.

HOMEMAKERS TO BE ACCEPTED INTO FEDERATION

Boone County Homemakers will become a member of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers Friday, January 29th at Farm and Home Convention. Mrs. Jake Cleek, President, of the Boone County Homemakers, will be presented a gavel by Mrs. T. M. Johnson, State President.

Women from several clubs are planning to attend the Friday meeting and the Homemakers Luncheon. Mr. Jesse Stuart, Kentucky's Mountain Troubador will be the guest speaker at the luncheon.

Homemakers of Boone are planning to drive down each day or stay in Lexington during Farm and Home Convention, January 26 thru 29th. Many phases of interest to Homemakers will be considered at the sessions for women in Memorial Hall on the University Campus. South Limestone Street, speakers including Judge Kelly, Dr. Stockdale, Dr. Boothe and Miss Brooks.

WOMAN KILLS TWO CHILDREN

AND WOUNDS ANOTHER—RAZOR USED BY MOTHER TO CUT THROATS — FATHER FINDS CHILDREN ON BED.

Mrs. Louise Thomas, Negro, 40 years old, killed two of her three children and seriously wounded the third by cutting their throats with a razor at their home in Elsmere Friday afternoon. The mother cut herself slightly on the throat in an attempt to end her life.

The husband and father, John Thomas, 60, Works Progress Administration employee, found his family lying in a blood stained bed when he returned home from work.

Mary Lou Thomas, 9, and Robert Thomas, 15 months, were dead, John William Thomas, 6 found alive, was taken to St Elizabeth Hopsital, Covington. The mother did not require medical treatment.

Thomas told Marshal T. W. Rash, of Elsmere and Edward Taylor, Kenton County Deputy Sheriff, that when he arrived at home his wife, who was lying in bed with the three children, said to him, "Let's kill ourselves."

Running from the house, Thomas called police.

The woman told Taylor that a white man came to the house Friday morning and threatened to kill the children because she had not sent them to school for the last five weeks. She said she killed her children to beat the man to the act.

Taylor said the children had not attended school because they had not been vaccinated, as required by school officials. Thomas said they were planning to return the two older children to school Monday.

Dr. James P. Riffe, Kenton County Coroner, said the two children had been dead several hours when found. The mother was unable to tell the hour she killed them.

She told Rash she jumped into the well at their home after slashing the children. Her clothing was dry and there was no evidence that she had been near the well.

Mrs. Thomas was placed in Covington jail on a murder charge. A large straight razor, with which she is charged with having cut the children, was found in a trunk at the home.

DIRECTORS RE-ELECTED

AT A MEETING OF THE NORTHERN KENTUCKY PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION HELD AT WILLIAMSTOWN JAN. 15

The third annual meeting of the stockholders of the Northern Kentucky Production Credit Association, Williamstown, Kentucky was held at the Courthouse on January 15, 1937 with an attendance of 160. Of this number approximately 88 stockholders of the organization and members of their families were present. Directors re-elected for three year terms were C. Liston Hempfling of Boone County and H. W. Webb of Grant County.

The Secretary-Treasurer's report showed loans for $126,383.00 closed by the association during 1936 with $105,228.00 outstanding at the close of the year. The financial statement presented by the treasurer showed substantial earnings in excess of expenditures.

The first address of the day was given by J. R. Hervey of the Farm Credit Administration of Louisville who spoke on "Benefits to be Derived from Production Credit." Other addresses were given by A. B. Renaker, cashier Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington and NFLA Secretary; Mrs. John R. Brannock, Falmouth, speaking on "What Our PCA Has Meant to Me"; R. C. Hume, County Agent, Grant County, "Agricultural Outlook for 1937."

Declaring that the continued success of cooperative credit organizations for farm operation lies in the hands of farmers themselves, J. Walter Brown, of the Production Credit Corporation of Louisville said that a sufficient volume of business to enable associations to pay operating expenses from interest income is desirable. Soundness of loans, he stated, is essential, and as long as associations extend credit only on a sound basis ample funds for production loans will be available to all associations.

HEBRON COMMUNITY REVIVAL

Rev. R. Lee James

Beginning January 25, and continuing for two weeks, a Community Revival will be conducted at the Hebron gym, Hebron, by Pastor-Evangelist R. Lee James, of Burlington, Ky. Rev. James will be assisted by Rev. Raymond Smith, of Belleview, Ky., who will lead the singing.

The services will be held each evening at 7:00 o'clock (slow time). There will be special music and gospel preaching at each service. Those desiring a good old time revival are cordially invited to cooperate.

WATER PLANT FOR ERLANGER

[illegible] ANNOUNCES AFTER BOARD GIVES FAVORABLE RULING.

Construction of Erlanger's $95,000 municipal waterworks will get under way in about 60 days and will be completed around July 1st, according to Russell Victor, City Attorney.

The decision to start work in two months follows a ruling of the Kentucky Public Service Commission that it was not necessary for Erlanger to have a certificate of public convenience and necessity since the commission has no jurisdiction over the municipal waterworks there under a law enacted by the 1936 entucky General Assembly.

The ruling was made after a hearing Wednesday of last week in Frankfort, at which the Kenton County Water Commission, which now supplies water to Erlanger objected to erection of the waterworks.

Plans for the project were drawn in December, 1933, Mr. Victor said, and call for the drilling of wells at Constance, on the Ohio River, four miles from Erlanger; the erection of a pumping station; construction of four miles of pipe line to Erlanger and erection of a water tank in the town.

The project is not entirely new, but is an extension of the present water service owned by Erlanger which comprises the water distribution system within the town's limits, Mr. Victor said.

On completion of the new plant, Erlanger officials probably will contact Elsmere relative to supply it with water.

BOONE COUNTY POULTRY MEET

HELD WEDNESDAY, JAN. 13 ATTRACTS THIRTY-SIX POULTRYMEN—J. HOLMES MARTIN CHIEF SPEAKER.

The Boone County Annual Winter Poultry School was held Wednesday, January 13, at the courthouse. Dr. J. Holmes Martin, head of the Poultry Department, University of Kentucky, and Stanley Caton, poultry specialist, were the principal speakers. Thirty-six poultrymen were present, according to David Colville, Assistant County Agent.

Dr. Martin emphasized the value of a balanced ration for laying poultry. "A balanced ration," says Dr. Martin "is about one-half as expensive as a ration not balanced because the added production will more than offset the cost of feeding the protein supplements. Our grain feeding should be supplemented by an animal protein, which can be purchased in the form of meat scrap."

To illustrate the importance of protein supplements an experiment was carried on at the Princeton substation which showed that hens on a ration contained 5 per cent protein in the form of meat scrap 10 percent produced 120 eggs, those produced 109 eggs, birds receiving receiving 15 per cent produced 133 eggs and birds receiving 20 per cent produced 156 eggs. This experiment was carried out with ordinary hens similar to what we have in Boone County.

Dr. Martin states that yellow corn, green feeds and plenty of sunlight will provide necessary vitamins for laying flocks.

Mr. Caton's talk concerned the poultry outlook for 1937. "The number of eggs in storage for November 1936 is smaller than for November 1935, Mr. Caton said. "This is a healthy indication that combined with the fact that the purchasing power of buyers of poultry and eggs is increasing, we may expect relative good prices from poultry and eggs during this year." Mr. Caton suggests that for more profit to poultrymen three factors be observed in combination with good feeding practices:

1. Breeding for longivity (longer span of usefulness).
2. Clean Chick program.
3. Blood test for pullorium disease.

At a short business meeting a committee was appointed to work out and complete plans for the annual poultry tour next summer.

Miss Helen Elliott and J. T. Collins of Walton, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kemen and daughter of Bromley.

M. W. A. CAMP SIGNS TWO YOUNG GIRLS

The Modern Woodmen of America had the pleasure of writing up two mighty fine young girls, Miss Virginia Sullivan and Miss Barbara Edwards. They were initiated Tuesday night.

Miss Edwards' younger sisters also joined the M. W. A. a few months ago in the junior age.

PETERSBURG AGAIN VICTORS

OVER MORRIS FURNITURE OF CINCINNATI BY A SCORE OF 35 TO 24—JAMES AND SEBREE HIGH-POINT MEN.

When the final whistle blew ending the hard fought game between Petersburg and Morris Furniture, on the Hebron hardwood last Saturday night, our local All-Star Petersburg five came through with another victory to uphold the banners of Boone County.

Roy James, former college star, was high point man for Petersburg, scoring 12 points, while Albert Sebree ran a close second, scoring 10 points. The game was hard fought and exciting from beginning to end.

This week, the Petersburg Student Prince boys will meet Harmon Hall on the Hebron floor, for another good, clean and exciting basketball game. Also as a special attraction, the Petersburg Independents will meet in a preliminary game before th main event.

All these teams from Cincinnati and vicinity are not just merely "pick-ups," but good basketball teams. They are all men that have either starred on college or high school teams, and if you want to see some real action on the floor come out and see the games. We can assure you that our Petersburg boys are a good match for all of them, and that they will appreiate your support.

FARMERS URGED TO ATTEND FARM AND HOME CONVENTION

Boone County farmers who are interested and can, are urged to attend the Annual Farm and Home Convention held at the University of Kentucky next week, Jan. 26, 27, 28, and 29th.

A splendid program has been prepared. A copy of the program may be secured at the County Agent's Office at Burlington.

FARMERS ABLE TO SECURE MORE LIME

Boone County farmers will have another opportunity to have their limestone crushed this spring, according to David Colville, Assistant County Agent. Arrangements already have been made with Mr. R. W. Auton, pulverizer operator, to begin pulverizing limestone in the county the last of February.

From advanced information received at this office concerning the 1937 ACP program probably larger payments will be made for applications of limestone and phosphate and the seedings of legumes and grasses than under the 1936 program.

In 1936 farmers earned less than one-half of their soil building payments. Only $19,650.00 was earned in this county compared to a probable $47,450.00 that could have been earned. One of the best ways to build up the soil and at the same time comply for payment is by the application of limestone and the seeding of legumes.

All farmers interested in securing limestone are urged to notify the County Agent's Office as soon as possible to enable us to route the pulverizer in such a way that these farms will not be missed.

IN MY OPINION

We, the people of Boone County, are made up of a group of ordinary, understanding and progressive rural folk, who love the great outdoor life and all the advantages not available in the larger towns. We want to be good neighbors, and at all times help our fellow men. You may search the world over and you could never find a group of people that have all the advantages that the people living in Boone County have.

Did you know that you are living in one of the richest counties in Kentucky? Did you realize that the financial condition of the county is far above most other counties? And the most important of all, did you know that Boone County people are offered almost all the advantages of larger towns, and that we are located just 25 minutes from one of the outstanding cities in the United States, Cincinnati. And still with all these advantages, we are still living in the open air, and are able to enjoy nature to its fullest extent.

So much for our county—we love it, because we have lived in it, and realize that no other place even seems like home. We are not organized, and consequently are not receiving the most for our efforts Other than small community meetings, organization and cooperation have been totally neglected. Of course, we are speaking principally of the farming class of people—the people who could control the nation, but instead are run down by every passerby and you never hear anything said about it. That is going to be the purpose of this column each week, to discuss together with our readers, questions that are going to be of vital importance to them. Each week we are going to gather bits of reliable information on questions of importance today, and put them before our readers for their consideration.

While calling on a certain business house in Boone County recently, I sat in a small store and watched a merchant render real service to his farmer patrons. He ordered the best available poultry feeds for them. He bought their eggs by reference to daily market quotations furnished by the state marketing service. As a real friend to his farmer customers he offered valuable criticisms and suggestions. This man, by keeping abreast of agricultural progress, thus rendered great service to his community. He realized that his future success depended on those who trade with him. He not only provided farm equipment and other supplies of superior quality, but arranged to purchase the daily production of surrounding farmers and send by truck to distant markets so as to secure highest prices for farm products.

In some towns local citizens have formed helpful committees for marketing farm produce. Some have contacted distant markets and shipped by consignment to reputable wholesale dealers. Others have effected similar results thru competitive bidding in auction sales, members of the board of trade bidding in competition with purchasers from other places. This has generally brought about higher prices for farm produce and a more satisfied understanding between producer and buyer.

In conclusion. it appears that the white-collared town resident and the overalled farmer should consider first and last the welfare of the whole community, rural and urban. How many business men like this can you find in Boone County? Do the community markets provide such advantages for their farmer customers, on whom they entirely depend for their livelihood? Many of our small towns do no offer sufficient advantages for such markets, and for that reason, producers must sell on other markets. Do these producers have any knowledge of what goes on other than the price they receive for their produce? Most of them take what is handed to them, and say nothing of it.

As you read this column each week, we ask you to criticize it, and send in any information that you think might be interesting. We are intending this for your benefit, and for everyone living in Boone County.

A. E. Stephens will spend the latter part of this week at the Kentucky Press meeting held in Louisville. He will return home Saturday.

Last Sunday the boys of the Senior class of the local Baptist church elected their officers for the first quarter. Those elected were: Pres. Orville Sebree; Vice President, Keith Vice; Secretary and Treasurer, Billy Jarrell. At the present time E. E. Kirkwood is the teacher. All are invited to attend this class.

THAT BROKEN STEERING GEAR

You commonly see news itsms such as: "John Jones was charged with reckless driving following a collision between his car and another vehicle. Jones stated that his steering gear failed. Both cars were badly wrecked, the occupants sustained minor injuries."

Sometimes the item has a grimmer sound, when people are badly injured or killed. But the "broken steering gear" is one of the commonest defenses put up by drivers responsible for accidents—and, curiously enough, the more influential the driver, the oftener it is used.

As a matter of fact, it is doubtful if any part of a modern motor car is structurally stronger than the steering gear. Exhaustive tests my manufacturers show that real steering failures are practically unknown. But John Jones is always having.

Maybe John is drunk and weaving his way home when the crash comes. He sees that the front end of his car is completely mangled—and so he calls upon the ghost of his steering gear which "broke" for some reason just as he was making the turn. Maybe he was speeding on a slick pavement and went into a skid—well, the steering gear, it can't talk back!

It's time we stopped listening to the steering gear alibi and similar alibis which are false 999 times out of 1,000. John Jones may escape jail—but the fact remains that some 35,000 people are being killed each year in preventable accidents. The reckless and incompetent motorist must be punished and their alibis laughed out of court, if that ghastly tool is to be curbed.

THE TRUE COOPERATOR

"Many farmers look upon their cooperatives as institutions to serve them without a feeling of cooperative obligation on their parts . . ." says the Land O'Lakes News.

"The true cooperator stays with his association on both the 'ups' and 'downs.' Fair weather cooperators are not the backbone of the cooperative marketing movement."

Cooperative managements are not wizards who can perform feats of financial legerdemain irrespective of economic conditions. There are times when markets become inactive and prices slack off. And it is in such times that the wise cooperative member will work to the fullest extent with his organization in an attempt to stimulate markets and bring prices back to profitable levels. t —o—

JUST A MARKET PLACE

In a recent statement, Charles R. Gay, President of the New York Stock Exchange, said: "It would not seem necessary, but it is, to reiterate constantly that the Exchange is merely a market place. As an organization, it does not in any manner fix prices. No part of the proceeds of a transaction, or of the commission charged by a member, goes to the Exchange itself. Its members trade in securities on the floor of the Exchange, either as brokers for others, as is usually the case, or for their own account. In the latter transactions, however, members must observe rigid rules which insure the precedence of customers' orders over their own."

There is nothing mysterious about an exchange—unless it is the efficiency with which operations are swiftly and quietly carried on. It is to securities what a livestock exchange is to the producer and buyer of cattle, what a grain exchange is to the producer and buyer of wheat. It provides a place where a man wishing to sell a security and a man wishing to buy come together, agree upon a price, and consummate the deal without waste of time or money.

Every phase of exchange operation is subject to stringent regulations designed to protect the security owner and investor against chicanery and misrepresentation. Corporations listing issues with recognized exchange must submit exhaustive statements and be willing to give the public any and all pertinent information that bears on a security's present and prospective worth. Traders on the exchange floor must, as Mr. Gay said, observe rigid rules—or they are suspended or dismissed.

Nothing could be basically simpler than a stock exchange—which is just a market place for securities, and has no control whatsoever prices.

LAST YEAR'S FORWARD STRIDES

Prosperity and progress, twin factors for the promotion of happiness, brought us all many blessings and comforts before 1936 closed its door. Industry pulled up out of the hole, and millions of people in all walks of life found the way "round the corner." Every retail store seemed to join in reporting "better business" and big and little concerns were able to announce that they had "gotten out of the red."

Individuals bought more new cars than in any year since the balloon days of 1929, and at the opening of the automobile shows two months ago the good news was hailed from coast to coast that the motor industry had led the United States out of the depression. Men and women were rejoicing because they had good jobs with good pay. Christmas shopping broke all recent records. At the same time Government departments issued official okehs on the optimistic statements of large employers of labor, and the officials expressed great satisfaction over the improved relations between employers and employees. It seemed inconceivable that in a few short days that attempts would be made to stop all this forward progress through strike warfare. The demand that the automobile industry is to be run as a "closed shop" constitutes a threat to communities everywhere—even those far removed from the principal manufacturing centers. General Motors, chief center of attack, responded at the outset that it would keep its factories running so far as possible.

"Work in General Motors plants will continue to depend on the ability and efficiency of the worker, not on the membership or nonmembership in any labor organization whatever," said the company's statement, which added that seniority rights would continue to be observed under the rules laid down by the Automobile Labor Board appointed by the President of the United States in 1934. "The rules," adds the company's statement "are recognized as fair and just to all workers and permit no discrimination against any worker on account of any organization membership."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for January 24

TWO MIRACLES OF MERCY

LESSON TEXT—John 5:2-9; 6:8-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—The same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me. John 5:36.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Feeding Hungry People.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Boy Who Gave Away His Lunch.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why Did Christ Work Miracles?
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Significance of Christ's Miracles.

The world is looking for supermen, those who can work "miracles," and thus afford an easy solution for the problems of the home and of the nation. Men are ready to marvel at and follow in almost abject submission those who promise riches without labor, food without toil, short cuts to comfort and satisfaction. Often they are content if they only have something over which they may exclaim "Wonderful!" whether it be useful or not.

The miracles of God, through his servants and the Lord Jesus Christ, are not mere marvels or wonders. They are not for the advancement of the cause of any man or for personal glory. They are the mighty signs of an omnipotent God wrought for the good of men, for their spiritual enlightenment and as a testimony to the one true God.

The two miracles of our lesson present Jesus Christ as a Lord of mercy and grace—ready to meet the needs of men. Deep and real was his compassion as his heart yearned over needy humanity.

It is suggested that in the study and teaching of this lesson we vary our plan somewhat and present seven seed thoughts found in the two portions assigned. It is also urged that the context in both chapters be read with care.

I. We Are Impotent Folk (John 5:2).

The words well describe not only those who lay helpless about the pool of Bethesda but they fit us as well. Oh, yes, we are strong, capable, fearless, but only until we meet some great elemental problem. Then we see that we are indeed "a great multitude of impotent folk." The gently falling snow stopped the undefeated Napoleon. The silent fog can paralyze a nation. Death, sickness—who can stay their hand?

II. Despair Spells Defeat (v. 7).

Long familiarity with his weakness had bred in the man with the infirmity a sense of despair. Such an attitude invites defeat. It is unbecoming to a Christian. Let us not forget in the darkest hour to "keep looking up."

III. God Answers the Weakest Faith (v. 8).

Jesus evidently saw in the man's despairing reply a spark of faith. He who believes honors the name of God. We may need to cry "I believe, help thou mine unbelief," but if we believe God will gloriously meet even our faltering faith.

IV. God's Command Empowers (vv. 8, 9).

Jesus told the man to "Rise—and walk"—the very thing he could not do for his thirty-eight years of life. But when the Son of God speaks to us he gives the power to respond to his command.

V. Works Follow Faith (v. 9).

The man arose, took up his bed, and walked. Man's faith in God and God's response to faith lead to man's action on God's command. Too many are they in the church today who have never stood up and walked for God.

VI. Look to God, Not at Your Resources (John 6:9).

Humanlike, the disciples counted their money and found it was not enough to supply food for a multitude. And then there was a boy, but he had only five barley crackers and two little fish, It almost sounds like a church-board deciding to close the cross-roads church and let the Devil have the boys and girls, because it costs too much to keep up the work. God help us to trust and go on for him. "Little is much when God is in it."

VII. Followers for Bread Not Wanted (v. 15).

Those who follow Christ because of business advantage and social prestige know nothing of what it means to be a Christian. He is not a bread-making king; he is the bread of life.

Essence of Prayer

Prayer in its essence is not so much the expression of our desire for things at all as of our desire for God Himself.

Discourtesy

Discourtesy occasions not merely suffering, but sin; and Christian courtesy is a "means of grace" to all who have the happiness to receive it.—R. W. Dale.

The Day's Work

Let us make haste to live. For every day is a new life to a wise man.—Seneca.

Grieving for Wasted Time

He who knows most, grieves most for wasted time.—Dante.

Rev. J. A. Kirtley passed through town Monday on his way home from Big Bone. He braves the weather no matter how unpleasant it may be.

EFFICIENCY VERSUS WEIGHT

Science is always ahead of industry. The time and distance with which any industry lags behind science is a direct measure of the progressiveness an defficiency of that industry.

A case in point is the science of metallurgy and the transportation industry. The science of metallurgy has brought into being alleys which offer opportunities to eliminate dead weight with no loss of strength or reliability. The automobile industry known for its alertness has followed closely on the heels of science by adopting these new alleys with great rapidity. Other branches of the transportation industry such as the railroad have only just begun to realize the advantages offered by modern metallurgical developments such as stainless steel, aluminum alloys and improved bearing metals.

The automobile industry has followed so closely on the heels of science that it has prodded the metallurgist into the development of alloys which probably would never have existed had it not been for the demands of this industry. Other industries which should have profited sooner are only just beginning to take advantage of the alloys which the automobile industry demandd.

No better illustration of this can be found than that of alumnium. Such alloys as Bonhlite, widely used for cylinder heads and pistons in the automobile industry, have contributed toward performance and economy. Because of the fine heat conductivity of aluminum alloys they have improved the efficiency of the internal combustion engine and because of their great strength with lightness they have eliminated useless dead weight which costs the motorists money to drag around. Wise automobile manufacturers have used aluminum alloys in spite of the fact that their initial cost per pound is higher than cast iron which is replaces. The result, however, has meant millions upon millions of dollars to the pocketbooks of car owners.

Other branches of the transportation industry could likewise secure better economy if they emof steel, iron and alumnium. The railroad industry with its highlightweight streamline trains is showing a great awakening in this respect.

J. W. Arrasmith, of Union was a business caller at this office Saturday. Mr. Arrasmith had his subscription moved up another year. He stated that farmers in his community are very much in favor of holding down the tobacco acreage, and will not grow excessive acreage although there is no ban placed on the weed.

The Kentucky Rural Church Council ,meeting Thursday afternoon, will discuss social and economic forces affecting the church, speakers including Dr. Nourse, the note deconomist, and several prominent country pastors.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR IN CANCER CONTROL

The family doctor is the key man in cancer control. It is to him that a person should first go for diagnosis and treatment. If h is not certain of the diagnosis, he will at once refer the patient to a specialist or to a hospital or clinic where the special facilities required for complete examination are available.

It is no reflection upon the family physician when he himself cannot make the proper diagnosis in cancer. The disease takes so many form and affects different people in so many different ways that it is sometimes impossible, even with the best equipment, skill and experience, to be certain of the trouble. Again, being a general practitioner of medicine and not a specialist in surgery, he may not be competent to perform the oprbe competent to perform the operation, if one is required. He does know, however, the qualifications of those who can perform such operations with the greatest skill. He also knows the dangers of quackery and nostrums and will seek to guide his patient away from them.

Cancer can often be prevented, if its danger signals are recognized in time and promptly heeded. Cancer can be cured, if detected in its early stages and properly treated.

Go to your family physician at regular periodic intervals for a thorough physical examination. Consult him promptly, between these intervals, whenever any of the danger signals of cancer put in their appearance. In this way, and in this way alone, lies the greatest degree of safety.

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

Larue county's tobacco show had entries from 75 growers, with awards of silver loving cups, 1,000 pounds of fertilizer and $45 in money going for outstanding crops. Larue county 4-H club members exhibited 4,322 pounds at a district show.

Laying mash, grain ration and plenty of green food are credited with bringing about high poultry production, by C. L. Johnson and Lee E. Johnson, Warren county Negro farmers. They've both had about 30 per cent production on small, well culled flocks of pullets.

A Pikeville city ordinance requiring a grade on milk bottle caps has resulted in special care being taken by dairymen. The Justice Dairy has installed a modern plant for receiving and handling milk.

When farm women can cook dinner for 3 to 7 men and still get to homemakers' club meeting, that is an achievement. So thinks Miss Alice Penn, home agent for Simpson county, who says that cooking is better and meals more balanced than formerly.

Ways of getting better prices for butterfat are being sought by Lincoln county farmers. Approximately 3,000 cows in the county produce 8,000 gallons of milk daily on an average. The county has both a cheese factory and a creamery.

With demand constantly increasing for limestone in Livingston county, a flourspar mine has installed a pulverizer to crush lime for farmers at a low price. Several men have asked for as much as 1,000 tons.

Todd county 4-H club members sold 10,032 pounds of tobacco for $3,700.

Demonstrations have been held in Casey county on hogging down corn and soybeans.

Walton-Verona and Hamilton Win Conference Tilts Friday

In a game that filled the crowded bleachers at New Haven Friday night, the Walton-Verona Bearcats outplayed the home team to win by a score of 22 to 15.

The classy floorwork and goal work of Demoisey and Chapman gave the Bearcats their necessary inspiration to win after taking a 5 to 0 lead in the outset. At the halfway time the score stood 3 to 10 for Walton. Very careful and close guarding kept both teams from getting through for markers many times. At the beginning of the third quarter, the Bearcats had a lead of 11 points, but the Tigers counted 8 to their four in the eight minutes to make the final score more even.

There was about as much ardent rooting for the reserves in the opener as there was in the first string game. This game after real fighting by both teams to win, ended with Walton on the long end of a 17 to 18 score.

New Haven and Walton will not meet again until the District tournament which may or may not bring them together. However, the boys from New Haven are hoping that they get another chance to avenge the two regular season defeats at the hands of the pesky Bearcats.

* * *

In the other Conference game, Hamilton was easily the class of the contest played at Hebron. At no time did the Cardinals show signs of being a very strong threat so far as winning was concerned, but the boys from Hebron wont quit. They can take it and keep on scrapping until the final whistle blows.

The score in this game was 44 to 25, with Williamson leading the victors with 17 points while Huey marked up 13 for the losers. It appeared that the boys from the lowland got some kind of inspiration from their efforts to get to the game. It was necessary for some of them to take a boat part of the way in order to get to Hebron.

The farmers have it in their minds to still go places in the Boone County Conference this year, and in the years to come, for their Reserves have not lost a game in Conference play.

In a thriller, the Reserves from Hamilton took the long end of a 19 to 17 count in the last minute of play. More and more these youngsters are asserting themselves from the various schools. They meant to give any crowd their money's worth when they play. This game was hard fought by both teams, and it is not a sign that the Hebron boys are weakening because they lost the battle.

Burlington Loses By One Point

In what fans say was a real thriller, the Tocats dropped their game to Warsaw, after ending the regular times with a 31-all score, by a score of 33 to 32 in an overtime period. The score was close all the way except when the Warsaw boys came back after the half to take a comfortable lead with a scoring attack. The Tomcats lead by Clore, were able to overcome this lead before the final whistle ended the fray.

Hon and Furnish were leaders under the "bucket" for Warsaw while Clore made 15 points for his team. The Warsaw boys will return to Burlington in two weeks and the Tomcats have already decided what they will do.

In the reserve game, the Gallatin County boys trimmed the local lads to the tune of 33 to 17. It may be said to the credit of the home team that they had quite a handicap so far as size is concerned. The little boys at Burlington stared in amazement thinking the Warsaw coach had sent out his first stringers against them when the lanky second team lads came on the hardwood.

In the other County game the Florence Knights bowed to their Kenton County neighbors from Erlanger. The classy offensive play of the Lloyd boys coupled with clever defensive work gave them the victory in a one-sided game by a score of 41 to 24.

The Knights, though showing good basketball at times were unable to lead at any time in the game. The half-way period showed Lloyd in the lead by 13 points. Brooks looked best for the Knights while Milner lead the opponents to victory.

In the reserve game the Erlanger lads took the heavy end of a 25 to 5 count in a rather erratic contest. Though the scores show up rather top-heavy it must be remembered that the boys from Lloyd have been showing pretty strong in rather fast company this season in basketball.

Where they play this week: New Haven at Southgate; Dry Ridge at Walton, Florence at Hebron, Burlington at Hamilton (called off on account of high water).

HOMEMAKERS HOLD MEETING

Sixteen Homemakers representing four clubs met at the office of Miss Gillaspie in Burlington to discuss the possibilities of a curb market in Boone County. Mrs. Pearl Haak, specialist in foods University of Kentucky, told the group about the five homemakers markets in Kentucky. She stated that the Henderson Homemakers market sold 6,200 of produce during 1936.

Homemakers may have three types of markets, curb, exchange or roadside stand, according to Mrs. Haak. The women made a motion to try to keep the Boone market within the bounds of Boone County instead of moving it closer to the city. Mrs. Haak emphasized the importance of developing plans for the market slowly and thoroughly. Poultry, dairy products, bakery products, honey, bulbs, flowers and handicraft may be sold on Homemakers markets.

The following committees were appointed by Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent, to make investigation before the next meeting of the group, February 23, with Mrs. Haak. Investigate suitable place for market, Mrs. Jake Cleek, Mrs. Sam Sleet and Mrs. Robert E. Grant; Produce that could be sold on market, Mrs. Walter Ferguson and Mrs. Mattie Mae Hamilton; and source of food supply of Covington, Mrs. Lou Pope and Mrs. Carl Anderson.

The following were present at the meeting: Mrs. Catherine Clore, Mrs. Lou Pope, Mrs. J. W. Kelly, Burlington; Mrs. Bertha Conrad, and Mrs. W. P. Hollis, Hebron; Mrs. Marie Pennington, Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. Shirley Huey and E. C. Garrison, New Haven; and Mrs. J. T. Roberts, Mrs. O. K. Powers, Mrs. Mattie Mae Hamilton and Mrs. Maud Wilson, Verona.

Ed Guess, of Livingston county, has been offered top prices for his eggs by a local hatchery.

Thirty-three Angus and seven Hereford calves are being fed by Grayson county calf club members.

IS GOVERNMENT DEFIED?

Senator Robinson is the Administration leader, and speaks with authority for the White House. He stated that he is not positive whether the new responsibilities with regard to labor and industry should be borne by the Federal government or be delegates to the different States. Tthe autocratic new labor dictators do not seem to consider either the Federal or State authorities, but they demand that their unions be recognized as a "sole bargaining agency." It is not strange that Washington is already objecting to this attempt to take away its official powers and the question is bein gasked: Is Government being defied? Then, too, another question confronts the whole people—should workmen have to depend upon union cards for jobs or should they be able to hold their places because of their skill and efficiency.

MARTIN BROS. GARAGE

SEES ALL---KNOWS ALL

I just got back from an inspection tour of Coach Huey's "'Farming" activities. You ought to see him standing in the entrance to his gymnasium wistfully singing, "River Stay 'way From My Door."

But say, those Farmers have a way with the girls. When it comes to having one girl that's not news, but when a lad has three girls all at one time, and that away from his home, its a sure sign that his coach is making him popular. Now it's none of your business how I happened to know that one of these Farmers has been caught, and that's not all—but suppose his "regular" should get a whif of what I am saying. Sorry, but nothing goes into this column but the truth. You other basketball boys want to know how it's done? Well ask one of the Jones boys but don't tell him that anybody can get several eight or ten-year old girls to sit on his knees if he will only feed them peanuts and candy.

But how far is that from basketball and other athletics? Quite a distance if I have good ideas of relativity. Now that big word would never have entered into my writing if the idea of how far apart clubs are gtting in the Conference some of the Boone County ball had not been bearing heavily upon my mind. Relatively ,it's a long ways from six wins and no losses to five losses and no wins. What do you think? But wait a minute, there's a tournament to be played yet before we know just all that is to be known about these teams.

Oh yes, some of you are wondering where that tournament will be held this year. It's not official, but here's the dope on it—it will be at Walton. Be planning to have those nights open for the best tournament ever, with lots of good old support from the sidelines for your favorite team. Now I advise very sincerely and with my best control of calmness that you not decide too hurriedly that some certain team is going to win the tournament, and that the others wont even make it interesting. Did you ever hear the word UPSET?

There's only one Conference game to be played this week, and that looks from here to be a thriller. Now it's hard to say which team will win when they are both about the same. From last week's scores it looks like the Cardinals and Knights may have both had about the same kind of teaching last week. Remember the old Russian (or was he Russian) king who said let them defeat us now, but by doing so they will teach us how to defeat them next time? If that is true, and I think it has much truth in it, both teams got some mighty fine pointers on the hardwood sport and how it is to be played last week. Here's to the best game ever on Friday.

Yours,
THE SNOOPER.

P. S. I'm going away; so here's my vote by proxy for the Knights. Oh yes, the river will furnish entertainment around Hamilton this week in place of the Burlington Tomcats.

BURLINGTON SCHOOL NOTES

The Hi-Y boys returned to school Tuesday of this week talking over their trip to the Y. M. C. A.. They reported having a very nice time. They enjoyed swimming while at the Y. M. C. A. and after the swim and lunch they were guests of the "Y" for a basketball game.

At the first of school the Girl Reserves Club was divided up into squads. The squads were given names from the comic pages of the newspaper and different squads were designated for to give a program every Tuesday. On Tuesday of this week Tillie's squad gave the program. It was composed of songs and Alberta Pettit and Luella Cason read poems. Alberta also gave a story which had a great moral for us to remember. The others who took part were Carolyn Cropper, Kathryn Denniston, Dinny Burcham, Ruth Ligon, Martha Jane Hightower and Frances Presser. It was a very good program and all enjoyed it..

The debate club has been busily preparing to debate Independence on Jan. 26. Independence wants Burlington to bring both an affirmative and negative team. Those who will represent Burlington the affirmative team are: Carolyn Cropper, Luella Cason. Those on the negative team are Harold Garrison and Rebecca Stephenson.

In as much as the "Florensic Club," has been progressing nicely we find the declamation group busy getting up their declamations. Those who are taking part in this group are: Kathryn Denniston, Pauline Norris, Leona Kruse Louise Rice, Mildred Siekman, Mary Jane Brady and Olive Louise Poston. They seem to be very much interested and are having rgular meetings under the direction of Mr. Kirkwood.

Attendance has been very low since the Christmas vacation on account of so much rain and illness. However, we are happy to report that our attendance is rapidly increasing.

Due to high water it has been necessary to cancel the basketball games which were to be played at Hamilton this Friday. We regret that this must be, but the games will be played at another date.

PETERSBURG HOMEMAKERS

The Petersburg Homemakers' Club met at the home of Mrs. John Klopp and daughter, last Thursday, January 14.

The morning session was turned over to Miss Gillaspie, who gave a very interesting talk on the curb market meeting which was held at Burlington on Tuesday. She also continued the discussion on the Farm and Home week which will be held at Lexington, January 26 to 29th.

At noon a lovely covered dish lunch was enjoyed; also birthday greetings extended to Mrs. Klopp.

In the afternoon Miss Johnanna Terrill and Miss Gillaspie (in the absence of Mrs. Chambers) gave the lesson for the month, "The Crowning Glory." This was very interesting and helpful and am sure all know more about the care of our hair.

Mrs. Charles Klopp had some very good games planned, which made things quite lively for a while.

The members present were Mesdames Charles Klopp, Howard Huey, Embry Klopp, Charles White, Raymond Witham, Norris Berkshire, H. C. Mathews, Nell Helms, E. E. Helms, W. O. Rector, Howard Ryle, J. B. Berkshire and Mrs. J. J. Klopp, Misses Gladys Klopp, Edna Berkshire, Johnanna Terrill Elizabeth Walton, Miss Gillaspie and Miss Mary Rector.

Mrs. H. D. Woodruff of Whiting, Ind., and Mrs. Hugh Baker were visitors.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Perry Mahan, of Petersburg, the second Thursday in February. Don't be late, as President Huey says all meetings must begin promptly at 10:30 a. m.

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS

The Florence Homemakers' Club met for their regular meeting on Jan. 12 at the Town Hall. The meeting was brought to order by the president, Mrs. Clifford Coyle, with twenty members present and one new member. Miss Gillaspie gave a very interesting talk about the "Kentucky State Parks."

Mrs. L. T. Utz assisted by Mrs. Virginia Goodridge gave most efficiently a very helpful lesson, "Your Crowning Glory Or Is it?" They demonstrated an oil shampoo and a dry shampoo and also how to arrange the hair to make the most of our looks. Mrs. Fawcett and Mrs. Hue also took part in the demonstration.

The members present were, Mesdames Clifford Coyle, Ralph Cody, L. T. Utz. Virginia Goodridge, A. E. Hue, H. C. Fawcett, Lewis Sullivan J. B. Respess, M. G. Martin, Mabel Sayre, Chas. Corbin, Fannie Clarkson, J. P. Tanner, Emma V. Rouse, S. E. Wilson, Garnet Lucas, Joe Berkshire, T. E. McHenry, C. F. Blankenbeker and Miss Stella Lohline. Mrs. Grant Maddox, registered as a new member.

A splendid lunch was served by the committe, Mrs. Lewis Sullivan Mrs. C. F. Blankenbeker, Virginia Goodridge and Mrs. J. B. Respess.

The Florence Homemakers' Club will have their next regular meeting, Feb 25th.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our many friends and neighbors who were so kind and helpful to us during the time of our great sorrow. Also we wish to thank the donors of the beautiful floral pieces; Bro. Hauter for his consoling words; the undertakers, Bullock & Catherman for the efficient manner in which they conducted the funeral.

Last Sunday night, Mr. R. S. Cowen, gave a fine testimony as to when he was converted and how long he had been a member of the Baptist Church. Mr. Cowen has been a faithful member of the local church for seventy-two years.

HOUSEWORK SHORT CUTS SUGGESTED

Short cuts in housework suggested by the home economics department of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture are as follows:

Peel vegetables and scrape dishes on newspapers. They may be gathered in the paper and deposited in the garbage can or burned in the stove or furnace.

Jot down needs for supplies and market for several days at a time. This saves both time and money.

Save steps by using trays for setting and clearing the table, assembling foods and utensils for cooking if the kitchen is large and the pantry not convenient, and for returning clean dishes to shelves.

Canned soups and some canned vegetables save work and time to the extent that they may be used occassionally. For the most part, however, freshly prepared foods are less expensive than commercially canned ones, especially if the family is larger than two.

Casserole dishes can be prepared in the morning, and need only be reheated for the evening meal.

A certain time and a certain day set aside for each household task or groupe of tasks gets work accomplished more quickly and more easily.

KENTUCKY 4-H CLUB NEWS

Highest honors for the Hart county tobacco project went to Harland Baston, a 16-year-old boy who sold one acre of tobacco weighing 1,140 pounds for $685. Ninety members sold 47,000 pounds on the Horse Cave market.

Interest in club work is booming in Union county, where a 25 percent increase in enrollment is already idicated. Cothing, calf and hog raising, sheep raising and corn production were reviewed at a joint leaders' and officers' meeting.

Cashing in on beef stock, Todd county 4-H club members sold seven calves for an average of $61 per head. They still own the cows, for which they paid $58.

A profit of $65 on a 1,120 pound calf was made by Robert Harmon, Jr., of Marion county. That profit topped all others, but every 4-H club member made money on his project, says County Agent G. H. Karnes.

Since most girls need a working knowledge of how to entertain guests with dignity, pleasure and on low income, the Cuba club in Graves county has a project on "Entertaining." Worked out with the aid of a local home economics teacher, 25 girls are enrolled for the project.

The homemakers' library sponsored by farm women of Fulton and Hickman counties has a special "Youth" section, containing books of interest to 4-H club and Utopia club members. Only recently started, it is attracting wide use.

5 PERCENT ADDED TO AAA PAYMENTS

It is announced through the state office at the College of Agriculture at Lexington that the rates on Class I, or diversion payments, to farmers who participated in the 1936 agricultural conservation program in Kentucky have been increased by 5 per cent to bring them in line with payments in other regions.

This means, for example, that farmers who would have received $100 for diverting soil-depleting crops will now receive $105. Those who already have been paid will receive additional amounts later.

A considerable number of Kentucky farmers have received payment for the 1936 program, and most of them will be paid within the next two months, according to O. M. Farrington, the state administrator.

AGRICULTURAL WORKERS TO MEET AT NASHVILLE

Soil and water conservation, crops, fertility, livestock raising and other farm subjects will be discussed at a three-day meeting of the Association of Southern Agriculture Workers at Nashville Feb. 3-5. Speakers will include Edward O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads; F. A. Silcox, chief forester of the U. S. forest service; W. I. Myers, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, and Dr. W .W .Alexander, administrator of the resettlement administration.

In addition, the 3,000 delegates, representing all phases of southern agriculture, will hear directors of the experiment stations and agricultural extension services and reports from members of faculties of land-grant colleges from Oklahoma and Texas to the Carolinas.

EXTRA FEED VALUE IN CORNFODDER THIS YEAR

Many farmers have observed that cornfodder has extra feeding value this year, as the drouth of last summer increased the amount of nutrition in the stalks.

It usually is not advisable to feed fodder alone, however, as it laks minerals and protein. Legume hay supplies these, as does cottonseed meal or soybean oil meal. Cows with calves need grain.

If no legume hay is fed, then a mineral mixture should be kept before cattle, as well as salt. Two parts each of ground limestone and steam bone meal and one part of salt make a good mixture.

Cattle being fatened at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington are receiving all of the corn silage they want, 2½ pounds of cottonseed meal, 11 pounds of corn and 4 pounds of straw per head daily. They have free access to a box of loose salt and another box of ground limestone, and have been eating daily per head an ounce of salt and 2¼ ounces of limestone.

Dry cows do well on straw, shredded fodder or cane for roughage and a pounds of cottonseed meal per head daily. For cows nursing calves, a ration can be made of silage, straw, cane or corn fodder for roughage, and two pounds of cottonseed meal or soybean oil meal daily per head. Whole or shredded fodder or silage is usually a cheaper roughage for cattle in Kentucky than is cottonseed hulls. If cottonseed meal and hulls are used in the fattening ration, then better gains are made when corn is added.

GOVERNMENT RESUMES
By J. E. Jones

Washington, D. C.—We have with us the first Congress to convne in regular session in January. Many new faces are seen among the members of th two cehambrs.

Neutrality laws are to be reinforced to safeguard the United States against being drawn into any and all wars. The program for legislation that affects the affairs of our own country and our own people is being whipped into shape, and the probabilities are that the session will be a long one. Only Old Sol will be able to dissolve it next Summer, if all precedents hold good.

The strikes in the automobile industry are regarded in Washington as a serious menace to continued recovery, and the judgment of statesmen is that this is "no time to upset our apple carts." Obviously this government of ours does not believe in wars, nor strikes. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, told the National Press Club on a recent occasion, that the power and strength, as well as the progress of organized labor, has been achieved through the policy of its first great leader, Samuel Gompers, of appealing to men's reason and their sense of justice. Green said he had always followed that method of his predecessor, and he voiced his disapproval of precipitating strikes in no uncertain terms. Evidently a new brand of radicals have appeared as leaders with a determination to rule organized labor, no matter what the cost may be to the working men or to the nation.

As Government resumes it seems certain that reform measures affecting industry—including employers and employees—will become major programs of the Roosevelt second term.

CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS

The probabilities are that the CCC camps will become a permanent institution. Thus, what started out as an experiment to bridge a gap in the lives of boys and young men is apt to remain as a great influence in the lives of our younger folks.

The CCC has been kept more effectively out of politics than any other recent experiment in human affairs. In its behalf it is said that the boys have made splendid records in fighting fires, thus saving millions of dollars worth of timberland. They also constructed 50,000 miles of telephone lines, erected 2,700 observation towers and built 7,600 miles of roads and trails. Besides they have carried on campaigns to wipe out tree parasites and tree disease in 13,500,000 acres of wooland, to reduce losses of $100,000,000 annually which these forest enemies are estimated to cause. They have also planted 1,000,000,000 trees, constructed dams and flood control work, and opened up several hundred thousands of acres of new state park lands for recreational use.

The CCC sends 12,000 boys a month into private employment, but there are still plenty of applicants to fill their places. Employers report that CCC graduates make good workers. It costs $1,000 per man per year to carry the CCC.

Congress Debates How to Keep America Out of War

In a race with arms exporters shipping airplanes and munitions to Spain, Congress hastily Jan. 6 passed a resolution plugging a hole in the 1936 Neutrality Act. The resolution will prevent such shipments to either side in Spain's civil war. Chief opposition in debate was to the proposal to limit application of the resolution only to Spain instead of making it apply generally to all possible civil wars. But on roll calls the resolution passed the Senate, 80 to0, and the House by a vote of 406 to 1.

Excerpts from debate in the Senate where the resolution was brought in by Senator Key Pittman (Dem.) of Nevada, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee:

Senator Pittman: The reason for presenting this matter as one of emergency is that our neutrality law has been held to apply only to a war between two ferign countries and to a civil war. The legal branch of the State Department in honesty has so held, and two licenses have been granted to export airplanes and airplane parts to Spain . . . This practice should stop. There was a far less dangerous situation in 1914, which resulted in a World War into which we were dragged.

Senator Clark (Dem) of Missouri: It seems to me that there would be very great advantage if the matter could be accomplished by an amendment to the general law in such a way as not to single out one particular nation where one government exists which has already been recognized by the United States, singling out one nation rather than enacting general legislation to apply to all nations.

Senator Pittman: It was the thought by those considering this draft that there were some Senators who would rather limit the measure to one nation than have it apply to all the nations of the world, and I yielded . . .

Senator Vandenberg (Rep). of Michigan: Mr. President, I desire to associate myself definitely and specifically with the observations submitted by the able Senator from Missouri . . .

Senator Nye (Rep.) of North Dakota: I should like to point out that although our embarrassment was directly occasioned by this lone American dealer in second-hand munitions of war, the supplies with which that dealer is involved at the present moment are casts-offs of our own American military establishment, sold at public auction to this type of American . . . who has said in effect, 'The policy of the Government be damned." . . . If the United States would nationalize the munitions industry . . . we should be able to avoid experiences of the present kind . . .

Now, however, the question arises as to other matters . . . What are we going to do if next week, or the following week, Great Britain and France make up their minds that since other powers in Europe are arming one side in Spain, it is only fair to arm the other side, and there is a chance of our expediting and speeding the end of the difficulty there by selling arms to the loyalist forces in Spain . . . Are we going to rescind the action which we now take? . . .

Senator Pittman: I am not only astonished but disappointed at the character of the argument made by the Senator from North Dakota and by his insinuations . . . I resent the complicated, ambiguous, verbose insinuations of the Senator from North Dakota, who assumes to himself to be a peace advocate..

Senator Nye: I wish we could do this job by writing an embargo policy that would apply automatically to every country when trouble like that in Spain may come anywhere upon the earth . . It is not fair for us to undertake today to say that if we do this thing in one instance we shall do it in all others? . . .

Senator Pittman: It must be apparent to the Senator from North Dakota that this Government does not desire to interfere with the orderly course of business in this country by reason of any little sporadic uprising in Mexico or any South American country or in China. It must be such an internal war of strife of civil war as would reach a stage of magnitude involving the possession of large territory, the assertion of government, interference with outside parties, and theatening our peace.

* * *

Debate in the House, where the resolution was in charge of Representative Sam D. McReynolds (Dem.) of Chattanooga, Tenn., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, was in part as follows:

Mr. McReynolds: Mr. Speaker, an unusual condition now exists, which, to my mind, makes it necessary for this House to take some immediate action . . . There is a race on between the Congress and the people who want to send these deadly instruments of warfare to Spain to help carry on this carnage . . .

Mr. Maverick (Dem.) of San Antonia, Tex.: Last year I stated that the resolution we enacted then was no good, and times have shown this to be true. I now say that this one is not either. If we are going to have neutrality, let us have it for the whole world . . . We wanted neutrality the last time and we did not get it. This is not neutrality, it is against neutrality. We are taking a stand against a democratic government, the parliamentary government of Spain. . .

Mr. O'Malley (Dem.) of Milwaukee, Wis.: If it is intended to bring about neutrality and stop the countries in civil war, why does it not say all countries engaged in civil war . . . Why pick out Spain?

Mr. McReynolds. We are now working on a general neutrality law . . . which will cover any condition of civil war in any country . . . At this time, this is an emergency. These shipments are being made, and what we are trying to do now is to stop the shipment by this special act . . .

Mr. Pierce (Dem.) of La Grande, Ore: Is it true that these munitions are going to friends of democracy in Spain?

Mr. McReynolds: They are going to both sides, I understand.

Mr. Pierce: Is it undue haste to support the friends of democracy in Spain?

Mr. Connery (Dem.) of Lynn, Mass.: Suppose some of those shipments are consigned to Germany and they are to go to Spain. What about that?

Mr. McReynolds: This resolutioin covers that. It . . . says "any neutral country." . . .

Mr. Hill (Rep.) of Prosser, Wash: I am in hearty sympathy with this kind of legislation, but why not make it general? . . .

Mrs. Rogers (Rep.) of Lowell, Mass.: Is it not true that the Administration could have refused to issue a license for the shipment of these airplanes to Spain?

Mr. McReynolds: They had no legal right to refuse . . .

Mr. Sauthoff (Prog.) of Madison, Wis.: I do not want to hurt anyone's sensitive feelings in this matter, but it is the fault of the committee that we ar in our present predicament and that the Government of this country finds itself unable to act, because of the blunder that was made by the committee bringing it in under suspension of the rules, prohibiting us from placing any amendments on it. Now, that blunder is to be repeated by this type of hasty, ill-considered, ill-advised legislation . . . Why was not a rule brought in yesterday? We were here. He had nothing else to do. We adjourned early . . . Why were we not advised as to what this resolution was to be, and an opportunity given to have it printed so that we might read it and consider amendments? We are forced to debate this subject without any copies of this resolution . . .

Mr. Kloeb (Dem.) of Celina, O.; I trust that this resolution passes without amendment, to save the necessity of conference with the Senate. Its passage today is imperative . . .

Mr. Amile (Prog.) of Elkhorn, Wis.: As the resolution stands at the present time it is an unneutral act. It constitutes an unfriendly act toward a governmnt that is friendly to the Untied States . . . I have been struck the last few weeks by th fact that members of this body and members of another legislative body, who have not distinguished themselves by their efforts in behalf of neutrality legislation, have been quoted by the press as to what they would do to prevent shipments of arms from this country to the regularly constituted government of Spain. These people are not interested in maintaining the neutrality of the United States. These people are pro-Fascist, and they would like to have the United States take a hand that would help the Rebel-Fascist forces of Spain . . .

Mr. Fish (Rep.) of Garrison, N. Y.: Mr. Speaker, there is no disposition on the part of the Republican minority to delay, obstruct, or hamper the majority in the passage of this bill . . . Was as a minority regret that it is necessary for the House of Representatives to rush through legislation of this importance without adequate debate . . . One of the worst things that happened in the last Congress was the fact that the important neutrality bill was brought up for consideration in the House of Representatives, which is supposed to be a great deliberative body, and jammed through under a "gag" rule which provided for only 20 minutes' debate on each side, with no right to amend . . .

Mr. Creal (Dem.) of Hodgenville, Ky.: There has been a galaxy of splendid gentlement voicing their opposition today, and I wondered whether or not they felt like they were sitting on a jury passing on the lives of men and women they never saw and whose quarrels they have no part . . . I wish I could present to these men the picture of all the legless and armless men, the widows and orphans, and the funral processions that will be the result of these $9,000,000 worth of bombs dropped upon them . . .

Mr. Maverick: That is a lot of nonsense . . . reference to "dilatory tactics" is silly. This is a parliamentary government . . . We know that the President has tremendous power, that the Democratic Party has tremendous power, too. Let us see that we use this power in a democratic way. Let me say to the leaders of the Democratic Party that we have not passed any bill taking the profits out of war. We have made a failure of that, and we might as well face the country with it . . .

Mr. Ludlow (Dem.) of Indianapolis, Ind.: I call the gentleman's attention to the fact that the Democratic national platform adopted in Philadelphia contains a very forward-looking plan on this subject . . .

I join my disnguished friend from Texas [Mr. Maverick] in his lamentation over the fact that the Democratic party, to which he and I belong, has been in full power and lord of all it surveyed for four years, it has done nothing to take the profit out of war; but I have high hope that under the incentive and impulse of the Philadelphia platform we shall make our amends to the people of this country by adopting and starting on its way to ratification a constitutional amendment also provides for a nation-wide referendum before war can be declared, the only exception being in case of attack or invasion.

Mr. Maverick: We have so far failed; let us make a success—and enact effective legislation on that. . . . We have been letting the American people live on promises.

AGRICULTURAL IMPROVEMENT

PROJECTS TO BE CARRIED OUT DURING 1937 BY FARMERS, SAYS COUNTY AGENT, H. R. FORKNER.

Boone County farmers meeting in Community Program of work planning meetings are outlining constructive agricultural improvement projects to be carried out during 1937, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

Petersburg, Verona and Hebron farmers held their meeting the past week. Florence, Walton, Grant Burlington and New Haven farmers will meet this week and Hamilton and Constance farmers will meet the following week. All farmers who are interested are invited to attend and take part in these meetings.

Farmers as a whole are more intersted in general agricultural improvement in their communities than they have been any time in the past. The County Agent or Agricultural Extension Service plans to spend at least fifty per cent of 1937 on general agricultural improvement projects and the remaining fifty percent on the Agricultural Conservation Program. The greater part of the general program will be devoted to plans organized by farmers in their community meetings.

A summary of the programs planned by farmers the past week include:

Petersburg—

Truck crop, market improvement W. O. Rector, leader.

$100,000 Loss To Boone County

HOMES AND BARNS SWEPT AWAY BY FLOODED OHIO

No Casualties Reported In Boone County. River Falling Rapidly

At the present time, with the flood waters still covering a great portion of the lowlands, it is very hard to get a fair estimate of the exact loss sustained by this county in the recent high waters, but according to several reliable persons who have made partial surveys of the damaged area, the loss for Boone county is going to reach approximately $100,000. This figure includes damage to homes, business houses and general farm losses.

The town of Constance, was undoubtedly the hardest hit of all in Boone County. Houses were twised from their foundations and many have been completely destroyed or swept away by the high water. All buildings that were situated on or near the main highway in Constance and Taylorsport were almost completely covered, the highway being covered with water ranging in depth from five to fifteen feet. The residents of Constance who still remain there are making their living quarters in the school building. They have been cared for with plenty of food and clothing by the Red Cross and local donations. It will be several days yet before the river falls sufficiently for much cleaning-up to take place in these towns.

The town of Rabbit Hash was also damaged to a large extent. Both stores in this place were damaged to such an extent that we are unable to give definite information as to the likeliness that the present buildings will ever be used again. Many reports were circulated that both stores were swept from their foundations and floated down the river. These reports were false, as were many others, but the town was hard hit, and until the water recedes, no one can determine just what the situation really is. This community, in and around Rabbit Hash, and in fact, all along the river bottoms, suffered a severe loss. Much feed of all kinds was lost or spoiled by the waters, and some livestock was moved to the highlands and released to roam. Barns and small outbuildings in this district were also damaged, and many were swept down stream by the raging waters.

But as stated before, no one is going to be able to give out any definite figures as to the loss sustained, until the river is back in its banks, and the property owners have a chance to survey their property. You can hear anything now, reports of all kinds, but many of them are false, and this newspaper will not attempt to print such statements until we are sure they are true, and we can verify them.

According to C. L. Cropper, chairman of the Red Cross in Boone County, there are approximately one hundred and fifty persons being housed and fed in the county at the present time. Most of them are being kept in the public school buildings. The average cost per day for this pro- These persons have also been furject is approximately fifty dollars. nished with necessary clothing. Mr. Cropper reports that the donations from the various communities has not been kept separate, and that he is not in position to itemize just what each gave. He did mention one community especially, Union. These fine people in this community were among the first to contribute, and have donated over $250 in cash and several truck loads of clothing and food.

However, Boone County as a whole, has responded to the call for aid, and has certainly done their share in trying to help those who were in need. The Red Cross fund at the present is in good condition, but according to Mr. Cropper, if you have not donated your share, and would like to do so, send it in as soon as possible, and if there is anything left over, it will be sent directly to the National headquarters for distribution wherever needed.

Several refugees of Lawrenceburg are being cared for in the Burlington school building. Constance, of course, is mostly all local residents. The school building at Walton was prepared to care for about seventy-five persons, and they invited Louisville to use this building if desired. Due to the fact that it was so far away, no victims were brought there. Beds, clothing and food were prepare, and the invitation extended to Louisville—that is all any one could do. The other school buildings in the county were made ready for use, and some used. The county school busses were also available for those who needed transportation and also for the transportation of supplies.

Boone county has been fortunate. Our loss does not mean anything in comparison with other towns and communities in the flooded area. So far, there has not been a single life lost by the flood in Boone County. The longer you live in Boone, the more you will appreciate your good neighbors, and the many advantages you have here that are not offered elsewhere.

RECORD SET BY DAIRY HERD

WHEN COWS AVERAGE 54 POUNDS OF BUTTERFAT—RIGID CULLING AND FEED MANAGEMENT REQUIRED.

An outstanding record of performance of 54 pounds of butterfat per cow was accomplished by Kite and Purdy, Beech Grove Dairy Farm, according to David Colville, Assistant County Agent.

There were twelve cows in the herd with only nine in lactation. Of these nine cows four averaged approximately 54 pounds of butterfat last month on official test.

This enviable record was made by rigid culling of cows and by a good feed and management program. A strict breeding program has been carried on for a number of years and only by feeding balanced rations consisting of grain and concentrates and a good quality cloverd hay were these results obtained.

MRS. HATTIE JOHNSON

Mrs. Hattie Johnson, sister of W. B. and B. K. Johnson, Walton, died at St. Elizabeth hospital Monday, January 25th.

Funeral services were conducted at the Walton Baptist Church with Rev. Alford in charge. Interment followed at the Walton cemetery.

Chambers & Grubbs had charge of the arrangements.

J. J. Kirkpatrick is able to be out again, after being confined to his home for several days on account of illness.

EWELL HANSOM CLIFTON

Ewell Hansomf Clifton, aged 51 years, passed away Friday night at his home near Burlington, after an illness of three years. The remains were removed to the Taliaferro Funeral Home for preparation.

He was a retired street car conductor, having been employed by the Green Line for 22 years. He was a member of D. of A., Grandview Lodge No. 41, Clifton, Ky., and the Madison Avenue Baptist Church.

Mr. Clifton is survived by his widow, Mrs. Effie Clifton, two sons, Guilford and Ralph Clifton; three daughters, Mrs. Carl Reif, Catherine and Glenna Lee Clifton, his mother, Mrs. Barbara Clifton; eight sisters and two brothers, and a host of other relatives and friends.

Six brothers-in-law, Ernest Chamberlain, Leonard Blackburn, Marion Brutcher, Harry Duncan, Ross Blackburn and Wm. Prewitt, acted as pallbearers.

Funeral was from the Taliaferro Funeral Home, with services at the Madison Avenue Baptist Church Monday at 2 o'clock by the Rev. O. J. Steger, assisted by the Rev. H. D. Allen, interment following in Highland cemetery.

MAURER, CLORE ARE APPOINTED

AS EDITORS OF EASTERN STATE TEACHERS' COLLEGE PAPER—BOTH HAVE BEEN MEMBERS OF STAFF.

Ralph Maurer and Kelly Clore, both of Burlington, have been appointed co-editors of the Progress, Eastern State Teachers' College paper, for the remainder of the year by President H. L. Donovan upon the recommendation of Professor W. L. Keene, faculty sponsor of the paper. They will fill the place of Morris Creech who resigned as editor to accept a place teaching Commerce at Benham High School at Benham, Ky.

Both Maurer and Clore have been members of the staff for several semesters and are well qualified to fill the position to which they have been appointd. Maurer has been a regular member of the staff since 1934, with the execption of one year when he was absent from Eastern. During this time he was part owner and editor of this paper.

Clore has written for the paper for the last three years and at present is Sports Editor. Besides his duties with the paper, Kelly is active in extra curricular activities. This fall he won the state oratorical contest held at Bera, Ky. He is a major in the dapartment of English and is doing minor work in social science and French. He is a member of the Little Theatre Club, Alpha Zeta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, Sigma Tau Pi, and is present business manager of the Milestone.

Maurer, also a major in the English and social science departments, is a member of Sigma Tau Pi and the Northern Kentucky Club. He was known as the youngest member of the Kentucky Press Association during the time he was co-editor and co-publisher of his home-town weekly.

RELIEF GIVEN BY RED CROSS

TO FLOOD SUFFERERS—MANY DONATIONS OF $25 TO $100 RECEIVED BY THIS ORGANIZATION.

The people of Boone County can appreciate it now, more than ever before, that great humanitarian organization, the Red Cross, which is doing such wonderful relief work in the greatest flood in history in this area, which touches the northern and western edges of Boone County. When the call for relief came from those affected by the high waters, the Red Cross immediately set into motion the wheels of its organization to provide speedily relief to those unfortunate victims of the raging waters of the Ohio River.

The liberal-minded people began to forward voluntary contributions of money, food and clothing to headquarters in Burlington to be distributed where ever needed. Many cash donations of $25.00 to $100.00 have been received from individuals besides the hundreds of smaller donations and every donation, no matter how small, is highly appreciated.

It is difficult to understand how any one so fortunate as not to be affected by this flood could stand by and see this suffering of humanity without digging deep in his pocket to help relieve the suffering of his fellow man. Yet there are some people so selfish and so dense of human understanding as to stand alone in this crisis without doing their bit.

The Red Cross holds an emergency fund on hand at all times and when any great catastrophe happens, the Red Cross is in position to immediately provide relief and at the same time set in motion a drive for funds to replenish this reserve fund so as to be ready for the next disaster, which is sure to come, sooner or later. People as a rule are not so liberal minded when the sun is shining, and disaster can only bring to their attention the importance of being prepared for these emergencies. Without an organization and funds with which to operate much delay would occur in rushing relief when any sudden calamity happens to a community.

Do your bit toward th[illegible] Cross. You may be the next t[illegible] its help.

FISH AND GAME CLUB MEETING POSTP[illegible]

The meeting which was to be held Wednesday, January 27, at the Burlington courthouse was postponed, due to high water and inclement weather. Preparations had been made for a very interesting affair which will be held at a later date, to be announced in this paper.

All farmers should take an intest in the activities of this club, as their work is in the interest of farmers as well as sportsmen. Be sure to watch for further announcement.

FLOOD RELIEF MEETING HELD

TO DETERMINE DAMAGE OF FLOOD DISASTER TO FARMERS IN BOONE COUNTY, AND THEIR IMMEDIATE NEEDS.

A meeting was held at the County Agent's office in Burlington Monday afternoon to report on the results of the flood disaster to farmers in Boone County, and deneeds toward helping those who termine what were the immediate had suffered. Those present were C. L. Cropper, Chairman of the County Red Cross relief organization; R. V. Lentz, Chas. W. Riley, H. E. White, W. J. Craig, M. C. Carroll, Lillard Scott, J. W. Conley, J. L. Jones, Sr., August Trapp, Frank Walton, D. H. Norris, Hubert Conner, Ottis Readnour, Dave Colvill, and H. R. Forkner.

Prof. R. V. Lentz, of Constance, reported several farmers of that community had lost feed, and because of present high water, were suffering feed shortage for their stock. He thought these farmers, however, would be able to finance their own needs.

Chas. W. Riley reported that from his present information of the North section of the county, with a few exception, has suffered less than other river communities he had heard from. A few farmers who had suffered severe losses would likely need help to put their homes and farm buildings back in shape. Family water supply has ben polluted with river water and some effort should be made to correct this situation.

Lillard Scott, of Grant, reported they had lost several tons of hay. A few farmers in the community had suffered severe loses in property but from his present information would be able to carry on with their own resources.

W. J. Craig and August Trapp, of Rabbit Hash, reported several farmers had lost houses, barns and feed. Mr. Trapp suggested some program be worked out so that farmers could secure help and equipment to put houses and barns washed off their foundations back in place. Few farmers own the equipment needed and such equipment should be set up on a community or county basis.

Ottis Readnour, Frank Walton and W. J. Craig local feed dealers, were present at the meeting and gave advice and cooperation on the best methods and means of securing hay and feed for flood affected farmers.

M. C. Carroll reported that losses of feed and farm buildings in Hamilton community had been large. He stated that the farmers were in good spirits and were using every effort to solve their own needs but several farmers would need credit for reconstruction work. He reported a local committee had been appointed to purchase needed feed for livestock.

Mr. W. O. Blackburn of the rural rehabilitation program reported his organization ready to aid farmers unable to secure credit through

ELECTRIC CONSUMERS SHOULD USE CURRENT CONSERVATIVELY

All Boone County residents should use electric current sparingly, as there is only a certain amount in the lines at this time, and if it should become overburdened electric will have to be discontinued until more generating units can be put into operation.

We feel that we are fortunate in receiving current this week, as Cincinnati and Covington are receiving only a limited amount, and it has been reported that residents are only allowed to use one small bulb.

Mr. Hall, manager of the Community Public Service opened lines to all consumers last Saturday afternoon, but issued a request that consumers use the current sparingly until an adequate supply could be obtained for normal use.

BIG BONE SALE IS POSTPONED

On account of the high water which has prevailed for the past few days, the public sale which was to be held Wednesday, Feb. 10th, at the Gertrude Jones farm will be postponed until Wednesday, Feb. 24, 1937. Sale will start at 10 a. m.

A large variety of farm tools, and livestock will be offered at this sale.

NATURAL GAS BEING SOLD

FROM FOUR BOONE COUNTY WELLS AT PRESENT TIME—PRESSURE VERY STRONG, ACCORDING TO REPORTS.

According to a report received at this office last Saturday, gas from four of Boone County's wells is being sold to the Bracken Gas Company at this time. These wells are said to be those of R. G. Kinman, the Blankenbeker well, the Rose well, and the Wallace Rouse well, all located on highway 42 near Florence.

The Bracken Gas Company, laid their lines to connect with those of the Boone County Well Drilling Co., several weeks ago and gas was released into the main line as were made. Pressure is reported to be exceedingly strong, and is far above expectations.

There are many natural gas wells in Boone County, of which most have very high pressure, rating with the best wells east of Texas. All wells drilled up until now are reported to be good producers. It is hoped that connections will be made to all wells in the county, in order that all farmers having gas on their property may benefit from payments.

If this industry proves to be as large as reported, Boone County farmers will benefit materially from this project. Pipe lines have not been laid from Florence to Burlington, as yet, but it hoped that this work will be started soon. At this writing we were unable to contact Mr. McCurdy, supervisor of the Well Drilling Co., therefore we are unable to state as to when the lines will be laid.

Henry Holtzworth. of Florence, was a pleasant caller at The Recorder office Monday. While here he renewed the subscription of his mother, Mrs. aKte Holzworth of Walton, R. 2.

INSANE MAN FIRES CO. JAIL

NO DAMAGE DONE EXCEPT FOR LOSS OF BED CLOTHING IN ONE CELL—FIRE STARTED BY MATCHES.

The Boone County jail in Burlington was the scene of plenty of excitemnt last Friday afternoon, when Carl Muntz, insane, of the North Bnd Bottoms set fire to his bed clothing in his cell in the local jail.

The fire was discovered by the jailor's wife when she answered his cry for help. By the time help arrived, the jail was so completely filled with a dense, suffocating smoke that it was almost impossible for anyone to reach the cell in which the prisoner was kept. Several attempts were made to reach the cell, but all in vain until jailor, Elmer Kirkpatrick, arrived on the scene. The jailor, knowing the exact layout of the cells, was able to reach the cell and drag the suffocating prisoner to safety. He was the only prisoner in the jail at that time.

The County jail building, of course, was not endangered by the fire, as it is constructed almost of fire-proof materials. The only loss was the bed clothing in the one cell. They were burned to such an extent that they could no longer be used.

Muntz was brought to Burlington last Thursday afternoon by deputy sheriff Walton and Herbert Snyder. After a doctor's examination, he was pronounced mentally deranged, and placed in jail until arrangements could be made to transport him to the asylum. Due to the fact that high water had main routes shut off, there was some delay in this transportation, and he was kept here until Thursday morning.

Two other insanity cases were reported this week by officials. Dick Riley, colored, of Walton, and Fred Jones, of Big Bone, were brought here for doctor's examination, and both pronounced mentally deranged. They were removed to the asylum Wednesday by sheriff W. B. Cotton, jailor Elmer Kirkpatrick and D. R. Blythe.

HEAVY RAINS DAMAGE ROADS

IN BOONE COUNTY — FLOOD WATERS ALSO CAUSE MANY THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS DAMAGE TO STATE ROADS.

The heavy rains in the past two weeks damaged roads in all sections of this county, in many instances leaving the road practically impassable. This is especially county, when the heavy rains true in the hilly section of the washed medal from the road beds. Much expense and time will be required to put these roads back into shape.

As yet, no report has been made as to the roads maintained by the State and Federal government, but it is thought that they will be damaged far more than county roads. Those damaged most severely are along the Ohio and Kentucky rivers, and large creeks have caused considerable damage to roads also.

Highway 42 at Warsaw and Carrollton was under water for many days, and at this writing it is impossible to estimate the damage at this point. Road engineers are said to be inspecting the highway this week, checking over all main traffic arteries to insure motorists that they are safe for travel.

PERRY PRESSOR

Perry Pressor, age 67 years, died at his home near Waterloo, Monday afternoon at 4:00 p. m. Mr. Pressor passed away after an illness of about eleven days. His death was caused by a combination of several diseases along with the flu.

He is survived by his widow, one son, W. H. Pressor and one daughter, Mrs. Lee McNeeley, and one sister, Mrs. Linda Rice, of Aurora, Ind.

Services will be conducted at the Belleview Baptist church, Thursday morning at 10:30 interment to follow at the Belleview cemetery.

Chambers and Grubbs are in charge of arrangements.

Fire Adds To Suffering Of Cincinnati Flood Area

As Live Wire Falls Into Bursted Gasoline Tank Sunday Flames Reach 300 Feet Into Air

Cincinnati, Jan. 26—The water-ravaged city of Cincinnati faced a still more distressing situation Sunday, as fire on water threatened to destroy everything that was in the path of the rising waters. Raging flames reaching a height of 300 feet added to flood hazard, as firemen and workers fought bravely with aid of boats.

A trolley wire fell in gasoline floating on the debris-laden waters Sunday. Wind and current carried flames through the Mill Creek industrial district. Fire Chief Barney Houston said they extended three miles and were a mile wide.

A 60,000-gallon tank of gasoline exploded at the height of the disaster, which Chief Houston said caused $1,500,000 damage. Two boat-loads of firemen in his charge were hurled into the water.

Barrels of oil and sagging gasoline tanks fed the flames. At one time 240,000 gallons of gasoline were ablaze. Dense clouds of smoke rolled up the skyline, pierced by the high flames.

Then, just as the flames were brought under control a 250,000 gallon gasoline storage tank broke loose near the village of North Bend, west of here, and burst into fire as it floated down the Ohio.

It fired three homes, five garages and two autos. Fumes, arising from the tank when it was toppled by flood debris, were ignited by stoves within the homes, causing them to catch fire. Forty persons were rescued, but lost everything except the clothing they wore.

"How many of them escaped death is a miracle," said Joseph Garrison. "They were actually standing in the midst of flames."

PANIC REIGNS AT STATE PRISON

BEFORE CONVICTS WERE MOVED TO LEXINGTON—"EVERYBODY JUST WENT CRAZY," CONVICTS SAID.

Statements of convicts removed to the Lexington jails gave their accounts of three days prior to their removal, and were secured by the Lexington Leader, Monday of last week. They were among the first 150 transferred and included many hardened criminals, as well as first terms.

So damaged was the state prison by the flood and by the outbreak of the prisoners, Governor Chandler said it would probably never be occupied again as such.

"Everybody just went crazy," the convicts said. "The water kept rising in the cell house, higher and

MEMBER KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED JANUARY 1869

Editorial of the Week

"DO UNTO OTHERS AS YOU WOULD HAVE THEM DO UNTO YOU."

"As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise" is the philosophy of the greatest of teachers. What He meant by this dictum of social responsibility and service was: Do for other people just what you would want them to do for you, if you were situated as they are. It is all very easy to understand, if we are interested in it.

A veritable tragedy has befallen hundreds of thousands of the people of our state and adjacent states So great is this tragedy that no people, except perhaps the Moundbuilders and the Indians, have ever experienced anything like it within the bounds of what is now Kentucky. Of course we have no records of those days when other people roamed this beautiful country, insofar as floods are concerned.

The most conservative estimate of the property loss to these afflicted people would be a vague speculation. But as great as this has been—and will yet be, and as sacrd as is this loss, it is small indeed as compared with the physical and mental suffering, the unforgettable horror, the piercing sorrow and the bodily injuries which they have been called upon to endure. Then, too, many of them have been forced to surrender their lives.

Now, if we were situated as these unfortunate citizens of Covington, Newport, Dayton, Augusta, Vanceburg, Carrollton, Frankfort, Louisville, Paducah and many other Kentucky towns, saying nothing of our many neighboring towns just across the river in Ohio and Indiana, what would we want the people of Boone County to do for us? Would we want them to dwell upon their sympathy for us and relate to each other what they had seen or heard of our afflicitions? No, not entirely. But we would want thm to provide for the actual necessities of our lives and the lives of those dependent upon us. And we would want this for only so long as our own state of helplessness continued.

The fortunate people of Kentucky must strive to give them these necessities, and the people of Boone must rank among the foremost in this matter. These afflicted ones did not deserve this blow any more than did we ourselves, and we must share our good fortune with them. Oh, I hear some one say: "Why did they not get out sooner? It didn't happen all at once." We would have remained in our homes ,too, just as long as the slightest hope permitted; for to walk out from our homes and the only worldly comforts we know is not an easy thing to do. Then too, it is very difficult to move out until we have a place to go. Many didn't, because of the mad rush and excitement.

Let us do for others, as we would that they do for us under like circumstances. Don't wait for the Federal Government to take the load. Don't wait for the large cities of the country to send money to the Red Cross; our far-flung pride on "Old Kentucky" and our profound sympathy for these of a common heritage, a common interest and a common task demand that we do our best for them at this time of greatest need.

We, the managment of this newspaper, urge you to "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." Give all you can.

LEST WE FORGET

We often hear it said that banks are full of money, but in referring to the cash reserves of the eight banks in Boone County we find that their total cash on hand and deposited with other banks is $573,000.00 of which amount approximately $173,000.00 must be carried under the law, as legal reserve and a working balance. leaving only $400,000.00 available for lending. During the depression the banks of Boone County, in most instances, were pressing their bororwers for payment of their loans on account of decreasing deposits. Borrowers were unable to refinance their loans only through the Federal Land Bank and the Home Owners Loan Corporation in order to meet the demands for payment of their loans. Most all banks at that time were trying to collect all mortgage loans possible in order to become liquid and be in position to meet withdrawals.

The Federal Land Bank and the Home Owners Loan Corporation stepped into the picture and made loans to farmers and home owners of approximately a million dollars the credit situation among the alone in Boone County and eased banks which many of the banks were requesting to be done.

If the Federal Land Bank and the Home Owners Loan Corporation would dump this million dollars in loans back to the banks of Boone County today the banks could not take care of the demand by at least a half million dollars, and a liquidity would cease to be a factor in banking, as it is today, and we would have the same condition as we had in 1933 and 1934 from a credit standpoint.

We hear the complaint that the Federal Land Bank is in competition with commercial banks for loans but the report at the annual meeting of the Boone County National Farm Loan Association Jan. 19th showed only four Federal loans closed in all Boone County in 1936.

This is somewhat like the man that prayed for rain and when it rained he complained because the ground was wet.

The Home Owners Loan Corporation ceased making loans two years ago and would no doubt be glad to return these loans to banks. The Federal Land banks do not solicit loans and only accept voluntary applications from farmers. Not many banks would care to enter an agreement with a borrower for a loan longer than possibly five years and in most cases, only one year at a time, while the Federal Land Banks provide this long time credit that is not so available to commercial banks.

OBSERVATIONS

The European Scene

Spain continues to be a murderous labratory for th testing of two European brands of insanity—Facisism and Communisism. The "ins" and the "outs" continue to battle without any seeming military advantage. In the meanwhile the strutting of popinjays that head the European tolatarian states of one kind and another view the purely private affairs of the Spaniards with a sort of fatal

The way these various "isms" have spread in Europe, and also to our immediate southern neighbor, Mexico, is a source of alarm when one thinks about the possibility of the infection spreading to this country. The possibilities of living under either form of tolatarian state is rather hideous to citizens of countries where the state is viewed as the servant of the individuals which form it, instead of the master of those same citizens. Perhaps this commentator is too those alarmists who run up and sanguine, but he believes that down the land (on a salary or for a fee usually) crying the imminent dangers of Communism or Facism overlook certain facts of history.

The most significant of all is that only those countries with a very short history of self government, or none at all are countries with either rampant Communism or Facism. Russia had no such self governing history at all. Germany's efforts at self government came after the Napoleanic wars at the turn of the ninteenth century. The unification of Italy from the collection of fragments left by the downfall of Rome came even later, great modern states had represent- about 1870. Britian ,alone of the ative government before that time. The beginning in England of modern democracy started under King John in 1100. Our civilization, of course, stems from England, and in spite of many other racial groups that have blended with the original British, it still is of the English tradition.

We should be very thankful of that for tradition is even stronger than law, and this English tradition is one of order. Our heritage of solving problems with ballots, rather than bullets goes back not only to 1776, but back to 1100 and King John's Magna Carto. If that were not true, there would not have been any 1776. America will adopt neither Communism nor Facism, but will continue to work out its own civilization by evolution and not Revolution.

* * *

Definition: Communism and Facism differ only in the class of people for whom the Estate exists. In both cases the State is the master of all people, forces and processes that make up the nation. In Communism the State exists, in theory mark you, for the benefit of the masses. In Facism the State exists for the benefit of the classes, all protests in the name of patriotism.

America has her faults and imperfections; her financial pirates and her Al Capones but it is doubtful if anything the world has seen can match the deliberate evil, the horror and frightfulness of Europe's present crop of dictators. Russia controls her press and prints lying pictures of world revolution elsewhere, to keep her own dupes in line. Hitler, that tragical comic, Chas. Chaplin, rewrites the Bible to imply that Christ was not a Jew, that all evil comes from Jews and that of all the world, only a German is a pure Agran; that only an Ergan is pure; and then proceeds to prove it by murder, arson, by every crime that is contrary to Christian teaching. One wonders why. Surely the satisfaction of building a new kind of statehood cannot be enough to countenance his excesses. A lust for power should begin to pall before the necessity of keeping power by brutality and deception. One sometimes wonders if evil is transmitable as is a disease—if it actually has a physical being as does a germ even though not discernable to the naked eye—if these forces now loose in world relationships are not the essence of the anti-Christ.

What is one man's poison is another man's meat. What represents misery, cold, hunger to thousands of residents of the Ohio flood area is another bit of the phenominal Roosevelt luck. Even nature seems to go out of its way to prove his points about conservation and flood control. Certainly events seem to prove that F. D. R. has a rendevous with destiny. One wonders whether the fact that he spent a half hour on his knees in the church of his faith on the morning of each of his inaugurations had anything to do with it.

* * *

In spite of a natural sympathy with the objectives of labor as opposed to the interests of that inside caterie of American industry known as "management," this commentator feels decidedly uncomfortable about the General Motors strike.

A new element has been introduced into labor controversy by the use of the "sit down" strike. This new effect is taking possession of property without due process of law and by violence; even though there is nothing very violent seemingly, about sitting down. Capital, or rather management. (because anyone, including many employees, owning a share of stock is a capitalist) have been responsible for many an evil. such as lock-outs. the hiring of strike breakers, intimidation within the factory, injunctions against picketing and others too numerous to list; nevertheless the adoption by these strikers of the "sit down" is a case of two wrongs not making one right. Labor having strength only in its numbers need must have the strength of being completely guiltless as well.

Added to that is another element which certainly will not work out to the best interest of labor in the long run, and that is the fact that the Union conducting this fight seems not to be a majority of the workers it professes to represent. This is contrary to all of America's traditions and smacks strongly of intimidation and farce. Further, if we are to have industrial democracy (as well as political) in this country the effort of labor to get its just share of the fruits of industry by dishonorable, or at best questionable means, is a very poor beginning.

That's all for this week.

Lesson for February 7

JESUS THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

LESSON TEXT—John 8:12, 31, 32; 9:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.
PRIMARY TOPIC—When Jesus Passed By.
JUNIOR TOPIC—When Jesus Passed By.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Jesus Is the Light of the World.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Walking in the Light With Jesus.

"The Light of the World Is Jesus!" Who does not remember with what delight we as children sang "Come to the light, 'tis shining for thee . . . The Light of the world is Jesus." How precious was the truth that thus flooded our souls. Jesus was the light, and just as the sunlight shed its glory on an awakening world at dawn, so he shed abroad the light of God in the hearts of men. The writer of these lessons pens these words with the prayer that as this portion of God's Holy Word is studied and taught, the light may break forth on many a soul caught in the bewilderment of this dark world.

Our study centers around three simple words fraught with beauty and rich in meaning.

I. Light (John 8:12).

The text says, "Then spake Jesus." When? Just after he had silenced the hypocritical accusers of a woman taken in sin, and had spoken the word of peace to her troubled soul. She was to "go and sin no more" because she had met him who is the "Light of the World." They that follow him "shall not walk in darkness"; they are the children of light, they have the very light of life.

II. Freedom (vv. 31, 32).

Free! Four letters, but what depth of meaning! Chains have fallen off, prison doors are open. The one who was bound is free.

But here we are concerned with an even more important liberty, the freedom of the soul. Many there are who boast of their independence but who are naught but slaves. Jesus said, "Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin" (John 8:34), not its master.

How shall they be freed? Note three things in these verses. (1) A condition, "If ye continue in my word." This means not only a profession of faith but a daily appropriation and realization of his truth in life, (2) A promise, "Ye shall know the truth." The philosophies of men profess to be a seeking after truth but how few there are who look to the one place where it can be found —in Jesus Christ. (3) A result, "the truth shall make you free." Truth always sets free. Men are enslaved because, as in some foreign lands, they have not had the opportunity to learn the truth (we have failed to send it) or because they have rejected it.

III. Vision (John 9:1-11).

This is one of the most instructive passages in Scripture. A man born blind is seen by Jesus. His disciples note his intent and begin to theorize on a theological question. They had learned so little of the compassionate spirit of Jesus that they saw in this blighted life only an illustration of a theological theory. May God help us that we may never be so blind.

Jesus goes at once to work. He was in the world to do the works of God. He and the Father always work. Let us follow his blessed example. "The King's business requires haste." Let us work "while it is day, the night cometh when no man can work."

By a loving and gracious act, Jesus stirs in the heart of the man that faith which causes him to go, to wash, and, glory to God, he sees!

Such a personal experience of the divine power of the Son of God leaves no doubt in the man's mind that the one who caused him to see "is a prophet." All of a man's doubts concerning the deity of Jesus Christ disappear when he becomes his Saviour.

Read the remainder of the chapter and note how this man's faith is victorious in the face of trials, persecution, and even of excommunication; for outside the temple he met Jesus and takes him as his Lord. As Dr. Scroggie puts it, "His excommunication was a promotion. He went from the synagogue to the Saviour."

ISSUE OF FEBRUARY 3, 1897

LIMABURG—Peaches are all supposed to be killed in this locality.

Some of the young lambs were frozen to dath last week.

Jeptha Tanner and wife entertaind quite a number of young people last Saturday night.

Mrs. Jacob Rous and Miss Ora Rouse were visiting William Clore and family Monday.

GASBURG—Frank M. Kloop severed one of his toes cutting wood, recently.

James Tolin called on Fleet Hoffman Sunday.

John Jarrell and John Hoffman were guests of F. M. Klopp and wife Sunday.

FLORENCE—The Misses Hoggins havs as their guest, Miss Graves, of Covington.

Miss Jennie Meyers has returned from a short visit to Miss Emma Herndon, of Covington.

Miss Alice and Master Robert and Stanley Cloud have been quite ill with la grippe.

Miss Elizabeth Bentham has returned home after several days' visit to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Craven, of Limaburg. She will leave in a few days for Covington.

Miss Crigler invited a number of young ladies and gentlemen to a skating party at her home on Tuesday vening. Miss Frances Carpenter and Mr. Harry Fisk enjoyed the honor of being the best couple of skaters on the pond, although many of the young gentlemen were very fine skaters.

HATHAWAY—Miss Grace Neal is talking of teaching the spring school at Big Bone Hall.

Miss Bettie Stephens' school closed last Thursday and Miss Miss Curry's on Friday.

Miss Maud Aylor was visiting Miss Neal last Sunday and Monday.

The weather last week, was the coldest that has visited this country in years.

Mrs. Lena Presser and little daughter, Myrtle, spent last week visiting relatives in the Rabbit Hash neighborhood.

CONSTANCE—Master Harry Neal is attending school at Ludlow.

Miss C. Miller ran a nail in her foot, producing a very painful and dangerous wound.

John L. Hankins was married to Miss Nora Reeves, last Thursday. We wish them much joy.

Geo. Rosen was given a surprise party last Saturday night, it being his 28th birthday. It was an elegant affair.

The Electric Railroad from Anderson to Addyston is a go—$35,000 has been subscribed and work will begin in the spring.

Capt Kottmeyer has made another improvement on his ferryboat. It is a steam pipe now connected with the wheels to keep ice from forming on them.

UNION—Miss Lutie Baker, of Walton was seen on our streets some days since.

Mr. Ben Terrill and wife entertained the young people of the neighborhood very delightfully on the evening of the 22nd.

All have availed themselves of the unusual opportunity of filling their ice houses, although some very much inclined to wait until the weather moderated.

Mr. Matson Rachal came very near having a very serious accident last Sunday a fternoon. He was starting out of town with sleigh bells merrily jingling, I do not know where he was going, but doubtless for another belle, when it seems his horse thought he had too many already, for it became frightened and ran off. Mr. Rachal was thrown out, his head striking the wheel of another buggy near by, knocking out two spokes, and might have cost him his life, had not some bystanders caught the horse to which the buggy was attached, as his head was still in the wheel. He received only slight injuries, not sufficient to discourage him even, for he now drives a team and the sleigh bells ring merrier than ever.

LOCAL NEWS—Al Rogers purchased a span of good mules from Tony Bentler last week.

The skaters had considersable sport on W. A. Gaines' pond for one or two nights last week.

County Judge Stephens, County Attorney Lassing and T. E. Roberts are Boone's Commissioners to settle the boundary dispute with Kenton county.

The members of the burnt-cork aggregation are rehearsing diligently, and expect to take the community by surprise when the curtain goes up for their initial performance.

Arthur Rouse has had pretty good success soliciting subscriptions for the telephone, and is now coming down the home stretch and it is hoped he will come under the wire, a good winner.

Owing to the thrift of Boone county, people are generally well fixed, and the recent trying period of severe weather did not develop any suffering of a serious nature, as was the case in many rural districts in the State.

PERSONAL MENTION—J. M. Lassing was in the city last Saturday.

Miss Amelia Hughes has been quite ill for several days.

Mrs. J. S. Tanner and brother, James called on The Recorder Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Boone Roberts, of Verona, were guests of Sheriff Roberts Monday.

Our young friend Chas. E. Stephens, has located at Hamilton, O. Here's wishing him abundant success at his new home.

Young Mr. West, son of Enoch West, and one of Miss Nannie Hamilton's pupils at Verona, stood a splendid examination for common school diploma last week, reaching the highest per cent of any of the applicants.

Geo. W. Sleet, of Beaver, has been an intense sufferer of muscular rheumatism for the past several days.

BOMBS FOUND ON CARS OF UNION ORGANIZERS

Harlan, Ky., Jan. 26—Two automobiles damaged Sunday by "Improvised bombs," were identified as belonging to W. M. Hall and Frank Hall, organizers for the United Mine Workers of America, Sheriff T. R. Middleton annuonced.

About the same time as the explosions, tear gas was spread on the second floor of a hotel (New Harlan), where the organizers are staying.

Middleton expressed opinion both W. A. members "for the express incidents were provoked by U. M. purpose of obtaining sympathy and publicity in their behalf." He added organizers had been in "this field for over three weeks without having gained any publicity."

The United Mine Workers of America recently launched a drive to unionize Harlan county.

Carl Rudicill, of Walton spent a few days last week with his brother, William Rudicill and wife.

The minute you step aboard, you have a feeling that this is home. There's something of "home" in the cheerful atmosphere—in the roomy, inviting seats—the softly shaded lights.

There's something of "home" in the tempting way the food is prepared—the quiet, courteous way it is served.

There's something of "home" in the way the covers are turned back and the pillows plumped up . . . and even in the porter's quiet query, "What time do you want to be called?"

But it's "like home" in many more ways than these: Because, just as in your own home, we must see that the coal bin is full, the worn furniture replaced. We must employ help, shop for food, buy new dishes—and pay taxes. Yes, about 7% of our revenues goes for taxes to help support your government, your cities, your schools, your highways.

So you see, we're just home-folks like you...sharing your problems and pleasures, contributing to your community. We hope you will think of us that way.

Fighting Winter —AND LICKING IT

Homes are warm, families are fed, factories keep running even in the dead of winter, because the American Railroads whatever the weather see that the freight goes through, bringing to countless communities necessary food, fuel, industrial materials and medical supplies.

WHERE TO LOCATE TOBACCO SEED

The County Agent's office each year receives many requests where to locate various varieties of tobacco seed. Through cooperation of Prof. E. J. Kinney, of the College the following list of tobacco seed producers has been prepared.

Many of the varieties of White Burley tobacco grown in Kentucky at the present time are of the standing-up type. These varieties are all very similar in appearance and in other characteristics. They all produce about the same quality of leaf. Some of the varieties, as noted, have considerable resistance to black root rot, and the No. 5 and No. 16 White Burley produced by the Experiment Station are almost immune to black root rot. Following is a list of seed growers. The price in most cases is $1.50 per ounce except where noted otherwise.

Kelley's Standing-up White Burley—B. L. Kelley & Sons, Route 1, Lancaster, Ky. Price $2.00 per oz.

Judy's Pride—W. S. Judy Seed Co., Lexington, Ky.

Shipp's Root-rot-resistant White Burley—J. V. Shipp, Midway, Ky. This variety was originated by the Kentucky Experiment Station and was known as 36-12. It is quite resistant to root rot.

Halley's Special—Halley Seed Co. Lexington, Ky. This variety was also originated by the Kentucky Experiment Station and was known as "W." It is slightly resistant to root rot.

Pepper—C. Pepper, Route 4, Paris, Ky.

Gay's Yellow—A. B. Gay, Spring Station, Ky.

Kentucky Experiment Station No. 16—S. J. Stokes, Military Pike, Lexington, Ky. As stated above, this variety is almost immune to root rot.

UTOPIA MEETING

The Boone County Utopia Club No. 2 held its regular monthly meeting Thursday night, Jan. 21st. Due to the steady down pour of rain, only nine member were present. The Hebron group was in charge of the discussion, led by John Crigler, who gave a very interesting report on dairying.

Mary Rector, chairman of the Room Improvement and Clothing project group, will plan the program for the February meeting. Miss Iris Davenport, from the University of Kentucky will be the guest speaker. The recreational program will be in charge of Hebron.

Much interest is being shown at each of these meetings, and we hope that 1937 will be our most successful year.

Approved Soil Practices For 1937 Announced

Rates of payment for soil-building practices in 1937, together with other provisions of the agricultural conservation program for Kentucky, are announced through the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Acreages of crop diversion this year will be about the same as in 1936, except that the maximum diversion from the burley tobacco base for which payment will be made is 25 per cent instead of 30 per cent.

Soil-building payments, in addition to diversion payments, will be made for carrying out soil-building practices. The maximum amount that can be earned as a soil-building payment for a farm is called the soil-building allowance, the same as in 1936. The soil-building payment will be the amount actually earned for carrying out specified soil-building practices.

The method of determining the soil-building allowance is different than was used last year. In general, farms not eligible to earn a diversion payment will have a slightly larger allowance than similar farms that are eligible to earn a diversion payment.

On farms eligible to earn a diversion payment, the soil-building allowance will include $1 times the minimum acreage of soil-conserving crops for a farm will be the acreage of soil-conserving crops normally grown on the farm plus the number of acres diverted from soil-depleting bases in 1937.

On farms not eligible to earn a diversion payment, the soil-building allowance will include 75 cents times each acre of crop land on the farm.

In addition, the soil-building allowance for all farms, whether eligible to earn a diversion payment or not, will also include:

$1 for each acre of commercial orchards on the farm Jan. 1, 1937.

$1 for each acre on which only one crop of commercial vegetables were grown in 1936.

$2 for each acre on which two or more crops of commercial vegetables were grown in 1936.

25 cents for each acre of fenced non-crop, open pasture land in excss of one-half of the number of acres of crop land on the farm.

Legumes and Perennial Grasses

The following rates of payment are provided for planting approved seeds of legumes and perennial grasses:

Alfalfa, $2.50 an acre.

Red clover, mamoth clover, sericea, kudzu and bluegrass, $2 an acre.

Austrian winter peas, vetch, crimson clover, alsike clover, sweet clover ,annual lespdeza, orchard grass and reed canary grass, $1.50 an acre.

White clover, bur clover, crotalaria, redtop and timothy $1 an acre.

In case a mixture is used, the rate of payment will depend upon th kinde and quality of legumes and grasses in the mixture.

Green Manure and Cover Crops

The following rates are provided for plowing or disking under crops as green manure after the crop has attained a nomal growth of at least two months, or leaving on the land certain of these crops grown in 1937:

Soybeans, velvet beans or cowpeas plowed or disked under, $2 an acre.

Crimson clover, Austrian winter peas or vetch, plowed or disked under; rye, barley, wheat, Italian rye grass, oats, buckwheat or mixtures of these, plowed or disked under; sudan grass, millet, sorghum or rape, plowed or disked under; soybeans, velvet beans or cowpeas, not grazed or pastured or harvested for grain, when all of the forage is left on the land, and lespedeza left on the land, $1 an acre.

Payments also are provided for special orchard practices for growing crops to be left in orchards and for applying mulching materials in commercial orchards.

For planting forest trees payment will be made at the rate of $7.50 an acre when planted on crop land, and at the rate $5 an acre on other land. Payment also will be made for thinning desirable species of forest trees, if approved in advance by the county committee, at the rate of $2.50 an acre.

Limestone

Payments for applying ground limestone will be based upon the number of tons applied, rather than the acres covered, as was the cas last year. Also, three different rates of payments will be applicable in the state, depending upon the cost of limestone in the respective counties.

For applying not less than 1,000 pounds an acre of ground limestone, or its equivalent, on crop land or non-crop pasture land, or not less than 500 pounds an acre, if the application is made by drilling with the seed of specified legumes or perennial grasses, payment will be made on a quantity not exceeding 2½ tons an acre at the rate of $2.50 a ton in Knott, Leslie, Letcher, Perry and Pike counties; at the rate of $2 a ton in Bell. Breathitt, Clay, Floyd, Harlan, Johnson, Knox, Magoffin, Martin and Whitley counties, and in all other counties at the rate of $1.50 a ton.

Superphosphate

For applying not less than 100 pounds an acre of 20 percent superphosphate, or its equivalent, on any permanent pasture ,or in connection with seeding or maintaining specified legumes or perennial grasses, payment will be made on a quantity not exceeding 500 pounds per acre at the rate of 75 cents per 100 pounds. If the superphosphate is applied in connection with specified legumes or perennial grasses seeded in connection with soil depleting crops, the payment will be at the rate of 37½ cents per 100 pounds.

In connection with the practice of applying superphosphate, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration will make available a supply of triple superphosphate, which is approximately 43 per cent phosphoric acid ,at Sheffield, Alabama. Within the limit of this supply, farmers may, up on requests filed at the county office, and the payment of freight and handling charges, obtain and use the triple superphosphate in lieu of receiving the payments which are otherwise provided.

For terracing crop land or non-crop pasture land which the county committee finds is in need of terracing with a sufficient amount of properly constructed terrace to give adequate protection against erosion, payment will be made at the rate of 40 cents per 100 feet of terrace.

GASBURG

Our neighbor Mr. Charles White told your correspondent and several others last Monday that he has lived in several places but his present home is the only place he ever lived that he was near enough the water that he could sit on the front steps and fish in the backwater. The backwater lacked just twenty-eight inches of going into his living room.

Motor boats, skiffs and john boats of all descriptions are not an uncommon sight on Terrill's Branch and as our road commissioner O. M. Rogers put it, we do need a ferry boat more than a road at the present moment, but we will take the road, if we can get it.

The dignified city of Gasburg resents very much Limaburg's wanting to take their name. Gasburg was an original idea of a very much honored citizen, Elijah Parker, who gave the name Gasburg to this section of the county nearly fifty years ago. So Limaburg folks,

Ben Hensley is now a visitor in you will just have to call your place burg.

FAITHFUL CORRESPONDENT

Hamilton, Ky.

Dear Editor:

Am trying to get my weekly news items to you, but since the flood of the Ohio has claimed nearly all we have, that is practically all the news. We are stranded here in the old Hamilton school building, now owned by the Big Bone M. W. A. There are eight of us domiciled here in one large room—Mr. and Mrs. Asbury and baby, our son, Garland Huff, wife and little daughter and my husband and myself.

Asbury's house is completely covered, our own house is covered to the eaves, the old store building and warehouse are washed away; al lsmaller buildings are long gone, and every house in Hamilton are expected to go with the possible exception of one.

Every family below Hamilton, as far as Lewis Ryle's are out, and living wherever they can. Furniture, ranging from player pianos, to wash boards are setting out on the hillside, having been moved three or four times, and yet some have escaped.

All men here have worked constantly, helping themselves and their neighbors.

Looking up through East Bend, we see the Binder family have moved out, Sebree's have also moved and others are under water, though we do not know the particulars. John Jones and Oren Edwards are still out, though their barns and garages are mostly under water. And on top of it all is the added sadnss of a death, Mrs. May Hubbard passed away Saturday morning from heart attack.

We do not know when you receive this, as mailing facilities are difficult, the postoffice having been moved twice.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Thos. Huff.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to Mrs. Huff for her honest effort to get her news in on time, even under the most trying condition. We think that she has well deserved the title of "an ideal correspondent," doing her best to be of service to her community. If all of us had the spirit of Mrs. Huff, we would find this life much happier.

KETNUCKY TO RECEIVE $378,000 FOR OLD-AGE ASSISTANCE, REPORT

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 25—Benedict Crowell, Regional Director, tocurity Board has authorized a day announced that the Social Sefurther grant of $378,000 to Kentucky for Old-Age Assistance.

The Board granted to Kentucky for Old-Age Assistance during the quarter begining January 1, of this year, $263,479.49. This grant included five percent for administrative expenditures on the part of the State.

In addition, Kentucky had in its treasury an unexpended balance of $114,520.51 from a total grant of $122,850.00 made for the quarter beginning July 1, 1936. Actual expenditures of the State for Old-Ae Assistance were $8,329.49, according to a statement of expenditures covering this period which the State has filed with the Social Security Board.

Following are grants which have been certified to the Secretary of the Treasury to aid Kentucky in its Old-Age Assistance plan:

1936—July, August and September $122,850.00. October, November and December $73,710.00.
1937—January, February and March $378,000.00.

Each of the foregoing sums increased five percent for administrative expenditures.

The State will match these expenditres except the five percent grants for administrative expenses. It was estimated that in November, 1936, Kentucky was granting Old-Age Assistance to 6,200 persons. Since that time the number is known to have increased materially, but complete figures as to those now receiving aid are lacking.

FARM ACCOUNTS TO BE CHECKED

Mr. R. E. Proctor of the University of Kentucky will be in our County soon to check over farm account books of those already keeping records and to help any other farmers get books started.

If you are a farmer and aren't keeping a farm account book at farm agent and have him furnish present you should contact your you with a book and also help you with the aid of Mr. Proctor, get your account under way.

It's interesting to have these books to refer to in later years, especially now that the depression is over and it won't show up in red.

These books and also the services of these men come to you penny of cost to yo[illegible] so why not merely for the asking, without a know your own business?

Wm. Watts called at our office one day recently and renewed the subscription of Miss Annie Gaines. Mr. Watts is one of Boone County's most promising young farmers and is always welcome in our midst.

Sewell Says Kentucky Dog Law Is "Worse Neglected"

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 28—Kentucky's dog law, Nat B. Sewell, director of post audits, commented in a report to Governor Chandler, "is the worst neglected and most ignored law upon our statute books and the administration of the livestock fund one of the weakest and most vicious in Kentucky county government."

The report was based on examinations of records in fifty counties during the last six months. The data, Sewell said, "is neither complete nor accurcate, but it is as nearly so as we are able to make it."

While "distinctive improvement" in enforcement of the law has been noticed in the last three years, Sewell said, "the remaining one-third either have made very little improvement or have openly failed to undertake to remedy their existing bad conditions" and as a result "the state, as a whole, is making a very poor showing both in the licensing of dogs and in the payment of claims for damages to livestock a provided by law."

Sewell estimated that there is one dog to every five persons in Kentucky except in Jefferson county, where the ratio was estimated one to ten.

"As a whole," he commented, "the sheriffs are performing their duties better than the tax commissioners, but county and district courts are doing but little to support the sheriffs."

Sewell complained that "the greater part of all outstanding claims" for damages to stock "are inflated far beyond the actual value."

County Schools To Re-open Mon.

According to Supt. D. H. Norris, all public schools in the county will resume activities Monday, Feb. 8th.

Even though many buildings are now occupied by flood victims, they expect to have all buildings cleared and ready for service by this date.

Unless further word is received from the superintendent, school will begin Monday.

CAPITOL'S LOSS SET AT FOUR MILLION

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 28—Its rate of fall checked by the bloated Ohio the Kentucky river was dropping here Wednesday night two-tenths of a foot hourly and County Judge L. Boone Hamilton, flood relief chairman, said he had received assurances from Senators Alben W. Barkley and M. M. Logan that all possible federal rehabilitation assistance would be given.

While streets and buildings were being cleared of muck left by the receding yellow water, Judge Hamilton and Red Cross representatives made a survey of the city and said damage would easily exceed $4,000,000.

Government engineers estimated the river would be back in its banks by Friday and that the fall would be much more rapid were it not for the fact that the swollen Ohio river is backing into the Kentucky at Carrollton.

In an unbroken line, members of the family of William Wood, 70, of Salt Lake City, Utah, have been butchers for more than 200 years.

Louisville May Exceed 200 Death Toll

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 28—Sudden realization that flood victims in Louisville alone may total hundreds broke upon this harassed city as police started bringing in bodies out of the completely submerged West End.

Health Commissioner Dr. Hugh Rodman Leavell admitted Wednesday night that 130 bodies of persons who died of disease before relief could reach them had been taken from the outer fringe of houses during the day. He said he believed the total dead would not exceed two hundred.

Police boats invaded the submerged area along the water front poorest residential section and hardest hit by the record-shattering rise.

J. Ray Barrett, Deputy Coroner, said at least 133 bodies have been taken out of the West End, but as all city officials joined him in reluctance to discuss the situation, he said the victims had died of heart failure, exposure and pneumonia. Barrett insisted that none of these had drowned.

Police, in boats, brought the dead back to a half dozen depots where nine undertakers had been sworn in as Deputy Coroners by Coroner John M. Keaney.

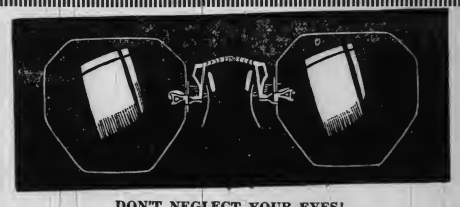
Increased Supplies For Flood Area

The Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation today routed additional food supplies to sufferers in the Ohio valley flood area.

Enlarging the shipment of eggs and canned beef announced last week, the Corporation today began consignment of about 100,000 dozen eggs (over 8 carloads) and 348,000 pounds of evaporated milk (10 carloads) to states with flood district. Within the next few days additional 30 to 50 carloads of eggs probably will be shipped.

The Corporation also is adding 240,000 pounds of (4 carloads) of canned beef to its flood area distribution.

The new shipments will supplement supplies of prunes, grapefruit dried peas, flour and dry skim milk already on hand in flood States through previous distributions.



The shipments are consigned to State relief organizations of the various States. Jesse W. Tapp, Assistant Administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, said today that some of the States may cooperate with the Red Cross in distribution to individuals.

The canned beef is made up of meat processed during the drouth cattle programs of 1934 and 1936. At that time the meat of all healthy animals was canned and saved for relief or emergency distribution. The other foods now going out were acquired by the Commodities Purchase Section of the AAA with funds made available for surplus removal operations under section 32 of the amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act approved August 1935. Such commodities are bought when large surpluses depress the market and except in emergncies like the present flodo are distributed to people on relief rolls.

C. G. Smith, Harlan county, is obtaining 60 per cent production from his poultry flock.

Ten drainage demonstrations were started in Letcher county last month.

We have a limited supply of last week's Recorders left, and if you failed to get one, you had better do so at once as the supply will not last long. We were requested not to mail any papers out of the county last week on account of mail conditions. Therefore, no one outside of Boone County should have received a paper. If you desire a copy of this paper, come to this office and call for same. Do not write for this issue.

Both the Suspension and C. & O. Bridges are now open to traffic. You can also reach Covington over the regular Pike Street route, and do not have to detour at any time to reach Cincinnati. Only a few stores in Covington and Cincinnati are open for business, so unless the business is urgent, do not attempt to go, as you will only add to the heavy traffic now on the highways. If you must go, put your car in a garage or parking lot, because police are certainly busy writing out those beautiful yellow tags.

M. C. Carroll, of Big Bone was a business visitor here Monday morning. While here he has his name placed on the Recorder list. We are glad to have him as one of our new subscribers.

Ed Lampkin and Mr. Lee, of Warsaw, were brief visitors in Burlington one day last week. Mr. Lampkin has many friends here. He was the former editor of the Gallatin County News.

J. F. Gruelle, of Union was a pleasant caller at The Recorder office Friday. He had his name placed on our mailing list. We are glad to have him as one of our subscribers.

Cal Abdon, of the Petersburg neighborhood was a business caller at this office one day last week. Mr. Abdon placed an advertisement in this issue, which will be found on another page. He also subscribed for the paper for one year.

Word was received here from Capt. Edwin Maurer, of Louisville last week. He stated that he was safe, but had lost his car and furniture. His residence was damaged considerably, his loss being estimated at approximately $5,000. He was a former resident of this county, and has many friends here who are grieved to learn of his loss.

E. J. Aylor and J. C. Aylor, of Florence called at this office last week. Mr. E. J. Aylor had his subscription moved up another year. He stated that he had been a subscriber to The Recorder for the past forty-two years. We sincerely hope he will be a subscriber for the next forty-two.

John Gross, of Erlanger was calling at this office Tuesday. While here Mr. Gross renewed his subscription for another year. and upon looking up his account we found that his time did not expire until Dcember 1, 1937. However he paid another year in advance making his expiration date December 1, 1938. Mr. Gross says he likes to keep his subscription date in advance.

HARD JOB TO PUBLISH PAPER WITHOUT ELECTRIC

Last week we made an effort to publish a paper without the help of electricity. This was our first experience, and no doubt many of subscribers thought that we had turned the pages back about forty years.

This was probably the smallest paper every published in this office. However, it is understood that when the paper was first published it was something similar to our issue of last week.

Our entire equipment is operated by electric, therefore we were unable to publish our regular size sheet, as we were without electric from Sunday night until Friday of last week. We really exerted as much energy in giving you this small paper as we would ordinarily in publishing our regular edition, as all type was composed by hand, and our small job press was operated by a gasoline engine.

Many of our subscribers stated that they were going to keep this edition as a souvenir We will have to admit it looked like an antique.

Patrolman Patrick Walsh, for 20 years a traffic policeman at one of the busiest corners in New York City, recently made his first arrest in 18 years.

OUR SUBSCRIPTION LIST

A few days ago a representative of a large newspaper campaign company called at our office and endeavored to convince us that a subscription campaign would benefit us materially. However, we were unable to see his point.

The representative stated that he would clean up our list of all delinquent subscribers as far back as two or three years, and upon explaining that we had no such delinquents, he seemed to think that we were "fibbing." However, we offered to show our records to this gentleman as proof. He said that such a subscription list was unbelievable for a country weekly, stating that he had contacted hundreds of papers in Kentucky and other states and had never found a list in such good condition.

We wish to thank our subscribers for their splendid cooperation, for without their help this condition would not exist. We also wish to thank those who have recently subscribed for the paper and pledge to give them the best we have in the future.

We have recently installed a new job press and several type cases and cabinet, which add materially to our job printing department.

If our paper pleases you tell others, it will help us more than you know, and if any of our subscribers have any suggestions which would improve the appearance or value of our paper we would like to hear from them.

PHILADELPHIA STREET SINKS FIFTEEN FEET BELOW ORDINARY LEVEL

Philadelphia street, Covington, was reported today to have dropped down about fifteen feet since the water has receded, and several houses have been affected therefrom.

So far, only about three hundred feet of the street, between eighth and ninth streets, has sunk, but it is feared that more will give down as the water recedes. The reason for this sinking has not been determined as yet, unless the street has been undermined by rats and the current in the water has removed the soil beneath. It is said that this used to be the city dump, and that is the grounds for the rat tale.

Fred Smith, 60-year-old fisherman of Greenville, Me., catches fish by trolling with a line between his teeth, claiming that his teeth are more sensitive to a strike than his hands.

Pilson Smith of Green county bought three registered small-type Poland-China pigs.

Flood Losses In Hamilton Community

The flood losses to farm property in Hamilton community probably ranked highest of any community in Boone County.

The following is a brief summary of some of the losses seen the past week:

Richard Schwenke—1700 bushels of corn, one ton of hay covered by river water, with damage to barns, fences and othery equipment.

Mike and Ed Binder—1400 bus. of corn in water, 10 ton hay, house garage and outbuildings floating; other damage.

F. H. Sebree—Barn floated away, house floated away from foundation. Garage and other outbuildings floating. Stock turned out on hill land in weather.

D. E. Ogden—Water high on first floor home; other losses.

L. M. Moore—Water in barn and first floor home. Outbuilding are floating.

Hamilton School—Water four inches on basketball goal boards, almost in second floor.

Len Hubbard—Pneumonia, moved out of house as waters almost reached second floor. Corn crib and other buildings floating; 25 ton hay, 700 bushels corn, 75 chickens, 250 shocks of corn and other equipment lost.

John Setters—House, furniture and chickens washed away—150 bushel corn lost.

Reuben Kirtley—Barn floating, barn lost, considerable feed and equipment lost.

Ralph Feldhaus—Water in second story of house, loss of feed and equipment.

R. E. Ryle—House floated down past Lick Creek.

Aylor and Hill—Barn, tools and equipment washed down to Kirtley's.

Miller's Store—Selling provisions by boat out of second story window.

J. L. Jones, Jr., hay and feed lost.

Prof. Reuben Asbury—house washed away.

Prof. Garland Huff—Water almost in second floor of home.

Tom Huff—Store floating, house floating, selling goods on side of sill beside river; $1400 worth of goods damaged.

The losses may be enumerated on and on. These people have suffered. Seemingly, times like these bring out the best that is in men. They are not down hearted—they are still fighting. Soon the river will recede and the spirit of counter attack, rehabilitation and advancement will be in full swing.

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

The soil conservation service has completed one 500,000 gallon dam and plans to build three or four others in parts of Powell county where there has been a water shortage. Local labor is used in the construction work.

Roy McGlothlin, a Boyd county farmer, recently added to his dairy herd two purebred bulls from high-producing stock. In seven years he has built up a herd of 20 cows that average about 350 pounds of butterfat a year.

The use of native shrubs is being stressed in a home beautification program in Hart county. Many flag-stone walks also have been laid, since the home demonstration agent convinced women that cement is not needed between the stones.

Electricity but recently reached Williamsport in Johnson county, but many homemakers are interested in installing home equipment. Most of the houses have been wired, and several electric stoves already have been installed.

Two purebred bulls purchased in December made a total of 52 better sires taken into Knott county in 1936. An active campaign is being waged, with a view to eradicating al lscrub sires from the county by 1938.

Powell county had a good corn crop, despite the unfavorable season. A good deal of corn was sold in December for $1.20 a bushel, and one farmer reported the sale of 300 ears of Johnson County White seed corn that weighed slightly more than a pound to the ear.

EXPERIMENT STATION HERDS PRODUCE WELL

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America reports that the herd of Holsteins at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington recently completed its third year of herd improvement registry testing with an average production of 11,952 pounds of milk and 443 pounds of butterfat. This is an increase of 74 pounds of milk and 39 pounds of butterfat over the previous year's production. Four cows exceeded 500 pounds of fat, and one cow produced 16,206 lbs. of milk and 562 pounds of fat in 308 days.

A similar report from the American Jersey Cattle Club states that the Experiment Station's Jersey herd average 6,886 pounds of milk and 374 pounds of butterfat in its third year of herd improvement registry testing. The high cow produced 8,227 pounds of milk and 430 pounds of butterfat.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR BOYD FARM HOMES

A survey of kitchens of 192 members of homemakers clubs in Boyd county showed that 126 had running water and in 18 of the 24 having pumps, and also in 11 kitchens out of the 41 having no running water. Only 47 of the 192 homes were wired last year, and a line nine-tenth of a mile long was stretched into the more thickly settled part of the county. Lois Sharp, the home demonstration agents, reports increased interest in better farm homes.

POINT PLEASANT
(Delayed)

J. S. Eggleston and wife were viewing the river at Petersburg and Aurora Saturday.

Raymond Beemon is hauling his milk to Florence, and the trucks take the milk from there.

Herman Long, of near Limaburg went to Constance Monday to view the river.

In last week's news, it should have been Mrs. Carl Beil instead of Mr. Carl Beil who had been ill at her home near Bromley.

Over half of Constance is under water, and families have moved to higher ground.

J. S. Eggleston and wife spent last Tuesday with their daughter, Mrs. Elnora Riddle and son, J. D.

Raymond Beemon has rented the farm of Chester Tanner and will move there soon.

Claude Rouse, of near Limaburg went to Constance Monday to view the flooded Ohio.

PETERSBURG
(Delayed)

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hartman are staying at the home of E. A. Stott and family during the flood.

A letter from Mrs. Pauline Walton, who is employed at Washington, D.C., stated that on January 1st, she received a raise in salary, the second in two years.

We extend our sympathy to Stanley Bonta in the death of his mother at Paris, last week.

Grant Williamson will move to the John Klopp farm, and Albert Kittle to Wilbur Rice's farm March 1st.

Mrs. Mary Berkshire and Mrs. G. C. Stott attended a science lecture in Cincinnati last week.

Mrs. R. R. Witham has the flu.

Mrs. Mary Sturgeon is able to be about again, after an attack of la grippe.

Mrs. Clyde Prichard, of Aurora, Ind., is visiting her aunt, Miss Kate Geesler.

Miss Mary Phillips called on friends in Petersburg last week.

COLD IN CALIFORNIA, HEAT IN FLORIDA

Menaces Fruit Crops as Millions Spent to Save Them

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 26—At stake when the frost struck here was $100,000,000 worth of citrus-fruit throughout southern California.

In Los Angeles, Orange and Riverside Counties, in San Bernardino and Ventura, where 85 per cent of Califoria's citrus-fruit is grown, throughout the citrus country, growers mobilized a frost-fighting army of 200,000. It included wives, children, Mexican pickers, college students from neighboring campuses.

Swiftly, the army moved into action with its chief defensive weapon, th esmudge-heater. The heater is a galvanized can equipped with a flue, and holds nine gallons of oil. The burner produces a cloud of smoke so thick that it dims the sun like an eclipse, soils housewives' linen. Four million heaters were turne don, full blast.

In the Imperial Valley, the smudge-cloud became so dense an airplane lost its way, had to make a forced landing. At Long Beach street lights remained burning all morning. Street cars and automobiles turned on headlights.

Sleepers in the citrus belt awoke with black oil mustaches lining their upper lips. The smudy air had penetrated even closed windows.

Although most heaters burn oil, about 200,000 burn fuel briquets. Unable to obtain this fuel for their heaters, some ranchers wrapped their trees in blankets, even burned hay between the rows of trees.

At Duarte, California, N. M. Meeker proudly started up the two airplane motors he has mounted up the warm air produced by a battery of heaters, waft it through the groves, and raise the temperature six degrees.

In one night of frost-fighting, growers burned 2,700 car-loads or 27,000,000 gallons of oil. Oil costs 3½ cents a gallon. The bill for fuel alone promised to top $2,000,000.

Several days after temperatures had turned to normal and growers had washed smudge-smoke from their nostrils and from their linen, cooperative marketing organizations estimated the loss. The frost had destroyed 15 to 20 per cent of the citrus crop. Which means that it had destroyed from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 of fruit.

Florida Hit

California produces the bulk of on two towers. His propellers whip the nation's oranges and lemons. But Florida produces a respectable share of citrus fruits, too. It contributes 33 per cent. of the oranges and 71 per cent. of the grapefruit. California's weather always interests Florida. But last week Florida growers found enough weather trouble in their own State to worry about. Ironically, Florida's trouble was heat, not cold.

Excessive and prolonged heat was threatening to ripen Florida fruit prematurely. Unless cool winds came, oranges, grapefruit and tangerines (Florida grows few lemons), which ordinarily ripen in May or June, would either fall unpicked or glut markets that were as yet not ready to absorb them.

In California, growers had estimated that for the crop year ending October 1. their groves would yield 100,000 car loads of oranges, lemons and grapefruit; 20,000 cars of lemons, 75,000 car loads of oranges, and about 5,000 car loads of grapefruit. Now this was markedly reduced.

SCIENCE STUDIES ALCOHOL AS 'HIDDEN' DEATH CAUSE

"Few people realize how many persons die every year from alcohol or go into insane asylums, never to come out again," Dr. Edward Spencer Cowles, director of Park Avenue Hospital in New York City, told members of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, recently in session in Atlantic City, N. J.

"The actual mortality is as great in my belief, if not greater, than from cancer," he declared. "Accurate statistics are not available. disease is regarded as a disgrace The reason for this is that the and the alcoholic takes on some other symptom, such as hemorrhage of the brain, delusional insanity, or infectious disorder, under which his death is recorded. Nevertheless, these patients have died from a diseased brain caused by alcohol.

"The history of a chronic alcoholic's case," said Dr. Cowles "runs as a rule this way: 'I have been drinking to greater or less extent all my life. I stood my liquor until about five or ten years ago. Beginning at that time alcohol made me drunk. My whole personality changed. I began to go on one debauch after another in spite of my resolutions. My personality would seem to change even a few days before I started to drink. I noticed a cunning quality in myself. I was restless and excited. I felt now that one drink would not trouble me; I felt certain I could control it. I would resolve to mark the bottle and to take only two drinks, but when I had the two drinks, the bottle was not enough. I then became lord of all; above the law, spending my money recklessly, ranging from one brothel to another. I was violently jealous of my wife, suspecting her of this or that, however first I would go on a debauch only good a woman she might be. At once in three months, then every two months and now it is every week or every other week. I have no power to stop it. I cannot attend to business regularly. I lose one job after another. I am losing all my decent friends. I am no longer to be depended upon.'"

Dr. Cowles. well known for his research work in the field of psychiatry, summed up his remarks before the association with this conclusion. "If the medical profession can be made to understand that chronic alcoholism is not a moral disease, but a brain disease, there will be less showing off in one individual vieing with another as to who can drink more."

ALABAMA DRYS WIN FIGHT TO KEEP PROHIBITION LAW

Dry leaders in Alabama are rejoicing today over the action of the state senate in voting down a proposed repeal bill 20 to 12.

Th lower house in Alabama, under pressure of wet lobbyists, passed a measure to legalize the sale of intoxicants, but the legislature adjourned before the senate acted upon the bill.

In the interim, church leaders throughout the state waged a vigorous campaign urging their senators to respect their campaign pledges.

Alabama, dry for 21 years, is the only state in the nation which prohibits the sale of all intoxicants, including beer. In Kansas and Oklahoma, both under constitutional prohibition, 3.2 beer is generally dispensed on the grounds that it is a "non-intoxicating" beverage, according to the National Voice News Bureau.

Strawberry growers in Crittenden county have been holding meetings to discuss acreages, plants, markets, etc.

PART-TIME FARMING STUDIED

A study of part-time farming among Negroes near Lexington, reported in a new bulletin of the eKntucky Agricultural Experiment Station, says that "the experience of these farmers indicates that many persons who undertake part-time farming with the hope of ifnancial gain are likely to be disappointed." The chief advantage in devoting part of the time to farming was found to be that of reducing the cost of living, rather than making money. The experiences of 104 Negro families, mostly within Fayette county, were studied.

25,000,000TH FORD CAR COMES OFF THE LINE

Recently Henry Ford stood at the end of the final assembly line at the Ford Motor Company Rouge plant and watched workmen build the 25,000,000th Ford.

By his side was his son, Edsel Ford, the president of the Ford Motor Company, and the chiefs of his world-wide organization. The only other observors of the historic event were a small group of newspapermen.

As the 25,000,000th car reached the end of the final assembly line and the inspectors had finished their work Mr. Ford climbed into the front passenger seat. His son slipped into the driver's seat, pressed the starter button and drove the car off the line.

Completion of the 25,000,000th Ford represented the manufacture, over the last 33½ years, of more motor vehicles than are registered for operation today all over the United States.

Mr. Ford, his son, other Ford executives and the invited guests watched the entire progress of the 25,000,000th car from the time it began its journey down the final assembly line—a bare frame, with running gear attached—until it reached the end, a sleek shining de luxe Fordor touring sedan, with body in cream, wheels in chromium and the 25,000,000th legend decorating the body panels and the trunk compartment hatch.

WORKABLE AUTOMOBILE COMPENSATION LAWS

Proposals for compulsory automobile liability insurance appear perennially when state legislatures meet. Fortunately for the public only one state, Massachusetts, has so far passed such a law—but there is always the danger that other states mak take the step.

Compulsory insurance in Massachusetts—where it has been given a long and exhaustive test—has been almost a complete failure. In theory the law may be good, but in practice it has produced grave and apparently insoluble problems.

For example, since the passage of the act there has been a substantial increase in Massachusetts liability insurance rates, due in large part to the increased litigation the act has caused. It is true that there have been increases in most other states as well—the inevitable result of a soaring acrise has been well above the nacident toll—but the Massachusetts tional average.

Worst of all, perhaps, the act has caused a tremendous court chusetts courts have been months congestion. At times the Massabehind in handling cases, it being physically impossible to keep up with suits filed. Beyond question, the act has provided the accident racketeer with a fertile field—as as all Massachusetts-licensed cars are insured, he can file actions promiscuously knowing that in a percentage of cases he will collect. All motorists pay, through th ecost of insurance, for this kind of racketeering.

It would seem that the solution to the liability question lies in financial responsibility laws—tried out successfully in a number of states—under which a motorist guilty of an accident must pay any judgments against him, and provide for future judgments thru attains almost all the ends desired allowed to drive again. This law insurance or a bond, before he is for compulsory insurance, and avoids the weakness and inequalities that have appeared in the working-out of the Massachusetts act.

Schweitzer Tops Nation's Riflemen

Washington, D. C.—W. P. Schweitzer of Hillside, N. J., has been awarded the t p-notch position among the Nation's crack shots in the small bore rifle competitions for 1936, according to tabulations just released by the National Rifle Association. The rankings are based on a scientific system which takes into account the position gained and the number of competitors faced in each match at every registered tournament.

Close on Schweitzer's heels in the season's rankings are two comparative youngsters in what is perhaps the oldest of American sports. Dave Carlson of New Haven, Conn., took second place and William Woodring, of Alton, Ill., earned third with a late season spurt.

Schweitzer, by winning the grand aggregate in the St. Petersburg, Fla., shoot in March, a first place and five seconds in the Eastern Small-Bore Tournament at Camp Ritchie, Md., in July, and three first in team events in the National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, in September, along with additional honors in other tournaments, showed a year-round consistency which gained him the number one position with a slim but ample margin over his rivals.

Even more spectacular, however, is the record of the two runners-up. In the National Matches this year, young Carlson led the field in the exclusive "400" Club event which is limited to those who have scored possible 400's in the standard Dewar matches. He had another perfect score in the Lyman two-man event here and in the Connecticut State shoot he carried off five first positions, a second, third and a sixth to rank him the best shot in New England for 1936.

All of Woodring's points were earned during the latter part of the season. His uncanny shooting in the National Matches gave him the grand aggregate small-bore award, with two first places and a second in individual events. While later in the year this slender, sharpshooting ace became the first individual on record to mark up possible scores of 400 in three different events in one day.

Fourth place goes to C. F. Rider of New Kensington, Penna., who took the Swiss match at Camp Ritchie for the second successive year and won second in the 50 meter and first on the Caswell team events in the National Matches. He is followed by M. A. GrossKopf of Marion, Wis., who required only a few short weeks at Camp Perry to earn himself a spot among the Nation's leaders.

An outstanding shooter for many years past, Eric Johnson, the Swedish gun-barre maker of Hamdon, Conn., is in sixth place this year. Two Akron (Ohio) men, Virgil Canfield and A. L. Darkow of the Zeppelin club who shared the honors in the Indiana (Penna) tournament and the Zeppelin shoot, are tied for seventh position while Mele Israelson of Mogadore, Ohio, and a Southern shooters, William G. GO TO CHURCH

It makes no difference that you do not like the preacher. You don't go to worship him, anyway.

It makes no difference that you know the congregation is full of hypocrites. Backsliders—which you are one, if you stay away—are as bad as hpocrites.

It makes no difference that you don't believe in foreign missions. Haven't you used that for an excuse? Do you break your back giving to home missions, meaning the family of half-starved children on the other side of town?

It makes no difference that you don't like the music; that you think the soprano flats on every high note and the tenor sings thru real harmony when you hear it? And what are you doing to make things harmonious—in song and otherwise?

It makes no difference that you know the committee is after your church pledge. Why should you resent that? You fool away twice as much weekly, buying soft drinks gambling, giving knick-knacks to people who don't need them, than the church is asking for.

All these excuses are outworn, threadbare. They do not really soothe your conscience, and they do not deceive anybody. They do not purchase your inward peace or the position in the community to which you feel you are entitled and to which you can never be heir unless you know the moral responsibility of supporting the living, working church.

Go to church next Sunday. Forget your hurt feelings, they are silly; forget your prejudices, they are unworthy of you.

—Kentuckian-Citizen.

BREAKING THE BACK OF THE RAILROADS

Passage of the bill creating a six hour day for railroad employes, which will be an issue in the current congress, is called a "major threat to private rail control," by Frederick J. Lisman, a distinguished authority on railroad finance.

Mr. Lisman points out that the bill would not merely reduce the railroads' profits; it would wipe out those profits and leave huge deficits. It would prevent roads from obtaining capital to operate, expand and rehabilitate lines. It would raise the railroads' payroll by about half a billion dollars a year, and this, in Mr. Lisman's words, "might well be the final burden which would break the back of private ownership."

The railroads already face a grave problem caused by the Interstate Commerce Commission's refusal to continue the emergency rate tariffs. Wtihout arguing whether or not the ICC is right, it is certainly obvious that we cannot reduce the income of any industry—and especially one which has found it difficult to profit even in the best of times—and at the same time increase operating costs without inviting bankruptcy.

Certainly railroad labor can have few real grievances. It works the standard 8-hour day, with liberal over-time provisions. It is paid extremely well. It is represented by strong unions, which aggressively present its side of any controversy to managements.

The six-hour day bill would be a hard blow to a country working to achieve recovery and needing fair treatment for all industry, as well as labor.

Work Rushed On New Prison Camp

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 26—The temporary prison camp in East Frankfort, to quarter close to 3,000 convicts removed from the flooded state reformatory, was being rushed to completion by 500 workmen today and Gov. A. B. Chandler said that by nightfall 1,000 men would be brought there.

All the prisoners held temporarily in neighboring cities and at the arsenal here, will be in the camp by Wednesday, authorities predicted. They will be held there about seven months, until a new prison is erected, the site of which has not been determined.

The first group of convicts to be brought to the camp were to come from the old federal building in Lexington and from the arsenal.

Five hundred and twenty tents, each to house six men, were being quickly erected on wooden platforms. A barbed wire fence surrounds the flood-lighted camp. Roads to it are being built by the highway department.

Busses and army trucks moved into Lexington up until midnight Monday, jammed to capacity with the haggard prisoners. With the streets cleared by police, guardsmen and special officers, and with machine guns and fire hose ready for an attempted break, the prisoners were moved into the U. S. Public Health Service hospital on the Leestown pike, the state highway department garage on the Old Frankfort pike, the police station jail, the old post office and the Kentucky Houses of Reform at Greendale.

A crowd of several hundred sightseers gathered at the old post office Monday night as special officers began preparing the building for occupancy.

All records of the prisoners on file at the offices of the Department of Welfare were damaged by the floods and may be lost entirely.

WORKERS PROTESS G. M. C. STRIKE

gain collectively when it receives back its plants.

"At Governor Murphy's request we went to Lansing and agreed to begin bargaining. The union agreed to vacate the plants. We have lived up to our word to the Governor. The union has violated its word. They made charges which have no basis in fact in an attempt to justify their own violation of the Lansing agreement.

"The statement made by the union leadr in Washington yesterday, clearly indicates that the strikers are acting under his orders. His statement also indicates clearly his determined will to dominate the industry and its workers by illegality and force.

"The strikes were called in the the part of the union, to bargain beginning without any attempt, on collectively. We agreed to bargain with the union as soon as the sit-downers quit the plants. We imposed no conditions on the union whatsoever. We stated that during negotiations, we would not attempt to operate struck plants, or to remove from them, any dies, tools, machinery or equipment.

In the interest of getting our people back to work, without precipitating riots and violence, and in the interest of bargaining, General Motors was willing, while there was hope of bargaining, do anything reasonable.

"We agreed to discuss the union's demands in a general conference with our executives.

"We agreed to meet with the union leaders at Lansing, to arrange terms on which bargaining should begin.

"We agreed not to try to operate struck plants while negotiations were one.

"We agreed to go to Washington to cooperate with federal and state officials in their efforts over the last two days, to reach a basis of negotiations.

"In the fact of this willingness of ours to do everything to make possible a negotiation on the basis of reason, the union persists in its unlawful popssession of our plants.

"The present dead-lock cannot go on indefinitely. Our men wish to work. They are prevented by a work. They are prevented by a small group of sit-down strikers and their leaders, who are willing to jeopardize the country's recovery, in order to impose dictatorship on our industry and on our people.

"Our duty is plain. We have a responsibility to our employes. This strike is costing the employes of General Motors a million dollars a day, in wages. Our duty to them is to do everything possible to save them from further loss of income and from being thrown on relief.

"The situation must be solved and I am sure that a way will be found to solve it fundamentally in the near future. In the meantime, so far as our ability to carry inventory will permit, every effort will be made to afford as much work as possible to our employes who are out of work through no fault of their own.

PANIC REIGNS

higher. A few men outside of the cells began breaking the locks and letting the others out. As soon as these got out, they started breaking more and more locks and before long everybody was out in the corridors. The guards were afraid to come inside, and many fights broke out.

"Somebody would suggest doing one thing, somebody else would disagree, and everybody was so crazy that it didn't take much to start a fight.

"We heard that Dix dam had broken," said Miles Brock, 19, Lexington, serving a 10-year term for burglarly. "We believed it, and you know if that had happened, Frankfort would have been wiped off the map. Our only thought was to get out of there in any possible way."

Tunnelled Through

Feeling themselves trapped, with certain death rushing upon them, the men fought like drowning beasts to gain a place of safety, they said. Chipping desperately at a wall, they tunnelled through into the women's department. From that building some of them were able to reach the tops of the stone wall surrounding the prison.

"We got a rifle, a shotgun and a pistol out of one of the wall boxes," they said, referring to the small shelters used by the guards on the wall. "But we didn't want to shoot anybody, we just wanted to get out of that place."

"We dived off the wall into the water and swam to the nearest high ground outside," said Clifton Farley, 20, Newport, one of the seven men who after escaping from the prison surrendered at the Frankfort workhouse, a short distance from the penitentiary. "I had only 56 days of my term left to serve," he said. "All I wanted was to get out of that trap before I drowned, and so I surrendered at the nearest place where I could find officers.

"I had only five days left to serve," volunteered Richard Jaggers, 27, Louisville, another of the seven who surrendered at the workhouse. Others in this group included Alfred Shingleton, 21, Paris; Delbert Spicer, 26, and Kelly Spicer, 31, Newport, and Keller Fooks, 21, Carlisle.

Ira Wellman, 23, Huntington, W. Va., said he was caught after he had sum to a tree about two blocks from the prison and was perched there resting.

The prisoners were anxious to talk, and interrupted one another constantly. They told stories of brutality on the part of guards that were perhaps inventions born of the resentment that many criminals feel toward the men who keep them in check.

The prisoners said the last food they received before their removal from the reformatory late Sunday was given them Thursday night. "They passed some bologna sandwiches around Thursday night," one of them said. "After that we didn't have any food, and there was very little water to drink.

The escape from the cells into the corridors of the cell house was effected Friday night, the men said. On several points, they disputed as to the day events occurred, admitting that the whole three-day episode was a crazy nightmare and that it was difficult to remember exactly when any particular event occurred.

Lights Were Out

"It was awful during the nights," said one man. "The light had gone out and everything was pitch-black. Men were roaming around and fighting one another in the dark. They didn't know why—they were just insane.

The convicts said some of the fiercest fighting was between white prisoners and Negroes, although often the white men fought one another as well. They said Rex Nichols, 28, Louisville, former well known boxer, was removed to the hospital with his throat cut. "You have heard of Nichols," said one youth admiringly. "He shot his way into the headlines."

One of the men moved to the jail at Lexington was John (Pete) Montjoy, Covington Negro under a death sentence for an attack upon a white woman. He was brought in a cruiser under special guard.

FARMERS ADVISED TO SOW ONLY DOMESTIC OR CANADIAN SEEDS

Boone County farmers faced with high priced seeds for spring sowing are warned to sow only domestic or Canadian adapted clover, alfalfa and sweet clover seed, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. This warning is issued due to the big difference in price of foreign seed compared with domestic, and because sowing foreign seed unadapted is usually a waste of money, land and time.

The supply of domestic seed is being further supplemented by valuable imports of well-adapted clover, alfalfa and sweet clover seed from Canada, enough to plant one-half to one million acres. This seed is stained 1 per cent purple as required by the Federal Seed Act. At the same time larger imports of less adapted and less productive European red clover seed are entering the United States. The European red clover seed, according to nearly all state agronomists is less the Bureau of Plant Industry and hardy than the domestic and Canadian red clover; its yield generally range from 60 to 70 percent of those obtained from domestic seed, and in severe winters it gives even less satisfactory results. This European red clover seed is stained 1 percent green. Red Clover seed from Italy is stained 10 per cent red. Argentine alfalfa seed is stained 10 per cent orange red since the Department of Agriculture has found that seed of alfalfa grown in South America is not in the United States. These red adopted for general agriculture use and orange-red stains are a warning that seed so stained has been declared specially unfit for general sowing in the United States. Planting unadapted seed in areas in the United States where alfalfa or red clover seed is produced would be undesirable. Mixing the European strains with the more hardy domestic strains either by crossing or otherwise, impairs the yielding ability of the latter.

It is also reported that the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program will not pay for unadapted foreign seed when used. This is another important reason, why only adapted seed should be used.

Congress Passes Relief Bill For $790,000,000

Washington Jan. 28—The House overwhelmed all opposition Tuesday and rush d to passage a deficiency appropriation bill carrying $790,000,000 to replenish federal relief funds and for use in the flood disaster areas if needed.

The measure now goes to the Senate where passage is assured.

The bill carried a total of $899,171,318.89, including the relief appropriation, and $95,000,000 to continue the Civilian Conservation Corps. Vigorous efforts by a liberal bloc to double the relief appropriation and by a small Republican band to trim it to $500,000,000 were overridden by the top-heavy Democratic majority which enforced the rigid gag rule to limit debate.

Chairman James P. Buchanan (D-Tex.), of the House appropriations committee, warned that Congress may have to provide more relief money later if any of the $790,000,000 is diverted to succor flood sufferers. He added that President Roosevelt was ready, if necessary, to use the entire fund for flood relief.

House approval without a record vote came after Buchanan said the bill must pass Tuesday because present relief funds will last only six more days. Senate concurrence is expected to send the measure to the White House immediately.

The job-making Works Progress Administration will get $655,000,000 of the relief appropriation. The Resettlement Administration is allotted $80,000,000 for direct aid to farmers. The balance will finance miscellaneous relief activities.

Buchanan explained that the WPA intends to reduce its rolls gradually from 2,200,000 next month to 1,600,000 by June 3 as expected private re-employment reduces the relief burden.

FLOOD RELIEF MEETING

local banks or the Production Credit Association. This aid could be advanced for feed, food or financing 1937 crop production, but was available only to farmers.

C. L. Cropper, Chairman of the Red Cross relief work, reported Boone County people had donated sufficient money and clothes to care for all the needy flood victims. at the present time.

He stated that his work as chairman was placed upon him, not by his own choosing but that he was proud of Boone County people in the way they had responded to this emergency. He urged that no flood sufferer be allowed to go cold or hungry as sufficient clothes and money was available to take care of all sufferers.

Esquire H. E. White and Chas. W. Riley, county attorney were appointed on a committee to assist farmers getting their cisterns and welsl cleaned out of river polluted water. They will endeavor to get all county power pumps to assist in this work. All cisterns and wells contaminated with river water should be treated with chorinated lime after being pumped out.

Prof. D. H. Norris. H. E. White and August Trapp were appointed on a committee to secure equipment to help farmers get their buildings back on their original foundations.

The farm people of Boone County affected by the flood are showing an unbelievable strong spirit. They have accepted their fate with a calmness that wins the admiration of the strongest and are making plans to rehabilitate their losses and start anew on the 1937 farm year. This spirit has probably been unequaled in American pioneer history.

TOBACCO STORY

By Eldon Ryle, New Haven

One of the outstanding record book stories for a tobacco project was submitted by Eldon Ryle of New Haven School, according to David Colville, Assistant County Agent. Eldon raised one-half acre of burley tobacco with a total expense of $17.65. The story is as follows:

"I selected the very best ground I could get to grow my tobacco. It has been in bluegrass for a good many years and is very rich. I used no fertilizer because I used plenty of chicken manure for plant food. We saved the seed from last year, the original seed was secured from the County Agent. The seed came up good and made stout and hardy plants.

"About three weeks before my plants were large enough to set I broke my ground, plowing it pretty deep. I disked and worked the ground until there were no clods left that were large enough to do any harm. I layed off the field in rows about three feet apart and I was ready to set my crop.

"When the plants were big enough to set we transplanted them to the field being careful to prevent the top roots from getting doubled under and stunting the plants. We set the plants about eighteen inches apart so as to give the leaves plenty of room to spread out.

"I plowed the tobacco three times with a double shovel plow, two times in each row. The first time I plowed it pretty deep, then a little shallower with each successive plowing.

"I waited until late to top my tobacco, then topped it down until the top leaves were about eighteen inches long.

"The tobacco was suckered twice then cut and housed in September. After I stripped it out I sold it at the 4-H show and sale at Covington, December 18. The 330 pounds netted me $113.09."

A wind that whisked $24 from the open purse of Mrs. John McCallyum at Anaconda, Mont., a few minutes later blew $20 of the currency into the hands of her husband farther down the street.

Charles Becker, 75, Philadelphia, has saved and kept a record of everything he has found for the last 59 years. His collection now numbers 1,627 items and includes $225 in money.

In Casey county, Liberty community, farmers have contracted to grow 350 acres of tomatoes and 150 acre sof beans for a packing company.

U. S. DAM 38 FACES DANGER

AS RAGING OHIO FLOOD WATERS RECEDE—UNDERGROUND STREAMS CAUSE BANKS TO GIVE WAY.

Even though the high flood waters never reached the top of the banks at U. S. Dam 38, McVille, Ky., residents and property owners are facing a serious situation at present, according to E. E. Newman, Lockmaster, since the river, during its flooded stage has caused underground streams to flow thru the sandy banks, consequently causing the banks to become soft and slide into the river bed.

Several families have already vacated their homes, and plans have been made for immediate removal of all families living near the banks, should this condition continue. Many outbuildings and rear lawns of several homes have already caved in and completely disappeared in the soft quicksand.

The channel for the river traffic is on the Kentucky side at Dam 38, and all the government houses are located within ten feet of the edge of a 60 foot embankment which drops almost straight down to the locks. When the Ohio was at its crest, it lacked only about twelve or fifteen feet or reaching the top of the bank.

Almost directly in front of the power house, what used to be a beautiful green decline to the water's edge, is approximately half gone, and unless the underground water ceases to flow and the bank stops caving, all persons occupying the government homes will be forced to move. The paved road leading from the top of this bank to the lock has also collapsed.

The town of Grant, also located near the river and only about one-half mile from Dam 38, is facing the same disaster, and many residents have been forced to vacate their homes. The bank along the Ohio at this point is made up wholly of gravel and sand, and therefore, absorbs water like a sponge. After it had become wet, and the swift currents of the high water reaching levels never before known to white man, the banks have been cut away and weakened to such an extent that they are constantly caving toward the river.

The channel for river traffic has been entirely filled with soil from these banks, and it will probably take several weeks before this can be removed for river traffic to continue. At one point the treeline along the water had been shoved over 100 yards into the river bed, and almost entirely covered with water. At several points, streams of water as large as a man's body were pouring from underground.

At the present time it is hard to tell just what the damage to the dam will be, but as this reporter sees the situation, the loss is going to far exceed all expectations, and if the caving should stop now, many homes have been made unsafe for habitation and property damage has been great.

According to reports received from the dam today, the underground water has almost ceased, and there have been no large amount of caving in the past twenty-four hours. However, the river is rising again, according to the lockmaster, although the rise is slow and no high water is expected soon. A rise of 1.3 feet was reported for Tuesday.

MERCURY DIPS TO 30 DEGREES

FROM RECORD HIGH WITH CONTINUED COLD WAVE FOR SEVERAL DAYS—74 DEGREES HIGH SINCE OCT. 26TH.

Northern Kentucky's spring-like weather ended abruptly when the mercury slipped 44 degrees from a record high of 74 at 3 p. m. Monday to a low of 30 degrees at 8 a. m. Tuesday.

Still lower temperatures prevailed over this area Tuesday night and Wednesday, with a minimum of about 20 degrees. Fair weather is outlook for remainder of week.

The Ohio River at Cincinnati stood at 26.2 rising. The rise in the river, Mr. Devereaux explained, was caused by approximately half-inch of rain through the Ohio valley.

Monday's mark of 74 degrees was the highest the thermometer has climbed since last October 26th. It was within two degrees of the record high for the month of February set on Feb. 10, 1932, at 76 degrees.

DAIRYMAN LOSES GARAGE AND MILK HOUSE BY FIRE

"Sox" Turner, dairyman, of near Limaburg, lost his garage and entire milking equipment Tuesday morning by a fire that started from a lighted oil stove.

This building, a combination garage and milkhouse, was almost new, and was located only about fifteen feet from the Turner home. A strong wind from the right direction, and a group of hard fighting men, were the only things that saved all the buildings on the farm from burning.

No one was at home at the time of the fire, except one hired hand, who was on the opposite side of the barn. All of the milking equipment, including electric separator, milk cooler and part of his milk for the next day, was completely destroyed. The only equipment saved was his delivery truck, which was not in the garage at the time of the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner returned home after the building had burned entirely to the ground, and apparently theay had seen some of the flooded districts, for their remarks were "our situation is bad enough, but it is nothing compared to what thousands of others have lost during the recent floods."

This spirit certainly was admirable in both Mr. and Mrs. Turner.

ACP MEETING SCHEDULED

Meetings have been set in most communities for the purpose of explaining the new 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program. Dates for other communities will be set in the next few days, as it is planned to hold all community meeting in the next two or three weeks.

Those meeting scheduled todate are:

Petersburg—Friday, Feb. 19 at 7 p. m. at school house.

Burlington—Saturday, Feb. 20th at 1:00 p. m. at courthouse.

Hebron—Saturday, Feb. 20th at 7:00 p. m. Masonic Hall.

Hamilton—Tuesday, Feb. 23rd at 7.30 p. m., schoolhouse.

New Haven—Wednesday, Feb. 24 at 7:00 p. m., schoolhouse.

Florence—Thursday, Feb. 25, at 7:00 p. m. (slow time).

TOBACCO MART SHOWS STRENGTH

FLLOD DAMAGE BELIEVED TO BE CAUSE OF HIGHER TOBACCO PRICES—PRICE OF SIXTY DOLLARS REACHED.

Tobacco damaged in flood areas is believed to be cause of stronger prices throughout the burley district when markets reopened Monday after closing for a week on account of flood conditions.

Nearly all grades of tobacco were stronger, with the chief strength confined to the common kinds, some of which were as much as $6 to $8 above their levels for the auctions immediately preceding the suspension.

No sales were conducted in the state last week as buyers were busy handling tobacco transported from flood areas and working their plants in dry sections in an effort to salvage what they could from leaf stored stored in cities hit by the flood. High water that blocked many highways in the state also contributed to the sales suspension. Prices were definitely higher on practically all grades Monday on the Cynthiana market with a total of 188,484 pounds selling for $44,553,86, an average of $23.64 a hundred. High basket in the sales brought $60.

Sales were conducted during the day at all warehouses on the market. Receipts were light, and a still smaller volume is expected to be offered. Tobacco brought here during the morning was unloaded and sold the same day it was received.

CARROLLTON'S FLOOD DAMAGE VERY HEAVY

The damage by flood water to Carrollton has not been exagerated according to reports from reliable sources. The town was virtually under water, with only one street remaining open.

Business houses in Carrollton were the hardest hit, being nearer the river than the residential district. Many business houses will never open again, it was understood, while many were busy cleaning up, preparing to restock their stores.

The newspaper in that city, one of the oldest weeklies in the state was damaged approximately $5,000, when water covered all equipment and stock. The office force is working diligently cleaning up machinery and type in preparation to their next issue, which will be several weeks from now.

This photograph, snapped during the recent flood, looking northwest down Main St., in Constance. Left Prable's Service Station, right the home of Albert Prable. The river had fallen 10 feet at this time.

ORGANIZATION BEING FORMED

FOR BETTER BALANCED AGRICULTURE PROGRAM—MEETING HELD AT COURTHOUSE TUESDAY.

Boone County Community Program of Work Chairman and county project leaders recommended a better agricultural balance between production and soil improvement in the county thru fewer acres of soil depleting crops crops and large acreage of well-managed pasture and legume crops. These recommendations were made in the second Annual County Agricultural planning meeting held at Burlington courthouse Tuesday of this week.

Mr. W. L. Rouse farm management research worker and AAA supervisor from the college, met with the leaders and led in the discussion on what long time agricultural farm organization should be carried out to make most profitable and productive the agriculturral resources of the county. The importance of a long time soil improvement program is shown by the fact that during the past one hundred years crop land of the United States in excess of three times the total crop land area of Kentucky has been destroyed past redemption for production purposes. Detailed plans of the county planning program will be announced at a later date.

The leaders present who assisted in the county planning program were: John Crigler, August Trapp, J. F. Cleek, S. B. Sleet, J. C. Bedinger, Franklin Huey, Joel Gray, Edward Rogers, Ross Russ, H. E. White, Howard Huey, Tom Bonar, W. G. Kite, Prof. D. H. Norris, John Worthing, F. H. Rouse, Hubert Conner, Lillard Scott, Chas. W. Riley, H. R. Forkner, County Agent and David Colville.

Julius Smith, of Covington was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Smith, Thursday evening.

NOTICE

Friday, February 12, being Lincoln's birthday, all banks in the county will be closed.

NATHANIEL CARPENTER

Nathaniel Carpenter, age 62 years, passed away at his home near Burlington, Sunday morning, after a prolonged illness of several months.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minnie Carpenter, and a number of relatives and friends. He was a member of the Petersburg Christian Church, and a resident of Boone County for man yyears.

Funeral services were conducted at the home Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 p. m., by Rev. Edgar C. Riley, of Lexington. Interment followed in the Burlington I. O. O. F. cemetery. The pallbearers were, Tom Hensley, D. H. Norris, Chas. Maxwell, Earl Smith, Will Carpenter and Clarence Earl Easton.

Chambers & Grubbs had charge of the arrangements.

JAIL BREAK IS ATTEMPTED

BY FIFTEEN PRISONERS FROM STATE REFORMATORY AT WILLIAMSTOWN JAIL LAST WEEK.

Fifteen prisoners from the State Penitentiary at Frankfort who were placed in the Williamstown jail during the flood completed their plans Wednesday for a getaway. But for the fact that a county prisoner, Alfred Dunn, reported the negotiations to John Davis, jailer, they would have made their way to freedom as soon as it became dark.

After Mr. Davis was "tipped-off," he investigated and learned that the prisoners had dug thru the thick brick wall, tied blankets together and were all set to go. They were awaiting nightfall and the small task of removing the outside bricks from the hole which they had dug. The discovery was made at 5:30 in the afternoon.

Prisoners are locked in the "bull pen" at 7:30 for the remainder of the night.

How many were implicated in fleeing is not known but the general supposition is that all of those from the penitentiary were involved.

NORTHERN KENTUCKY YIELDS OLD RELICS

A tooth of the mammoth, an extinct ancestor of the present-day elephant, recently has been found by Claude McMillian, near Demossville, Pendleton county, and acquired by the Museum of Geology, University of Kentucky, David M. Young, curator of the museum, announced.

Various remains of the mammoth and mastoden have been found in all parts of Kentucky. Northern Kentucky, and particularly Big Bone Lick in Boone county have long been known among scientists as classic collecting grounds for these remains.

Specimens from Big Bone may be found in museums in all parts of the world, but the major portion may be seen in Kentucky in the university museum.

A skull of a bison which lived during the latter part of the ice age, and which became buried in salty mucks of Big Bone Lick, is among the exhibtis in this museum.

THREE DAY CO-OP. SALE

IS SPONSORED BY COVINGTON MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION, FOR THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Cooperating with those launching local rehabilitation projects, members of the Covington Retail Merchants' Association disclosed plans today for a three-day cooperative sale to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Terming the sale as one offering "thrilling three-day bargains," J. R. Bonnett, sale committee chairman, said that during the sale merchants will "offer prices never before equaled in this community, and with rising markets this is a final opportunity to buy merchandise at low prices before advancement of prices affect the public."

He further comented that "prices during this sale will be lower than those of the recent January sales. I might say further that local buyers have never even as much as dreamed of such unusually attractive prices."

Stores, restaurants and all firms cooperating in the sale will display large window banners telling of their co-operation.

H. A. Woody is president of the merchants' association. Other members of the sale committee are Robert Ellerman, Joseph Luhn and William Macklin.

WM. E. HOUGHTON

After a month's illness, Dr. Samuel A. Hauser returned, this week, to his optical business with the John R. Coppin Co., Covington.

BOONE COUNTY FURNISHES GAS

TO FLORENCE, ERLANGER, FT. MITCHELL AND COVINGTON DURING RECENT FLOOD—OTHER SUPPLY CUT OFF.

According to Mr. McCurdy, of the Boone County Well Drilling Co., Florence, Erlanger, Ft. Mitchell and Covington residents would have been without natural gas during the recent high water if it had not been for the wells in Boone County.

Gas has been flowing into the mains at Florence for several weeks, according to Mr. McCurdy, and when gas was shut off from the main lines in Cincinnati, the wells which were drilled by the Boone County Well Drilling Company never faltered, but supplied the demand with preassure remaining high at all times.

It is indeed fortunate that these wells were connected to the main pipe lines, and proves that Boone County gas wells are sure to be a success.

At this time there are twenty-eight wells in Boone County and two more in the process of drilling. With all these wells connected to the main line at Florence, it is believed that enough gas could be furnished to supply the demand of Cincinnati and outlying suburbs.

Many farmers are anxiously awaiting the pipe line which is to be laid from Burlington to Florence, which will mean many dollars to the farmers in this section of the county.

SPECIALST TO SPEAK AT UTOPIA MEETING

Mr. W. W. Magill, fruit specialist from the College of Agriculture, will speak to Utopians at their February meeting to be held at Burlington, Thursday evening, February 18 at 7:15 p. m. Mr. Magill has spoken to Utopians a number of times in the past and has always brought a special message.

The girls in the room improvement project have charge of the educational discussion on project work. Hebron group will be in charge of the recreational program. All prospective new members are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Oldham, of Mt. Sterling, called on Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Goodridge, one day last week.

FEED LOANS TO LOCAL FARMERS

OBTAINABLE THROUGH RURAL REHABILITATION DIVISION IF FARMERS ARE UNABLE TO SECURE LOCAL CREDIT.

Emergency feed loans may be obtained by Boone County farmers through Rural Rehabilitation Division, if they are unable to secure local credit.

Funds may be secured through through Rural Rehabilitation Division, by flood stricken farmers or low income farmers to maintain livestock through this crisis. These loans are not available, however, to farmers who can secure credit thru local banks or other local agencies.

Mr. W. O. Blackburn, Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor, will be in Burlington Tuesday and Friday mornings of each week to receive applications for loans. Because of the time necessary to approve these applications, those farmers in need are urged to apply as soon as possible,

$82,366 ACP PAYMENTS EARNED

One thousand and fourteen Boone County farmers earned $82,366.03 on their Agricultural Conservation Program payments for 1936, according to H. R. Forkner County Agent. These are the first official figures on the exact amount earned. The average farmer received $81.20. The total payments include $35,677.13 on tobacco, $27,264.41 on general and $19,424.49 on soil building practice performance.

The 1936 payments have not been received at the county office todate. A letter received the first of the week stated tha due to the fact the count ywas affected by the flood, payment should be received in about two weeks. Because of recent changes in the Washington Office, checks would have otherwise been delayed much longer than first stated.

Not all 1936 payments are expected to be received in the first shipment due to the delay of some farmers made in signing their forms. The county office and committees greatly regrets the delay in forwarding checks because many farmers are expectin g to meet other obligations with these payments.

FIFTEEN FARM ACCOUNTS COMPLETED IN BOONE CO.

Fifteen farm record books were closed February 5th and 6th for the year 1936, according to David Colville, Assistant County Agent. Those farmers cooperating with Mr. Procter, Field Agent in Farm Management, from the University of Kentucky, are as follows: W. A. Brown, S. B. Sleet, Walter Ferguson, Orville Kelly, B. C. Stephens, Wilton Stephens, LeRoy Voshel, Robert Graves, Elmo Jergens, Henry Siekman, Wm. Cox, Sterling Rouse, Grant Maddox, Noel Walton and Wm. Moore. In addition to these farmers those keeping farm account records for 1937 are: Mr. Ryle, O. W. Purdy and Albert Parker.

Mr. Procter visits Boone County at least twice each year and his services are available to anyone who wants help in keeping an accurate farm account. These records are strictly confidential and no information is released under the farmer's name without his permission.

FRUIT GROWERS TO HOLD MEET

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 18—WILL DISCUSS 1937 FRUIT GROWING ING PROGRAM—IS ANNUAL AFFAIR IN BOONE COUNTY.

Two fruit meeting of importance to leading Boone County growers will be held on Thursday, February 18th, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. These meetings represent the annual gathering of growers to discuss their 1937 fruit growing program.

The morning meeting will begin at 9:45 at the home and orchard of B. C. Stephens, of Grant and Burlington Road. The afternoon meeting will be an orchard tour visiting leading orchards in the community and studying what has been done in the past and what the 1937 prospects offer.

Mr. W. W. Magill, fruit specialist from the college, will speak at each of these meetings. All who are interested are invited to attend.

WHAT ABOUT GAS FOR BURLINGTON

Several months ago several meetings were held in Burlington, in an effort to make some kind of arrangements in order that Burlington residents could be furnished with natural gas for heating and cooking .

At the present writing nothing has developed from the meetings, and many citizens are wondering why. We are not certain why there was nothing done at the meeting, but we believe it all amounts to this: The manager of the Well Drilling Company stated at one of the meetings that if the residents would lay their own pipe lines he would furnish gas at the rate of 16 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Of course, we would like to have gas in our homes, but many of the residents in this town are unable to pay such an amount as would be required to have these lines installed.

Mr. McCurdy made a suggestion that a small company be organized, with each member taking a certain amount of stock, therefore raising enough capital to put the project over, charging each resident a small fee for the gas they consumed each month. No company has been organized, and it is hardly probable that one will be, as citizens of this community know nothing about the gas situation.

At the time the first meeting was called pracically all the residents of this town surmised that Mr. McCurdy was planning to drill a gas well near Burlington and furnish the town with pipe lines and a supply of gas at a small charge. However, owners and renters understood that they would be compelled to install their lines from the road to their homes, which would probably amount to five or ten dollars. Mr. McCurdy stated that this was not his intention. We believe that ninety per cent of the residents of Burlington would sign up for gas if the Drilling Co., would place their lines in our small city—how about it Mr. McCurdy?

FLOOD CONTROL

Last Sunday we made a trip to Carrollton over Route 42. It is almost unbelievable that the Ohio River could have reated so much suffering and loss. In many places along the highway, houses, which had been bolted to their foundations were ripped off, to go sailing down the river.

The damage has been estimated by many engineers and others, but we do not believe that anyone can accurately estimate the damage until all repairs and clean-up work has been completed.

In many places along the highway water had covered the road to a depth of fifteen to twenty feet—taking houses and barns that were as far as three miles from the river banks.

With all this loss of property and human lives, our attention turns to flood control. We know that this is the highest stage the river has reached since this country has been civilized, but it may reach even higher stages. Many of our old times predicted that the river would never reach as high as in 1884, but it did and is apt to even surpass this mark.

Flood control is very essential to the Ohio River Valley, and unless some plan is worked out ,those who live in the lowlands will be compelled to move to the highlands. If the old saying is true that "wherever the river leaves a log it will come back up for it" this country is due for another flood—when, we are unable to predict.

AGRICULTURAL PIONEERING

Agricultural cooperation is relatively new—its history spans little more than a generation. It is the application of proven business principles to agriculture. It has won an honored place in the world based on honest achievement.

The better agricultural cooperatives illustrate the pioneer spirit. They have always kept in mind the thought that "self help is the most worthwhile help." They have not asked for doles and subsidies and favors from government. They have paid their way, fought their own battles and solved their own problems. They are the answer to the disgruntled agitator who would pit the farmer against industry.

HANDWRITING ON THE WALL

Unless labor union and employers exercise restraint over their respective powers and recognize the rights of the public, the government will step in and take control, Dr. Robert L. Sutherland of Bucknell University, declared recently when speaking on the long drawn out Pacific Coast ship strike and the automobile strike in the East.

Dr. Sutherland said it was "only a matter of time until any group using power without responsibility will be checked," and pointed out that as a general rule this country never curbed power until it was abused.

When any group of leaders, no matter who, deliberately plan to win their point at all costs, regardless of suffering of workmen or the public, it is time to break their grip—that is what government is for, to protect all the people .

If the day arrives when our government can be controlled by either labor or industrial dictators to the detriment of the people, fascism or communism will have swallowed democracy, individual rights will be wiped out and labor will become a form of slavery.

THRILLING AMERICAN STORY

A recent statement by the Transportation Conference to the effect that it is up to present Congress to decide whether the American railroads are to remain under private control or be forced, directly or indirectly, into government ownership and operation, should come as an awakening shock to the American public. The railroads are among our greatest industries, and their development forms one of the epochal chapters of American history.

Stories of their dramatic struggles against almost insurmountable odds to span the nation with steel lines of commerce, across mountains and deserts, in the face of constant attacks by hostile Indians, thrill every red blooded American. Their history is the very essence of true Americanism, and the public should not allow their future development to be halted by the deadening embrace of politics. Progress, such as the railroads typify, cpuld only have been ade by the driving force of reasonably regulated private initiative. Speeding across the continent in a matter of hours amid the streamlined comforts and safety of a modern air conditioned train would still be an idle dream, if the welfare of the railroad industry had depended upon the uncertain whims of political management.

For many years the railroads have borne staggering burdens of taxation and regulation. The present Congress should lay aside proposals for radical Rail legislation, and coocrate with the roads by passing equitable regulatory laws that apply without favor to all forms of transportation.

OBSERVATIONS

DICTATORS

So Mussolini's son marries—which might be internationally significant if the Italian Dictator Premier were Royalty. As it is, the incident leads to the speculation, after Mussolini—what? As a matter of fact after any dictator—what?

Therein lies one of the flaws of dictatorship, as compared with any other system of government. Dictatorship has no automatic provision for uninterrupted continuation of orderly government. The death of a dictator is bound to mean confusion, violence, disorder. The death of a constitutional ruler inherited or elected, means only a new face in an old office; nothing more drastic than a change of policy.

The Court

Battle lines are forming. Skirmishing is over. The fight will now take place in plain view of everybody, with the forward looking lined up on one side and the reactionary on the other. The issue—shall nine old men (more often only one, with a 5-4 decision) nullify the actions of the people's elected representatives?

Roosevelt chooses to use his power of appointment rather than submit the issue to the various state legislatures in the form of a constitutional amendment. It will be remembered that there is no constitutional provision for the number of Supreme Court Justices. Neither is there any power given to this court to declare laws unconstitutional. That power was assumed by Chief Justice Marshall. Because he "got away with it," succeeding courts have continued that function, excusing it under the general theory of "checks and balances."

No doubt Roosevelt chosses to "pack" the Supreme Court because of the extremely long time it takes to get an amendment rattified. His four remaining years are not a long time in which to stabilize his reforms, and no doubt he wants to be sure that his reform legislation will not be all knocked into a cocked hat by the Court while an amendment is pending.

If that is the case one regrets the necessity for it. It is begging the issue for expediency's sake.

The long range issue, in the opinion of this observer, is not whether any oppointed officials have the right to nullify legislation passed by elected representatives.

As long as any such body has any such right this is only partially a democracy. It is two thirds democracy and one-third oligarchy having the power to say "no."

To make this a three-thirds democracy:

1. Amend the constitution, taking power of passing on constitutionality away from the courts;—or

2. Leave court as it is but require a three-fourths majority to declare a law unconstitutional; or

3. Leave power as is but give Congress and the executive power to over-ride court's decision by two-thirds or three-fourths majority; or

4. Amend Constitution to make Supreme Court elected by the whole people of the United States, leaving judicial powers as they are.

Money and The Flood

It is quite likely that the Ohio Valley is on the verge of a local boom. All adults remember that wars create an artificial prosperity. They force a rapid spending of money. Wars. however create nothing, replace nothing. The spending following a flood does replace lost values.

What a millenium we would have if the money spent in a war bought assets instead of exploded gunpowder. Perhaps some half conscious appreciation of this principle is why the Townsend Plan had such appeal to so many people. Economists are beginning to believe that the rapidity of money turn-over is more important than the total amount involved. This is the so-called velocity of money theory.

A disaster forces "right now" spending. The next few months will show an interesting test of this theory in the flooded areas.

Natural Gas

The time has come for "Booners" to do something about gas.

Mr. McCurdy and associates have proven not only that the gas is here in paying quantities, but that its flow is continuous. They have also proved that there is a sale for it. Yes—but there is the rub.

As we understand it one million cubic feet is flowing into the mains that up to five million cubic feet per day is contracted for. One million cubic feet is being supplied by five wells, which means, of course, that only twenty-five property owners at the same ratio will get royalties out of gas in the entire county, if the Gas Company is not able to arrange for the sale of more gas.

To have only one possible sale is to put the seller entirely at the mercy of the buyer. What Boone Countians need is to sell more gas to the same place and find new places to sell it, if any considerable number of people, other than the drilling company are to benefit from this gas.

This observer suggests that Boone Countains get behind this group to help them sell more gas; that they begin right now to organize a Boone County Chamber of Commerce whose first job should be the making of an investgation of industries which use large quantities of natural gas and of finding means to encourage their location here.

This observed also ventures to suggest that Carroll Cropper of the Burlington bank is well qualified to start this ball rolling.

That's all for this week.

PETERSBURG

Quite a few people from here, went to Lawrenceburg Sunday to view the damage caused by the flood.

Use Rainbow flour, it can't be beat—you'll like it. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice, of Covington is the week-end guest of Mrs. Rice's mother, Mrs. Lizzie Bondurant.

While driving Saturday night with a boy friend from Ft. Thomas and Miss Margaret Edwards, Frank Helm crashed into a telephone pole, wrecking the car considerably. No injuries were sustained by the occupants.

Dan Hoffman, who fell last week from a ladder at his home, is improving very slowly.

The Earl Walton farm being sold to Mr. Arvin of Burlington, the Brady brothers will move to Artie Walton's house in town, known as the J. M. Grant residence.

Dr. T. E. Randall has resigned his position with the government and has returned home to stay.

We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Hubert Brady in the death of her mother, Mrs. Sutton at her home in Indiana.

The scare of flood is over now and the river is falling, having reached 80, the Petersburg folks were just a little uneasy.

For the last two weeks, E. A. Stott's truck has been delivering milk to Dayton, O. The reason for this was the Webber Dairy had no lights or water to bottle the milk.

James Hensley was severely cut on his head and face in an automobile accident Saturday night.

Mrs. Geo. Porter and son were spending the day Friday with her mother, Mrs. Ottis Rouse.

The school at this place opened Monday, after being closed for two weeks. The flood refugees were removed to Berkshire Hall until they could return to their homes in Lawrenceburg.

Lesson for February 14

JESUS THE GOOD SHEPHERD

LESSON TEXT—John 10:1-16.
GOLDEN TEXT—I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep. John 10:11.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Good Shepherd.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Good Shepherd.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Jesus Is Like a Shepherd.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Our Good Shepherd.

The blind man who had been healed had been cast out of the synagogue because he had given the glory for his healing to Jesus Christ, (see ch. 9). The door to that which stood for all that was sacred to him had been closed. Whither should he turn? Look! here comes someone seeking him. It is Jesus, who now declares that the door which men had closed was no true door at all, for he says, "I am the door of the sheep." Those who professed to be shepherding the flocks and who had cast this poor man out were but hirelings. Now he speaks to the One who says, "I am the good Shepherd."

Someone has suggested that the parable of the good shepherd presents the whole day in the life of the shepherd and his flock, morning, noon, and night, and typifies the ministry of Christ on our behalf in the varying circumstances of life.

I. In the Morning (John 10:1-6).

Flocks were sometimes kept in the field at night, as was the case on the night when Jesus was born in Bethlehem. But ordinarily they were brought into a sheepfold where many flocks gathered for protection. Thieves would climb the wall to steal sheep, but the shepherd, when he came in the morning to lead forth his flock, entered in by the door. He called out his flock by name and they knew his voice. It is said that only a sick sheep will follow a stranger, which may explain why so many false isms of our day appeal to the sick and lead them away from the Good Shepherd.

Do you know his voice? Have you responded to his call? Will you follow him? Decide now.

II. In the Heat of the Day (vv. 7-10).

Perhaps the sheep need to enter the fold to rest, if so he is the door. But they may wish to go out to the pasture—again he is the door. Belonging to Christ is not bondage. If any man enter in by Christ, the Door, he is free to go in and out, to find pasture, to live for and to serve him.

"The Door." What a striking figure! It is a means of entry, the only way in. Every door has two sides and the side we are on determines whether we are inside or outside—saved or lost. Children used to sing, and still do:

One Door and only one,
And yet its sides are two—
Inside and outside,
On which side are you?

III. When Night Comes (vv. 11-16).

The wolves come out as the shadows gather. They come to kill and to scatter. Where is the shepherd? If he is only a hireling, serving for what may "be in it" for him, he will flee. How perfectly this pictures religious leaders who, in spite of their swelling words and ingratiating manners, desert the flock in the hour of adversity. Fair weather friends are they, who disappear when darkness and danger appear.

In the darkest hour Jesus is nearest at hand. He never fails. He has no fear, for has he not tasted the bitter death of Calvary's tree for you and for me? He is the good shepherd. He giveth his life for the sheep. Those who have put their trust in him shall never be put to shame.

Because he has given his life for the sheep we must not forget nor neglect the truth found in verse 16. There are "other sheep" that have not yet been brought into the fold. They must be brought in, and we, on His behalf, must bring them, that there may "be one fold and one shepherd."

Penitence and Mercy

Man must not disclaim his brotherhood, even with the guiltiest, since though his hand be clean his heart has surely been polluted by the flitting phantoms of iniquity. He must feel that when he shall knock at the gate of Heaven no semblance of an unspotted life can entitle him to an entrance there. Penitence must kneel and Mercy come from the footstool of the Throne, or that golden gate will never open.—Nathaniel Hawthorne.

The Power of Prayer

The greatest thing anyone can do for God and for man is to pray. When one understands about prayer, and puts prayer in its right place, one finds that it is the doing that grows out of praying that is mightiest in touching human hearts.—S. D. Gordon.

The March of Life

In the march of life don't heed the order of "right about" when you know you are about right.—O. W. Holmes.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. J. G. Jones and family wish to express their thanks and appreciation to the Modern Woodmen relatives and friends, for their help in time of need. This kindness shall never be forgotten. 1t-p

Capt. Howard Fenton married a Tyrone, Ky., belle Wednesday nite. They are expected here tomorrow night. They will make Ludlow their future home. Here's to him and his bonny bride.

LOCAL NEWS—The Boone County Deposit Bank has put a new lock on the safe door, one that is locked and unlocked by the timer, doing away entirely with the combination and making the safe much more difficult to enter by blowing.

When it was ascertained that it would require $1200 to put up a telephone line from Burlington to Florence, the scheme was abantiabandoned. It was evident that the necessary amount could not be raised.

Attorneys Lassing and Riddell evidently anticipate a wave of prosperity, and ready to take care of their portion of same, have put a fire and burglar-proof safe in their office.

The only mouthpiece Burlington will ever have is The RECORDER. It will continue to speak for Burlington and the remainder of the county for some time to come.

About the largest snow of the winter fell last Sunday night. The ground was in no condition to receive it and travelling was rendered very slavish.

A gentleman being asked whether the fruit was killed, answered. "I am a candidate and must not express an opinion."

PERSONAL MENTION — Miss Susie Conner, of Hebron. a very pleasant young lady is here, the guest of her cousin, Miss Mattie Early.

Thomas Fleming and Dr. Louis Southgate, of Walton, were in Burlington Monday, on business in the County Clerk's office.

GREATEST FLOOD LOSS IS FIXED AT LOUISVILLE

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 2—A survey of flood damages in Louisville, based on statements from authorities, indicated the total loss would be much greater than the preliminary $100,000,000 estimated several days ago by city officials.

The survey, necessarily incomplete, included the original $100,000,000 which, George H. Sager, Jr., state engineer and director of WPA, said would cover personal, private and public properties, but would not include stocks in factories, warehouses and other buildings.

There was no one who would attempt to estimate the losses in wages, business, store stocks, household furnishings, or the cost to the city of its relief work.

From J. W. Masden, head of a large automobile agency, came an estimate of $2,900,000 damage to submerged automobiles. He based it on an average damage of $100 a vehicle. He said he believed 28,000 of Louisville's registered autos and trucks were under water. Rev. J. L. Fort, executive secretary of the Louisville Council of Churches, estimated $1,000,000 damages to the city's churches. Most of them were in the inundated area. Mayor Neville Miller's relief committee said it would give no details of flood loss.

A map prepared by the city engineer disclosed that 18 of the 19 largest factories and other industries in Louisville were in the flooded area. Robert McKim, an executive of a large dry goods store, and stores in the retail dry goods district in the downtown "Island" sufered little or no damage. He said they moved their stocks before backwater from sewers flooded the basements.

BOOM IN POULTRY RAISING

Poultry raising in Boyd county took a big jump last spring when an approved hatchery placed 300,000 chicks with farmers of that county. With the aid of good houses, proper feeding and culling, farmers have been well in line for profits from the improved prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Siekman had as Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crigler and family, of Hebron and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Aylor of Burlington.

THE TRUTH ABOUT HOLLWOOD

By A Country Boy

First, let me tell you that we will have in operation a real non-profit Service Studio for the benefit of the readers of this paper who intend to visit Southern California in the near future. This organization, known as "The Mansfield Service Studio," located at 6275 Selma Avenue, just a whisper off Hollywood Boulevard in the heart of Hollywood, will be opened to the public March 1, 1937.

There are no dues or fees to regular subscribers of this paper; you are entitled to all the privileges and courtesies that the Studio has to offer.

The purpose and intent of this studio is to keep you readers informed about Hollywood. We offer the following services:

To secure reasonabl hotel rates.
Provide headquartrs, where you may receive mail and telegrams.
Provide telephone service for city calls
Arrange theatre parties, shopping tours, and sightseeing trips.
Provide chaprones when ladies are travelling without escorts.

In short, we will make your visit to Hollywood interesting, and at the lowest possible cost. All that is required is to register your name and address in our Guest Book and present your letter of introduction, signed by the Editor of this paper—the letter from the Editor is most important.

In addition to these services, we will give you, through these columns aweekly personal interview story of some celebrity.

Do not let anyone mislead you about the glamor of Hollywood—thousands of talented and beautiful girls are working in restaurants and stores, who came to California with the thought of getting into the movies. As an illustration: Central Casting Office, the central clearing agency for exra work in all the studios—has over 17,0000 names on their books of men, women, boys and girls, all looking for work. Of this number less than one-third ever receive calls, and then only for a day or two.

Many folks from small communities have come to Hollywood and have made good. In fact, some of our best performers come from small towns. Talent is talent, no matter where you find it. If you really have talent and feel reasonably sure you can take a screen test, communicate with this Studio and we will refer you to a responsible casting director who will tell you the truth about your ability.

We will answer any question readers care to ask about Hollywood, thru this column. Address your letter to Mansfield Service Studio 6275 Selma Avenue, Hollywood, Calif.

Next week you will meet, thru this column, a famous old Trouper. Be on the lookout for THE TRUTH ABOUT HOLLWOOD.

A CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors for the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father, E. H. Clifton.

Especially do we thank Rev. O. J. Steger, Rev. H. D. Allen and Rev. D. B. Estep for their kindness and sympathetic words; David M. Hughes for the beautiful songs rendered; Dr. Yelton and Dr. Fortmeyer for their services; the donors of the floral offerings and Philip Taliaferro for the efficient manner in which he conducted the the funeral.

MANY WILD STORIES ABOUT THE FLOOD

During the past few days many stories have reached our office concerning the flood, many of which we were unable to check on. Therefore, we did not print them, as we were sure many of them were not true.

Some of the stories that reached us were such as a man driving a herd of cattle down the river in an outboard motor boat; house floating down river with man on top playing 'It Ain't Gonna Rain No More" on a harmonica; rats and snakes driving refugees from building, and many others of like nature.

During such a disaster as prevailed in the Ohio Valley, some people are incline to tell "tall stories," while some of the stories no doubt, were true, but it was impossible for us to check on them, hence they went unprinted.

Ray Cornehan has returned from Louisville, where he has been confined to a hospital. He is making his home in Covington at the present.

HAMILTON

Flood waters are receding, leaving the roads here full of drift and mud, and many vacant places, where homes, warehouses and other buildings once stood.

Mr. and Mrs. Asbury's new home will be the Big Bone Baptist parsonage; Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Pitcher will live in Covington with their children until they can build back; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Abdon went to Erlanger. These three houses were washed away.

Tom Huff is buying cleaning out his store, fixing the floor and counters, which were damaged by the flood. His home is badly damaged, having left its foundation and washed over in the next yard. He is making his home in his son's residence.

Wm. Huff, Jr.'s. home was badly damaged by flood, but they are living in the upstairs.

Garland Huff and family moved to Richmond, last Thursday to make his home there, until the middle of August so he can go to college there.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Sebree moved into a house on J. L. Jones' farm until he can build their home.

Prof. Asbury and family are visiting at Mt. Olivet for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Huff and daughter were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Black.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Asbury, of Mt. Olivet, visited their son Reuben and family one day last week, while he lived at the Woodman Hall.

FLOOD DESTROYS TRI-STATE WAREHOUSE CO.

Friday morning of last week we received a letter from the Tri-State Tobacco Warehouse Company cancelling all advertising in this paper. The letter stated that the warehouse was a complete loss, due to the flood.

This warehouse has handled many pounds of Boone County tobacco this year and in the past. The letter did not state whether the warehouse would be replaced or not.

REFUGEES MOVED TO BAPTIST CHURCH, HERE

Refugees which have been housed in the local school building were moved to the Batist Church last week, due to the opening of school Monday. According to reports received at this office, they will remain here until they are able to return to their homes.

HAVE A HOME GARDEN THIS YEAR

By John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture

This is the time of year to begin looking to the making of plans for the 1937 home garden. To those persons who have been growing their own vegetables, it is not news that this is a most wholesome practice in any year, but even to these it should be pointed out that, with high food prices now prevailing and these bidding fair to continue well into the summer, a home garden this year will be of especial value. Also, besides alleviating food-budget difficulties, a home garden furnishes vegetables of freshness and quality impossible to find even in the best markets.

To those persons who have ground space, but who have not been making it their practice to havehave a garden, may we paraphrase the slogan, "Ask any man to the home gardening fraternity are assured they will find it advantageous and pleasurable, too, to raise their own vegetables.

The secret of producing quality vegetables is to grow them quickly. This calls for moisture a-plenty, and for high fertility. The first requirement is met by turning under vegetable matter to decay and thus render the soil spongy.

The best material for this purpose is stable manure, but where it cannot be had in adequate quantity, tree-leaves, lawn clippings, composted vegetable tops and even weeds may be used. Good, too, is to turn under a coat of sod, preferably including legume, or a cover crop of rye, wheat or barley. In fact, a sod or a cover crop serves the extra purpose of having conserved plant food that would otherwise have been lost through winter soil-washing and thus becomes, in a way, fertilizer as well as soil conditioner.

In order to make sure that breaking-down will have progressed to the proper degree, the matter should be turned under at least a month before actual gardening is to be begun. In level gardens, even earlier breaking is advised; even though conditions are quite wet, no harm will result provided thorough freezing follows.

The fertility requirements for vegetables are partly met where manure is used, but always phosphorus should be applied in conjunction, and, for the early plantings of cabbage, radishes and lettuce, and sometimes onions, commercial nitrogen should be used as side-dressings. Where the humus material is anything else than manure, the vegetables' fertility needs must be met with complete commercial fertilizer, such as 3-8-6 4-8-8 or 5-10-5.

The way to apply phosporus is to broadcast 20 percent superphosphate at the rate of 100 pounds per quarter-acre, just before the land is gone over for the last time. Thus, it will be worked into the soil at vegetable root depth. Complete fertilizer is broadcast a few days previous to planting. The rate of application is one pound per 50 square feet of garden space, or to conserve it, it may be sown down the rows, in a strip 12 to 15 inches wide, at the rate of one pound per 30 running feet of row. The fertilizer should be chopped in with a hoe.

So much for the preparation of the garden spot; gardeners will do well to see to their tools, and to consider seriously the purchase of a good garden plow or wheel-hoe, for this implement can be made to save its purchase price several times each year. Tastes differ, but the writer prefers a single-wheel, low-wheel type, fitted with cultivator teeth niterchangeable with the scuffle-hoe or "best knife" attachments. In fact, the latter attachment, alone, will do everything that need be done in cultivating any crop in the garden.

Personal Mention

Cliff Norman, of Midway called at our office Monday morning, having his name placed our mailing list. He is another one of our Boone Countians who has recently become a subscriber to their county newspaper. We are more than glad to have him on our list.

Norman Klayer, editor of the Gallatin County News was a brief caller at this office Monday. Mr. Klayer will be remember by many of the Burlington residents, as he was employed here for several months during 1933 and 1934.

Mrs. Lucy Finnell was a business caller at this office Tuesday afternoon. She placed a classified advertisement in this issue.

Fred Heile called at our office one day recently, having his subscription moved up another year. Mr. Heile is from the Florence neighborhood.

H. Popham of the Union neighborhood was a caller at this office Thursday. While here he had his name placed on our mailing list. We are glad to have him as one of our new subscribers.

Mrs. B. C. Kirtley, of the Rabbit Hash neighborhood was a pleasant caller at this office Monday. While here she renewed her subscription. She stated that people in her neighborhood were unable to estimate their loss, until clean-up work could be finished. She also reported that all buildings with the exception of a barn were washed from the property of her son, Reuben Kirtley.

Raymond Sechrest, of Williamstown was a visitor in Burlington Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Sechrest is one of Grant county's most prosperous farmers. He stated to The Recorder that he was looking for tobacco crops and would offer fair prices.

W. R. Miller manager of the Avenue Cleaning and Pressing Shop, of Covington, stated that the reason he did not call in Burlington during the flood, all of his help and himself were busy on relief work. He stated that they worked many hours without any sleep.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Green received two cards Wednesday, one announcing the illness of their brother-in-law, Elias Boyle, of Hamilton, O., and the other, his funeral would be on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Green were very much devoted to Mr. and rs. Boyle, who have a wide scope of friends here.

Howard Evans, a Christian county Negro farmers, sold $130 worth of meat from his first hog killing.

ELIAS BOYLE

Elias Boyle, age 79, life-long resident of Hanover township, died early Monday at his home on the Darrtown pike following a week's illness of complications.

Mr. Boyle, a well known farmer, was a member of the Heistsman's special school board; was treasurer of the Hanover township school for eight years and was road trustee of Hanover for four years.

He was twice married, first to Miss Lizzie Hughes. To this union two children were born, John M. Boyle of Toledo, and Mrs. Lee Gillespie, deceased. He later married Miss Alice Moody, of Belleview, Ky. who survives. One sister, Mrs. Jacob Mehl of near Hamilton and three brothers, Henderson Boyle of Grammer, Ind., George and John Boyle, of near Hamilton, also survive.

NOW! Millions of more homes can have a genuine General Electric Refrigerator

THE NEW G-E Triple-Thrift REFRIGERATORS

1—You save on PRICE!

2—You save on CURRENT!

3—You save on UPKEEP!

1 It has always cost less to own a General Electric and now it costs less than ever to buy one. You now pay no more for a genuine G-E—look at the price tags!

2 Greater cold producing capacity and less current consumption. The year 'round operating cost of the G-E is much less than you are probably now paying for inadequate, irregular refrigeration.

3 The 10-year record of General Electric Refrigerators for trouble-free economical service stands alone and unchallenged... ask your neighbor!

See for Yourself!

Compare the cabinet styling, convenience features and usable storage capacity, the extra cold producing power, the low operating cost and the price.

The only refrigerator mechanism with forced-feed lubrication and oil cooling that means less current, longer life.

HOMEMAKERS TO HAVE CLUB HOUSE

The Henshaw Homemakers Club in Union county is planning to use logs from abandoned log buildings to construct a club house, which will be located on a graveled spur leading from Highway No. 85 to Henshaw, on land deeded to the club by Mr. and Mrs. Alf Johns.

The plans include two rooms, with a sliding partition that will permit the use of the whole building for meetings. A fireplace and kitchen will be put in one room, where the club members will do their entertaining.

Husbands of club members will assist in locating the logs, in hauling them to the club house grounds and in construction.

The buildings, according to Miss Sadie Wilgus, home demonstration agent, will be used by 4-H clubs, the Farm Bureau, Parent-Teachers' clubs and for school entertainments, as well as for home demonstration work.

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

The Crittenden County Strawberry Growers Association is planning to make a survey of the number of acres in plants, the condition of the plans, the number for sale and the number of acres which growers plan to set. Plans also will be made for cooperative marketing.

Fifty-tow purebred bulls were taken into Knott county last year, in the campaign to rid Knott of scrub sires. Plans call for the replacement of all scrub sires with purebreds before the end of 1938.

Madison county farmers are finding horse and mule production profitable. Last year they imported 100 brood mares from Illinois, and the year before they bought 300 mares. Mostly mules will be raised from them.

Charles Davis, living near Arlington in Carlisle county, grew 25 acres and 60,000 pounds of beans last year. He employed as many as 47 pickers at a time, paying 75 cents a hundred pounds for gathering the beans.

H. O. Hall, Harlan county, one of the largest beekeepers in the state, gathered 2,300 pounds of honey in 1936, despite the drouth. The year before he harvested 3,000 pounds from 44 colonies.

Otis Powell, living near Stanton, received 2,731 eggs from his flock of 145 Rhode Island Reds last month, proceeds from the sale of which added $84.78 to his income for the months.

A circular published by the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington deals with the Kentucky seed law and rules and regulations goverining the sale of agricultural seeds within the state. It will be of special interest to persons and concerns selling seeds, as well as to farmers buying seed.

THE FARM AND HOME
(Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station)

Gloom, bad temper and ill talk ruin the meal hour. Be rested and in a cheerful mood when going to the table. Do not eat hurriedly. If time is limited, eat only as much food as time permits in a slow, leisurely manner.

Eggs are 66 per cent water, 13 per cent protein, 11 per cent minerals and 10 per cent fat. Therefore, feed accordingly, for best laying results. Hens must eat the materials from which eggs are made, or else not lay to capacity.

Where wood is plentiful lime stone can be burned as cheaply as it can be ground on the farm. When 15 cents per hour is allowed for labor and $1 per cord for wood, the cost of burning limestone usually does not exceed $2 a ton.

Seams should be as small as is suitable for the material. Patterns usually make allowances for three-eighths of an inch. If a wider seam is desired, allowance should be made for it in cutting the cloth. There are several types and variations of seams.

The modern kitchen is built inside-out. That is ,the interior order of arrangement of the equipment is planned first, and then the walls and openings placed around them. This of necessity requires careful planning, but gives highly desirable results.

Chicks should remain in the incubator or shipping boxes until ready for their first feed. Care should be taken that they do not become chilled. This means that the brooder should be run a day or two in advance of their arrival, to be certain it is operating correctly.

HOMEMAKERS HELP BEAUTIFY GROUNDS

Proposing to beautify their communities, Warren county homemakers have cleaned and reseeded lawns, set trees and shrubs, grown flowers, painted houses, removed or remodeled unsightly buildings, cleaned and rearranged yards. The homemakers have spent $225 on school and church grounds at Smith's Grove and their program includes improving the grounds of all schools and churches in the county.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE RULES AND REGULATIONS

Many employers throughout the State are unaware that they are liable for contributors for unemployment.

This item is intended to reach all employers in this area in order to relieve them of full liability to both the State and Federal governments.

According to the law, passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor on December 29th, 1936, employers of eight or more must pay to the state nine-tenths of one per cent of their payroll for that year. These contributions must be in the hands of the Commission at Frankfort not later than February 27, 1937. In determining the payroll for state purposes the wages of those persons doing other than manual labor and earning more $2600.00 a year are to be excluded. If he does manual labor, regardless of what his earnings are, he is not to be excluded.

All employers, regardless of the number they employ, must send in a report to Determine Liability. However, no Contribution Report is required unless they are liable under the Act.

After the employer remits his contribution to the state, he will then report to the Federal Government the amount of his total payroll and remit to them one per cent of all wages paid by him, less the amount paid the state. The Federal Government will be notified by the state that he employer has paid his state contribution.

In the event the employer does not make his contribution by the deadline date he will be liable for nine-tenths of one perecent to the state and one per cent to the Federal Government. He can be relieved of this extra burden by remitting nine-tenths of one per cent of his payroll to the State Unemployment Compensation Commission at Frankfort before the deadline date. When this is done, he will remit to the Federal Government only the difference between one per cent of his total payroll and the amount paid to the state. The law provides for certain exemptions. Among them are: agricultural labor, domestic service in a private home, and service of persons under twenty-one years of age in the employ of their ather, mother, son, daughter or spouse.

For the calendar year of 1937, employers of four or more individuals will deduct from the wages of each employe nine-tenths of one per cent of his or her wages and hold this amount in trust together with the employer's contribution until it is requested by the Commission. The employer's contribution for the calendar year of 1937 will be 1.8 per cent of his payroll. For instance: If an employee is earning $20.00 per week the employer will deduct 18 cents from his wages, taking care to notify him for what purpose the deduction was made. The employer will set aside 36 cents as his contribution on this person's wages and will remit both contributions, upon demand, in the amount of 54 cents.

These references pertain to unemployment contributions and nothing else. These contributions are exclusive of old age benefits and any other social security taxation.

All remittances, communications or inquires should be addressed to the Unemployment Compensation Commission at Frankfort.

LIST PAYMENTS IN 1937 FARM PROGRAM

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 9—A statement issued at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture calls the attention of farmers to ways in which they can cooperate in the agricultural conservation program this year.

In brief, farmers can receive payments for diverting soil-depleting crops to soil-conserving crops, and for the use of soil-building practices.

Burley tobacco growers will be paid 5 cents a pound for the estimated yield on land diverted to other crops, up to 25 percent of their tobacco base. Dark tobacco growers will receive 3½ cents a pound up to 30 percent of the base. About $9 an acre will be paid for changing general soil-depleting crops to soil-conserving crops.

Under soil-building practices, farmers will receive 05 cents per 100 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate used, and $1.50 a ton for limestone applied ,except in certain eastern counties where hte pay will be $2 to $2.50 a ton.

The pay for sowing alfalfa will be $2.50 an acre; red and mammoth clovers and sericea lespedeza $2 an acre; crimson, alsike and sweet clover, orchard grass, vetch and annual lespedeza, $1.50 an acre; white and bur clover, redtop, timothy and mixtures, $1 an acre; for plowing under green manure and cover crops, $1 to $1.50 an acre; for setting trees, $5 to $7.50 an acre, and for thinning and otherwise improving old stands of trees, $2.50 an acre.

BARREN LESPEDEZA ACREAGE INCREASES

The annual report of County Agent J. O. Horning shows that 30,000 acres of lespedeza were sowed in Barren county in 1936. About 2,000 farmers used 375,0000 pounds of seed. There now are 80,000 acres of lespedeza in the county, worth, at the conservative valuation of farmers growing it, at least $800,000. Seven years ago there was no lespedeza in the county.

MUSIC FESTIVAL TO BE HELD UNIVERSITY OF KY. APRIL 29TH AND 30TH

An All-State Chorus, directed by Dr. Hollis Dann, New York City, one of the outstanding music educators and choral directors in the United States, will be a feature of the Kentucky High School Music Festival which will be held at the University of Kentucky, April 29 and 30.

Doctor Dann has been a leading spirit in public school music for a great many years, and has organized many state, regional and national choruses. He will be one of the judges in the Music Festival. The All-State High School Chorus which will be presented under Doctor Dann's direction, will be given the night of April 30.

The Chorus will be composed of approximately 400 pupils and represent most of the leading high schools of the state. These pupils will be carefully chosen and trained by their teachers for this particular occasion. The day before the program the pupils will meet for rehearsal under the direction of Doctor Dann.

Schools which have not yet registered for the All-State Chorus and wish to be represented should write to the department of University Extension, University of Kentucky, for full information. The All-State Chorus will be restricted to those schools which make arrangements early for their pupils to participate.

Those schools which have already registered for the chorus are: Augusta Tilgham, Paducah; Ashland Senior; Bellevue; Black Star; Alva; Bourbon County, Millersburg; Breckinridge Training, Morehead; Carlisle; Crescent Springs; Cumberland, Praise; Danville; Dayton; Edmonston; Falmouth; Flemingsburg; Frankfort; Frenchburg; Georgetown; Glendale; Harlan; Heath; Henry Clay, Lexington; Highlands, Ft. Thomas; Jenkins; Lancaster; Madison, of Richmond; Mayfield; M. M. I., Millersburg; Mt. Sterling; Ormsby Village, Anchorage; Owsley County, Booneville; Paris; Picadome; Prestonsburg; Pineville; Powell County, Stanton; Prichard, Grayson; Russell; St. Catherine Academy, Lexington; Shepherdsville; Somerset; Versailles; Vine Grove, and University High.

Every school which has a music department should be represented, even if by only two or three voices. Schools may yet register and order music at the same time, or state that they are already supped.

* * *

"What's in a name?" questions a feature writer on the Kentucky Kernel, student newspaper at the University of Kentucky, and then proceeds to go through the student directory, pointing out that an Abott does not necessarily have to head a monastery, two Abels, are University co-eds and not biblical characters, and that six Bakers are studying everything but home economics.

Two Barnes will be found in the College of Commerce and the College of Arts and Sciences; six Bells are scattered all over the campus; and, according to the feature writer, "the Belt I'd like to have around me is Jean Pat." Six Bishops and a Bosse keep the campus straight; Boyle is in the regiment instead of on the neck; and Brooks and Bushes are not all in the country, several being scattered around the University buildings.

There are four Cannons, two Carrs, one Cash, a Cave a Cliff, a Clay, as well as Crooks, Foxes and Farmers. "And Then," concludes the potential journalist, "there's that guy Kerler, who always gets in the girls' hair."

GASBURG

When we listen to the radio or read the newspaper we either hear or read about the flood districts being patroled and that every precaution is taken for safety. Well, the Gasburg Bridge district can boast of the same thing, thanks to the efficient service of Major A. H. Cook, even after the bridge is open to truck traffic he shouts to adults to stay away from the water thinking that they are eleven or twelve year-old children.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith and son and Mrs. Geo. Hartman are with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Baker during the flood.

Mrs. Howard Huey and children have returned from Petersburg, where they have been with Mr. and Mrs. John Berkshire during the high water.

Mrs. Frank Buffington has returned from Cincinnati, where she has been the guest of her daughter and having her arm treated.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Rogers and daughter spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Arnold.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burns and son, Billy, spent Wednesday in Cincinnati.

Ray Cook called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles White Sunday.

Use Rainbow flour, it's the best you can buy. adv.

Aubrey Finn called on Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rector and daughter Saturday.

Rev. Elmer Kidwell took supper with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Arnold Sunday evening.

W. O. Rector made a trip to Lexington Monday of this week with tobacco for the Aylor brothers and Brady brothers.

Albert Kettle called on Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hensley and son Sunday evening.

We feel like we are back to civilization now. We had our first telephone service Saturday for over two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Cook and family spent Sunday viewing the floode ddistricts in Northern Kentucky. On their return home they stopped in Burlington to see Mrs. Cook's sister, Mrs. Tom Rice Rice who is ill.

Mrs. Andy Cook is at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. John Maurer, who is quite ill.

Miss Mary Rector called on Mrs. Cordie Cox and sons Saturday afternoon.

The Terrill Branch bridge was open to traffic Wednesday, the first time in thirteen days and the Woolper bridge was open to traffic Saturday morning, the first time in twenty-three days.

Lloyd Acra says that there will be a higher flood in February than the last one and John Harold Cook is preparing for it. No he is not building an ark, he is building a skiff—it is nearly completely.

Mrs. Mary Berkshire, Mrs. Edward Keim and Mrs. E. W. Keim and children, spent one day last week with Mrs. Hugh Arnold.

Louis Hensley has been ill the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. William McGuire and family spent Sunday in Lawrenceburg, viewing the effects of the flood.

Mrs. Nat Rogers and Mrs. Alvin Buffington spent one afternoon with Mrs. Hugh Arnold.

Miss Lydia McGuire has been with Mr. and Mrs. Omer McGuire several days this past week. Mr. McGuire is quite ill.

We are sorry indeed, to hear of the deaths of Perry Pressor and Mrs. Joel Jameson and Mrs. Mae Hubbard. May God comfort the hearts of their families.

The flood was a terrible destruction here, taking houses, barns and everything in its path.

These are some of the people living here who were damaged by the recent flood: Reuben Kirtley, barns and house badly damaged with feed destroyed; I. D. Isaacs home damaged, buildings moved, feed destroyed and some chickens; John Setter's home floated away with all his furniture; Sam Setters home damaged; Ezra Aylor, feed and other damages done; D. E. Ogden, home damaged and lost part of his feed for his stock and most dreadful of all water entered the home of Lennie Hubbard and in this home was Mrs. Mae Hubbard, who had just jassed away, and her son, Lennie was right at the oint of death. The water forced them upstairs, and later they had to be moved to the home of Kenneth Aylor near Big Bone Baptist Church, were Lennie could receive medical care. Due to the flood a doctor could not be procured, so they moved both Lennie and his mother to Mr. Aylor's, where funeral services for Mrs. Mae Hubbard were held last Wednesday. At last reort Lennie was improving slowly.

Site In Oldham Co. Is Considerd For New Prison

Chandler Asks U. S. Aid—Governor In Washington Says State Ready To Proceed With Plans To Erect New Plant

Washington, Feb. 15—Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky came here today for a general conference with mayors of flood stricken cities in the state and members of the Kentucky delegation in congress.

The governor last week completed a tour of flooded areas along the Ohio and its tributaries in Kentucky.

The state. he announced is ready to go ahead with plans for a new $1,600,000 prison to replace the flooded Frankfort state reformatory. He expressed confidence the public works administration would make a grant of 45 per cent of the total cost. A 2,500-acre site in Oldham county, he said, is being "seriously considered."

Flood relief measures and plans to extend credit to municipalities from the new $20,000,000 flood disaster fund were subjects of the conference here, called at 2 p. m.

Chandler was accompanied by Major F. S. Lebkuecher of the Kentucky national guard and State Highway Commissioner Robert Humphreys.

EXTENSION ASSOCIATION SELECTS OFFICERS

Boone County Community Program of Work chairman and county project leaders held their annual County Extension Association meeting at Burlington last Tuesday, Feb. 9th. The meeting was represented by 100 per cent of the community chairman present.

The 1937 County Agricultural Extension Improvement Program approved by the County Extension Association Committee includes:

Tobacco—The goal set for tobacco is 20 curing demonstrations, 6 fusarium wilt-resistant variety No. 16 and 4 field meetings and tours.

Pasture and Hay Improvement—64 demonstrations on lime, phosphate and seeding mixtures, 8 demonstrations and 4 meetings on Korean and one lime pulverizer for the county. T. V. A. phosphate.

Farm Accounts—15 farm account records for the county.

4-H Club—Goal is 400 members for the county.

Truck Crops—7 wilt resistant varity tsts for melons.

Corn—2 hybrid seed corn demonstrations.

Fruits—2 field meetings and one grape demonstration.

Sheep—5 purebred rams and a circular letter and recommendations on intestinal parasite control.

Poultry—Winter poutlry school; summer poultry tour; six brooding and flock demonstrations; quality egg marketing.

Dairy—Test dairy cows for Bang's disease; purebred cattle.

Marketing—Quality egg production; truck crop permits on Tenth Street market; wool pool; cooperative amrketing of tobacco.

Utopia—50 members.

The following officers were elected for 1937: J. C. Bedinger, chairman; J. F. Cleek, vice chairman and Franklin Huey, secretary. The Boone County Extension Association is composed of all farmers in the county working together toward greater agricultural improvement through a sound educational program, combined and affiliated with cooperating agencies.

W. D. Brown, of Belleview, was a brief caller at this office Tuesday reporting that he has lost considerable land, due to the slipping of the banks. He also renewed his subscription for another year.

FLOOD COUNTIES FIRST IN LINE

FOR AUDITING AND CERTIFYING APPLICATIONS FOR PAYMENTS, ACCORDING TO REPORT.

"The East Central Division has advised us that counties in the flood area will be given preference in regard to auditing and certifying application for payments," said John E. Crigler, Secretary of the Boone County Agricultural Conservation Association. He further stated that assurance has been given that payments will be forthcoming within the next few days.

All payments have been greatly delayed owing to the fact that the Washington office was setting up the final rates of payment and the deduction rates for administrative expenses for all counties in order that all payments could be made in a single check. It was previously planned to pay only 90 per cent of the total payment in the first chck. Class I payments or payment for the reduction of tobacco and general soil depleting crops will be increased by 5 per cent over the original rates. This increase will be approximately the amount needed to pay administrative expenses for operating the association.

33RD DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

TO BE HELD AT WALTON MARCH 4TH, 5TH AND 6TH—WINNERS WILL COMPETE AT REGIONAL TOURNEY IN DAYTON.

The 33rd District Basketball Tournaent will be held at the Walton-Verona school March 4, 5 and 6th. This district is ade up only of Boone County schools, which are Burlington, Florence, Hamilton, Hebron, New Haven and Walton-Verona.

The annual tournament is held to determine winners to meet the second week in March in a Regional Tournament. The Northern Kentucky Regional will be held at Dayton. Both the winner and the runner-up teams will advance to the Regional. Only the winners from the various regional tournaments advance to the State Tournament which is held in Lexington each year the week following the Regional meets.

The principals and coaches of Boone County met at Walton Monday evening to make final plans for the District Torney. At this meeting referees were elected who will officiate throughout the tournament, Robert Coldwell and Carl Austing were first choices and have accpted the offer to officiate. These en have worked Boone County games before, and everyone knows the high type of service they have given.

Mr. Coop, teacher in the Walton school, and Mr. McNeely, teacher in the Burlington school were chosen as time-keeper and scorer rspctivly. The price of admission was set at 35c for adults and 20c for students, the same as last year. These prices will prevail throughout the entire tournament. Announcement will be made later if season tournament tickets may be had at reduced prices.

Class B Teams To Have Tourney

Since there are no girls' teams in Boone County this year, the school officials are holding a tournament for reserve players or B class teams in conjunction with the regular tournament. This feature will bring many future first-string boys before the sports loving public. These younger boys will have both a winning trophy and runner-up trophy to play for, which is sufficient reason for any lad to give his best for his team.

Much good will come through seasoning of these youngsters as they participate in a county elimination series of games. Winners of the B teams do not advance to the Regional tournament.

CAHILL -- ROUSE

Miss Helen Cahill, Florence, and Mr. W. A. Rouse, Burlington, were united in marriage Sunday, at Bedford, Ky.

Miss Cahill is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cahill, who reside on the Dixie Highway near the Boone-Kenton line, and Mr. Rouse is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rouse, of Burlington.

After their marriage ceremony at Bedford by Rev. C. P. Pillow, M. E. Pastor, they toured through Central Kentucky, returning home Monday afternoon. They plan to make their home in Burlington.

Mr. Rouse operates a pool room and grocery store, formerly managed by Dr. R. Blythe.

Their many friends here wish them much happiness and prosperity.

LUCAS -- RYLE

This community was surprised to hear of the marriage of Miss Betty Lucas, Burlington, to Mr. Leon Ryle, Grant. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Lucas, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ryle, Grant.

They were married Saturday afternoon, Feb. 6 at the Belleview Baptist Church. Rev. Raymond Smith performed the ceremony.

Mr. Ryle, better known as "Shake" is employed by the Kentucky-Ohio Supply Co., and the young couple expect to make their home in Covington.

We, their many frinds in Boone County, wish them much happiness and prosperity during their married life.

Aurora To Provide For Flood Homeless

Aurora, Ind., Feb. 13—Work will be started here immediately to provide housing accommodations for 150 families made homeless by the flood. Twenty or more rooms will be built in the dance pavillion in the city park and others will be built in the Boy Scout lodge also in the park.

The U. S. Army will supervise and construct a tent colony in the park to provide for other homeless. Labor will be supplied by PWA and material by the Red Cross.

The neighboring city of Lawrenceburg, also hard hit by the flood, will house approximately 300 families in army tents to be constructed in the suburban section of Greendale.

REV. HAUTER DELIVERS INTERESTING SERMON

"The Grace of God" was the subject of a sermon delivered by the Rev. Howard Hauter, pastor of the Hopeful Evangelical Lutheran Church, Florence, y., as nine ministrs, members in the Greater Cincinnati United Lutheran Pastor's Association worshipped at a Lenten Retreat held at Rev. Hauter's Church Monday morning, Feb. 15.

The Sacrament of the Altar was administered by the Rev. Roger G. Imhoff, pastor of the St. Paul's English Lutheran Church, Cincinnati.

Rev. Hauter is secretary to the association, the following members of which worshipped at the Lenten service: the Reverend Misters Irwin Spees, J. W. Kapp, H. L. Meister and W. J. Runk, of Cincinnati, and David M. Funk, Newport, Lorin Spenny, Covington and C. M. Danford, Bellevue.

BOONE COUNTY ANSWERS CALL

DURING RECENT FLOOD—LOCAL RED CROSS CHAIRMAN HAS NOTHING BUT PRAISE FOR THOSE AIDING IN RELIEF.

The Ohio and Mississippi Rivers and their tributaries have in recent weeks caused the greatest disaster in the history of our country. Nothing short of war has ever placed so many people in jeopardy at one time, and the generosity of the people in their response to the special Red Cross appeal is fully justified.

Boone County has suffered its greatest disaster at the damage will amount to about $250,000.00 Many homes are entirely washed away, many damaged beyond repair, and many others badly damaged, but we should be proud of the fact that we are citizens of a county that responded so liberally and generously to the call of the local Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The Citizens of Boone County in the name of the Red Cross met the emergency by feding about two hundred flood sufferers during the first week, enough clothing was given by Boone County citizens to take care of all needs in this County and the surplus was sent to Kenton County, a great amount of food was sent in to Red Cross headquarters in Hebron, Petersburg, and Burlington which was used to feed the flood victims that were being cared for in the school buildings.

A great number of Boone County citizens gave their time, energy and money in meeting this desperate situation, but due to the splendid spirit of cooperation and good fellowship they took care of the emergency.

C. L. Cropper chairman of Boone County Chapter American Red Cross, said, "We wish to thank every citizen of the County who helped in any way during this, our greatest disaster for they are the one due the credit for meeting the emergency."

This photo, taken just below Constance, shows a part of the large drift collections along the Ohio during the recent flood. Many tons of lumber were collected in these drifts.

NO PAYMENT UNDER ACP FOR EUROPEAN SEEDS

No payments will be made for the sowing of European Red Clover seeds under the ACP according to David Colville, Assistant County Agent.

European seeds are stained so that they ay be easily recognized. French and Italian Red Clovers are slower in growing produce a smaller plant and die out sooner than our native clovers. Even though European clover seeds sell for a few dollars a bushel less than native seed, farmers are running a great deal of risk in buying the cheaper unadapted clover seed.

ERLANGER BOY KILLED BY TRAIN

WHILE WATCHING SWITCH ENGINE—SON OF REV. LESLIE SPARKS PASTOR OR ERLANGER CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

His childish fancy centered on the operations of a switch engine on the southbound track, 11-year-old Samuel Sparks, Graves avenue, Erlanger, was killed instantly by a northbound commuter train as he stood on the Stevenson avenue crossing of the Southern railroad at Erlanger Friday.

Suffering a brain concussion and the loss of his left foot, the youth was removed to the office of Dr. O. E. Senior, where he was pronounced dead.

Young Sparks, the son of Rev. Leslie Sparks, pastor of the Erlanger Christian Church, and Mrs. Sparks, was en route to his home from school when the tragedy happened. He was but three blocks from his home.

Coroner James P. Riffe will impanel a jury this week to investigate the case.

Besides his parents, the youth leaves four brothers, John, Blair, William and Paul Sparks. The minister's family had moved to Erlanger several weeks ago from Indianapolis, Ind.

Funeral services were held at the Taliaferro funeral home, Erlanger, Monday at 9:30 a. m., interment being at Maysville.

C. A. Berkshire, of Belleview was a brief caller at this office Friday. He stated that the slide at Belleview has caused considerable damage to residential property and to the lock located there.

Gayety Theater Has Two Big Attractions

The Gayety Theatre is proud to announce the showing of two outstanding attractions in one week. Namely, "Big Broadcast of 1937" head by that popular radio star, Jack Benny, for showing Sunday and Monday. UTOPIANS TO HEAR W. W. MAGILL, FRUIT SPECIALIST

W. W. Magill will be the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Boone County Utopia Club Thursday night, Feb. 18th, according to David Colville, Assistant County Agent. Mr. Magill will be in the county for an all day fruit meeting and tour.

The educational program is in charge of Mary Rector. She has chosen Room Improvement and Clothing as her subject for discussion.

The Hebron group is in charge of entertainment, with Robert Graves, Chairman.

VERONA MAN IS INJURED

WHEN STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE NEAR FLORENCE—FACE, HEAD AND SHOULDER ARE INJURED.

Ben Sutton, 50 years old, Rural Route 2, Verona, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington, late Wednesday, February 10th, suffering from cuts on the face and head and a disclocated shoulder.

Sutton was struck by an automobile when walking on Route 42, a mile and a half west of Florence. Chambers and Grubbs ambulance removed him to Covington.

Hospital attendants were told Sutton walked in front of the automobile, when he started to cross the highway to his brother's parked automobile. The name of the driver of the automobile that hit Sutton was not learned.

Survey Shows Loss To County Exceeds $250,000

County Will Need Fifty Carloads of Feed to Offset Shortage Caused by Flood—River Falling At Rate of .1¼ Ft. Hour

According to a flood report made by a well selected committee of reliable farmers and business men, the approximate loss to property in Boone County will exceed $250,000, an increase of $150,000 over predictions made a few weeks ago. No definite figure can be set for the entire damage, as property owners themselves, are unable to determine their exact loss.

There has been no more serious slipping at U. S. Dam 38 or Belleview, according to E. E. Newman, Lockmaster, and work has already been started to repair that portion that was damaged at the dam. So far, there has been no figure set for the loss at the Dam, but in a short while we will be able to give a report, provided the river continues to fall. The loss of land and damage to property by soil slipping is going to reach figures almost unbelievable. Many of our river bottom farmers are reporting sinking places in their land, even though the water never reached them. Many of them are of the opinion that all the land known as the Belleview bottoms is resting on what used to be the river bed of the Ohio, and for some reason or another the river has changed its course. At points where the slides have caved as far as fifty or sixty feet, it is nothing but white sand and gravel. There is no solid foundation whatsoever, and in the course of a hundred yars we might all be surprised to see how Mother Nature could change the appearanc of things on this earth.

In the opinion of the committee on questions below concerning conditions for this county, are as follows:

Estimated number farmers suffering flood damage 215.

Quantity hay destroyed by the flood 715 tons. Corn 14,300 bushels. Other fed 1500 tons.

Acres of small grain including small grain pasture destroyed or seriously injured 500.

Number livestock destroyed by the flood. Cattle none; hogs none; horses and mules none; sheep none; poultry 600.

Will it be necessary to import feed? Yes. Approximate number of cars neded of hay 40 cars; grain 10 cars.

Number farm dwellings destroyed 30; value $30,000.

Number other farm buildings destroyed 75. value $35,000.

Number farm dwelling damaged 200; amount of damage $20,000.

Number other farm buildings damaged 125; amount of damage $8,000.

Damage to land (1) excessive erosion 40,000 acres; (2) deposits of silt and gravel 3,000 acres.

Any other property damage not covered above $75,000.

Number of farmers who will need loans on account of flood 115; amount $75,000; Number of these who can borrow from local sources or P. C. A. 85; amount $67,000; Number of these who will need to borrow from Rural Rehabilitation or other emergency agencies 30; amount $7,500.

SURVEY TO BE MADE BY RED CROSS AGENT

As soon as possible the American Red Cross will send an agent to Boone County to make a survey and an investigation of the flood damage and those persons who have lost their homes or whose homes and property have been damaged and are not financially able to replace or repair the homes will be assisted by the Red Cross.

The assistance to be given by the American Red Cross will be based on the actual need of those who are unable to re-establish themselves.

RIVER YIELDS SEVEN BODIES

DEATH TOLL AT PADUCAH IS 51 SINCE RIVER OVERFLOWED — SIGHTSEERS POURING ING INTO PADUCAH.

Paducah, Ky., Feb. 15—Many of this city's 35,000 people today set about clearing Ohio river flood debris from their homes, among which seven bodies of victims were found Sunday, bringing the death toll since the river poured over 95 per cent of the city to 51 persons.

The corpses, found in bed or sprawled in chairs in their recently submerged homes, mutely depicted the relentless surge of the flood over Paducah. One man, Charles U. Parks, 22, was found in a gutter. He lost his life last Tuesday when a boat capsized. The dead were taken to Mayfield where a special morgue has handled the victims from Paducah.

The river's rapid fall left most of the city clear of water by today but hundreds of tons of muck and filth covered what once were thousands of homes, factories and stores. Gus G. Meyer, Washington Red Cross disaster xpert, mapped plans to help rehabilitate homes. "As soon as we complete the mass emergency relief work, we shall turn our attention to the individual," he said.

Although Red Cross begged them to stay away, sightseers poured into paducah by hundreds Sunday. Two men were arrested, accused of looting.

$1,500,000 SPENT ON KENTUCKY FLOOD RELIEF

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 11—Approximaely $1,500,000 has been spent to date on flood relief in Kentucky, A. L. Schafer, regional Red Cross director, said today.

In addition Schafer said hundreds of carloads of food and other supplies have been distributed.

The Red Cross has actually cared for 220,000 flood refugees with more than half of the number from Louisville.

Schafer, who came here from the west coast, left today on a two-day tour of flood areas in central and western Kentucky. He expects to remain in the state two to three months, he said.

FORMER BOONE MAN WEDS INDIANA GIRL

Morris B. Rice, of Williamstown, and Mary E. Maupin, of Geneve, Ind., were married February 4th, at Breedton, Fla., on the Gulf Coast, and will be at home to their friends at 314 East Jackson St., Orlando, Fla., until March.

Mr. Rice was a former resident of this county, residing near Rabbit Hash for some time. His many friends here wish him a very happy voyage down the sea of matrimony.

SALES EXCEED LAST YEAR'S

VOLUME OF LEAF AUCTIONED IN LEXINGTON OVER 54,000,000 POUNDS — PRICES STEADY MONDAY.

With Monday's sales, the volume of leaf auctioned on the Lexington looseleaf market, exceeded the amount sold last season when a much larger crop was raised.

Monday's sales at nine of the 11 warehouses still open pushed past the 54,652,413 pound figure sold last season. Money paid for 1936-grown tobacco this season has doubled the amount paid for a corresponding volume last season. The season's average is $36.80 as compared with $19.77, last season's average.

Prices were steady Monday as the ninth week of the current sales season got under way. Houses still open for receipt and sale of leaf include the Virginia Avenue, Fayette No. 1, Farmers, Manchester Street, Fourth Street, Shelbourne, Jwell, Anglin Avenue, Independent No. 2, Gentry No. 1 and Little Broadway.

Although receipts were light, sales are expected to continue daily throughout this week, Ben Bosworth, sales supervisor, said.

Two sets of buyers started the week's buying.

WAR IS HELL

But there is something worse than War You are not safe even at home in this modern machine age. Automobiles alone, have killed more people in the past 15 years than all of the wars of the United States in 150 years.

The following figures have been gathered from reliable sources, showing comparative losses of human life from various causes.

The World War killed 50,150 persons, autos killed in the past 18 months 55,500 and deaths caused from home accidents in the past 18 months amounts to 47,250. Each hour last year eleven persons were killed, 1,100 were disabled from accidents, and a total of over 100,000 were killed and over 9,000,000 injured during the year.

The record for 1935 motor vehicle accidents was 37,000 fatalities, 105,000 permanently disabled and 4,460,000 tempoary disabilities. Public acidents not involving motor vehicles during 1935 was 18,000 fatalities, 60,000 permanently disabled, and 2,100,000 temporary disabilities.

The average annual period of disability of employed persons in the United States is 9.8 days. The most common causes of sickness and the total number of cases are: Pneumonia 969,923, Heart disease, 577,043, Kidney disease 564,765, Tuberculosis 131,000, cancer 69,992 and Typhoid fever 22,217.

Ninety per cent of the people in our hospitals were never disabled until they went there for the condition they are now suffering from—Million of dollars each year are spent for doctors' and nurses' services, medicine, etc. Still more millions are lost in salaries, and loss of income.

One out of every six persons each year are disabled from sickness or accident. You must protect yourselves and your families. Every person should have some form of insurance to protect your income during such emergencies.

Your family needs food, clothing, and shelter. You can get along without everything except these three items. These three things are dependent upon your income. Therefore, you have to protect your inocme with some form of insurance, if you are to be secure in life.

If you are not protected with insurance of some form, get in touch with some reliable agent, and he will gladly explain the details to you.

For the sake of your family and yourself, PLAY SAFE!

A LETTER

The following letter was received from our East Bend corresondent:

Union, Ky., R. 1,
February 8th, 1937

Boone County Recorder.
Dear Editor:

I have tried so hard to get the weekly news in but have found it impossible.

I was almost completely surrounded by water and I only had twenty people in my home that were run out by water. Some were crying, other nearly worried to death. and then there I was water about 2 feet from our house and in the midst of my trouble, I was trying to cheer the other people.

But thank God I was only glad that my prayer and God's blessed help, the water did not quite reach our home, and again I am thankful that we were willing and ready to lend a helping hand to those in time of need.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. Henry Black.

OBSERVATIONS

Supreme Court

The conservative opposition lining up to fight Roosevelt's weak as milk court reform seems to be as completely blind to fact as the Bourbons in the last campaign.

Walter Lipman, usually calm columnist, goes into a St. Vitus dance of impotent wrath and comes out saying "It's audacity is without parallel. For while other Presidents have quarrel with the courts, no President has ever asked for the personal power to remake the courts to suit himself."

People with such ideas would have been interesting to know in boyhood. Ten to one, they saw ghosts in graveyards, burglars under the bed and bogey men every time it got dark. Cowards all, without the courage to face facts if so doing means changing any preconceived ideas or settled way of life.

As a matter of fact who could remake the courts but the President. Surely, they would not divest itself of any of its power. To assume that would mark the assumer as being very unsophisticated. Men haven't yet reached the stage where they voluntarily give up power to make changes in the court. The Constitution provides that the initiative must come from the Executive by and with the consent of the Senate.

Thus we have our system of checks and balances. A lop-sided system of checks, if you ask me, as long as one of our three departments of government checks the other two without being itself subject to some check by one or both of the other two departments.

Congress is checked by the Executive, thru his veto power. The President is checked by the legislature by the privilege of overriding the veto and by the privilege of refusing to vote funds to the Executive.

The action of both as subjected to being overruled by the courts. But what checks the Supreme Court? The answer is, nothing; except as Justice Brandeis said in a dissenting minority opinion, "The only restrait on the Supreme Court is self restraint."

Roosevelt's proposal, far from being the radical thing it's frenzied opponents claim is too much an expedient to gain a temporary end—the passage of New Deal legislation without fear of reversal. The best proposal so far—one that preserves the best of our system, while removing the possibility of another stalemate such as exists now—is to give congress the right to "check" the Supreme Court by repassing legislation declared unconstitutional by the same proportionate vote necessary to over-ride a Presidential veto, ie; a two-third majority.

A Layman Court Member

Some one suggested that the Constitution does not require a court member to be a lawyer. That is a potent idea to say the least.

There's good reason to believe that the legal professions peculiar habit of mind has too large an influence on all our affairs.

Everything in law is based on precedent. Even seemingly new angles in court decisions are buttressed by citations from other opinions by judges, usually dead and gone these many years. It is true that nothing is more important than History—political, legal or otherwise—for History is the experience of individuals in the Mass. Individuals are fools if they lear not by experience, and so too are Nations. History should make us understand the present and aid in anticipating the future.

Nevertheless. Chinese thought so much of their History that they have invented ancestor worship. Who—save our courts, apparently —wants to be a Chinese? Who wants legal precedent to rule all our affairs?

Why should not farmers, business men, chemists, members of the other professions, etc., be more frequent members of our law-making and law interpreting bodies? Perhaps if these bodies had more men of action, more of the creative minds rather than the legal and judicial, they would more truly reflect the body politic. Certain it is that the creative research minds working with the man of action is what has made modern industry.

The complexities in society that mechanized industry has caused is what is preplexing us now—is what the New Deal is trying to straighten out for us. Perhaps those same minds focused on social as well as mechanical problems—as law makers and judges could keep all phases of organized society in tune with mechanical progress. It's worth a try at any rate. Certainly, society and industry are badly out of tune now.

My Rooster

Hysteria in public affairs remind me of one of my Roosters.

He was a beauty, color, conformation size and all were ideal. I wanted to keep that fellow to pass on his beauty to the flock. But—

Another Rooster, no bigger, certainly not quite as beautiful in plumage got into his head that he was King of the flock—So sortly he was. (One could write books on just that).

He bullied the beauty; wouldn't let him eat; drove him off the roosts; robbed him of his wives, until, to get any value out of him, I consigned him to the pot.

The moral both for Rooster and for their featherless counterparts in public affairs is: "A coward always loses his head."

The Strike.

What a waste of time, money and "baloney." A good deal lost on both sides, and not a little damage done to the prestige of Madam Secretary—BUT oodles of face saving. In fact, that was all that was saved out of the embraglio—FACE.

Now, nothing daunted, Brothre Lewis is marching on to another "victory." This time is the mines. Not to pan too much. We hope his efforts in coal don't make it too hot for the rest of us.

Gas

How about that Boone County Chamber of Commerce devoted to the promotion of the sale of Boone County gas? Or—if that title seems too pretentious for a farming community—how about a Boone County Gas Committee to accomplish the same object? What's in a name anyway?

That's all for this time.

THE TRUTH ABOUT

HOLLYWOOD

By A Country Boy

FOLKS, MEET BILLY HART

Instead of talking to you thru a microphone—I will bring Billy right into your home. Mr. Hart, will you say a few words about yourself to our good friends and neighbors.

"How do you do, everybody. I came from the small town of Carlinville, Illinois. In fact when I arrived in Carlinville I didn't have a cent in my pockets—in fact, I didn't have any pockets."

"Pardon me, Mr. Hart. How on earth did that happen?"

"Well, I'll tell you. I was born there, and so I started out in life. Little did I know that I was cut out to become an actor. The first sad thing that happened to me was the death of both my mother and my father. Here I was a real orphan, and I thank the good Lord for giving me wisdom of thought as soon as I was able to think. Some friend of my parents placed me in their grocery store as a delivery boy—when business was slow during harvest time he used to rent me out to some farmer. The bumble bees soon discovered that I was a stranger and they played on me like a flute—in fighting them with sticks I accidentally punctured a hornet's nest and right then I found out that I made a mistake. No more farm life for me, said I to myself, and beat it to the railroad station—with one dollar in cash and a paid ticket I boarded the C. & A. for St. Louis. After getting a bird's eye view of a large city by working in a tobacco factory and seed store I started selling newspapers on a street corner near a theatre. Ah! That's the life! Soon I did small parts on the stage and later went into vaudeville when I became a headliner, playing all the leading theatres in the U. S. A., Canada and the principal cities in England Ireland, Scotland and South Africa. I have been in every branch of the show business—from Burlesque to Opera, from Super to Star. I am seventy-three years old, still hale and hearty and have just completed a manuscript for a two reel comedy which I hope you good people will see on the screen of your home town theatre in the near future. It is entitled—"What A Woman."

"Mr. Hart, let me interrupt you by asking a few questions—have you appeared in pictures in Hollywood?"

A. Yes. I worked in forty-nine talking pictures but haven't had a word to say yet.

Q. What were some of the larger pictures you worked in?

A. "The House of Rothschild."

Q. Why I saw "The House of Rothschild" but I never saw you in it.

A. Well I suppose the day you went to see the picture I was in the House.

Q. Mr. Hart, I understand that you and the late Will Rogers were quite good friends?

A. Yes, for many years Will Rogers and I enjoyed a very warm friendship. Soon after I came to Hollywood I dropped Will a note, telling him of my arrival here and I have his reply through his secretary, and a postscript by Will himself.

Here is a copy of the letter:

November 9, 1933

Billy Hart,
Hollywood, Calif.
Dear Billy:

Your recent letter was brought to Mr. Rogers' attention and he asked me to write you and tell you he is not working on a picture just now—but is home most of the time and for you to come out and see him.

Yours truly,
D. Tyler,
Secretary to Will Rogers

P. S. The gate is locked but the keeper is advised to pass you in.
Will Rogers.

Q. Mr. Hart, that is a privilege few enjoyed.

A. Yes, that is true. We have always exchanged courtesies in the many branches of our social and professional lifes. No finer man ever lived than Will Rogers.

Lesson for February 21

THE POWER OF JESUS OVER DEATH

LESSON TEXT — John 11:23-28, 32-44.
GOLDEN TEXT—I am the resurrection, and the life. John 11:25.
PRIMARY TOPIC — When Jesus' Friends Stopped Crying.
JUNIOR TOPIC — With Jesus at Lazarus' Tomb.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Power of Jesus over Death.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Power of Jesus over Death.

Life, even to the follower of Jesus Christ, has its hours of sorrow, suffering, and bereavement. While the Christian is not "of the world," he is "in the world," and here he must meet the problems of life, including the evils to which the flesh is heir because of sin.

The fact that Jesus is our friend and our Saviour does not exempt us from human sorrow, but it does assure us of the needed grace to bear the trial and to trust Him even in life's darkest hour.

Lazarus, the friend of Jesus, was sick. The home in which Jesus had found rest and fellowship was in deep trouble. Jesus was no longer in Judea. In haste word is sent to him of his friend's illness. But he does not come.

Why does he delay? Such is the heart-cry of thousands today who call on him in their hour of trouble. The purposes of God are beyond our ability fully to understand. We need but to trust him and abide his time. Notice that his failure to respond at once to the message of Lazarus' sisters did not mean that he had deserted them (11:4-6). Nor did it mean that he had denied them his help (11:7). Lazarus may have been dead before the word reached him. He may also have delayed in order that there might be no question about the resurrection miracle. And he may have tarried in order that their faith might be strengthened.

Above all, do not fail to notice that he came. He always does. Jesus has never failed any child of his. The time and the manner of his answer to our prayers may not conform to our opinion of what should have been done, but let us remember that we know only in part, he knows all. Let us trust him. Job in his darkest hour said, "Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him." (Job 13:15).

It is suggested that the lesson for today be studied and taught by considering three pairs of words giving cause and effect.

I. Death—Sorrow (vv. 32-35; also vv. 19-21).

Try as we may to temper its cruel blow, the fact remains that death is the enemy of man. It came into the world as the result of sin (Rom. 5:12), and only in Christ is it "swallowed up in victory" (I Cor. 15:54). Until the glorious day of Christ's returning when the redemption of the body will be complete (Rom. 8:23), death will still be the enemy which brings sorrow to the heart and tears to the eyes.

But let us not fail to notice that as the friends of Jesus we do not sorrow alone. He is with us. "Jesus wept" (v. 35) with Martha and Mary. He weeps with us in our trying hour. He is the "friend that sticketh closer than a brother."

II. Faith—Hope (vv. 23-28).

Those who believe in Christ have more than the comfort of his sympathizing presence—they have a sure hope. Read I Thessalonians 4:14-18. Sorrow and unbelief would becloud our faith and thus rob us of our hope. Martha needed to have her faith stimulated by the gracious words of the Lord, and then she triumphantly puts her hope in him as "the Christ of God." Once we recognize him as God, we have no hesitation in believing in his miraculous power.

III. Christ—Resurrection (vv. 25, 26, 38-44).

Majestic and authoritative are the words of Christ, "I am the resurrection and the life." He it was who gave life, for was he not "in the beginning with God"? And is it not said of him that "all things were made by him"? And Paul tells us that "by him all things consist." He is the only one who could say, "I lay down my life. I have power to lay it down and I have power to take it up again." (John 10:17, 18.) So it can rightly be said that if we have Christ we have everything—both in this world and in the world to come. But if we do not have Christ we have nothing. We are without God and without hope.

One can sense the urgency of the soul-winner's task, when this truth is known and realized.

BENEFIT PAYMENTS FOR ADAPTED SEED

A notice from Washington, relayed through the College of Agriculture at Lexington, says that no practice payments will be made in the farm program where red clover and alfalfa seed from foreign countries, other than Canada, is used. Seed from foreign countries, with the exception of Canada, is used. Seed from foreign countries, with the exception of Canada, is not considered adapted to Kentucky conditions, and hence will not call for the practice payments of $2.50 an acre for alfalfa and $2 an acre for clover.

For many years the Kentucky College of Agriculture has been urging farmers to use adapted seed only. It points out that all of the red clover for which practice payments will be made is not well adapted to Kentucky conditions and suggests that farmers select their clover seed even more carefully as regards origin than is required by the rules of the farm program.

Red clover seed produced within the state, and known to fit local conditions, is considered best. Seed from the southern part of the clover belt, that is, not farther north than middle Ohio, is usually adapted to Kentucky conditions If that connot be had, then seed from northern states and Canada is preferred to that from western states.

Alfalfa seed produced in the region from Kansas north, with the exception of the Pacific Coast, is recommended for Kentucky.

The law requires that unadapted red clover seed contain a percentage of seed stained red, purple red, orange red or green.

CONEY DIRECTORS TO CONFER ON $300,000 REPAIR PLANS

The Board of Directors of the Coney Island Company met recently to approve plans for a $300,000 program of repairs and improvements at Coney Island to overcome havoc wrought by the flood. The plans will be presented by Edward L. Schott, President nounced that when the program of improvements was completed "Coney will be more attractive and more complete in its scope of attractions than ever in its history."

Improvements are to be completed in time for the scheduled opening of the summer park season Saturday, May 22.

Coney's principal rides and amusement devices withstood the flood, Schott said.

Moonlite Gardens is intact, so far as the building is concerned. The dance floor, however, virtually was uprooted, due largely to warping. It will have to be replaced.

The Natatorium buildings will have to be rebuilt. The current of the flooded river appared to have shifted right through the swimming pool. The principal damage is attributed to the fact that stables from River Downs were carried to the Natatorium. The pressure was too much for the buildings, which gave way. Concrete light posts in the path of this current were snapped off. Some of Coney's oldest and finest trees were uprooted.

The filtration plant at the Coney pool, however, was found intact, and so was the pumping plant.

Coney's dining hall, known as Rose Garden, and the cafeteria are wrecks.

"On the whole," Schott said, "our loss will not prove so great as we originally feared. This is due largely, I believe to the fact that in recent years in building rides, devices, and other structures, we have been imbedding the support in heavy concrete. In all instances in which we had such construction our structures weathered the flood."

The steamer Island Queen escaped the wrath of the flood waters without a scratch, due to the vigilance of its master, Captain Charles H. Hall. The wharfboat and steamer had been transferred to an ice pier at the foot of Pike Street when winter came on. When the river began to rise, Captain Hall put out every available foot of line to moore the steamer and wharfboat.

During the flood, Captain Hall and his crew worked virtually 24 hours a day to protect the craft. The greatest menace came from floating oil tanks and drums.

4-H FARM ACCOUNTING PRIZES TOTAL $8,500; MUST OPEN BOOKS SOON

Cash prizes of $5.00 to $25.00 will be awarded 800 boys and girls making the best records in the 1937 National 4-H Farm Accounting Contest, announces the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Five other contestants whose record books score highest will receive merchandise prizes valued at $100 to $500.

Winners of the 805 prizes, which total $8500.00, will be selected by state and federal extension specialists. All private information in the records will be held confidential and the records returned to owners after judging.

Parents are urged to aid contestants whose work in the past three contests has shown how to cut costs and increase profits. Blank record books and rules and prize list can be obtained through local leaders or County Agent H. R. Forkner.

Believing that an accurate knowledge is necessary to good farm management, and desiring to continue its aid to 4-H club training, the contest is sponsored and all prizes are provided by the International Harvester Company.

Every bonafide club member is eligible to compete in this contest, and no fees or obligations of any kind are incurred. Records must run for a period of 12 consecutive months between January 1, 1937 and February 28, 1938, and contestants are urged to obtain their record books at once in order to collect the required data while it is still warm.

PRODUCERS COOPERATIVE TO HAVE TWELFTH ANNUAL MEETING OF ASSOCIATION

The Producers Cooperative Commission Association of Cincinnati, announces plans to go forward with the Twelfth Annual Meeting of the association. The Board of Directors, as a result of the flood planned to delay this important meeting inasmuch as the flood affected practically the entire Cincinnati market area. The clean-up work in Cincinnati is progressing rapidly and assurance is given by authorities of he city that conditions would be favorable, and urged that the association go ahead with the meeting at the regular time.

The directors now have issued a call for the Annual Meeting of the Producers on Thursday, February 18th. The meeting will be held in the Hall of Mirrors, Netherland Plaza Hotel, Cincinnati. It is an all-day meeting beginning at 10 o'clock A. M., Eastern Standard Time, with lunch at noontime provided by the association.

This cooperative livestock marketing organization has more than 20,000 members and patrons. The business for the year 1936 was the third largest of the twelve years of operation at the Cincinnati Union Stock Yards. The association handled 36.8 per cent of the 1936 business at this important livestock market.

The last of this week members will receive by mail an announcement of the meeting and refund checks representing one-third of the selling commissions paid. This refund amounts to $54,915.34. The principal speakers scheduled for the meeting are Wm. H. Settle, long a leader in farm organizations and champion in the cause of agriculture, and C. B. Denman, President of the ational Live Stock Marketing Association, Chicago, of which the Cincinnati Producers is a member.

VICTORY DINNERS TO BE GIVEN BY DEMOCRATS

The Democratic National Committee is completing plans for wiping out its 1936 Presidential Campaign deficit with a series of nation-wide Victory Dinners, according to a joint statement given out this week by Chairman James A. Farley and W. Forbes Morgan, Treasurer.

The plan as outlined is similar to that followed last January when the Jackson Day dinners raised nearly $350,000 with which the eight-year-old party deficit remaining from the 1928 campaign wiped out. At that time nearly 2,000 dinners were held in every State in the Union as well as in Hawaii, Porto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

In their joint statement, Chairman Farley and Mr. Morgan announced that March 4th, the fourth anniversary of Franklin D. Roosevelt's inauguration as President of the United States, had been decided on as the date for the dinners.

"We feel" said the statement, "just as we felt last January, that this is the most democratic method of raising party funds. In this way every member of the party, by attending one of the dinners, has an opportunity to contribute his or her share to the cause, rather than that a few should bear the whole brunt of it."

As was the case last year, arrangements are being made for the President to attend the Number 1 dinner at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, from where he will address all the other dinners throughout the country by means of a nation-wide hook-up of all major radio networks. Tickets for this dinner will cost $100 a piece, of which amount $95 will be a contribution to the party's treasury. A $50 per plate dinner will be held in New York City at the Commodore Hotel. In Washington, for those unable to attend the $100 dinner, a $10 per plate dinner will be held at the Willard Hotel. The dinners throughout the rest of the county will be priced at from $3 to $25 per plate depending upon the size of the community.

Last year Mrs. Roosevelt was the guest of honor at the Willard dinner in Washington. It is expected that Vice-President Garner will attend the New York City dinner.

DIXIE TERMINAL USE BY BUSES PLANNED

Street car tracks into the lower level of the Dixie Terinal were being raised Saturday as the first step toward paving for the use of buses as well as street cars for northern Kentucky transportation.

Paving will begin as soon as the tracks are elevated, and the terminal should be ready for use sometime next week, according to P. G. Vondersmith, general manager of the Green Line.

"That doesn't mean, however, that all buses will use the terminal immediately," Mr. Vondersmith emphasized. "For the present its use by buses will be limited."

Meanwhile Ludlow, last of the northern Kentucky communities to hold out for 5-cent transportation to Cincinnati, passed an ordinance setting the new fare at 8 cents cash or four token for 25 cents, the same as the other cities are paying.

Green Line officials said they still are unable to state definitely when street car service will be resumed in Campbell county.

GRATITUDE EXPRESSED

The Sisters at St. Elizabeth Hospital express heartfelt gratitude and appreciation to all Boone Countians who so generously offered their service in assisting us in our laundry problem. No one will be able to comprehend what their timely assistance meant to us at this hour of dire need and distress.

To all those who generously offered material in any way, we wish to extend our sincere and deepest gratitude, and may He, who has counted every exertion, reward you in His own good generous way, is the prayer that ascends from our grateful hearts.

PETERSBURG HOMEMAKERS

The Petersburg Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Perry Mahan last Thursday, Feb. 11. Despite the fact that quite a few of us were late, we were able to have the business meeting in the morning. At noon a lovely buffet luncheon was served, which was enjoyed by all.

Immediately after the luncheon, the lesson and demonstration was given by Miss Gillaspie. "Face Facts" was the lesson for the month and I am sure that we all noticed several facts about our faces that we had not noticed before. I am sure that when the husbands greeted thir wives that they did not recognize them at first—by this I mean they were very much improved. As well all know proper cosmetics used in the right way is an improvement.

The next meeting will be March 11, at the home of Mrs. Herma Mathews, of Petersburg. The lesson will be "Spring Millinery." Be sre to bring an old hat to make over and a hat block. Be present at 10:30 March 11.

BUSINESS GAINS DESPITE FLOODS

AND BIG STRIKES—IMPROVEMENT TO CONTINUE IN 1937, COMMERCE DEPARTMENT PREDICTS.

Washington, Feb 15—Business is good and getting better, floods and strikes notwithstanding, Commerce Department economists agreed today but they would talk only in terms of the outlook for "further recovery" rather than of future prosperity.

The outlook for 1937 was "good," they said, with every indication that it will be better than 1936. But they would not hazard even a guess as to when the nation's business activity will reach the peak levels of the "prosperity days" of 1928-29.

Recovery, primed by more than 13 billion dollars of government spending in the last four years, is now mowing along under its own impetus, they contend. However, they pointed out, the situation might reverse if there should be a change in economic conditions abroad. For example, they said, if foreign nations should suddenly decide to withdraw their almost 7½ billion dollars invested here, it might have an unsettling effect on credit structure.

Best Year Since 1930

Secretary of Commerce Roper viewed 1936 from the standpoint of business activity as the best year since 1930. The domestic recovery movement during that year, he said, was reflected in the increase in national income from $53,587,000,000 in 1935 to 60 billion dollars in 1936, highest since 1931 when it was 61 billion dollars.

Other commerce officials estimated that national income in 1937 will reach 67 billion dollars, which would be the highest since 1930, when it was 72 billions dollars, and about 11 billion dollars under the all-time high in 1929.

Other factor reflecting improved business include:

Stock market prices at the highest levels since 1929-30.

Federal Income High

An anticipated federal income in the 1938 fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1937, of $7,294,000,000.

Among the leass favorable factors were:

Smallest foreign trade balance in favor of the United States in more than 50 years, although the volume of international business was higher than at any time since the depression.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS TO GIVE DANCE AT STEVIE'S

The Young Men's Democratic Club of Boone County will sponsor another dance, with plenty of entertainment at Stevie's Club house, end of carline, Ft. Mitchell Ky. Saturday, February 27th, has been selected at the date for this affair.

According to Walter Fergusion, this is going to be even a larger entertainment than ever before. The main attractions will be Just-in Huber's 10-piece orchestra and a ten-act floor show.

Admission to this dance will be the same as before. $1.00 per couple. We will carry a complete announcement next week, so watch this paper for further details.

HOTBEDS AND COLD FRAMES

By John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture

A most valuable adjunct to an efficient garden is a hotbed or a cold frame, or both, for by their use is advanced the date of harvest of cabbage, lettuce, radishes tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, and sometimes onions.

Both are shalliw box-like structures, without top or bottom, which, placed on the ground, enclose space within which seed may be sown or plants set several weeks before this could be done outside, the crops within the frames being protected by covering the frame with glass, canvas or glass substitute. Cold frames are warmed entirely by the sun's rays, but a hotbed has under it a pit filled with manure, straw, fodder or even tree-leaves, which, as it ferments, supplies warmth, both day and nith. Further details in constructing either a hotbed or a cold frame are discussed in Kentucky Extension Circular 276. Copies of this circular will be sent any person who makes request of the College of Agriculture at Lexington. They also can be had from county or home demonstration agents.

Now is the time to make a hotbed in which plants of early cabbage and lettuce are to be grown. At the same time may be sown radish seed, to provide this succulent relish weeks before outside-sown radishes can mature. Those who wish, may sow onion seed of the Bermuda or Silverskin or American Prizetaker varieties to have "slips" to set in the garden when that operation becomes timely. There may be doubt whether the early cabbage plants one uses may not be purchased for less than it costs to grow them. This is true in ordinary cases, but in the instance the ordinary varieties of cabbage cannot be raised because of the "yellows" or "wilt" disease, and resistant sorts must be used, these must be grown by the gardener for commercial producers of cabbage plant rarely furnish them.

About the middle of February, should be started the hotbed in which are to be produced plants of tomatoes, peppers and eggplants. If space is available, seed ofN ew Zealand spinach, valuable mid-summer green, may be started, too and considerable gain in earliness made. Here again the question may be raised as to the feasibility of producing one's own plans of this group. As before, the question of the tomato wilt disease enters, and, although some commercial plant-growers are in a position to furnish the resistant sorts, Break O'Day and Marglobe, there is frequently the possibility of the confusing of varieties. Too, the plant growers have in many instances been tardy in adopting the latest and most improved varieties, thus handicapping gardeners in using them.

Also, and although this is by no means an indictment universally there are instances in which wilt of both cabbage and tomatoes have been introduced into Kentucky gardens through using infected plants. It should be added that in many of the southern states where a great volume of these early plants are grown, strict certification regulations are in effect to insure that only healthy plants are shipped. This should greatly ease the situation.

For these reasons, it would seem that there is merit in making either a hotbed or a cold frame, or both, and receiving the indicated benefits, to say nothing of the pleasure that attends.

State Felt Earthquake Back In 1811

EARTH ROCKED TO AND FRO, LAKE WAS CREATED, VAST CHASMS OPENED.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 12—The flood, which dealt destruction perhaps unparalleled in Kentucky history, wasn't the only major catastrophe to ever strike the state.

There was a little matter of an earthquake back in 1811 that spread terror throughout Kentucky. It spent its greatest force in Fulton county, where floodwaters also struck with ferocity.

"The earth rocked to and fro; vast chasms opened, whence issued columns of water, sand and coal, accompanied by hissing sounds, caused by the escape of pent-up steam" historical accounts of the quake state. "The current of the Mississippi was driven back upon its source with the greatest velocity for several hours, in consequence of an elevation of its bed. But . . . its accumulated waters came booming on, and overtopping the barrier . . . carried everything before them with resistless power. Boats shot down the declivity like an arrow from a bow, amid roaring billows, and the wildest commotion."

Reelfoot lake, part of which lies in Fulton county, was created by the earthquake, historians declare—a body of water some 17 miles long and three-quarters of a mile wide. Collins' History of Kentucky states that it was formed by sand blown out of a chasm opened by the earthquake and deposited near the mouth of Reelfoot creek—causing a damming of its waters.

Louisville, which then boasted a population of about 2,000 persons, did not escape. The first shock was felt there early in the morning of Dec. 16, 1811, and continued about four minutes. The popular belief was, as the terror-stricken populace saw the earth heaving and writhing, that the world was coming to an end. For several month citizens were kept in continual alarm by a series of tremors.

ROAD BUILDING TO BE CURTAILED

DUE TO HEAVY LOSS OF MACHINERY AND HEAVY EMERGENCY SPENDING BY KENTUCKY HIGHWAY BODY.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 9—Heavy emergency spending and the almost total destruction of several pieces of expensive and important machinery by flood water, Kentucky's 1937 State Highway program, which was planned to include the construction of a considerable amount of new thoroughfare, will be sharply curtailed according to an announcement made from the highway offices today. The Rural Highway program, however, will go forward as planned without any curtailment starting April -, the beginning of the Highway Department's fiscal year.

The states program will necessarily be abbreviated in order that the Department may concentrate its efforts and a portion of its financial allotment to the reconditioning of important arterial highways damaged and in some instances rendered virtually useless and unsafe by high waters. The reconditioning of these damaged roadways will be the first important task to be attended by the Department.

It was estimated that at least one-fourth of the main highways in the Commonwealth were affected one way or another by the flood and as these serve traffic especially through the northern central section of the state it will be necessary to give them immediate attention. Twenty-nine counties along the Ohio and Kentucky rivers suffered the greatest damage by flood water These roads are inlets and outlets to the state.

Several unforseen instances arising from the flood took heavy toll where least expected and will take no small part in the program. The loss of revenue from the gasoline tax from the flood area during the high water period will be felt keenly in the budget.

Thousands of automobiles, into which went millions of gallons of gasoline daily, sending money into the Highway Department coffers, were rendered useless during the flood and many will remain idle during the period of reconstruction further cutting the revenue.

It was pointed out by Robert Humphreys, Commissioner of Highways of Kentucky, that Louisville, Kentucky's only city of the first class, and all of the second class cities in the state, with the exception of Lexington, were directly in the path of the flood and that during the period of inundation the revenue for gasoline tax fell sharply. It was estimated that no less than 60 percent of all automobiles owned in the entire state were in the flood area, which besides Louisville included Ashland, Maysville, Covington, Newport, Paducah and Frankfort.

Such a loss of revenue, even though it be only for a few days, combined with the loss of machinery and the dire necessity of repairing the state maintained arterial highways, it can readily be seen that the year's program will necessarily have to be curtailed to a great extent.

The loss of machinery may be only temporary, however, a large number of heavy and important pieces were either working or stored in the flooded area. These pieces will have to be either replaced or reconditioned before going into active service again. The larger and heavier trucks, especially those with high wheels, did yoeman's work during the flood, laboring under all sorts of conditions and without the car that is usually given them. These will need reconditioning.

Flood Hay Dangerous

Farmers in the river bottoms who had hay in barns flooded by water are warned to watch it closely on account of fire from spontaneous combustion.

The following is an article supplied by the U. S. Departent of Agriculture:

Reports of haymow fires are coming in to the U. S. Department of Agriculture as flood waters recede. Dr. David J. Price of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils warns that this is always a danger when stores of hay become wet, and reminds farmers of the barn fires that occurred from heating hay following the floods in northern Vermont in November, 1927.

Dr. Price has made special studies of fires caused by the spontaneous ignition of hay. Fires originating in this manner have taken heavy toll of farm buildings. Also, the loss in value of hay probably exceeds the loss from actual fires, since hay that does not break out into flame may be virtually destroyed from internal heat.

At the first indication that hay is heating in barns in the flooded area, Price says that farmers should begin keeping close watch. The ission of water vapor, pungent and irritating odors, or the presence of hot, wet areas of "flues" on the surface of the mow are warnings.

The first thing to do, Price explains, is to make a check on the temperature down in the mow before deciding on what action to take.

Usually the internal temperature of the hay can be taken by driving a sharp pointed pipe down into it, and lowering a thermometer inside the pipe and leaving is there for about 20 minutes. The reading should be made quickly when the thermometer is removed.

The ignition temperature of alfalfa hay is around 390 degrees F. There is no experimental evidence, however, that such a high temperature is required for the outbreak of fire. If the temperature climbs to 185 degrees F., it is definitely reaching a point of danger which warrants stopping all ventilation, and removing the hayfrom the barn, although, if left undisturbed, it might coc eventually.

If the temperature climbs to 200 degrees F., there should be no question about the advisability of removing the hay. Before this is done, however, Price warns that all possible precaution against fire should be taken. This is one instance where the regular order should be reversed. The fire department should be called out before the fire starts. If there is a volunteer fire department near, all of the equipment should be at hand. If there is no such service available, the farmer should have an ample supply of water at hand to quench a possible blaze when the "hot pockets" are exposed to the air.

Hot hay should not be uncovered or removed without first wetting it thoroughly, otherwise when it is exposed to the air it is likely to burst into flame.

In removing hay that has reached the advanced stages of heating. Price suggests the following precautions:

1. Place planks over the surface of the mow, especially in the center. This is to provide sound footing if it is found that the central portion of the heap has charred and sunk.

2. Avoid inhaling fumes and gases from the "hot" pockets and flues in the mow. Arrange for the inside work to be done with frequent shifts of workers and allow them as much fresh air as possible.

3. Carry the hay a safe distance from the barn or other buildings. preferably to an open field to guard against any fire that may result if the hay bursts into flame.

MRS. CLEEK TO GIVE ADDRESS

DURING NATIONAL FARM AND HOME HOUR, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3RD—"NEW STORAGE SPACE IN OLD HOUSE" TOPIC.

Mrs. Jake Cleek will speak during National Farm and Hour Hour, Wednesday, March 3rd. She has been asked to talk about "New Storage Space in an Old House."

Mr. and Mrs. Cleek planned and supervised the remodeling of their home while the Homemakers of Boone were studying "Backgrounds of the Liveable Home" in 1936. Miss Ida C. Hagman, specialist in Home Improvement, University of Kentucky, visited the Cleek home several times, while the remodeling was being done and assisted in making the plans. Modern storage space was built in all of the rooms.

When Mr. C. B. Smith, Assistant Director of Extension, Washington, wrote the State Extension Office of Kentucky asking for some one from Kentucky who had done outstanding work in remodeling an old house to broadcast. Mrs. Cleek was asked to give the talk.

Mrs. Cleek will go to Chicago to broadcast over National Farm and Home Hour. She will give a five-minute talk during the hour's program 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. (slow time) Wednesday, March 3rd over N. B. C.

Mrs. Cleek is president of the Boone County Homemakers and a member of the New Haven Club. She has been an enthusiastic and active worker in the Homemakers Club.

BURLINGTON INDEPENDENTS DROP GAME TO PETERSBURG

In a fast game Saturday night, on the local floor of the high school gym, Burlington lost to the Petersburg Independents by a score of 29-24.

This was a hard fought game from beginning to end, requiring two over-time periods to decide which to team was superior.

The Petersburg Student Prince quintet lost to Harmon Hall, of Lebanon, O., by a score of 63 to 47. The Petersburg team was considerably weakened by the absence of James and Woods from their lineup, but fought hard throughout the game.

STUDENT PRINCE TEAM ELIMINATES TERRACE PARK

One of the largest gatherings that has witnessed the L. B. Harrison Basketball Tournament games since the tourney's inauguration was on hand Sunday afternoon and saw three hard-fought senior tussles.

Pressler's Insurance defeated Gibby's Smokery in an overtime game, 23 to 22; James' Student Princes eliminated Terrace Park, 36 to 23, and Norwood Red Cross Shoes eliminated Norwood C. Y. M. C., 41 to 28.

Boyd Mahan led all scorers in Sunday's games with 18 points. Bill Specker was second with 12 and Bob Tepe third, with 10.

HIGHWAY COP HURT FATALLY

IN AUTO ACCIDENT AT GEORGETOWN LAST FRIDAY—CAR SKIDS, STRIKING ANOTHER CAR.

C. B. Snelling, 41 years of age, member of the state highway patrol, who was injured when his automobile skidded on a wet highway Friday night, three miles south of Georgetown and crashed into another car, died at Georgetown at 10 o'clock Saturday night at John Graves Ford Memorial Hospital. The officer, whose home was in New Haven, Ky., suffered a spinal injury and internal hurts.

In the other atomobile were Dusty McClure, Georgetown, and Ed Martin, Maytown, a Georgetown College student. Both McClure and Martin were taken to the hospital, McClure suffering with a broken leg, lacerations and bruises. Martin received a deep gash through his mouth and other cuts and bruises.

Martin and McClure are employes of Weldon Wallace, manager of the Greyhound bus station in Georgetown.

BURLINGTON CITIZENS WILL PROBABLY ENJOY USE OF NATURAL GAS

In an editorial recently we expressed the desire of citizens of Burlington to obtain gas for domestic purposes, and in answer Mr. McCurdy of the Boone County Well Drilling Co., called at our office Saturday.

Mr. McCurdy said that it was impossible for him to do anything at the present time, but would be in line to consider laying pipe lines in Burlington within thirty days.

It may be necessary for a certain percentage of the property owners to agree to take gas before the pipe line is laid, but we are sure that this is can be done.

Once a pipe line is laid, we predict that ninety percent of the residents will make connection to their homes.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

A. B. Renaker, Burlington, advertised a horse and some cows in the classified column last week, and now reports that he sold the horse to J. H. Louden for the sum of $200.00, and has already sold two of his cows for a handsome price. Mr. Renaker stated that his ad. certainly did bring the buyers and that he had to refuse one man who was about ten minutes late.

You can do likewise, if you will only let the people know what you have for sale, or want to buy, through our classified column.

MARCH 1ST DEADLINE

TO PURCHASE AUTOMOBILE LICENSE TAGS—FEE FOR PASSENGER CARS REDUCED TO $4.50—50c FOR CLERK FEE.

Motor vehicles must be licensed by March 1. The 1936 Kentucky General Assembly extended the date on which vehicles must be licensed from January 1 to March 1 with the understanding that postponement heretofore granted would not be made. License plates have been on sale at the county court clerk's office of every county for some time. Under the amended law. 1937 plates may be displayed at any time after December 29, 1936 and until March 1, 1938.

The fee for all passenger vehicles designed to accommodate less than seven passengers has been reduced to $4.50 for the State plus 50 cents for the county clerk. Truck registration fees remain the same, except that trucks of 3,000 pounds capacity or less, owned by farmers, and used exclusively to haul the farmers' goods, may be licensed for $4.50 plus the clerk's fee, provided "Farmer's Truck" is painted in three-inch red letters on each side of the truck, and an affidavit is executed stating that the truck is used exclusively for the purpose of operating a farm. Other truck license fees vary in amount with the tonnage capacity.

Communications relating to the motor vehicle license tax should be addressed to Director of the Division of Motor Vehicles, Department of Revenue, Frankfort, Ky.

KENTUCKY A WILDERNESS WHEN BOONE EXPLORED IT

The Gayety Theater, of Erlanger, will present "Daniel Boone," on Wednesday and Thursday, March 3 and 4th.

"Daniel Boone," the epic, romantic adventure picture in which George O'Brien, in the title role, impersonates the famous American frontiersman, deals with one of the historic episodes in the life of the great pioneer—his expedition at the head of about thirty families, from North Carolina into the north central region of Kentucky, then a vast and unknown wilderness, and the founding of the colonial community of Boonesborough, in 1775.

This is all a matter of history. Kentucky was then such unexplored territory that it was regarded as a part of Virginia. It was the happy hunting grounds of numerous tribes of Indians, and Boone was twice captured by the Red Men, and was at one time held prisoner for many months. Considered a member of the tribe, he finally escaped in time to reach Boonesborough and give warning of the terrific attack which followed and all but succeeded in wiping out the settlement.

RIVER TOWNS SEE LESSON

IN BIG FLOOD—GOV. CHANDLER GAINS IMPRESSION THAT MANY PLACES SHOULD BE ABANDONED.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 20—The great flood of 1937 apparently has convinced officials of stricken communities along the Ohio river's course through Kentucky that river front settlements must permanently and defintiely be abandoned.

This was the impression obtained by Gov. A. B. Chandler and his flood survey party on their recent tour of the flood areas. In almost every city along the Ohio's 1,000-mile course through the state, officials and citizens alike expressed determination to prevent rebuilding in the low areas that are affected by every rise of the water.

Gov. Chandler himself preached in every stricken community a doctrine of building on the hills.

"It is futile," he said in town after town, "to rebuild and invest capital in property that is certain to be damaged or destroyed by every flood. The Red Cross and federal agencies will not provide funds for such building. The areas that are hit by every food must be abandoned and moved to higher and safer ground."

Just where it will be safe to build the governor said, is a matter for the United States engineering corps to determine.

"They will be able to tell anyone where he may build with reasonable safety," the governor said.

Plan Worked Out

Government engineers already have worked out a plan of flood control based on a system of dams, sea walls and reservoirs. They have told Gov. Chandler the plan would definitely prevent a repetition of the 1937 disaster. Only the necessity of a congressional appropriation of more than a billion dollars stands in the way of putting the control plan into effect.

The governor's flood tour, made by motor boat, took the chief executive and his party over more than 1,000 miles, mostly along the Ohio river. The governor visited almost every flood-hit town from Catlettsburg on the far eastern boundary to sea-wall protected Hickman on the Mississippi river. He followed a trail of wrecked homes and wrecked hopes. No war-torn' area could have looked more desolate and depressing.

"It is the worst thing I have ever seen," the governor remarked at the conclusion of his survey. "This catastrophe struck us at a time when the outlook for the state was brightest, when farmers were getting back on their feet, when business was picking up and when the ability of taxpayers to pay taxes was putting the state on a sound financial footing."

The governor's terse comment that "there is no use crying over what has happened; we must determine to start all over," reflected generally the expressed sentiments of the stricken populace he visited. In the face of ruination, the citizens hardest hit showed remarkable courage. In many communities, housewives already were busy cleaning up the debris from their once neat homes. They went at the task with grimness and determination, some of them in tears.

Saddest of all were the refugee camps, where were temporarily housed families who lost everything they had ever owned, whose homes were mercilessly torn away or battered into destruction by the relentless water. In them were living fathers and mothers who, almost overnight, saw destroyed the homes and furnishings they had scrimped and saved a lifetime to possess. Scampering around at full meaning of the situation, were play, innocently ignorant of the hundreds of children, some of them clinging to toys they had snatched in their hasty departure from once comfortable homes, some of them primarily worried about household pets that disappeared with the flood, some of them genuinely please with the prospect of not having to return to school because the schools they once attended were no longer standing.

In the main, the refugees camps consist of warehouses, schools or other large buildings capable of housing dozens of families. Food or clothing are supplied by the Red Cross. There is no segregation. Families live together in large rooms. There is no privacy.

SHOES THAT DATE BACK TO 1837 TO BE DISPLAYED IN COVINGTON STORE

This writer had the opportunity of inspecting about fifteen pairs of ladies' shoes that were worn by persons over one hundred years ago, one day last week while calling on Mr. Max Rose, of the Quality Sample Shoe Shop, Covington.

It is indeed amazing to see the style of shoes that were worn back in those days, in fact, it almost makes one appreciate the modern styles today, even though some do go to the extreme.

Mr. Rose stated that he intends to make a window display of these rare specimens in the near future, and everyone will be given an opportunity to see them.

The Quality Sample Shoe Shop is located just opposite Woolworths 5c and 10c store, and also advertise their merchandise in this paper. The announcement of the antique shoe display will appear in their advertisement in the near future. Watch this paper for this announcement.

REPORTS DUE ON PAYROLLS

DEADLINE FOR FILING BY KENTUCKY EMPLOYERS FALLS ON THIS SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 27TH.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 20—Reports filed by 1,30[illegible] employers show a total of $929,635.51 already contributed to Kentucky's unemployment compensation fund, Robert E. Hatton, acting director of the unemployment compensation division, announced today.

The deadline for filing reports covering employment and payrolls during 1936 is February 27. Employers of eight or more persons during 20 weeks of 1936 are liable for payment of the tax.

Total payrolls subject to unemployment contributions as shown on the returns already in amounted to $103,304,497.96, representing average 19.6 earnings of approximately $1,120 or $21.53 per week for approximately 93,000 employes who are so far covered by the law.

Benefits will be paid to qualified unemployed persons after Jan. 1, 1939.

Employers subject to the tax who have not filed previous reports may obtain contribution blanks from the unemployed compensation commission at Frankfort. Hatton warned that delinquent contributions are subject to interest charges of one per cent a month from the due date and stressed that unless contributions are in the hands of the commission by Feb. 27 employers will be liable to both the state and federal governments.

WEDNESDAY IS LAST DAY

OF TOBACCO SALES IN COVINGTON—TRI-STATE WAREHOUSE SOLD LAST WEEK AT AUCTION.

According to a report received here Monday, the Kenton Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse held their last sale of the season this Wednesday.

Many thousand pounds of Boone County tobacco have been sold over the floor of the Kenton House this year, bringing fair prices.

The Tri-State Warehouse which was washed from its foundation during the recent flood was sold at auction last week. Jack Allphin had charge of the sale, with R. G. Kinman as auctioneer.

The Lexington tobacco market will hold its final auctions of the season Friday, Feb. 26th, it was announced last Saturday.

Two sets of buyers will continue on the market and eight houses will be open for the receipt and sale of leaf.

LETTER FROM BRENT SPENCE

STATING FACTS ABOUT FLOOD RELIEF FOR BOON ECOUNTY —JESSE H. JONES APPOINTED CHAIRMAN OF RFC.

In a letter recevied recently regarding the flood conditions and the means of rehabilitation for the flood stricken citizens of Boone County, Hon Brent Spence makes known that everyone will be cared for in a satisfactory manner.

The letter from Spence follows:

February 16, 1937.

Editor,
Boone County Recorder,
Burlington, Kentucky.
Dear Sir:

I herewith enclose information that I have obtained relative to the Government agencies that may be able to furnish aid to the victims of the great disaster that has befallen our section of the State.

Of course, it is my opinion that loans will not take care of the situation and it will be necessary for a great many of our people to obtain grants to restablish themselves in the community.

You may rest assured that I have been making, and will continue to make every effort to obtain relief for our people.

With kindest regards and all good wishes, I am

Very truly yours,
Brent Spence.

The Direetors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation have appointed C. B. Henderson and Emil Schram, members of their Board, joint managers of the Disaster Loan Corporation, and a Loan Committee consisting of Ben Johnson, Morton Macartney, W. J. Johnson, B. C. Stafford, E. E. Pendleton and James Cole, all members of the RFC Washington staff.

Mr. Henderson, Mr. Schram, and members of this Loan Committee, will visit the flood areas, and will where deemed advisable set up local advisory committees to assist in making the loans.

It will be our purpose to cooperate with the Red Cross and the Works Progress Administration in assisting those who have suffered losses that they can ill afford to stand.

The Disaster Loan Corporation will have no hard and fast rules as to terms or security. The Act prescribes that the Corporation is empowered to make such loans as may be determined to be necessary or appropriate because of floods or other catastrophes in the year 1937, and that the loans shall be upon such terms and conditions, and made in such manner, as the Corporation may prescribe.

We interpret this to mean that loans should be made in accordance with the ability of the borrower to repay, and secured where the applicant is able to give security. Where the applicant is not able to give security but has a good reputation for paying his debts, his application will be given favorable consideration if the amount applied for and the purpose of the loan appear appropriate. Security may consist of collateral, personal endorsements, chattel mortgages on plant, equipment, fixtures, implements, lives stock, etc., mor mortgages upon real estate.

The interest rate will be 3 per cent per annum, with a waiver of interest for the first four months. The terms and conditions of the loan will be fixed as nearly as possible to meet the requirements of the applicant, but with a view to the loan being repaid with a reasonable time.

No part of this fund will be lent to borrowers who are able to get money through the normal channels, or who are able to give the kind of security upon which the RFC lends through its Industrial Loan Division or the RFC Mortgage Company.

No additional personnel will be needed to administer the disaster loans, except possibly a little in the flood regions, and we hope to borrow most of that from banks and industries in the territory.

More facts and details regarding the flood-sticken will be published in next week's issue of this paper, under the heading of "Flood Relief News." All information is being furnished by our Representative Hon. Brent Spence.

BURLIGTON P.-T. A. TO HOLD MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Burlington P.-T. A. at the school house, Wednesday night, March 3.

This is to be a regular business session, and every new member is urged to be present, as matters of importance will be discussed.

FORMER WALTON STAR INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Paul Demoisey, Eastern Kentucky Teachers' College basketball captain and graduate of the Walton High School is recovering from slight injuries suffered in an automobile accident on the Richmond-Lexington pike near the Lexington city reservoir Monday.

The former northern Kentucky high school basketball star and Dr. J. D. Farris, resident physician at the college, were injured as they drove to Lexington to consult a physician regarding an injury to Demoisey's elbow, suffered during a game with Transylvania College Saturday night.

The physician suffered a severe head cut and was unconscious for some time. Mr. Demoisey sustained slight bruises. Their auto collided with a milk truck.

NOVELTY DANCE TO BE GIVEN AT ZIMMER GARDEN

Saturday night, February 27th, Ben Zimmer, manager of Zimmer's Gardens, will give a novelty dance, the first of the season.

The Zimmer gardens are located at Florence, Ky., on Dixie Highway, formerly known as the fair grounds.

Mr. Zimmer announces that he will give a lucky chair prize and valuable door prize. He also said that there would be a new blue singer, radio star, and that good music would be furnished by the Zimmer Swing Orchestra.

No advance in admission will be charged, he announced.

PAYMENTS ARE LARGER

FOR 1937 A. C. P. SOIL BUILDING PRACTICES—PROGRAM TO BE BE MUCH THE SAME OTHERWISE.

The Agricultural Conservation Program for 1937 is very much the same as the program for 1936, except that larger payments are made for soil building practices.

The payments made for the seedings of legumes and grasses are higher this year than they were under the 1936 program. For the application of ground limestone a payment is made of $1.50 per ton not to exceed 2½ tons per acre. For the maximum application of limestone the payment would be $3.75 per acre. Acreage of crop diversion this year is the same as for 1936, except the maximum diversion from the tobacco base for which payments will be made is 25 per cent instead of 30 per cent.

Soil building payments in addition to diversion payments will be made for carrying our approved soil building practices. The maximum amount that can be earned as a soil building payment is called the soil building allowance, the same as in 1936. This allowance is to be taken from the 1936 record of performance and a soil conserving base will be estimated by the county committee. The soil building payment will be the amount actually earned by carrying out soil building practices, such as the seedings of legumes and grasses, turning under green manure crops and applications of lime and phosphate.

The normal seeding rates as approved by the committee are as follows.

Alfalfa 20 to 20 lb. per acre.
Red Clover 8 to 12 lb. per acre.
Crimson clover, 15 to 30 lb. per acre.
Sweet clover (hulled) 8 to 10 lb. per acre.
Sweet clover (unhulled) 10 to 20 lb. per acre.
Alsike, 6 to 8 lb. per acre.
Blue Grass, 12 to 20 lb. per acre.
Red top (cleaned seed) 5 to 6 lb. per acre.
Timothy, 8 to 10 lb. per acre.
Vetch—10 to 25 lb. per acre.
Lespedeza, 10 to 20 lb. per acre.

For seeding approved seeds of any of the following crops payment will be made at the rate per acre set forth below:

Alfalfa $2.50; red clover $2.00; Bluegrass $2.00; Crimson Clover $1.50; Sweet Clover $1.50; Alsike clover $1.50; Orchard grass $1.50; Vetch $1.50; Red Top $1.00; Timothy $1.00; White Clover $1.00, and Lespedeza $1.50.

DEMOCRAT CLUB TO GIVE DANCE

AT THE NEW STEVIE CLUBHOUSE, FT. MITCHELL—JUST-IN HUBER AND 10-ACT FLOOR SHOW TO BE ATTRACTION.

For their first feature event in the new year, the Young Men's Democratic Club of Boone County has announced another entertainment to be given at the New Stevie Clubhouse, end of carline, Ft. Mitchell, Saturday night, February 27th. All loyal democrats and everyone in the county are urged to attend and make this event a huge success. The proceeds will be given to worthy causes throughout Boone County.

Our club in Boone County is unexcelled in activity and financial circumstances, and not only functions during political campaigns, but is continuously working toward the end of making Boone a better county in which to live.

The club is supported by hard-working Democrats through such means as dances, entertainments, and a loyal group of Democrats who have stood by ready to offer a helping hand at all times. The Democratic Club has made donations to almost every worthy cause since it was organized. The most recent being a liberal donation to the Red Cross during the flood disaster and also a donation to help carry on the fight against infantile paralysis. Your support to an organization of this kind means that you stand for higher standards of living in Boone County.

O. R. Russ, chairman of the entertainment committee, has announced that Justin Huber and his orchestra will be on hand to furnish music for dancing, and that there will be a ten-act floor show for the entertainment of all. There are also many other attractions scheduled for this evening's entertainment, and this is expected to be a still larger event than any before. Mr. Cora Acra and Marvin Houston, Jr., are assisting Mr. Ross in preparations.

Tickets will be on sale for $1.00 each, the same as last year. Everyone is invited to attend, and enjoy an evening of entertainment.

CONSTANCE MAN ENTERS BUSINESS IN COVINGTON

J. S. Mahaffey, a resident of Constance the past eight years, has formed a partnership with F. L. Peeno, of Covington, to conduct a business known as Covington Typewriter Sales and Service, at 430 Madison Ave., that city.

Mr. Mahaffey is a member of the Disabled Veterans of America, Covington Capter No. 19. He was given three years' training in typewriter repairing and rebuilding by the United States Government, after which he was employed in a Covington typewriter shop. Mr. Peeno also has had considerable experience in this business. Their announcement will be found in this issue of The Recorder.

CODE FARM TO BE SOLD

CONSISTS OF 193 ACRES NEAR WALTON ON BEAVER LICK ROAD—R. G. KINMAN REALTY CO., TO CONDUCT SALE.

The James Code farm, located 2 miles west of Walton on the Beaver Lick road will be offered for sale Thursday, March 4th at 10:00 a. m. (fast time).

This farm consists of 193 acres, and is one of the best farms in this section of the county, and will be sold in two tracts.

At the same time all livestock, farming implements and household furniture will be offered at auction.

This sale is being conducted by the R. G. Kinman Realty Co., to settle the estate of James Code, deceased, and everything will be sold to the highest bidder.

Mr. Kinman stated that this farm is in a good state of cultivation, practically all land being adapted to tobacco and legumes.

Check Tanner, who has been associated with the R. G. Kinman Realty Co., for some time will not be able to attend this sale, due to an illness of several months duration. However, J. L. Kinman, brother of R. G. Kinman will fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Tanner's illness.

Editorial of the Week

WHERE DO YOU SPEND YOUR MONEY?

Each week there are many orders go to outside printing firms who never spend one cent within our county. We wonder sometimes if these business firms who are sending their work away from their own home county newspaper realize that they are hindering the progress of their county.

Many business men in Boone County are staunch supporters of this newspaper, giving us all the support in their power, while others send their work to outside firms, paying just as much for their work, if not more, than would be charged at home. Some, however, think that we are unable to print their supplies. To these we wish to state that we are equipped to print practically anything along the commercial line—and just as cheap as the outside firm.

Each dollar spent with us is appreciated and helps toward placing your county on a higher standard.

If the citizens and business men of Boone County would cooperate with us—giving us all their commercial printing, such as letterheads, envelopes, statements, etc., we would have all the work we could possibly take care of.

At the present time we have many Boone County customers, and many customers from outside the county—some at a distance of 100 miles, who are satisfied with our work, repeating their orders when need. It seems to us that if we can satisfy these people, we are able to satisfy you. What about it?

HAVE NO MERCY ON DRUNKEN DRIVERS

Here is an excellent thought from the Port Umpqua, Oregon, Courier: "If the Courier man were a judge in courts dispensing sentence upon drunken auto drivers, there would only be first offenders. Regardless of race, color, creed or alleviating circumstances, the person who has so little consideration for the lives of innocent people as to drink intoxicants before or after placing himself behind the steering wheel of an automobile should never be allowed to repeat the performance. Revocation of licenses would be fatal and final. Driving a car is a privilege—not a right."

It is impossible to prove exactly what percentage of automobile accidents are caused by drunken driving, for the reason that in many cases where liquor plays a part, arresting officers and prosecutors are unable afterwards to produce sufficient evidence for a conviction. But all the best estimates say that alcohol is the definitive factor in a much higher proportion of mishaps than is generally realized. Furthermore, an accident in which a drunk is involved is more likely to be serious than on involving sober drivers.

Drunken drivers are often released after paying relatively small fines. Some juries are notoriously derelict in their duty in bringing in convictions.

The drunken driver should never be allowed to pay a fine and he should be denied the right to use the public streets and highways. If such a program were carried out throughout the country, one of the garvest menaces to life would be greatly minimized.

AMERICAN LEGION FIGHTS FOR SAFETY

The Americanism Commission of the American Legion, long active in the cause of traffic safety, has released two talking-slide-films dealing with that vital subject. Entitled "Inertia" and "The Other Fellow," they are an important contribution to promoting wider understanging of the cause and cure of the traffic accident problem.

"Inertia" is an interesting and unusual presentation of why it is necessary to exercise care at the wheel of a motor car. It describes the physical laws of motion and how they affect automobile driving. It emphasizes that we are so accustomed to the power plant we cal lthe automobile that we consistently tend to undervalue the force it harbors.

The second film "The Other Fellow," is a dramatic treatment of community responsibility for traffic accidents. Not the other fellow, alone, but all of us are responsible for the mounting toll of death and injury because of failure to discharge responsibilities of enforcement, engineering, education, self-discipline. The film describes how a number of American cities are coping effectively with their traffic problems, and shows that any community, with intelligence and determination, can do the same.

The films were made possible by the financial support of trade groups within the automotive industry, and produced with the cooperation of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. Six hundred copies of the productions are being distributed country-wide through state departments of the American Legion. The Legion is showing the films to its members and will arrange showings for other interested groups in the community.

It is peculiarly fitting that the great organization which grew out of a carnage should now be engaged actively in a war the primary purpose of which is to save lives.

FORD EXECUTIVES OPTIMISTIC

Further evidence that 1937 is going to be a banner sales year for the motor trade was contained in sales and production figures for the Ford Motor Company as released by Winfield Myers, manager of the C. W. Myers Motor Car Co., branch of the Ford Motor Company.

As the result of increased sales demand in all parts of the country for the new 1937 Ford model 60 and Ford model 85 Mr. Myers declared that the immediate problem with Ford was production and not sales.

In December Ford turned out 107,000 units at its plants throughout the country, an increase of about 25 per cent over the production for the same month last year. And Ford last year had a world production of 1,219,262!

One of most pleasing indications of the present Ford buying trend is the tremendous popularity of the new Ford model 60 which because of its economy, its lower price and its many quality car features is meeting a much heavier demand than even Ford executives had anticipated. To date about 35 per cent of Ford production—since the introduction of the 1937 models—has been on the Ford 60.

In the opinion of Mr. Myers this also indicates the abating of the "speed hysteria" on the part of the buying public, for while the Ford 60 has a top speed of 70 miles an hour, it has not the excessive reserve of high speed and power found in the Ford 85, heretofore so eagerly sought by the buying public. The mounting sales of the Ford 60 would seem to indicate that the public wants to drive more carefully and at more conservative speeds and that the widely publicized safety campaigns are bearing fruit.

Comets Once Regarded as Most Dreadful of Omens

A star with glowing white hair is a fearsome sight. Since the Latin word for hair is coma, the Romans gave such stars a name which has become the English word "comet" and regarded them as the most dreadful of omens. Two thousand years ago the Chinese were carefully recording their appearances and courses and blaming them for the continual wars, pestilences, floods and famines that afflicted that country.

This tendency to regard comets as manifestations of divine wrath has endured even to modern times. A New York newspaper is said to have announced the scheduled advance of Halley's comet in 1910 with the headline, "Halley's Comet Approaching New York."

During the Middle ages, writes Dr. Thomas M. Beck in the Chicago Tribune, the astronomers were so convinced that comets were messengers of misfortune that they recorded few worth-while observations. Hampered by superstition, they made no effort to chart the apparent courses of these objects across the sky. They generally believed that comets occurred in the air rather than among the planets or stars and that they were a sort of essence of misfortune that had crystalized out of an atmosphere supercharged with it.

We do not need to be told that a comet differs from the rest of the stars in that it possesses a long, hazy tail. Sometimes this tail is too dim to be seen by the naked eye, but in some cases it is more brilliant than the planet Venus.

"God Bless You" Sneeze Started in Middle Ages

It is surprising to find how many people superstitiously say "God bless you!" when they hear you sneeze. This custom is believed to have originated in the Middle ages when plagues and epidemics were rife, relates a writer in Pearson's London Weekly.

Sneezing at such a time often indicated to the superstitious that the victim had caught the plague and so they said sympathetically, "God bless you," meaning "God help you!" At that time it was usual to accompany the words with the sign of the Cross.

Another old belief was that it was lucky to sneeze on the right and unlucky on the left. If a bridegroom sneezed on his wedding morning, his friends regarded it as a lucky omen, and strangely enough, this superstition persists in parts of Britain.

The Greeks considered it fortunate to sneeze in the afternoon, but foretold ill-luck for those who sneezed between midnight and midday.

First Use of "America"

The Sixteenth century printer's house in the little town of Saint Die, in the Vosges, is where the word "America" was first printed. In 1507, fifteen years after Columbus discovered America, a group of scholars, editing the writings of Ptolemy, the Egyptian geographer, wrote a foreword describing the explorations of Amerigo Vespucci, the Italian navigator, who had made several voyages to what is now known as South America. They suggested that his name, in feminine form to correspond with Europe, Asia, and Africa, should be given to the fourth continent. One of them, Martin Waldseemueller, made a map on which he marked the new land as "America." The book and map were then handed to a local printer named Bazin. The map Bazin printed exists in Saint Die, and his house stands in a square in the center of the town. A tablet commemorating the baptism of America is fixed to the shop.

Pirate Days

Until 1820 Turkish warships operating from North African ports as pirates used to terrorize the commerce of the Mediterranean. Captive sailors were carried off by them to the slave market in Algiers or the prisons in Salee. In the Seventeenth century Barbary corsairs used to waylay ships in the Bristol channel, and once a Sallee rover was caught in the mouth of the Thames. It was from Malta that resistence was most effectively organized by the Knights of St. John, who held the island until it was surrendered by their grand master to Napoleon in 1798. The island passed to Britain by the peace of the Amiens (1802) and it is the headquarters of the Mediterranean fleet.

Argentina's Wild Horses

It will be remembered that horses escaped from the Spaniards on the mainland of North America and multiplied on the fertile plains, says a writer in the Washington Post. Both wild horses and wild cattle multiplied on Argentina's pampas. Thus the Argentina gaucho (or cowboy) became a hunter of free-roaming cattle and horses, while the northern plainsman became a herder. Cattle stealing was never the serious crime on the pampas that it was in North America's wild West, because in Argentina cattle were free for the taking. No great ranch owner objected if a gaucho killed a steer for food, but it was considered bad form not to turn in the hide. Only the hides were valuable.

Food, clothing and bedding were collected by Warren county club members to give to the Red Cross for flood relief. These clubs also gave $164 in cash. The Woodburn club managed the drive in its community, and raised $150.

Lesson for February 28

THE NEW COMMANDMENT

LESSON TEXT — John 12: 20-33; 13:34,35.

GOLDEN TEXT — A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another; even as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. John 13:34.

PRIMARY TOPIC — A New Commandment.

JUNIOR TOPIC — A Great Man's Way.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What the New Commandment Means.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Measure of Christian Love.

In the last week of our Lord's ministry on earth many important events took place, but we pass most of them in our present series of studies. The incident related in our lesson of today is of interest in and of itself, but it is of peculiar significance because it introduces a marvelously instructive discourse of our Lord.

Whatever had prompted their inquiry, we are delighted to note that the Greeks came with an earnest desire to see Jesus.

I. Seeking Jesus (12:20-22).

A man has progressed far on the road to blessing when he makes known his desire to see Jesus. Coming to him means coming to the One who has the words of eternal life.

Note that the disciples were wise enough to bring the men to Jesus. The true function of every Christian worker is to bring men to him. On the back of the pulpit in one of America's greatest churches, directly where the preacher can see them as he arises to preach, are the words of our lesson, "Sir, we would see Jesus." Little wonder that a strong and true gospel is preached in that church.

II. Finding the Cross (vv. 23-33).

The reply of our Lord to the Greeks and to the disciples who brought them to him, seems a bit singular at first glance. Did he not wish to receive them? They had probably come to see the great religious leader, the King of the Jews—why does he talk about death—why is his soul troubled?

The words of our Lord are clear. Men do not need an example, a leader, a teacher, they need a Saviour. It is as a sacrifice for sin that Christ will draw all men unto himself (v. 32).

We need to relearn that lesson. Leaders of the church are earnestly seeking the explanation of the rapid decline in the influence of the Christian church. It is a good sign that some are beginning to realize that the difficulty is in the realm of the spiritual. The barrenness of so-called modern theology has become apparent to its leaders and they have begun to talk about a "spiritual revival." But unfortunately we soon find that they use the expression to stand for something entirely different from a real scriptural revival. "The voice is Jacob's voice but the hands are the hands of Esau" (Gen. 27:22).

Let us make no mistake about it, a real revival will center in the cross and will manifest itself in denial of self for the glory of God.

One cannot forego mention of the fact that the last part of verse 26, "If any man serve me, him will my Father honor," was the motto of the late Dr. James M. Gray, whose life gloriously exemplified the truth of the passage. God is willing and ready to do as much for you and for me.

III. Loving One Another (John 13: 34, 35).

When these words were uttered our Lord was two days further in the last week before he was crucified. He was alone with his disciples in the upper room. What message does he have for them in that solemn hour? That they should love one another. That is a message that needs renewed emphasis in our day. The strife which fills the world has almost engulfed the church, and there is bitterness and strife where love should reign.

Let us observe carefully that it is as his disciples that we are able to love one another. There are two erroneous extremes to be avoided. First, we have the out and out conservative, who proclaims his belief in the Bible as God's Word, who is anxious that he be absolutely correct in doctrine, a really saved man, and who then becomes the kind of "fighting" fundamentalist who dismally fails God in the testimony referred to in these verses. On the other hand we have the liberal who has abandoned the scriptural basis of discipleship and who then boasts of his great love for his brethren. Love is no substitute for regeneration, and regeneration is no excuse for lack of love.

Courtesy of the Heart

There is a courtesy of the heart, it is allied to love. From it springs the purest courtesy in the outward behavior.—Goethe.

Duty of Gratitude

Gratitude is a duty none can be excused from, because it is always at out own disposal.—Charron.

The Fountain

Look within—within is the fountain of good; and it will ever bubble up, if thou wilt ever dig.

The Phillip Arnold Award, given annually in Simpson county, this year will consist of banners entitled "Champion Club" and "Banner Club." Medals also will be given to the outstanding club boy, and to the girl scoring the highest record.

Harry Blythe has sold to W. F. McMin a portion of the lot on which his residence is located.

In next week's paper we will publish an official statement showing the financial condition of the county.

There was some pretty loud thunder last Friday night which is said to be a sure omen that winter is broken.

Monday was Washington's birthday, but owing to the unpropitious weather there was no local demonstration.

M. C. Carroll, candidate for assessor, spent last Saturday and Sunday among the voters in this part of the county.

An ewe belonging to W. A. Witham, of East Bend dropped a lamb last week that was a monstrosity. It had one head, eight legs, two bodies, which were joined together at the neck. It lived but a short time.

PERSONAL MENTION—J. W. Taliaferro was the guest of Dr. J. G. Furnish last Saturday.

J. C. Revill has been quite ill since last Friday. He has vertigo.

Miss Fannie Finch is visiting her grandparents in Williamstown.

Our dashing young friend, Leslie Clutterbuck is spending a few days in Cincinnati.

Miss Essie Barker entertained a large number of young folks with a social one night last week.

Edson Riddell, Arthur Rouse and J. M. Lassing, tackled the Masonic Goat last Saturday night.

Edson Riddell has purchased a new wheel and is now patiently awaiting the return of good roads and pleasant weather, two essentials for the anticipated pleasure.

Benjamin C. Allen, son of G. M. Allen and Miss B. E. Stephens, daughter of B. H. Stephens, of Big Bone were married at the residence of the bride's father last Thursday.

C. W. Riley and O. W. Gaines, of Bullittsville, were in town last Saturday. The election of a Justice of the Peace was under discussion and in that connection they mention two prospective candidates in their immediate neighborhood.

Julius C. Bristow and Miss Florence A. Love, and Cumberland H. Bristow and Miss Ida Mae Love marry at the Richwood Presbyterian Church today. The grooms are the sons of the venerable Anslem Bristow, of Union, and the brides are the daughters of Joe C. Love, who resides near Big Bone.

LISTS THE LESSONS TAUGHT BY DROUTHS

Lessons learned from the drouths of recent years are listed by William B. Howell, agricultural agent in Oldham county.

First, he noted, more water reservoirs and other sources of water supply for stock and people are needed, and are being provided on many farms throughout Kentucky.

More attention is being given to drouth-resistant crops, Mr. Howell mentioning in particular alfalfa and sudan grass. He believes the alfalfa acreage in Kentucky might be increased 200 to 500 percent, and that a third to a half-acre of sudan grass per animal might be sowed as insurance against feed shortage.

Another point is that farmers might arrange for a feed carry-over, especially hay and other roughage, from years of abundance to years of scarcity.

Then, Mr. Howell feels, more stress could be placed on the sowing in late sumner or early fall of rye, wheat, barley and other crops for fall, winter and spring grazing. Kentucky farmers this year have had a gratifying experience with fall and winter grazing. Cattle and sheep grazed these crops through much of the winter, and one authority estimates that the open winter and abundance of grazing have been worth millions of dollars to Kentucky stock raisers.

Mr. Howell concludes by appealing to farmers to consider drouths especially those of mid-summer, whe nmaking their season's plans, and try to be prepared to withstand a partial drouth without severe losses.

Louisville Comes Up Smiling

15,000 ATTEND BIG RALLY WITH RENEWED COURAGE TO OVERCOME OBSTACLES.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 17—Three weeks ago today, the Ohio river neared the crest of its unprecedented flood here; the city was at the mercy of the waters; 200,000 of its inhabitants were homeless; losses soared with every second; frightened, exhausted citizens fought to save life and property; utilities and communications virtually were paralyzed; boats were the chief means of transportation.

But today it was "Louisville marches on!"

Still showing effects of the battering by its worst flood in history, the Derby city gradually is emerging from the chaos. Many persons still are homeless, but they are being cared for and no longer are fearful; telephones, power, water and fuel are back, but service isn't normal; transportation has been restored—boats are in drydock—and business swiftly is recovering from its lethargy.

15,000 Persons Prsent

Like an awakening city at dawn—that is Louisville today.

Such was the picture portrayed, to 15,000 persons who thronged Jefferson county armory for a pep rally Tuesday night. Three weeks ago the armory housed thousands of persons, but they weren't smiling and cheering as those did last night—they were grim and haggard, wondering what would happen next—they were refugees.

There were grim faces last night as the audince listened to leaders relate of the long trek to rehabilitation but there was not the despair. Didn't the speakers predict a "new Louisville" would arise? Renewed determination and courage reflected on the faces of those thousands as they left the great hall, ready to tackle the task of building a "bigger and better" city and planning for the future and control of the treacherous river that rolls by its door.

After being entertained with music, vaudeville acts and by radio stars, the speaking began.

Mayor Neville, who directed the flood relief work, predicted a "new Louisville, one not threatened by floods . . . with utilities and auxiliaries that will carry us through all days of disaster, parks instead of dwellings in areas which are threatened by floods each year . . ."

"The open road of progress lies ahead," said William A. Stoll, president of the Board of Trade. "We are ready for action and there's nothing in the way."

Judge Robert Worth Bingham, United States ambassador to Great Britain, who hurried home to be with his "people" during the crisis, presided at the meeting. The prompt response to Mayor Miller's plea for police and firemen to augment Louisville's worn forces, he declared, reflected the "great heart of America."

And when it was over, with the strains of "My Old Kentucky Home," carrying a new and richer significance, and the words of live in a city which has shown the Mayor Miller: "Thank God that we resourcefulness to meet the catastrophe," still ringing in their ears, the thousands started homeward, some to tents, but all imbued with a new spirit, a new theme—"Louisville marches on!"

KENTUCKY BAPTISTS TO MEET AT CORBIN, KY.

Kentucky Baptist Ministers and Associational Sunday School workers of Eastern and Central Kentucky are preparing to attend a great and inspiring meeting at the Central Corbin Baptist Church, Rev. E. L. Edens, pastor, Thursday and Friday, March 4th and 5th. The meeting begins Thursday morning at 10:15 a. m. and closes Friday noon.

Secretary W. A. Gardiner, Louisville, expects to have all District Associations East of Louisville represented, about 55 in all. The Sunday School Associational Superintendent of each Association has been asked to have workers representing the following pnases of Sunday School work present: Associational Superintendent, Associate Superintendents of Training and Evangelism, Adult, Young People, Intermediate, Junior, Primary, Beginner, Cradle Roll, Extension and Vacation Bible School.

The Baptist Sunday School Board of Nashville, Tenn., will have its entire force of workers at this meeting. Dr. T. L. Holcomb, Executive Secretary, Harold E. Ingraham, Secretary of Administration, J. N. Barnette, his Associate; W. P. Phillips, A. V. Washburn, Miss Verda Von Hagen, Miss Mary Virginia Lee, Miss Mattie Leatherwood, Miss Alene Bryan, Miss Blanche Linthicum, Dr. Homer L. Grice and Dr. Roland Q. Leavell. These outstanding leaders in Sunday School work will bring soul-stirring messages and conduct helpful and instructive conferences that should help those attending to carry back home with them new plans, hopes and determinations for their own respective situations.

This is the second year of such helpful statewide meetings held throughout seventeen states of the Southern Baptist Convention. Thousands of volnnteer workers have been enlisted, encouraged and helped in their efforts to carry the Gospel to each and every Baptist church in every District Association. New Sunday-schools have been organized, dead ones have been revived, mission Sunday-Schools have been started and Vacation Bible Schools have greatly increased.

Approximately 1,000 Warren county women cooperated with the home agent in providing food for 1,250 flood refugees.

A majority of Simpson county homemakers have each canned 25 quarts of meat.

KENTUCKY 4-H CLUB NEWS

A guest speaker for every meeting, in addition to project discussions, is desired by Boone county Utopia club members. They want to know more about arts and crafts, how to prepare for one's life-work, preparations for several professions, reading in the farm home and similar subjects.

Burley tobacco totaling 23,052 pounds was sold at the first annual Green River District show and sale. It brought $11,310. Members exhibiting were from Daviess, Ohio, Hancock and Breckinridge counties. A big jump in enrollment in the tobacco project has already been noticed for 1937.

Twenty baby beeves are on feed in Washington county at the present time, and members have decided to market at least two carlots of calves. At a recent meeting, management, feed rations, fattening, etc., were discussed.

LIVESTOCK AND FARMING TOOLS BRING GOOD PRICE AT SALE OF C. W. GRAY

Bidding was spirited at the sale held at the farm of C. W. Gray last Saturday near Limaburg. Cows brought $50.00, sheep $10 per head and shoats approximately $9 head. All farming tools sold a prices considered very fair.

Lute Bradford, of Union, was the auctioneer.

WALTON WINS TILT

In a one-sided game on their home floor Saturday night, the Walton-Verona Bearcats defeated the Hamilton Farmers to clinch the Boone County Conference Basketball Championship.

The Bearcats have come through the season undefeated by conference opposition. This naturally makes them favorites to win the District Tournament, which is to be held in Walton next week. Coach Beverly and his boys feel that it's more important to think of ways of going places in the Regional than in the district, since it looks like they should have easy going with district competition.

The score in the deciding tilt was 39 to 16 for Walton-Verona. Chapman with 14 points lead his team, while Williamson looked best under the basket for the losers with 10 markers.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE

We had hoped to publish a full report of the sale of Christmas seals in this week's issue of The Recorder, but due to the fact that some information was lacking we are postponing the report until next week. Look for a complete report at that time.

HOG CHOLERA MIGHT BE SPREAD BY FLOOD

Corn and other grain that were under water in the flood may be reduced in feeding value and also may cause digestive disturbances in stock eating it, it is pointed out by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Pigs probably would be less affected by such grain than other kinds of stock.

If the grain could be spread out and the moisture evaporated from it ,it would be less liable to develop mold, fermentation, sprouting and the like, and its feeding value in part or in whole would be preserved.

The use of grain soaked in flood waters, and also pastures, fields and pens that were submerged, increase the possibility of cholera infection, as the hog cholera virus may be present in the silt and sediment, says Dr. W. W. Dimock. head of the department of animal pathology.

Vaccination against cholera is considered highly advisable on farms where grain and lots were submerged. It is the one sure method of reventing losses from cholera. Brood sows should not be vaccinated until after farrowing, unless hogs on the farm become infected with cholera. If the brood sows and pigs can be kept free from cholera until the pigs have reached 8 or 9 weeks of age, then they can all be vaccinated by the serum-virus method.

All pigs two weeks after weaning all shoats that are to be kept and fed out on the farm should be treated by the serum-virus method. It is usually neither advisable nor necessary to vaccinate feeder hogs that are about ready for market. They should be protected so far as possible from contracting hog cholera, but in case the disease does occur the finished hogs should be shipped to market at once.

BEAVER LICK

(Delayed)

Mrs. Ed Black is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

Harve Vest fell while hauling fodder one day last week and broke his leg. Dr. Bedinger took him to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where the limb was placed in a cast. Mr. Vest was later returned home and is improving nicely.

Ben Omer Sutton, of South Fork neighborhood suffered cuts and bruises when he was struck by an automobile, while walking on Route 42 last Wednesday. He was taken to hospital but was able to return home Friday.

Ben Snow and family have moved to Erlanger. Sam Winkle and family to Robrt Green's farm; Rex Kite and wife are moving to Geo. Baker's farm; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Afterkirk to Roy Kenney's farm; Mr. Elliott and family went to a farm on the Green Pike near Walton.

Marie Pennington, Clarice Snow, Emily Cleek, Bertha Jack and Mamie Moore went to Florence Friday afternoon. They spent the afternoon washing for St. Elizabeth Hospital at the home of Mrs. Hue.

Marvin Kite was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital Sunday, where he was operated on for appendicitis. He is doing nicely.

NEW TOBACCO PLAN IS DOOMED TO FAIL

Washington Feb. 18—Representative John W. Flannigan, Virginia, Democrat, sought congressional support today for Federal control of tobacco production because an alternative plan based on interstate compacts "apparently is doomed to fail."

Two obstacles have developed, he said, which appear to make control through interstate compacts "hopeless."

One, Flannagan said, was adoption by Kentucky and North Carolina of compact laws differing in many respects from Virginia's "model law," plus the likelihood that Georgia would reject the compact plan.

The second obstacle he cited was the Kentucky law's provision that Indiana, Missouri and Ohio must enter the compact before the Kentucky statute became operative with respect to burley tobacco.

The original plan contemplated action only by Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky to control burley production, Flannagan said, and addition of three states by the Kentucky statute made prospects of final agreement "even more remote."

"It looks like Georgia is going to refuse to take action," Flannagan said, "and if this is true the compact legislation would be destroyed so far as flue-cured tobacco is concerned."

"SORRY YOU WERE DELAYED, NEIGHBOR"

NOW
L & N TRAINS . . . PASSENGER, FREIGHT, MAIL, EXPRESS
Back in Service

Guess you know how it is, neighbor. Comes a bit of trouble, sickness or danger in your home and business just has to shift for itself. Well, it looked like a tough spot down here with the Ohio walking right in the front doors of all our families. But L & N, fortunately, has the equipment and men for just such an emergency. Our train service was donated to help flood sufferers to safety . . . food and other supplies were transported free during the crisis; then, when the swirling water slunk back to its bed, our forces whipped into action to restore service.

Now, the L & N, "Your Home Sweet Home On Rails," is back on the job . . . as strong and well equipped as ever . . . grateful for the privilege of having served in some measure our neighbors and friends. Today, safe, comfortable passenger trains are rolling again. Speedy freight cars are again carrying the nation's goods. And the L & N, which never bowed a head or bent a shoulder in adversity in all its eighty-seven years, thanks you for your consideration during our time of trouble.

THE GARDEN PLANS

By John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture

First thought on reading of garden planning is that of a formal map on which are shown the rows of the various vegetables, but that is only part of planning, for, too, is included properly selecting varieties to perform as they are expected to perform, also, making provision for insect and disease control and for cultivating the garden after it is under way.

Certainly, a map drawn to scale should be made, showing high spots in which the earliest vegetables are to go, as well as spots that are low, and therefore late in arriving at gardening condition. Besdies, should be shown buildings and trees in whose shade or partshade should be put those crops that can accommodate themselves to such a condition. In addition, walks, rows or perennials and any other feature for which allowance must be made, should appear. With all this blocked out, planning may begin.

The first step is to decide what vegetables are to be grown, as determined by what meets the family's tastes, but that list supplemented with a few vegetables whose acquaintance the family should make, for the average garden lacks variety. Then, should be computed how much of each vegetable is to be produced, based on the number of serving per week or year, and what constitutes a "serving." These quantities may then be translated into garden rows, and set down on the map, to complete the plan.

At about this point, it may develop that the garden space is quite too small. That need cause no trouble, if one will recall that not all the rows are in the garden at the same time, but one may use "succession" and "companion" planting schemes to squeeze in crops here and there, for which no room at first was apparent. Kentucky extension Circular No. 243 should serve any gardener, both in planning and in later caring for his garden. A copy of this circular will come free to any person who will address a request to the College of Agriculture, at Lexington.

No season passes without some trouble from insects and diseases. Many times, their attacks come so swiftly as to catch the gardener unprepared, to the point of panic. Now is a splendid time to insure dependable supplies of insecticides and fungicides, as well as to make needed repairs to apparatus with which to apply them, if not to make replacement.

Too, weeds will come, and with them the need for cultivating the garden. It is unfortunate that the word "working" is so often used for the proper term, "cultivation," except it is true that unless proper tools are used, cultivating a garden does become real labor. More will be said about this later, but, for the present, any gardener who places his reliance in a hoe, should see that it is bright and sharp and properly "hung," or, better, before the rush comes, calmly and dispassionately purchase a garden plow or wheel-hoe. As any person who uses a wheel-hoe can tell him, such a purchase will return him dividends in garden pleasure, and in vegetables beyond his believing.

ROAD DEPT. IS BLAMED FOR FLOOD DAMAGES

California, Ky., Feb. 16—Alleged negligence of the Kentucky state highway department is the basis of a unique flood damage claim, to be brought to the attention of Gov. A. B. Chandler, as soon as a petition, now in circulation in the vicinity of California, Ky., is signed by residents of the community.

The petition states that the state of Kentucky is responsible for loss, by residents of California, Ky.—virtually wiped out by the flood—of their household goods, clothes and personal possessions. This, it is claimed, was because the only land exit had been rendered impassible by the state.

This "exit," now known as the Mary Englis highway, is a broad clay roadbed, graded more than a year ago but never surfaced, the petition states.

During the rectn flood period and also for months previous this socalled "highway" has been in realey, according to ehe petition a "morass," in which persons and vehicles attempting to traverse it were mired in the mud.

SCHOOLS' ANNUAL COST TEN MILLION

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 16—The Department of Education, during the two-year period ending June 30, 1938, will spend approximately $10,000,000 a year, a report made by Nat B. Sewell, director of post audits, to Gov. A. B. Chandler shows. This, Sewell said, represents an annual increase of nearly $800-000 and is accounted for by the raising of the common school per capita from $10.95 to $12.

With the exception of the department of highways, the department of education is "by far" the largest spending agency in the Commonwealth, Sewell said.

In the fiscal year ending last June a total of $9,490,508.46 was expended by the department or under its supervision,, the report showed, with State funds amounting to $9,213,521.04; Federal funds $255,003.15, and privately donated funds, $21,984.27.

Administrative costs of the department, including the State Board of Education, the State Textbook Commission, the Division of Certification and the central office amounted to $89,002.30. Cost of maintaining the Kentucky Industrial College and the West Kentucky Industrial College, State institutions for Negroes, and the Kentucky School for the Blind, all under direct management of the State Board of Education, was $180,797.13 for the year.

Sewell said administrative expenditures in the department "have remained approximately the same during the last four years and were less during that period than in the preceding Administration. Under the reorganization acts of 1934 and 1936, the department has been thoroughly reorganized and its functions very considerably expanded."

SENATOR MURPHY WINS IN HIS COURT BATTLE

Covington, Ky., Feb. 16—Ohio Monday lost its effort to extradite State Senator John T. Murphy, Covington attorney, on an indictment charging forgery in the handling of affairs of Mrs. Madeline Corby Webber, of Rocky River, Ohio, for whom he formerly was attorney.

Judge Johnst Northcutt granted to Murphy, one of Northern Kentucky's most prominent lawyers, a writ of habeas corpus blocking the execution of extradition papers approved Governors A. B. Chandler, of Kentucky and Martin L. Davey, of Ohio.

Decision Held Final

Prosecuting Attorney Dudley Miller Outcalt, of Hamilton county (Cincinnati), Ohio, said the decision appeared to be final.

"We have done everything in our power to bring Murphy to trial on charges of uttering forged instruments. It is our understanding of the laws of Kentucky that we make not take the case to the Kentucky Court of Appeals. However, Murphy is subject to arrest at any time he enters the State of Ohio."

Murphy, a Democratic ally and legislative leader of former Governor Ruby Laffoon, applied for the habeas corpus last July and Judge Northcutt in his lengthy decision, reviewed at length numerous legal phases of the case that contributed to the long delay in arriving at a decision.

The legally-clothed opinion held that if Murphy was guilty of the forgery charged against him, the offense was committed in Kentucky and not in Ohio and would be indictable only under Kentucky statutes. The Judge related that on the dates cited by Mrs. Webber in her complaints, Murphy was in Kentucky.

AAA METHOD OF PAY DIVISION EXPLAINED

The 1937 agricultural conservation program provides for two schedules of dividing diversion payments for soil-depleting crops, explains a statement from the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. One is for tobacco and general soil depleting crops, and one is for cotton.

The diversion payment with respect to tobacco and general soil-depleting crops will be divided as follows:

15 percent to the producer who furnished the workstock and equipment.

70 percent to be divided among the producers who are parties to the lease or operating agreement in the proportion that such producers are entitled to share in the tobacco or in the general soil-depleting crops grown on the farm in 1397.

The above percentage schedule is substantially the same as that of last year, the only change being made for the purpose of simplifying calculations. This schedule also is the same as that used in the Southern Region.

Payment with respect to each soil-building practice will be divided equally among the persons who shared in the expense of carrying out such practice. This is the same as the method used for dividing soil-building payments under the 1936 program.

The diversion payments with respect to cotton will be divided as follows:

37½ percent to the producer who furnished the land.

12½ percent to the producer who furnished the worstock and equipment.

50 percent to be divided among the producers who are parties to the lease or operating agreement in the proportion that such producers are entitled to share in the cotton or peanut crops grown on the farm in 1937.

BEST RESULTS FROM NATIVE CLOVER SEED

The wisdom of sowing adapted red clover seed is emphasized by the poor results which the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station obtained from European seed. Yields from the foreign seed averaged only about a third as well as yields from native seed, and in several years were complete failures.

Native seed, or seed produced within the state, is given first preference by the Experiment Station men. Next comes seed from such adjoining states as Tennessee, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri. If seed cannot be had that was produced in these states or in Kentucky, then seed from states farther north should be used, rather than seed from Europe or other foreign counties.

Careful seeding practices, including equal distribution of the seed and proper covering, help to get a good stand of clover, it is stated at the Experiment Station. Clover may be sowed in February on honey-comb land, or it may be scattered in small grain that is being pastured by sheep. The animals will tramp it into the soil.

If seeding is delayed into March, many farmers give the soil a very light disking. Some farmers mix clover seed with orchard grass, redtop or timothy seed.

Earthquake Felt In Sections of County

Burlington, Hebron, and Other Sections Feel Tremor Tuesday Morning—Last Only Two Minutes, According to Report

Although Northern Kentucky experienced an earthquake Tuesday morning that sent householders, and workers scurrying from buildings to the safety of the outdoors, virtually no damage resulted from the tremor, it was reported.

Hebron Deposit Bank reported the tremor lasted almost two minutes and that the building made enough noise to be heard for at least 100 feet away.

Burlington High school also felt the shock and the building was promptly evacuated. No damage was reported here and the shocks were very light, lasting approximately two to three minutes.

The quake was noticed only in spots, and apparently large brick buildings. However, several residents throughout the community reported that they felt slight tremors, but no damage was reported.

The quake, which began at 8:47 in the morning, last for ten minutes. Believed to have been deep seated, it was felt in cities within a radius of 300 miles north of the Ohio River.

Brief shocks, sufficient in intensity to cause alarm, were felt throughout Kenton and Campbell counties. Pictures were shaken on walls, dishes were danced from shelves and broken, and an occasional pedestrian found himself, for no apparent reason, on the ground.

The quake was said to be stronger in downtown Covington and Newport than was felt in this section. A number of officials in the Covington Federal Building started to exacuate when the first shock occurred. The tremblors were over howevre, before they got out of the building.

GOOD ATTENDANCE ACP MEETINGS

Splendid attendance and interest at all 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program Meetings held the past week is reported by H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The interest exceeded early expectations.

Due to the marked improvement in farm prices and income the past year it was expected that fewer farmers would cooperate in the 1937 program. However interest at meetings indicate farmers are anxious to hold the gain made and were in a strong cooperative mood.

It will not be necessary for farmers who were in the program last year to sign up at the present time. However, farmers who did not sign up last year and wish to be included in the program this year must file a work sheet at the County Office. This should be done at an early date. a

HOMEMAKERS' ADIVISORY COUNCIL TO HOLD MEET

The Advisory Council of the Boone County Homemakers will meet Monday, March 8, at 1 p. m. (slow time) in the office of the Home Demonstration Agent at the Courthouse. The full program of work will be selected at this time. Miss Lulie Logan, Assistant State Leader of Home Demonstration Agents plans to meet with the council.

The President of each of the eleven Homemakers' Clubs form the advisory council. This is the first meeting for 1937. Discussion of ways to establish a Homemakers' Library will be brought up at the council, according to Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

PRISON FARM SITE ACCEPTED

OLDHAM ATTORNEY SAYS 2,500 ACRES HAVE BEEN APPROVED BY GOVERNOR A. B. CHANDLER.

La Grange, Ky., Feb. 27—County Attorney B. E. Woolridge announced today that Gov. A. B. Chandler had accepted the Oldham county site for the new state penal farm. The 2,500-acre tract consisting of 24 farms lies between La Grange and Buckner on U. S. Highway 22.

Twelve of the farms will be taken over immediately, Mr. Woolridge said. While here on an inspection trip, State Welfare Commissioner Frederick A. Wallis, indicated prisoners now housed in a temporary camp at Frankfort would be transferred to the farms

TWELVE BOONE COUNTIANS ENROLLED AT EASTERN

Richmond, Ky.—Of the 1,120 college students enrolled at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College for the second semester, 12 are from Boone County.

Easterns student body includes 659 women and 461 men. Freshmen number 317; sophomores, 331; juniors, 265; seniors and those with degrees taking special courses, 198; and specials, 9.

Many new students are expected to register for the spring term at Eastern which opens April 5. Forty-eight classes are to be organized in sixteen departments. Last year 222 additional students enrolled this term are: Harold Clore, Evelyn Conrad, Ralph Maurer, and Leslie Voshell, Burlington; Paul Demoisey, Helen Gardiner and Jessie Rivard, Walton; Dorothy Dunaway, Petersburg; Garland Huff, Hamilton; George Powers, Rickman Powers, Verona and John Robinson, Union.

TWENTYONE ATTEND MILLINERY TRANING CLASS

Leaders, representing ten Homemakers clubs of Boone attended a millinery training class at the courthouse last week. Miss Iris Davenport, specialist in clothing, University of Kentucky assisted by Mary H. Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent, gave the lesson on Spring millinery styles and the remodeling of hats.

Mrs. Allan Gaines, county clothing leader, called the roll of clubs. Each club responded with a report of work done in the local communities during February. All clubs except Hamilton and Constance were able to hold the February meetings. The following were present: Mrs. Robt. Clore and Mrs. C. L. Cropper, Burlington; Mrs. E. E. Newman and Miss Marcella Flick, Grant; Mrs. L. T. Utz and Mrs. Virginia Goodridge, Florence; Mrs. Ethel M. QUINS DANCE, PLAY IN NEW FILM ROLES

The Dionne Quintuplets, so grown-up now, play the piano, dance, and accomplish a hundred engaging antics in their second picture for Twentieth Century-Fox "Reunion,' opening Sunday at the Gayety Theatre.

An outstanding comedy-drama in its own right, "Reunion" features the lovable Jean Hersholt as the Country Doctor, while the exceptional cast includes Rochelle Hudson, Helen Vinson, Slim Summerville, Robert Kent and Dorothy Peterson.

CAR LICENSE DEADLINE FINDS ONLY 829 TAGLESS

When the Boone County Clerk's office closed Saturday afternoon, only 829 automobile and truck owners had failed to buy their 1937 tags. Sunday was the last day on which it was legal to operate cars and trucks with the 1936 license tags.

There were approximately 2,550 vehicles licensed last year, and late Saturday afternoon only 1,721 had ben issued for this year. However, C. D. (Dewey) Benson reports that there has been almost 100 issued since Monday morning.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS YOUNG DEMOCRATIC DANCE

A large crowd was in attendance at the Young Men's Democratic dance given Saturday night, at Stevie's Club House, Ft. Mitchell.

The dance was given in order to supply the treasury of the club with funds for worthy causes in Boone County. These dances are given each year, with a large attendance each time.

FISH AND GAME MEETING CALLED

BY PRESIDENT J. G. SMITH—GAME PROPAGATION FOR THIS COUNTY TO BE DISCUSSED.

The president of Boone County Fish and Game Protective Association has called a special meeting to be held at the courthouse in Burlington, Wednesday night, March 10th, at 7:00 p. m. (slow time). General election of officers for the ensuing year, as well as plans for the activities of the club are to be taken up at this, the first meeting in 1937.

Since the re-appointment of Edwin Johnson, former game warden, back to the force for Boone County, the club looks forward to bigger and better things for 1937. The club reports that the two game reserves formed several years ago are still being protected, and that the game on all this land is plentiful. A move is now on foot to get appropriation of wild game for the entire county, and with the cooperation of landowners and residents, this can be successfully handled through the proper functioning of our Fish and Game Club.

All 4-H club members in Boone County ar invited to attend this meeting. The club urges all members of the 4-H club to be on hand and participate in the program for this meeting. Also every property owner and resident of the county that is interested in seeing a better protective organization for property against unlawful hunting and trespassing are requested to be on hand and let the club know your desires. The only way that we can get any protection for our property and wild game in Boone County is through this organization, and you are urged to be present whether you are a member or not.

There will be free lunch served to all present and several speakers will be on hand to deliver addresses for the benefit of the club. D. R. Blythe, A. E. Stephens and Courtney Kelly are the committee on refreshments.

A good time is assured all those who attend, and if we can get a large group to attend this meeting we can accomplish much durin gthe coming year.

TWO MONTHS ARE ADDED

TO TIME FOR TAX PAYMENTS BY KENTUCKY GOVERNOR—PROPERTY AND POLL LEVIES DUE APRIL 30.

Frankfo , Ky., Feb. 26—Governor A. B. handler extended today until and including April 30 the time for payment without penalty of property and poll taxes due February 28.

No extension was made for the purchase of automobile license tags, the last day being Sunday.

The property tax payment extension, the Governor said in a proclamation, was granted to provide temporary relief from financial losses occasioned by the recent flood. The proclamation was issued under authority granted by the Legislature.

Its text follows:

"Whereas, by an act of Providence destructive to the financial interest of the people, financial embarrassment and distress has laid a heavy hand upon the taxpayers of the commonwealth; and

"Whereas, the General Assembly of the commonwealth has in Section 4147-1 of Carroll's Kentucky Statutes, Baldwin's 1936 revision, provided means whereby the Governor of the commonwealth may by proclamation provide temporary relief in such an event;

"Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me by law, I do issue this my proclamation lengthening the time for payment of property and poll taxes required by law to be paid to the Sheriffs of the commonwealth to and including the thirtieth day of April, nineteen hundred and thirty-seven."

289 BOONE COUNTY 4-H CLUB MEMBERS ENROLL IN 9 CLUBS

The nine 4-H clubs in Boone County have already an enrollment of 289 members, according to David Colville, Assistant County Agent.

Hamilton is the only 4-H club which has not been organized. Their club will be organized this week.

The Florence Club is the largest in the County with a total of sixty-two members, consisting of thirty-nine girls and twenty-three boys.

The enrollmen of the various clubs is as follows: Florence 62; New Haven 52; Burlington 45; Hebron 41; Walton 29; Petersburg 18; Taylorsport 14; Verona 14; Grant 14.

The Taylorsport "One for All" Club is a new one for Boone County. This is the first year they have ever had a 4-H club.

The enrollment is rapidly advancing toward the county goal of 400 members. An additional 200 points will be given to every club for each new member enrolled in their club this year. These points will county for the club in the Banks of Boone County trophy, awarded each year to the highest scoring club in the county.

MAN'S BODY IS FOUND BURIED

UNDER DEBRIS BY THREE YOUTHS IN CHURCH YARD AT LAWRENCEBURG—ONLY PERSON REPORTED MISSING.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., February 27—The body of George Powell, 58 years old, "handy man" in Lawrenceburg, who resided on Tate Street, the only person reported missing in Lawrenceburg during the flood, was found today in the Catholic Church yard by Eugene and George Kneu, brothers, and Louis Behr, residents of Short Street, buried under a pile of cinders.

Powell was last seen by John Russell, Justice of the Peace, the night the levee broke here. Russell said Powell was walking north on Walnut Street when the floodwater was rushing down Walnut Street, and invited him to pass the night at the Russell home. Powell refused, stating that he could walk to Newtown to safety.

It is believed the water pouring from the broken levee washed him into the church yard. He is survived by four children.

The body was taken to the Fitch Brothers funeral home where services were conducted. Burial was in Greendale cemetery.

2 DAYTONIANS HURT IN CRASH AT BEAVER LICK

Minor injuries were suffered on Sunday night by two Dayton men when their automobile left the road near Beaver Lick.

Harvey Klein, 23 of 801 Sixth avenue, suffered a lacerated nose, cut upper lip and bruises about the head.

Edward Ferguson, 23, Fourth avenue and Walnut street, suffered lacerations about the nose and head. Both were dismissed after being treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The were rmoved there in an ambulance from the Tallaferro Funeral Home, Erlanger.

STATE POLICE GIVEN ADVICE

BY CHANDLER — GOVERNOR TELLS OFFICERS TO ENFORCE LAW; MAY INCREASE PERSONNEL.

Frankfort, March 1—Asking that they make their organization so effective that the people of Kentucky would regard its continuance and enlargement as a necessity, Gov. A. B. Chandler told members of the highway patrol to enforce the law impartially and with the conviction that "nobody is going to get your job for doing so."

Sixty-five of the 68 patrolmen in the state were present at the meeting, held in the executive mansion, together with Adjt. Gen. G. Lee McLain, Major Joseph E. Kelly, assistant adjutant general, Supt. E. O. Huey and other officers.

The governor held for the hope that the patrol would be enlarged to include one man for every county, that a system of radio communication would be set up, and that centrally-located district headquarters would be established.

Stressing his desire for strict and impartial law enforcement, the governor asked particularly that the patrolmen wage war on drunken drivers, whom he called a menace to themselves and everyone else on the highways.

He warned his hearers never to drink while on duty, stating that anyone found doing so would be promptly dismissed.

The governor commended the patrol for its work during the flood, saying, "not one of you failed to do your duty to your fellow citizens."

"It want to fix it so that no matter who succeeds me as governor, your records will be so good that you will remain on the job," he added. "That can't be done unless you keep the respect of respectable citizens."

"Nobody in the state can get your jobs except me, and I'll only do it if you fail to do your duty. I want it understood that nobody has sufficient influence with me to make me interfere with conscientious law enforcement.

"I don't want a single one of you to take a drink while on duty. If it comes to my notice that you are, I'm going to ask you to resign. If you don't resign I'll fire you."

ENGAGES ERLANGER MAN FOR COVINGTON STORE

William B. Wessels, proprietor of the Covington Electric Shop, 32 E. Seventh Street, that city, has announced the addition of Joseph Koester, of Erlanger, to his sales forme. Mr. Koester has been associated with the electric appliance business for 20 years.

Mr. Wessels carries an advertisement in this issue of The Recorder seeking salesmen, with or without cars or experience. He states he offers good pay and a real opportunity to the right persons.

33rd District Basketball Tourney Opens Tonight

All Contests Expected To Be Hotly Contested—Hamilton and New Haven To Be First On Program To Do Battle

When the opening whistle is sounded Thursday night in Walton there will be six basketball teams, all eagerly hoping that success will come their way. When the final gun is fired Saturday night one team will have emerged victorious. Between this first whistle and last gun that will be what is known as the 33rd District Basketball Tournament.

What dope is available indicates that this interval will be filled with hotly contested games that will make the blood run a little faster, in even the most calm-lovers of the sport. Who will not get a thrill out of the game when New Haven meets Hamilton, after New Haven's split-second victory over Hamilton last week. Why shouldn't rooters move out on the edges of their seats when ten boys are out there giivng all they have to help bring victory to their school?

Hamilton and New Haven drew into the bright spot for opening night. Their B teams open the o'clock by the regulars. This game alone will have sufficient interest tournament to be followed at 8 to attract a full house of spectators. In the night cap the highly favored Walton-Verona Bearcats meet the improved Hebron Cardinals. Pre-tournament prophecy gives Hamilton's B team and Walton-Verona the edge in the first and last games, but leaves the Hamilton-New Haven game more or less a matter of breaks. The writer of this column favors the Farmers slightly, but if they don't come through he already has an alibi.

On Friday night the sessions open with the B teams of Hebron and Florence meeting at 7 p. m. This will be followed by the winner of the Hamilton-New Haven game meeting the Burlington Tomcats. The final game of the evening will bring the winner of the Walton-Verona-Hebron game against the Florence Knights. It is difficult to say how these games will come out, since the teams that meet will be determined the night before. However, the Hebron B team seems certain to win, while the Tomcats appear to be the team to take it on the chin regardless of whether the Tigers or Farmers meet them.

Saturday afternoon will be taken for the semi-finals for the B teams, while the finals for both divisions will be played Saturday night.

From here Walton-Verona appears to be in the safest position of any of the regular teams with a couple of victories to their credit over eac hof the other teams of the district. But many a winning team in regular season play have gone through tournaments with the sports columns carrying another story about tournament play. For the B teams, Hebron, Hamilton and Walton-Verona have the best records.

Since we have limited space we shall give the scores of the games played since last week's issue of The Recorder: Friday night, Burlington 27, Hebron 28; B teams Burlington 12. Hebron 28; New Haven 29, Florence 18; B. teams New Haven 25, Florence 9.

Saturday night: Florence 31, Dry Ridge 41; B team Florence 7, Dry Ridge 16. Hebron 20, Crittenden 36; B teams, Hebron 16, Crittenden 17.

Monday night: Burlington 27, Lloyd 65.

Final Conference Standing

	Won	Lost
Walton-Verona	10	0
New Haven	7	3
Hamilton	5	5

RESIDENTS ENTHUSIASTIC OVER PROSPECTS OF GAS

Burlington residents are very enthusiastic over prospects of having gas piped into our city. Many have expressed the opinion that practically all residents will sign-up for this cheap fuel.

Many of the homes in Burlington are now using "canned" gas, paying high prices for this fuel which is delivered in tanks. These citizens would be ready to connect with the pipe line immediately after it was laid.

The people are ready to talk business at any time they are assured a pipe line will be laid in our town. Mr. McCurdy stated that could probably be worked out within the next few weeks.

LEADERS SEEK $1,000 INCOME FOR FARMERS

Washington, Feb. 25—Congressional farm leaders today began drafting legislation for a Federal price-fixing program to assure 4,000,000 farmers a minimum annual income of $1,000.

Representative Wright Patman, Democrat, Texas, former tenant farmer, conferred with Chairman Marvin Jones, Democrat, Texas, of the House Agriculture Committee as he prepared to introduce the price bill.

"Cheapest Way"

Jones promised that his committee would study the Patman proposal. He said it would require an estimated $1,000,000,000 annually to carry on an income guarantee.

Patman would establish limited price-fixing on basic commodities such as 20-cent cotton, $1.50 wheat and $1 corn. Under those levels the Government would guarantee each farmer a minimum income of $1,000 a year and would make up the difference between the set price and what the farmer gets for his crop.

"This is the cheapest way to attack the entire farm problem" Patman said. "In the past, we have said you cannot produce so much and we cannot guarantee you any price."

Farm Risks Cited

"The farmer must run the risk of low world prices, weather, grasshoppers, drouth, floods and storms. If he gets a crop, he does not know whether he can sell it. Starvation incomes are being received by more than 4,000,000 farmers."

The W. M. U. will meet at the Baptist Church at 10:30 a. m. Friday March 5th to observe the Week of Prayer. The Royal Service program will be held in the morning, and a special program in the afternoon.

OYSTER SUPPER

The Hebron Council No. 3, Jr. O. U. A. M. gave an oyster supper a few nights ago for the members and their families with nearly all members present. After the supper, Bingo was played. Music was furnished by Bob Hodgs and his band. Everyone enjoyed themselves and reported a fine time.

The entertainment committee should be congratulated on their fine work and we hope they continue.

Editorial of the Week

WILL WE GROW?

During the past year many developments have taken place in Boone County that ere not thought of heretofore. For instance, many natural gas wells have been brought in during the past twelve month. which may change the future of this county considerably.

Many thought when operations were first begun by the Boone County Well Drilling Co.. that the sponsors were wasting their time.

However, as time has passed and many wells have been brought in, those who at first thought there was no gas in Boone County are now among the strongest supporters of this company, cooperating in every way possible toward its advancement.

With thirty or more wells drilled in the county as present and many more to be drilled, it seems that we are in line to attract factories who are looking for cheap fuel. Our only draw back in this section is the water supply, which we believe could be overcome.

Burlington, our county seat, would be an ideal spot for a factory sit. Many lots in the business and residential section are available. When, and if such a thing should come to pass, those who own property in Burlington—lots which have been vacant should consider the future of the town, therefore pricing their property within reason. In this way we will be able to grow.

If natural gas is piped into Burlington, and there is no reason why it shouldn't, there is no doubt that new businesses will be opened, enlarging our town far beyond our highest hopes. Let's all pull together for the advancement of our town.

STRIVING TO PLEASE

We have owned The Recorder approximately one year, during which time we have made an effort to please our readers, at the same time endeavoring to build up our subscription list and our advertising.

We have added many subscribers to our already large mailing list, and our advertising has increased materially—in fact, to such an extent that we were compelled to increase the size of our paper from a six column sheet to seven, adding one inch to each column in length.

We believe that our subscribers have appreciated our effort, for they have cooperated with us, paying their subscriptions promptly, many paying as far in advance as three years.

Our advertising has been increased through our subscribers. They have purchased goods advertised through the columns of this paper, many mentioning the fact when making their purchases, which was very much appreciated.

It has been a pleasure for us to serve the people of Boone County, and we assure you that we will try even harder to give you a still better paper in the future.

BEWARE OF THE HITCH-HIKER

Fifteen States now have outlawed hitch-hiking and anyone thumbing his or her way along the highways is liable to arrest. That condition has been brought about by frequent attacks on drivers who have been kind enough to pick up strangers. Constantly newspapers tell of people stopping to give such strangers a lift only to find a gun poked in their ribs. Often the driver is robbed, his car stolen. and sometimes he is injured.

It is dangerous to pick up strangers on the highways.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS BUY SEED COOPERATIVELY

Boone County 4-H tobacco club members will purchase cooperatively this year nine ounces of tobacco seed according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The variety used will be certified Experiment Station No. 5, root rot resisting Standingup White Burley.

Approximately seventy-two out of 125 members enrolled in this project will secure seed through this order. The other members will secure their seed from their parents or seed of some other variety. Each member in the cooperative order will receive enough seed to sow a thirty-foot bed or enough for one acre of tobacco at a cost of ten cents.

The tobacco project has been one of the most popular in recent years and a large increase in enrollment is anticipated this year.

OBSERVATIONS

Labor Battle

As the late lamented Will Rogers used to say—"All I know, I read in the papers."

I read that the A. F. of L. has accepted the gage of battle thrown down by Lewis and his "rebel" C. I. O. Union. They too, plan to move into Detroit and wage war. Results they hope, to be a greater portion of the auto industry employees in the A. F. of L. than in the C. I. O.

Manyanti-laborites will chortle in holy glee on the assumption that divided labor fighting a unified management will fail. Such an assumption, according to this observer at least, does not appear to be well thought out.

Labor is not divided against itself. If the Auto Union were completely unionized and two factions of this total membership were to split into opposing camps one could say their cause truly was divided. Perhaps labor is divided, but only in th eolder Union groups where existing Union had to decide whether they would stay out of union (A. F. of L.) or go Industrial Union (C. I. O.) In this case, however, there is no split of existing strength. It is a fight to gain strength. Each opposing labor federation has the same basic objection, the unionization of all the machine production industries.

This division of forces is almost certain to result in greater union membership rather than less. The efforts of both C. I. O. and A. F. of L. to unionize as near 100 percent of any plant in their own union as possible will do a much better job of sellin gthe idea of being unionized than one group working alone. This follows the same psychology as the growth of the very industry now being unionized. It wasn't until Henry Ford broke the Selden patents (away back in the early 1900's and made it possible for many firms to enter the manufacture and sale of automobiles to be a factor in our lives.

that the horseless carriages be an

History

This observer is looking forward to the day when his grandchildren are gathering about his knee to listen to the pearls of wisdom that drop from his lips. He is not sure whether he will dwell on the heoric young man who grabbed a a rifle in early 1917 or if he will tell his impressions of near middle age as watches peace time battles with consequences to all of us as great as any battle of bullets.

We wonder if iHstory won't say something like this about the labor battles:

"Industry up to the '30s was democratic in theory but not in practice. A share of stock gave its owner a right to vote; said right, haowever, made null and void by the practice of issuing non-voting common stock, convertable bonds, proxies and various other corporate tricks. An inside coterie of management stole American industry from the American people by means of minority stock ownership so manipulated as to give practical control.

"Corporate control by 'management' rather than ownership in most cases coincided with the development of machine production. Said 'inside' control put the tremendous profits of machine production into staggering salaries for executives, excess plant expansion and excess corporate reserves—these excess reserves running into billions invested in stock market call money accouted for much of the wildness of the stock market boom and severity of the crash in 1929.

"If management had passed on the profits of mechanized industry to the general public in the same proportion as they received them i e, in comparably higher dividends, lower commodity prices and higher wages, there would have been no interruption of the free flow of money from consumer to producer and consequently no soul searing depression.

"Management having learned nothing (History still speaking) Labor took it upon itself to force the sharing of the benefits of industry—the partical equalization of wealth—by means of sit-down strikes, looking to hiher wages."

Most progressive business men now subscribe to the "lower prices, higher wages theory to maintain prosperity." As long as there is one chiseling exception, however, the whole orderly flow is interrupted. Many Union leaders are fighting the altruistic business man's battles if only he could see, as they fight the chiseling 10% or 1% or whatever proportion it is.

Au Revoir

Recently, we buried the clay from which soul had departed.

In it's capacity of earthly husband, father and grandfather, that clay had been the servant of a soul which had created other souls and bestowed upon them many measures of happiness.

It is not within the provience of this column to preach, but who—having seen the clay the instant that life has departed—can doubt the existence of a soul?

Why cannot we all have the simple trusting faith of the seven-year-old grandson who said, "Mother, I heard God carry Grandpa's soul away in the wind?" Yea—"Gone with the wind"—a soul gone back to God, and the wind whispers comfort to those remaining as it rustles through the cedars, whispers, "look about you ah mortal and gaze upon the evidence of God's eternal power in the beautiful nature all about you—béauty and nature that he loved so well.

So long old man, I loved you well. Once again to a loved one, I say Au Revoird—but not goodbye. That's all for this time.

THE OBSERVER.

NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL PROBLEMS

The average citizen has heard relatively little of foreign affairs lately. Events at home—the election, th convening of Congress, the strikes, the unprecedented floods in the Middle West and South—have taken all his attention.

Yet the foreign situation has grown steadily more menacing.

In Spain, for example, a civil war is going on. Everyone knows that. What everyone doesn't know is that a general European war on a small scale, is likewise going on in Spain. All the major nations have paid lip service to the cause of neutrality in Spanish affairs—but the fact remains, according to every fact-finding newspaper who has returned from the Spanish battlefronts, that several European nations have troops actively engaged in Spanish battles, are supplying one sid or the other with airplanes, rifles, cannon, ammuntion and food. For instance, when the rebellion began a rebel leader Franco had almost no tanks—now he has great numbers of the most-up-to-date type. And the loyalists had no air force worthy of the name—now he has great numbers of the most up-to-date type. And the loyalists had no air force worthy of the name—now they have a considerable number of fairly modern, well-armed ships.

Principal participating nations are Russia, Germany, Italy and France. Germany and Italy side with the rebls, who are Fascistic in tendency and purpose. Russia and France side with the loyalists, who include Communists, Socialists, Syndicalists and Republicans

To what extent are those foreign nations taking an active interest in Spain? Vivid answer is supplied by Major Al Williams, famous racing pilot, who recently made a European tour for the purpose of evaluing Europe's air armadas. According to Major Williams, "One pilot, who had served in the rebel army, told me it was getting tough for a native to find something to do in that civil war. Russia, Germany, Italy and France had all but taken it over for a warming-up session of their new war machines."

Finally, why are these nations mixing in a civil war that, theoretically, is none of their business? The answer to that is two-fold.

First, there is a good chance that a loyalist victory would result in the establishment for a communist regime in Spapin. Italy and Germany, leading fascist powers, are determined to do everything possible to prevent that—it would threaten their hopes for the gradual extension of fascism through all Europe. By the same token, a rebel victory would be followed by a fascist Spanish government, as General Franco has said. And France and Russia feel that if that happened, they would be put in great danger, inasmuch as they would be surrounded by unfriendly nations.

The second phase of the answer is given by intimation in the quotation from Major Williams. The chatter of diplomats to the contrary, it is a reasonable assumption that Europe would be at war now if the antagonistic powers were not held back by fear of each other's possible strength. It is no secret that Germany would attack France tomorrow, if she were confident she could win—and that France would do the same thing, given the same assurance. Civil war in Spain is providing these powers with a chance to try out their fighting equipment—and the General Staffs are watching with unabated interest.

This "international civil war" has killed thousands of Spaniards. It has laid Spain waste. And it is, perhaps, preparing the way toward the most sanguinary general conflict in world history. Today all Europe is an armed camp—and its weapons are infinitely greater both in number and potential destructiveness than before World War. It is very possible that if one of the powers become satisfied that the "tests" made in Spain show it to be superior to a neighboring unfriendly power, the blow-off will come with breath-taking suddenness.

So far as America is concerned, the State Department obviously realizes the dangers in Europe—is seeking to formulate an equitable and workable neutrality policy. There is a great deal of debate going on among those with different views. It seems certain that the President will be given wide discretionary powers in dealing with foreign crises. It also seems certain that the old doctrine, dramatized by Wilson, of "freedom of the seas" will be dropped, in the hope of keeping us out of conflict.

Lesson for March 7

LIFE HERE AND HEREAFTER THROUGH CHRIST

LESSON TEXT—John 14:1-15.
GOLDEN TEXT — I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. John 14:6.
PRIMARY TOPIC—In the Heavenly Father's House.
JUNIOR TOPIC — Many Mansions.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why We Need Christ Always.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Life Here and Hereafter through Christ.

It was the night before the darkest day in the world's history. On the morrow the Son of man was to hang on Calvary's tree for the sins of the world—for your sins, and for mine. But for the moment he was alone with his disciples. The last Passover had been eaten together, the betrayer had been discovered, and the Lord has told them that he was soon to go where they could not follow. Peter had, by his bold self-assurance, brought forth the prophecy of his denial. The disciples were disturbed. Then came from the Saviour the words of comfort, assurance, and power which have been the strength and solace of his people through all the centuries. Our life both here and hereafter is in His mighty hands.

I. Comfort (vv. 1-3).

Troubled hearts are everywhere—in the palace and in the cottage, on land and sea. There is a place of rest, thank God! There is One who still speaks the majestic words, "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me."

His comfort is one which covers the future life, for he says:

1. "I go to prepare a place" (v.2). Concern about future destiny is settled at once when Christ Jesus becomes our Lord and Saviour. We need worry no longer. He has gone on before to the Father's house to prepare a place for his own. When we come to that ever-peaceful shore we shall not come as strangers, but as sons and daughters to a prepared place in our Father's house.

2. "I will come again" (v.3) is the word that gives present meaning to the future promise. He not only prepares the place, but he it is who brings us there. The glorious hope of his coming again is the Christian's greatest comfort and mightiest incentive to useful, holy living.

II. Assurance (vv. 4-11).

The doctrine of Christian assurance is one of vital importance, and should be taught in all its scriptural power and beauty. Unfortunately it has so suffered violence at the hands of some of its friends that others have not only come to fear it, but even openly to oppose it. This is most regrettable, for it is manifest that until one has assurance he will make but little progress in Christian usefulness.

The believers assurance rests fundamentally on Christ himself. Two grounds are given in the text.

1. "I am the way, the truth, and the life" (v. 6). These words are their own best commentary. Read them again, slowly, weighing the meaning of each word. If we are in him who is the way, how safe we are! If we are not in him? Read his own solemn words in verse 6, "No man cometh unto the Father but by me." (v. 11).

In Christ dwells all the fullness of the Godhead. He is not only a supernatural being, he is God. How can anyone deny that and read his words in these verses? To do so is to make Jesus a liar and blasphemer.

III. Power (vv. 12-15).

His followers are not left in a world of sin and need as a little group of hymn-singing weaklings, thinking only of the day when they shall be in a brighter land. Ah, yes, they sing hymns and rejoice in them; they look for a better land; their weapons of warfare are not carnal—but weaklings? Oh, no! God uses them to do great and mighty things for his glory.

1. "He that believeth" (v. 12). This army of God carries the royal banner of faith.

2. "Greater works . . . shall he do" (v. 12). Jesus only began his work on earth. Its greatest development was to be the joyous privilege of his followers.

3. "If ye ask . . . I will do" (v. 14). Someone has called this a signed blank check on all the resources of God. Faith fills it in, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. Moody knew how to use it. So did Mueller, Livingstone, J. Hudson Taylor—the list might go on indefinitely. Shall we dare to trust God and add our name as one of those who ask in faith?

The Man of Wisdom

He is a wise man who does not grieve for the things which he has not, but rejoices for those which he has.—Epictetus.

Thoughts of Good People

The thoughts of some people live so near to God, that to ask them to think of us is to ask them to pray for us.

A meeting of the Florence Homemakers' Club was held at the Town Hall, Thrsday, Feb. 25th. In spite of the cold weather twenty members were present, also two new members, Mrs. Kit Tanner and Mrs. Wm. Bankemper, were enrolled.

The meeting was brought to order by the president, Mrs. Clifford Coyle. Miss Gillaspie gave a talk and some very helpful suggestions. A vote was taken for two new projects, and a monthly report was made out, then lunch was served. The lunch committee was composed of Mrs. S. E. Wilson, Mrs. John Schram, Mrs. Chas. Corbin and Miss Stella Lohline.

After lunch our capable leader, Mrs. L. T. Utz, asisted by Mrs. Goodridge and Miss Gillaspie gave a very fine lesson on "Face Facts." They enhanced the beauty of a number of the members by giving them packsand facials and applying the proper make-up. Some very helpful points were gleaned from this lesson.

After singing the song "America" the meeting was adjourned and an enthusiastic group went to their homes, to put into practice many of the things learned at these Homemaker meetings.

BULLETINS ON CARE OF FLOODED HOMES AVAILABLE

The United States Department of Agriculture and the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, have prepared bulletins on "First Aid For Flooded Homes." A bulletin titled "Refinishing Furniture damaged by Flood" has been prepared by Miss Ida C. Hagman, specialist in room improvement, University of Kentucky. Much furniture first thought to be ruined in the flood may be prepared for use, according to Miss Hagman. Furniture may be given coats of shellac or varnish as the last step in refinishing.

The New York State College of Home Economics at Cornell University have sent copies of bulletin "First Aid for Flooded Homes" which gives very specific information. Copies of these bulletins may be obtained from the office of the Home Demonstration Agent, Mary Hood Gillaspie, in the courthouse at Burlington.

NEW VARIETY OF TOBACCO TO BE DEMONSTRATED

Petersburg, Grant, Burlington and Verona communities will conduct demonstrations in 1937 with new varieties of tobacco according to H. R. Forkner. County Agent.

Farmers in Petersburg and Grant communities will conduct demonstrations with the new Experiment Station No. 32 variety that is especially resistant to Fusarium Wilt. Fusarium wilt is a disease that causes blighting or dying on one side of the plant often causing severe damagae about the time the plant is mature in the field. J. J. Klopp and J. H. Huey are leaders on this project in Petersburg. L. W. Rogers is leader on this project in Grant community. These leaders have already been supplied with seed of the No. 32 variety direct from the Experiment Station.

Experiment Station No. 16 is a special root rot resistant standing up White Burley tobacco that grows rapidly and has produced under experimental conditions, excellent quality. Growers who will be supplied with one teaspoon of seed of this variety direct from the Experiment Station are John R. Worthington, W. A. Brown, Elmer Elliston, Tom Brooks, Will Waller, J. A. Harris, Wm. Whitson, of Verona and Wm. Beemon, T. W. Rice, M. M. Lucas, B. C. Stephens, W. T. Carpenter and C. H. Sullivan of Burlington.

FLORENCE 4- CLUB

Mrs. Carl Anderson and Mrs. Virginia Goodridge met with the members of sewing unit one last Thursday.

They are working on their towels first. There is twenty new beginners and the work is all hard for them, although they are taking great interest in trying to accomplish success. The next meeting will be Tuesday, February 23 at the school.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of Harvey H. Souther:
Sleeping? Yes, to wake again,
Done with suffering and pain,
Wake, to wear with greater ease,
Longer lasting robes than these;
This the body was the thing,
Which contrived his suffering.
What we loved in him shall be
Glowing still in memory;
In the grave we plan every more,
Every hurt and pain he bore;
Nothing else from life has gone,
All we loved in him lives on.
—Wife, Geneva Souther.

Forty calves have been placed among Garrard county 4-H club members for fattening.

FINEST AND SAFEST OF BRAKING SYSTEMS!
ON THE NEW FORD V-8

YOU'LL agree when you try the new Ford brakes, that you never felt "softer" or easier Ford brake pedal action, nor ever had any car stop smoother or quicker.
And you get the safety of strong steel cables from the pedal to each wheel. They always work. Weather can't affect them and even damage to one wheel wouldn't affect the other 3 brakes.
Also . . . Ford brakes give extra-long brake-lining life! Big 12-inch drums give more braking surface for car weight than any other car in America.
All in all, you'll find these brakes a good example of a great Ford principle. It's the principle that the usual way isn't always the best way in building a car . . . but that the best at the price is what makes value! YOUR FORD DEALER

DEARBORN COUNTY FAIR TO BE HELD JULY 26 TO JULY 31ST

Leonard Haag, Secretary of the Dearborn County Fair Association announced this week, that in spite of the fact that every building with the exception of the grandstand, was either upset or torn to pieces, the David McAllister Post, American Legion, who operate the Fair, have decided to rebuild and go ahead with the fair on its usual dates, the last week in July. Mr. Haag states that the same high class racing, attraction and exhibit program that last year won the acclaim of thousands who attended the fair, will be carried out in full. With a big job on their hands the Legion boys are showing the same spirit that seem prevail throughout the whole city, a determination to come back bigger and stronger than ever before. All local industries are coming back into full production. With al lthe rehabilitation work in town and hoped for better growing conditions in the rural section, the boys look for the best and biggest fair in the history of their organization.

SEES ALL--KNOWS ALL

Now that stories of huge magnitude are coming in regarding the earthquake, I suppose that the decendents of the ancient Oracle of Delphi will take up their abode in one of the immense cracks in the earth's surface which were formed in Boone County. At first it seemed that these strange creatures could enter the Burlington heating system following the recent tremors caused in six or seven states by the system becoming "waterlogged." If further information is desired about the more lasting effects of such a condition, I have a definite source of information to which I shall refer you, if you send a self-addressed stamped envelope to the Snooper.

But since it took so much time and expense to contact the oracles in their distant abode, and since the tea leaves have been read and cards turned, I feel that you should be informed that the Walton-Verona Bearcats have the District Tournament already in a sack, and that playing the tournament games to them is nothing more than drawing the strings a little tighter. This out-and-out assertion comes after threats of mob-violence in connection with alleged fence-straddling activities of this column which has contended most of the way along that the Farmers were going to be in there. However, Old Man River has had his say since mid-season.

It is amusing to hear the coaches bewail the fact that each one has such a rotten team when tournament time approaches. Of course I know that they can't all win, but when you hear that Allen's boys "look terrible," Walton's Cardinals are "in a slump," Moore's lads "don't look so good," Beverly's Bearcats "could look a lot better," Caton thinks the "Knights may have a team for the Tournament," and Huey's Farmers were "all washed up," it's just another way of expressing the expected thing about the teams. What each of these fellows mean to do is make all the opponents think that the going will be easy, thus forming an over-confident psychology which in turn will allow his team to do what he knew they could do all the way along—win the tournament. It's a funny thing about these modest gentlemen, but each of them thinks the rest of us are going to swallow that stuff about his team not looking "so hot." Each coach has already figured out how his team can capture the title.

Now it would be impolite for this column to pass this opportunity to wish for every player in the tourney the very best of luck, and for every lover of the hardwood sport a delightful session of real nerve-tingling enjoyment at each series of games. But don't forget boys, it's how you played the game rather than whether you win or lose.

I'll be around watching all of you settle the differences beginning Thursday night, and until then, "lots of luck."

THE SNOOPER.

REPORT OF CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE

We apologize to the schools for the delay in completing this report and awarding the prizes, but conditions over which we had no control are responsible for the delay. We give below the amount sold by each school, the pupil selling most seals in the school, and the amount per pupil enrolls.

Belleview, $11.08, Corine Walton, 16c; Burlington $40.57, Carolyn Cropper, 23c; Beaver Lick (Col) $4.06, tie Arthur Baker and Etheline Covington 13c; Burlington (Col.) $7.25, Lillian Baker, 16c; Constance, $22.49, Charles Hempfling 30c; Florence $48.24, Mae Campbell 17c; Hamilton $16.20, Dorothy Black 13c; Hebron, $38.36 Mary Yates, 18½c; Garrison, 11.90 Belva Ann Engle 85c; New Haven, $18.78, John Newman 9c; Pt. Pleasant, $6.32, Anna Gertrude 42c; St. Paul $4.20, Ann Jeanett Eddins 5c; Petersburg $4.22, Mark Heinbach 4c; Taylorsport $5.45, Shirley Berry 18c; Walton-Verona $21.10, Ella Mae Chambers 8c.

According to the rules set by the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association the school selling the most seals per pupil enrolled is declared winner in the contest. Garrison school is winner of first place with Pt. Pleasant taking second place. Pt. Pleasant won the cup last year, but will surrender it to Garrison this year. A school must win in three sueessive years in order to become owner of the cup.

The Florence school turned in the largest amount for seals, and Burlington ranked second in total sales.

The awards will be ready for distribution in a short time.

D. H. Norris, Treas.

BRINGING MILLINERY AND CLOTHES UP TO DATE IS SUBJECT OF LEADERS' CLASS

New trends in spring styles will be studied Friday by project leaders of the Homemakers Club of Boone County. The training class will be held in the office of Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. The lesson will be given by Miss Iris Davenport, specialist in clothing, University of Kentucky.

The morning session will be devoted to a study of spring styles and their application to the Homemakers. The afternoon will be devoted to the remodeling of old spring hats. Over forty-five hat blocks are owned by Boone Homemakers.

RED CROSS BEGINS REHABILITATION WORK IN KENTUCKY

"Red Cross Rehabilitation of flood stricken families in Kentucky is under way," declared Richard F. Allen, Red Cross Director of Disaster Relief for the State, in a statement made at the Regional Office in Louisville.

"Today," he said, "more than 61,000 of the 112,000 flood affected families throughout the State are already registered with the Red Cross for assistance in rebuilding and repairing homes and replacing necessary household furnishings ruined by the rising water."

Registration of those families who have not the resources to care for their own needs is being conducted in registration centers established by the Red Cross throughout the affected counties.

"Everything possible is being done to speed up the huge task of meeting the permanent needs of flood families," Mr. Allen continued. "The emergency period of the disaster is past in many communities, and the number of refugees whom the Red Cross is now caring for in temporary quarters, providing mass shelter and feeding, has dwindled to less than 17,000; located principally in McCracken, Campbell, Boyd, Bracken, Hardin, Henderson, Hickman, Fulton, Jefferson and Ballard counties. On February 11, there were more than 218,000 Kentucky refugees being cared for in Red Cross shelters."

The work of rehabilitating thousands of families in Kentucky will require several weeks of intensive work. It is impossible to know at this time just how long it will take but the work is being pushed with all speed possible, without sacrificing thoroughness, efficiency and justice, and will stay on the job until the needs are met.

The basis of Red Cross assistance to families is need, not loss. Although a person may have suffered heavily in the disaster, if his financial condition is such that he can stand the loss without unreasonable hardship, he is not a proper applicant for relief. The flood relief fund has been contributed by the American people, not to assume the place of insurance and to replace losses but to meet actual needs, and it will be used only to meet those basic needs which the sufferers themselves cannot meet from their own resources, cash, credit, and earning power.

The Red Cross will rehabilitate farm families on the same basis as urban dwellers, repairing the homes and replacing necessary flood damaged household goods of those families which cannot meet these needs unaided.

The most urgent cases will receive first attention. Those in ill healh, widows and orphans and the aged will be considered before others in making awards for permanent rehabilitation. The public is asked to appreciate the necessity of justice of this policy and to support it with cooperation and patience.

The American Red Cross has directed relief operations in over 1,000 disasters in the last half century, all presenting in essence about the same problems that face you today. The policies and methods of the Red Cross in relief operations have been ground out in the school of experience. Rehabilitated communities scattered over the United States testify to their effectiveness and worth.

1937 AC PROGRAM PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

The 1937 Agricutlural Conservation Program is progressing rapidly according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Base adjustment sheets on tobacco, general soil depleting crops and soil building allowance bases are being prepared by the County Office for adjustment by the community and county committees.

It is hoped the committees will be able to approve the 1937 bases and that growers may be notified as to exact bases at an early date. It is understood there will be very little adjustments in tobacco or general soil depleting bases except for abnormal conditions, but that the soil building allowances for most farms will be increased.

Good attendance and interest has been manifested in the community ACP meetings held the past week at Petersburg, Hebron, Burlington, Walton and Hamilton.

Discussing New Zealand at a homemakers' club meeting in Warren county, members made lecture-notes on small maps as the talk progressed.

SPRAY IN WINTER TO CONTROL SCALE

Fruit trees should be sprayed during the winter to control San Jose Scale, which is a highly destructive insect. For this reason, good days during February and March must be used to apply dormant spray, advises A. J. Olney, head of the horticultural department of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

The fruit grower may use any one of four sprays: liquid lime sulphur, dry lime sulphur, manufactured oil emulsion or homemade oil emulsion. All of these have been found satisfactory if properly applied. Liquid lime sulphur, 1 gallon to 8 gallons of water, is less expensive than the dry form. Dry lime sulphur is frequently used by those having only a small amount of spraying to do, and as a result is extensively carried by local dealers. The rate is 15 pounds of dry sulphur to 50 gallons of water. The manufactured oil emulsion may be bought ready for dilution with water according to directions. The formula for preparing homemade oil emulsion may be obtained by writing to the College of Agriculture at Lexington.

While a power machine for applying the spray is usually used in commercial orchards, a hand-spray outfit is practical for small orchards. With a good barrel outfit, a pressure of 150 pounds can be maintained with a strong man at the pump. Pressure lower than this is not satisfactory. Every effort should be made to cover every part of the tree thoroughly, using at least 8 to 10 gallons of spray solution to cover a mature apple tree, and 6 to 8 gallons for a mature peach tree. Less than this often results in failure to control the scale.

Pushing their home and garden beautification project, Williamsburg club in Whitley county is undertaking to improve the appearance of the court house premises. Ditches will be filled in, fences moved to give better views, and stumps taken up.

After holding a big get-together, Marshall county members decided that each club would adopt some community improvement project during 1937. By doing this systematically for several years, many ugly or unsanitary sports may be made more pleasing, they hope.

BURLINGTON SCHOOL NOTES

Our school welcomes two new students, who have recently come from Lawrenburg, Ind., namely: Ollie and Charles Lambert, who were stricken by the great flood waters. Even though having to take a different course, they are doing fine and we hope they will continue to remain with us.

The Burlington Forensic Club has been doing quite a lot of debating during the last week, meeting Independence Wednesday and Holmes High School on the following Friday for our first decision debate. Monday of this week we journed to Independence.

Last Friday the Hi-Y boys met for their first Bible Study class, having Albert William Weaver as their instructor and on Tuesday of this week the Girl Reserves assembled for their first class, having Mrs. Garnett Tolin as their teacher.

The members of our Forensic Club who are working on Declamation are progressing nicely, with each member learning a declamation under the supervision of Mr. Kirkwood.

The Mother's Club of Grade 1 met on Wednesday of this week at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The members hope that as time goes by that more will join this club.

HEBRON

Chas. Regenbogen passed away Sunday, Feb. 14, 1937 at the age of 88 years. He is survived by his widow and eight children, who have the sympathy of their many friends. Funeral Tuesday at the Lutheran Church at 2:30 p. m., Rev. Hauter dellvering the discourse: Burial was in the nearby cemetery, Bullock and Catherman funeral directors had charge.

UTOPIA MEETING

The Boone County Utopia Club No. 2, met at the courthouse last Thursday night, February 18, for their regular monthly meeting. We were very glad to have thirty-three members and eight visitors present. We were fortunate in having four outside speakers for the evening, namely: Mr. J. W. Whitehouse, State 4-H Club Leader, Mr. Carl Jones, State Utopia Club leader; Mr. Merton Oyler, Rural Sociologist; and Mr. W. W. Magill, Fruit Specialist, all from the Experiment Station at Lexington.

Mr. Whitehouse spoke to us for a few minutes, informing us that our Club was the second organized in the State and the oldest now existing in Kentucky. Mr. Jones spoke about including a Hybrid Seed Corn Project for this year. Every County having a Utopia Club is to receive two strains, if there are enough members interested in the project to plant one bushel. The following members agreed to carry this Project: John Crigler, Robert Graves, Ben Stephens, William Moore and Wilton Stephens.

Our old friend W. W. "Tubby" Magill gave a very interesting talk on "Uuts and Strawberries."

Our discussion on Room Improvement and Clothing scheduled for this meeting was postponed until the March meeting.

The recreational program which was in charge of the Hegron group was enjoyed by all.

CHICKENS AND LAWN POOR COMBINATION

As home owners begin to improve lawns and plans trees, shrubs and flowers, one of the first things that should command attention is that it is impossible to have a good-looking lawn and allow the chickens to run in the yard, says N. R. Elliott of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Chickens will eat grass and scratch around shrubs and flowers until they either kill them or so badly injure them that they will never grow to produce the desired effects.

It is not difficult or expensive to keep chickens off the lawn. Poultry netting nailed to the bottom of the present fence or, if a new lawn fence is planned, it should be so constructed to prevent the chickens from getting through it. This will not be necessary if the chickens are confined to a lot of their own, and poultrymen say they do just as well or better than when allowed to run over the entire farm.

Either method of handling the chickens is satisfactory, but it is certain that home owners will never have good looking places as long as chickens live in the lawns. It is a waste of time, effort and money to make plantings unless chickens can be prevented from ruining them.

The mild winter prolonged the fall planting season, Prof. Elliott adds. In fact, extra moisture makes setting of trees and shrubs even more favorable now. However, plants should not be moved when the temperature is below freezing, as roots may be damaged by exposure to low temperatures.

It is better not to tamp wet soil about roots but rather to use water to settle the soil. Do not fill hole, but leave about 2 inches for straw or grass, removing this later in the spring and completing the filling.

A return of $90 from three-fourths of an acre of popcorn was the 1936 accomplishment of Elbert Bentley of Letcher county. He plans to use the money to buy a purebred bull to be used in improving the livestock of the county.

SECOND QUAKE WITHIN WEEK

AROUSES MANY BOONE COUNTIANS FROM SLUMBER—TREMOR LAST FOR APPROXIMATELY 10 MINUTES.

Many Boone County citizens were aroused from slumber Monday nite at approximately 11:45, when the tremor was first noticed. Houses were shaken, windows rattled and a deep rumbling sound accompanied the shock.

This was the second tremor within a week, and many residents were very much alarmed as it was much more noticeable than the first.

Reports from the East Bend neighborhood were to the effect that many chimneys were cracked, some toppling during the shock. However, little damage has been reported in this section.

Rev. Victor C. Stechschulte, of Xavier University, said that the quake lasted between 12 and 15 minutes and centered about 90 miles from Cincinnati. The exact location has not been determined.

Father Stechschulte, after examining the charts at the Xavier station ,said that the recurrence indicated that the rock strata possibly 25 miles below the surface, had not been completely released by last week's tremor.

"Whether equilibrium has now been established is yet to be seen," he said. He added, however, that persons living in the area need not be alarmed by the frequency of the quakes and their growing intensity.

"This is not an area of damaging earthquakes." he stated, "if we are to judge by the past, we are safe."

4-H MEMBERS TO RECEIVE TOBACCO SEED AT CUT RATE

A supply of certified Improved White Burley No. 5 tobacco seed has been recently received at the County Agent's Office for the convenience of Boone County 4-H club boys and girls enrolled in the tobacco project.

This tobacco is a root-rot resistant variety developed by the Kentucky Experiment Station. Four-H Club members who want this seed can get it at wholesale price at the County Agent's Office.

One teaspoonful, enough seed to sow a 20 to 25 foot bed will be 10 cents; one and one-half teaspoonful, enough to sow a 30 to 35-foot bed, will cost 15 cents.

WM. A. BLACKWELL

Wm. A. Blackwell, aged 62 years, died suddenly Tuesday morning at his desk in the office of the National Lead Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, where he had been employed for 35 years.

The remains were removed to the Taliaferro Funeral Home for preparation.

He was a member of the Erlanger Baptist Church. For the past six years he had resided at 55 Beech Drive, Edgewood Subdivision near Erlanger, Ky.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anna Blackwell, 2 sons, Cecil and Frank Blackwell, one daughter Edna Blackwell; one brother, Jas. Blackwell; one grandson and two sisters, Mrs. Sara Clemons and Mrs. Maud Humphries.

ALETHA CLORE PASSES AWAY

AT AGE OF 89 YEARS—HAD BEEN LIFE-LONG RESIDENT OF BOONE COUNTY — SERVICES HELD WEDNESDAY.

Mrs. Aletha Clore passed away Monday at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. A. D. Yelton, Burlington, after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Clore was 89 years of age, and had been a life-long resident of this county. She was well known and loved by all who knew her.

She leaves one brother, Everett Cason; four grandchildren, Garnett Clore, Frank Kelly, Alice Poston and Ora Yelton and five great-grandchildren. She was the widow of Henry Clore.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the residence at 2:00 p. m. Interment following in the I. O. O. F. cemetery, Burlington.

Chambers and Grubbs, Walton undertakers had charge of funeral arrangements.

TWO YOUTHS ADMIT THEFT

Charged with the theft of two automobiles and the wrecking of one of them, two Patriot, Ind., youths were arrested at Ft. Mitchell and returned to Aurora Monday by Marshal Wonder Brooks.

Raymond DeWitt, 18 years old, and James Baker, 20, pleaded guilty of automobile theft, and were turned over to the Dearborn County Circuit Court by Mayor Walter Kerr, of Aurora.

Police say the two stole a car in Rising Sun Sunday night, and wrecked it on State Road 56 between Rising Sun and Aurora, later stole the car of Lawrence Stoll, Aurora.

The youths were arrested in Ft. Mitchell after a description of Stoll's car was broadcast.

MRS. KATURA CALLANT

Mrs. Katura Callant, aged 78 years, passed away Monday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Nead, Florence.

The remains were taken to the Taliaferro Funeral Home for preparation. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Anna Lambert, of Cincinnati, O., four sisters, Mrs. Thomas Nead, Mrs. C. E. Quick, Mrs. S. M. Riley and Mrs. Gusta Smith, two brothers, Staunton and Peter Beers. She was a member of the Florence Christian Church.

Services were conducted Wednesday at 2:30, by the Rev. R. A. Paternoster, at the Taliaferro Funeral Home, Erlanger, Ky. Interment following in Independence cemetery.

NEW RULE TO BE INSTALLED

BY PEOPLES DEPOSIT BANK—EACH CUSTOMER OVERDRAWING ACCOUNT WILL BE CHARGED 25 CENTS.

The peoples Deposit Bank is installing two certain service charges that should hurt no one who takes care of his business affairs promptly. It places the matter squarely up to the customer to evade these charges by carefully looking after his business.

When a check is presented to a bank the bank must either pay it or return it unpaid immediately, it can not hold the check. Overdrafts are very objectionable to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation examiners and therefore a bank should not honor checks that would cause an overdraft in the customer's account.

Returning a check unpaid for "insufficient funds" entails some expense as well as quite a little trouble on the part of the bank, which expense, of course, should be rightfully charged to the customer originating this expense.

The bank mails a notice to a customer advising him of his note maturing about 10 days to two weeks in advance of maturity and the bank has the right to expect the note to be adjusted not later than the day it matures. If the note is not renewed or paid at maturity then a second notice will be mailed. If the note is not taken care of within 5 or 6 days a third notice is mailed, etc. It is these second and third notices on which the service charges run; the more notices the more service charges.

Keep money in the bank to cover your checks and pay or renew your notes promptly and there will be no service charges. The bank's notice appears in another column of this issue.

RETIRED SALESMAN IS TAKEN SUDDENLY

Funeral services for Robert E. Tewell, retired salesman, Richwood who died suddenly Friday while en route to a physician's office in the Doctor's Building, Covington, will be held at the residence Monday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Highland cemetery. He was 48.

Coroner James P. Riffe said death was due to a heart attack. Because of ill health, Mr. Tewell retired from business five years ago.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Lulu Tewell. Phillip Taliafrro, Erlanger, had charge of funeral arrangements.

OYSTER AND FISH SUPPER TO BE GIVEN BY MEN OF FLORENCE M. E. CHURCH

The Men of the Florence Methodist Church will give an oyster and fish supper, Saturday, March 13, from 5 to 9 p. m. Everybody welcome.

FIRE DESTROYS PORTER HOME

DEFECTIVE FLUE IS CAUSE OF BLAZE—U. S. DAM WORKERS ON DUTY WITHIN SIX MINUTES AFTER ALARM.

The home of John Porter, McVille, was almost completely destroyed by fire Monday afternoon, as sparks ignited the roof of the frame building, and gained considerable headway before it was noticed. The Porter home is located on U. S. Highway 18, near the entrance to Dam 38, McVille.

The fire was reported at 1:15 p. m to the government headquarters at Dam 38, and all available fire equipment was rushed to the scene. At 2:55 p. m. the fire was brought under control. The workers, under the efficient management of E. E. Newman, Lockmaster, at the Dam are to be complimented on their effort and ability to handle such emergencies, as they were on duty fighting the fire just six minutes after the alarm had been given. Eleven hundred and fifty feet of hose was stretched from the pumping house to the scene of the fire, and the workmen had water on the building in approximately six and one-half minutes.

All furniture in the house was saved with the exception of one furnished bedroom. All outbuildings were also saved.

Mr. Porter is employed as Lockman at Dam 38, and did not own the house. The loss is estimated at $800.00.

"SMARTEST GIRL IN TOWN" TO BE AT GAYETY THEATER

Tow-headed Gene Raymond plays his third stellar role opposite Ann Sothern in their newest romantic comedy, "Smartest Girl In Town," to be shown at the Gayety Theater, Erlanger, Sunday and Monday. As a masquerading millionaire playboy and a gorgeous model, Raymond and Miss Sothern are involved in an ultra-smart love complication, fortified by the amusing antics of Helen Broderick, Eric Blore, Erik Rhodes and Harry Jans in the supporting roles.

TOM PERCIVAL HERE

Tom Percival, popular and well known Boone County representative of the Kenney Motor Co., 25 East Fifth Street, Covington, was in Burlington Monday.

Mr. Percival, who lives at Walton, reports good business, with prospects of much better business with the advent of Spring.

Finis was written Tuesday to Northern Kentucky's most unique competitive event as three judges named the winners of The Kentucky Post-John R. Coppin Amateur Flood Picture Contest. The entry of Dr. Francis E. Bedinger, Walton physician, won top prize.

Selection of the 15 prize-winning photos was made from more than 1000 entries, all of which were mounted and on display in the Coppin store, Seventh street and and Madison avenue, Covington. They will remain in a specially constructed studio on the second floor until Monday.

Dr. Bedinger's winning photo was of the ambulance drive and Maryland avenue, looking north from the roof of St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington, when the river stood at 79.85 feet. Its point of merit included good general view, fine perspective, clear photography detailed foreground and photographic "life." First prize is $10 in cash and a new "One Bullet" Eastman Kodak camra.

ATTENDS WELDER'S CONFERENCE

R. Michels, of the R. Michels Welding Co., 722 Washington St., Covington, attended the Welders' Conference, at Ohio State University, Columbus, last week. Welders from throughout the mid-west were in attendance. Mr. Michels is exhibiting in his place of business several specimens of unusual welding that were done by him at the conference.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEET

The February meeting of the Boone County Women's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Franklin Maurer.

Each member present answered with an original rhyme about our members, and the President ended this with an original and flattering verse about each one,which entertained all. Our hostess gave the Bible reading.

A discussion entitled "Bad Luck" was read by Mrs. Anna Huey. Facts about Lincoln by Mrs. Josie Maurer proved interesting, and was followed by Lincoln's Kentucky Boyhood; a paper prepared by Mrs. Avalon Walton and stories about Lincoln by Miss Estelle Huey.

Our attention was called to the article in McCall's magazine by Alexandrer Woolcott, conderning Lincoln's Gettysburg address. We learned that ther has been found in old documents, thirty-four ways of spelling the name, Lincoln.

Mrs. Lulu Huey next read an extensive and informative paper about Geaorge Washington. A read by Mrs. Arthur Maurer ended the program. We were glad to have several guests and sorry all the members could not be present

Lovely refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

The March meeting will be with Mrs. Anna Huey.

HAMILTON P.-T. A. TO MEET

On March 18 at 7:30 p. m., the Hamilton P.-T. A. will hold their regular monthly meeting at the school building. Everyone is cordlally invited to attend.

ROBERT HENSLEY PASSES BAR EXAM

WAS EMPLOYED AS ASSISTANT CLERK IN KENTUCKY HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES DURING SPECIAL TERM.

According to a report received here Saturday, Robert Hensly, of Burlington, passed the Kentucky Bar examination held in December. He is a graduate of the Kentucky University, where he first gained recognition for his work in organizing Dmocratic clubs in colleges throughout the State.

Mr. Hensley was assistant clerk in the Kentucky House of Representatives during the recent special session of that body. He was an executive in the offices of the Democratic headquarters at Louisville last year, and was campaign chairman for John Young Brown in his race for United States Senator, in Boone County last year.

At the present time he is employed by the state in the Social Security Department. It was also reported that he has a position offered him in a law office at Louisville.

CODE FARM SOLD AT AUCTION LAST WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3

The James Code farm, on the Beaver-Walton road sold at public auction last Wednesday, March 3. The purchase price was considered to be very good.

The home tract consisting of 143 acres sold to one of the heirs at $37.00 per acre. Fifty acres, which was said to be unimproved land was purchased by Louis C. Stephenson, Boone County, at $28.25 per acre. The personal property offered at this sale amounted to approximately $1,750.65.

This sale was handled by the R. G. Kinman Realty Co., of Covington, with R. G. and J. L. Kinman acting as auctioneers. Mr. Kinman has the reputation of being one of the best real estate men in this section, and has handled many large sales throughout the county.

Mr. Kinman stated that he had booked a large farm consisting of 124 acres, owned by Ira Ryle, 4 miles from Aurora, Ind., to be sold on April 1st.

CONSTANCE CHURCH ASKS AID

Among the flood sufferers was the Constance Christian Church at Constance. . According to church officials, the building and furniture was damaged to the extent of $600. The seats, two pianos, and an organ were a total loss. The building itself was damagd also.

The members, having individual losses in the flood are not financially able to replace the seats and other things at once, and kindly ask for cash donations, large or small. Any amount will be appreciated. Send all money to the church treasurer, Mrs. Freda Kottmyer, Constance, Ky.

GRANT COUNTY MAN ANNOUNCES

FOR STATE SENATOR—P. L. SIDEBOTTOM FIRST TO TOSS HAT IN POLITICAL RING—MANY EXPECTED TO FOLLOW.

In last week's issue of The Recorder we carried the official announcement of P. L. Sidebottom for State Senator from the counties of Boone, Grant, Gallatin Owen and Pendleton.

Mr. Sidebottom has served the people of Boone and Grant Counties during the last session of the General Assembly, and is well known throughout this county. During his race for Representative he made many public addresses in this county and procured many staunch friends.

He is the first to toss his hat into the political ring, and as this time we have heard of no one planning to make this race. However, it is rather early for candidates to make their formal announcement and many are expected to enter the political field at a later date.

Mr. Sidebottom is a native of Owen County, but has spent practically his entire life in Grant, at present he is the manager and owner of the Sidebottom Chevrolet Company, of Williamstown.

He is one of Grant County's best educated men, and is well qualified for the office he seeks.

WINTER SPRAY NECESSARY TO CONTROL SCALE

Good days during February and March must be used to apply dormant sprays to control San Jose Scale on fruit trees, says David Colville, Assistant County Agent.

The fruit grower may use any of four sprays: liquid lime sulphur, dry lime sulphur, manufactured oil emulsion or home made oil emulsion. These sprays have all been found satisfactory at the University of Kentucky, if they are properly applied. The liquid lime sulphur, one gallon to eight gallons of water is less expensive than the dry form. Dry lime sulphur may be economically used if only a small amount of spraying is to be done. The rate is 15 pounds of dry sulphur to 50 gallons of water. The manufactured oil emulsion may be bought ready for dilution with water according to directions.

Every effort should be made to cover every part of the tree. It will take at least 8 to 10 gallons of spray solution to cover a mature apple tree, and 6 to 8 gallons for a mature peach tree. Less than this amount will often result in failure to control scale.

MILK PRICE TO REMAIN AT 13c

GRIEVANCE COMMITTEE OF MILK DEALERS AT A MEETING HELD LAST MONDAY IN NEWPORT.

Members of the Grievance Committe of the Kentucky, Indiana, and Ohio Farm Producers Association and the Milk Dealers of Kenton and Campbell Counties Monday voted to retain the present rate for the sale of milk, at a closed meeting in the Newport Chamber of Commerce.

Herman Carman, Fort Thomas, a member of the committee, said the present rate of 13 cents a quart to the consumer and 11 cents a quart to grocers and retailers, will be continued.

Others attending the meeting were Dr. A. O. Bonnell, Robert Sharon, and Peter Doll, all of Cincinnati; H. B. Skinner, Executive Secretary of the Newport Chamber of Commerce, and F. J. Alvin, Executive Secretary of the Covington Chamber of Commerce.

LLOYD MEMORIAL HOLD MEETING

The Sophia Lloyd Memorial Society met at the Lloyd Home Saturday, March 6th for an all-day meeting, with ten members present. A business meeting was held in the afternoon, conducted by the President, Mrs. Robert Pearson.

Quite an interesting program was held in the afternoon, subject being "Christ and The Crucifixon."

The meeting was dismissed by all singing "Rock of Ages." Next meeting will be held April 3rd with quite an interesting program planned for that day.

WALTON-VERONA WIN DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

Hamilton Secures Place As Runners-Up. Walton-Verona Reserves Victors In Their Division. All Games Were Hard Fought

High school basketball for the school year 1936-37 in Boone County is a matter of history now that the District Tournament has been held.

True to usual form, the favorites were able to come through without disappointing their followers. It was not such an easy taks as some may have thought for the Walton-Verona lads to eliminate Hebron, Florence, and Hamilton to take the winner's trophy. Hebron lead the champions by one point at the half and Florence was right in the thick of the battle all the way, with the Knights trailing by only two points at th halfway rest period. The Walton B team took first place also.

The Hamilton-New Haven game which was the opener for the first stringers was one of the most thrilling contests of the entire tourney. Though the score was not close, there was plenty of good basketball played in the thirty-two minutes the teams were settling their differences. After eliminating the Tigers, the Farmers had somewhat easy going in downing the Burlington Tomcats in the semi-finals. Both teams from New Haven were forced out of the running by the Hamilton cagers the first session of the tournament, a thing brought about by pairings when the drawings were made which threw New Haven's two games on the same night. While they were playing their two games Thursday night, the Burlington teams were both resting as a result of drawing byes for the first round of games.

Possibly the surprise of the tournament came when the Florence Knights put fear in the hearts of the Walton-Verona basketeers and kept it there almost until the las quarter was over. Going into the Tourney with a record for erratic ball-playing these Stringtown cagers gave the sidelines plenty of thrilling basketball. Season games between these teams indicated that the champs would have rather easy going, but only a few minutes had passed until that frame of mind was enirely changed into one of tough going.

Hebron and Burlington, like some of the famous horses in the contests which has been termed the "sport of kings," also played. But not a boy on any team demonstrated the attiude of a quitter. It was this feature of the recent tournament which gave it the name of being one of the best ever held in the district as well as one of the clearest of foul play. Many have expressed the fact that no tourney was ever played with a higher type of sportsmanship. Much credit should be given the boys and their coaches for giving the lovers of basketball this kind of play. Nothing speaks so well for those on the floor as hard play but fair play.

The officials, Austing and Colwell, performed admirably, but were closer on the footwork of the players than the usual officials are. Many of the boys and root-

PHOSPHATE AVAILABLE

TO BOONE COUNTY FARMERS AT SAVING OF SIXTY CENTS PER HUNDRED, SAYS H. R. FORKNER, COUNTY AGENT.

T. V. A. phosphate has been made available to Boone County farmers cooperating in the 1937 AC Program, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

Farmers may secure and use the T. V. A. 43 per cent super phosphate for use on grass and legume crops at the same rate paid for in the program, putting up no cash except freight and handling charges with the factory price deducted from the ACP benefits to be received next winter.

The above means that farmers who apply at the County Office on official forms may have amounts of phosphate ordered according to their soil building allowance. No charge will be made for the fertilizer but handling and freight charges will be made when delivered.

This offers a wonderful opportunity in that a saving of approximately sixty cents per hundred is made on the cost price and no cash is put up for the f. o. b. cost. All farmers interested in this valuable fertilizer to earn more of their soil building allowance in 1937 should apply at the county office immediately.

FARMERS ARE URGE TO USE LIMESTONE

Boone County farmers are urged to give the use of ground agricultural limestone important consideration in this 1937 farm plans, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Agricultural limestone has proven a most important soil amendment for the growing of better grass and legume crops on practically all Booen County farms. One good application will last from ten to fifteen years or longer and lime is thus a long time investment.

Lime may be secured today at the cheapest rate in the history of Boone County. Most farmers can hire rock piled on their farms at 75 cents to $1.00 per ton or even cheaper. Thus the work of the Boone County Soil Improvement Association, this rock may be pulverized on the farm at a cost of 70 cents per ton with all labor and equipment included. The 1937 AC program allows $1.50 per ton on the soil-building allowance when used at specified rates. This means most farmers can make their lime clear with a cash profit for using same.

Farmers must be on the county-planned route to have stone pulverized at the specified rate. Farmers who are interested are interested are urged to notify the County Office immediately as to the number of tons to be pulverized. The County Office is anxious to render ever service to farmers.

LOCAL POSTMASTER HAS NEW ARRIVAL, MONDAY

A baby girl, weighing 7 pounds and 5 ounses was born to Mr. and Mrs. Newton Sullivan Monday. The new arrival has been named Nancy Elizabeth.

Mr. Sullivan will have to order a larger hat, and it appears that the sidewalks will have to be made wider, as it was reported he crowded several pedestrians off the sidewalks in Burlington the past few days.

Editorial of the Week

A MODERN REFORMATORY ON A PRISON FARM

Purchase of a prison farm of approximately 2,800 acres on which is to be erected a new, modern prison, has been announced by Governor Chandler. The institution will replace the 136-year old antiquated, inadequate reformatory at Frankfort, erected to house 1600 prison inmates, yet into which it has been necessary to crowd 2900 prisoners. The old reformatory was rendered uninhabitable when the recent flood swept thru the institution, water rising to a depth of 10 to 12 feet within the prison walls.

Prisoners now confined in a temporary prison camp at Frankfort at being moved to the newly acquired farm, small contingents being taken to the new location from time to time as tents can be transferred and temporary barracks can be completed. The Governor hopes to complete the concentration of prisoners on the farm in six weeks.

Work is to be started on the new prison which will be designed to provide facilities for the more tractable type prisoner for which minimum security confinement is regarded as ample. Students of penology have long recognized the need of a prison farm in Kentucky where it would be possible to utilize the labor of prison inmates in producing food stuffs for consumption within the charitable and penal institutions.

Now that prison labor has been virtually eliminated, one of the chief problems is to find useful labor for prisoners. The physical well-being of inmates will be enhanced by daily farm labor in the open air. Expense of keeping law violators in confinement will be reduced by using prison labor in operation of the prison farm. The inhuman, intolerable housing condition that has reflected discreditably upon the Commonwealth will be eliminated.

Acquistion of the prison farm, construction thereon of a modern institution, is a distinctly advanced step. It will contribute largely, though belatedly, to the solution of a prison problem the acuteness of which has been intensified from year to year until its solution has become imperative.

WAR ON DRUNKEN DRIVERS

Governor Chandler's instruction to the state highway patrol to be especially vigilant in apprehending drunken drivers on the highways will be generally approved. And as the admonition is carried into effect all will applaud this effort to reduce the hazards of the highways except those who are caught driving motor cars in a condition of intoxication which renders them a menace.

The highway patrol has sufficiently demonstrated its usefulness as a law enforcing body as to win commendatoin of the public. Personnel of the patrol is of exceptionally high caliber. Extre caution has been exercised in selection of the men who compose the patrol. They are courteous but firm in the discharge of their duties, are daily demonstrating their effectiveness in promoting public safety.

WHAT ABOUT IT?

As time for graduation draws near, we wonder how many of the schools in Boone County will send their announcements to this paper to be printed, and how many will order from outside firms?

We understand that many of the schools have already placed their orders, forgetting that we are just as well equipped to do their work as the firms from whom they ordered—and we are sure that our prices would be much more attractive.

We have cooperated with the schools throughout the county, using many pages of free material during the school term, some of which should have been classed as advertising. We have donated this space freely—thinking that we were helping our schools toward a higher standard of education and creating interest in local schools.

We expect in return for this free publicity—your printing business. We know that this is only fair to us and your county, for when we help each other, we can expect to grow.

We ask the school superintendents of the county to think it over—and when the smooth-talking salesman calls at your school, think of your local printer.

OBSERVATIONS

W. P. A. Sit-Downers

Human beings, like monkeys are very imitative. Witness the epidemic of suicides that always follows the first one, and now the wave of sit-down strikes sweeping the country.

As this column has observed before, there is strong reason to believe that nothing could justify this method of illegally taking possession of property, even for the sake of accomplishing worthy aims.

When the W. P. A. workers do it, it seems much worse. If they are to be interpreted as government employees, they are committing a mild form of treason when they strike against the government. President Coolidge when Governor of Massachusetts, established that principal when he used the state militia to put down the Boston Police Strike. Organized labor has recognized the same principal in the constitution of a Civil Service Union affiliated with A. F. of L. The right to strike is specifically renounced in the charter of this group.

If the W. P. A. workers are not to be interpreted as Federal employees, but as people who would be relief patients if it were not for the "made" work of W. P. A. their position is even less honorable. In this case they are "looking a gift horse in the mouth." None of us like to look at such bold-faced ingratitude.

However, the important thing is not the fact of ingratitude, but what it signifies. The significance is that W. P. A. or other governmental wet nursing seems to be of a permanent nature unless we do somthing to keep the habit of dependance on government becoming more fixed than it is already.

The government is now supporting skilled artizans who used to earn 1.50 an hour, eight hours a day, six days a week—but—only about 25 weeks out of a year. Today, they sop their self respect as craftsmen with the knowledge that W. P. A.'s small wages every working day amounts to more at the end of a year than the old high hourly pay rate and short working year.

There isn't much use critcizing a man who swallows his pride for the sake of his family. No doubt he has found a higher pride in so doing. The matter of whether society should support this man indirectly during his periods if idleness under the old plan or directly under W. P. A. is about as broad as it is long. Mr. Common Man, that funny ineffective little fellow we seen in the cartoons, foots the bill in this case.

It is a sad picture of human intelligence. However, one wonders just how far we have progressed when we can't devise a system of society that can provide work for everybody who wants it. Where some die of gluttony, while others starve.

Even the ant has a much more orderly society. An insect All work in ant society, if they are fit and willing to work. If not, they are distroyed. In ours, we, because of a maudlin concept of Christianity, restrict the size of our families—if we are fit, and permit the unfit and chronic paupers to increase like rabbits. We house and feed the criminal, the immoral, the insane and feeble-minded. Always we lock the house after the horse has been stolen. We place the finest of our youth in the front line trenches and leave the maimed, the halt, and the blind at home to be the sires of the race.

Why in the name of all that is logical and rational can't we train the present W. P. A. worker for the jobs in industry that all crying for them instead of paying out a feeble wage for farcial-occupations. There is an accute shortage of skilled labor in all industries. Why can't we so organize society that there will be no need for W. P. A.'s; organize education to produce happy, successful, mechanics instead of so many excess professional men?

Despite the pessimistic turn of this column—we can and will correct these evils eventually. It is only that the road seems so long and so hard. Bad as conditions are, illogical and inconsistent as our society is; much as we worship mamon instead of mankind; ours is the best, most Christian society so far. This column will not attempt to tell how much better our conditions are than they once were in America and in Anglo Saxon Europe—how much better they are in Europe or Asia today. The reader knows that, if he only recalls for a moment what he learned in his school-day history,

When we look back to see how far we have come, we rejoice. When we look ahead to see how far we have to go, we despair. We would rather look ahead in despair attempting to do something about it, than to look backwards in fatuous satisfaction; for herein lies progress.

That's all for this time.

Patchwork Known Since Cloth Wore Into Holes

It is said that the art of patchwork has been known and practiced since the first woven cloth wore into holes, observes a writer in the Montreal Herald. The great queens of Egypt were sometimes carried to burial under a canopy of skins, dyed and put together by patchwork. In ancient Greece, China and India they used patchwork applique on banners and flags and later, every European country adopted the habit for war-pennants.

The idea was carried many years later, into the making of quilts or coverlets, the crazy quilt being the oldest known pattern. Such a pattern evolved from economic principles for the many scraps left over from the clothing, in the days when all clothes were manufactured at home, were utilized in the form of a "crazy" patchwork quilt. "Scraps" were exchanged amongst neighbors and the pieces of wool, silk and velvet, were sewn and feather-stitched together.

In the early days, patchwork was taught at school along with the alphabet. Quilting bees became the order of the day and were considered the jolliest social events of the year. Neighbors gathered for miles around, at the home of the woman who was making the quilt. Wooden quilting frames were set up and two or three women worked on a side, while others sat by and chatted until it came time for their turn at the frame.

Kings, Other Commanders Participated in Battles

In the days of the old-style field battles, especially at critical moments, kings and chief commanders themselves went into action. Reclining on the crossed pikes of six grenadiers, Charles XII of Sweden, sorely wounded, had himself carried into the thick of the slaughter. Gustavus Adolphus died while leading his horsemen. In the meantime his adversary, the great Duke of Friedland, rode through the Austrian ranks "encouraging the bold, terrifying the timid with the glare of his baleful eye." At Kolin the great Frederick, gathering up a few shattered remnants, led them against an enemy battery.

Aged seventy-three, Field Marshal Count Schwerin fell at Prague. Snatching the colors from the hands of a wounded ensign, the old gentleman steadied a wavering regiment and led the way. Pipe in mouth and saber in fist, Seydlitz and Blucher rode with their men. At Munda, 46 B. C., Imperial Caesar himself fought as a common soldier. His body, enfeebled by dissipation, his intrepid soul carried on.

Stone Age Sign Language

Old-fashioned sign language, in which married women talk silently to their husbands, has been studied by Soviet scientists. It is an old Caucasian custom. An expedition of the Tiflis Institute of Caucasian studies found the gesture language surviving in isolated villages of Armenia, Georgia, and other sections, and published a scientific account. In this quick and silent language, a woman can represent a word or often a whole phrase by a single gesture. Married women use the system, not only with their husbands, but in speaking with relatives and elderly male strangers. Special scientific interest attaches to sign languages, since this form of communication goes back to the Old Stone age, and probably preceded spoken language.

Legislature Chartered Road

On February 28, 1827, the legislature of Maryland chartered the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, the first American railway to engage in the public transport of passengers and freight. Although the development of railways is closely allied with that of steam locomotion, the first section of this road was intended to by used for the transport of horse-drawn cars. Over it, however, in the summer of 1829, Peter Cooper ran his diminutive Tom Thumb locomotive. The success of this and other practically contemporaneous experiments convinced the management of the road of the practicality of steam as a motive power. Thereafter the Iron Horse became an important factor in the development of transportation and communication in America.

The Bank of England

The Bank of England is not a government institution, but a private banking house, the largest in the world, with the British government as its chief customer. It is controlled by a governor, deputy governor and 24 directors. The Bank of England is a joint-stock bank, the first of its kind in Great Britain. It was organized with a capital of 1,200,000 pounds subscribed by many stockholders, and opened for business January 1, 1695, during the reign of William III.

74-Ton Bell in Japanese Temple

Chion-in Monastery, main temple of the Jodo sect, is one of the biggest temples in Japan. The buildings were erected in 1639. There is a huge bell cast in 1633 in a nearby belfry. It is the second largest bell in Japan, measuring twelve feet in height, nine feet in diameter, and weighing seventy-four tons.

At the height of the recent flood a 7-pound boy was born to Mrs. Carson Haley in a hospital for refugees at Kenova, W. Va. He was appropriately chistened "Noah," because he survived the disastrous flood.

Lesson for March 14

JESUS PRAYING FOR HIS DISCIPLES

LESSON TEXT — John 16:5-7; 17:14-26.
GOLDEN TEXT — That they may be one, even as we are one. John 17:22.
PRIMARY TOPIC —When Jesus Prayed for His Friends.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Did Jesus Pray for Me?
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus Praying for Us.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Unity with God and One Another.

The assurance that someone is praying for us is an anchor in a time of storm. Many a man or woman has been on the point of giving up in despair, of yielding to temptation, and has been carried through to victory by the intercession of a godly mother or father. Just to know that someone prays for us is to find strength for the knees that have weakened and for the heart that has all but failed.

Infinitely more precious is the truth of our lesson, that the Lord Jesus himself prayed for each one of his followers. John 17:20 makes clear that while he prayed for those who were with him at the time, he also included in his petition all who since that day have come to believe on him because of their testimony.

Before entering upon his inexpressibly precious and beautiful prayer, the Lord gave to his followers a promise which was of vital importance.

I. A Promise (16:5-7).

Persecution is coming, and Jesus will not be with them to meet the trying hour. He is about to enter upon that final scene in his earthly life, which will bring it to its end in "a place called the place of a skull."

How then can he say to them that it is expedient for them that he go away? Because he will send the Comforter, the Holy Spirit. Students of the Scriptures recognize in the Holy Trinity an inscrutable mystery, but receive the teaching of the Bible concerning the ministries of the three persons in the one Godhead with glad and thankful hearts. It is a subject which cannot be entered into here, but which richly rewards careful study. Suffice it to say that while the Holy Spirit has always been active in the earth, he did enter upon a ministry of a special nature when Jesus had gone to be with the Father.

The essence of the work of the Holy Spirit is to glorify Christ (16: 14), and in so doing he convicts the unbeliever of sin and guides the believer into all truth. The mark of a Spirit-filled Christian is that he permits the Spirit to glorify Christ in him and in his service for God.

II. A Prayer (17: 14-26).

When one enters the sacred precincts of John 17 he feels that he has come into the holy of holies, and that he would not only loose the shoes from his feet, but also stand silent in worship and in praise. He prayed for me—for me!

Each student of this lesson will wish to enter fully upon the meaning of these words as he re-reads them, in the illumination of the Holy Spirit. May I suggest three things which Jesus sought for His children?

1. Consecration (vv. 14-16). No one is Christ's child without regeneration, but, sad to say, there are many children in his blessed household who are not obedient, not spiritually well and strong. They are in the world, they must be here, but alas too many of them want to be as much like the world as possible. He prayed that we might be kept from evil, separate from the world, kept by God even in a world that hates him and his truth.

2. Sanctification (vv. 17-21). This means to be set apart and cleansed for God's service. How is it accomplished? Through the truth. His Word is the instrument of sanctification. Little wonder that there is so little holiness of living when the Word has so little opportunity to touch and cleanse the life.

This separated life brings God's people into that unity of love—all in Christ, and he in the Father—all bound up in that "one great bundle of love."

3. Glorification (vv. 22-26). When Jesus came into the world in the flesh he voluntarily laid aside the glory which was his, and which still is his, and which he prays that we may behold. "But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image" (II Cor. 3:18). Thus in beholding his glory we also may enter into his likeness.

City Versus Country

It cannot escape even a casual observer that the Bible begins with a scene in the garden to end in a city: one may be "nearer God's heart in a garden than anywhere else on earth"—but certainly "the dwelling-place of God is with men."

Giving and Taking Orders

He who will not accept orders has no right to give them; he who will not serve has no right to command; he who cannot keep silence has no right to speak.—Hubbard.

SEED POTATO TREATMENT

By John S. Gardnr, Kentucky College of Agriculture

Two troublesome diseases of potatoes are scab and black scurf. Both are caused by germs that may already be present in the soil, or that may be brought in on seed potatoes. As for soil infections, their effect may be minimized by putting the land in prime condition to grow potatoes. This means plowing under immnse amounts of vegetable matter, which, breaking down into humus, enables the soil to absorb and hold moisture, thus automatically cooling it and giving it the ventilation needed. This done and unless extraordinarily hot and dry seasons occur, the grower's main concern is with the disease germs he may introduce through using infected seed.

Any seed may be suspected of carrying disease, even certified seed through it is true that because of the care in slecting certified seed potatoes as they are being bagged, the purchaser receives few scabbed tubers. However, there is always the likelihood that the soil that abheres to any seed potatoes is infected. Accordingly, all seed potatoes, certified or not, should be given the treatment to destroy the germs of scab and scab and scurf that may be present, as a matter of insurance. The treatment is inexpensive, its benefits considered, and it is simple to give.

Either of two materials may be used: formaldehyd or corrosive sublimate. Because the former must be used warmed to quite accurate temperature, and because the average potato grower lacks equipment to do this, the more easily used corrosive sublimate is more generally recommended.

Two ways to use corrosive sublimate offer: the "standard" treatment, and the "quick dip," which, as its name implies, saves time. Although it is primarily designed for those who treat large amounts of seed, a gardner who plants only a few bushels may find it to his advantage to use. Thse are the directions:

"Standard" Treatment

In a small wooden tub or in a crock (never metal of any kind) put 2 quarts of boiling-hot water, and into it stir one ounce of corrosive sublimate until it is all dissolved. Now, into a wooden tub or barrel whose capacity is at least 15 gallons, put 7 gallons of water of ordinary temperature, and into it pour the dissolved corrosive sublimate, and stir throughly. Into this "treating solution," pour potatoes until the top ones are just below the surface of the liquid and let them stand one hour. Then, pour off the solution into a wooden container, to savé if for further use: remove the treated potatos, pour the solution back into the treating container, and fill with a second lot of potatoes, which let soak for one hour and 15 minutes. Proceed in the same manner with a third lot of potatoes, threating time, one hour and 30 minutes, and with a fourth, which should remain in the solution for two hours. Thus, with one ounce of sublimate, 5 bushels or 3 bags of seed potatoes will have been treated.

If more potatoes are to be treated, a new solution should be made, or large containers used at the beginning, using the material always at the rate of one ounce to make 7½ gallons of solution.

Seed potatoes may be treated in their sacks, but unless the sack fits the treating container closely, more solution will be needed. Most economical is to treat the potatose loose.

PUBLIC SALE

WARNING

Failure Or Success At Your Auction,

WHICH DO YOU WANT?

The whole story of failure or success of an auction goes back to the advertising for unless you invite people to attend your sale, you cannot expect a big crowd, and unless the crowd is big and the bidding brisk, your livestock and machinery will sell at any old price, far below actual worth.

The old-fashioned bill, which in horse-and buggy days used to be posted on the highway, and which few people in this automobile age can and will read, is a thing of the past. MODERN farmers depend on the newspaper for auction news.

THE RECORDER WILL TAKE THE DETAILS OF YOUR SALE TO THE FARMERS WHO REALY WANT TO KNOW WHAT YOU ARE OFFERING, AND WHO ALWAYS MAKE GOOD BUYERS.

The Auction ads which appear on the Display and classified pages of the Recorder, are read by HUNDREDS of farmers. If you want a successful auction, advertise your sale in these auction columns, where it will reach the persons most INTERESTED in what you have to offer.

Make your invitation attractive. Make your sale seem worth attending. After all, you can't expect a big crowd at your sale unless you tell people all about your sale. A farmer will travel fifty miles or more to get what he wants. Unless you list everything, you may LEAVE OUT JUST WHAT WOULD BRING A GOOD BIDDER to your sale. The success of your auction depends on competition. A good bidder may mean hundreds of extra dollars at your sale.

Don't gamble on just one ad. No matter how good your ad is, you are gambling if you depend on just one insertion. Your auction is of too much importance—your lifetime savings and investments are at stake—you DARE NOT RISK all that means so much to you in just on good ad. It is better to have TOO MUCH advertising and a SUCCESSFUL SALE than to RISK LOSING at a poorly attended sale all that you struggled and labored to accumulate.

SHORT COURSE FOR PASTORS AND LAY LEADERS APRIL 5-9

Again in 1937 as for the past two years, a one-week short course for town and country pastors and lay leaders will be held at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. To be held April 5-9, this course will bring together noted out-of-state leaders in the field of religion and prominent Kentucky ministers and officials on a program designed to be of wide interest.

Two principal all-week speakers will be Dr. Warren H. Wilson, New York City, one of the nation's outstanding churchmen, and Dr. B. L. Hummel, Blacksburg, Va., a well-known sociologist. They will give a series of talks on basic problems of the town and country church, and on social and economic problems of rural communities.

Several round-table discussions will be held. These discussions have been popular features in previous years. Music again will be stressed, and opportunity given for those attending the conference to visit local churches, libraries, and other points of interest.

Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky, and Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the agricultural college will have part in the week's short course.

The Kentucky Rural Church Council is cooperating with the College of Agriculture in sponsoring the program. Dr. Walter V. Cooper, Lexington, is president of the council.

HOME DEMONSTRATION WORK LEADER HONORED BY STATE FEDERATION

A life membership in the Associated Country Women of the World was presented to Miss Myrtle Weldon, state leader of home demonstration work, at the recent meeting of the executive board of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers at Bowling Green. The membership was purchased by a donation of one cent by each member of the homemakers clubs in the state.

The state program for the year was discussed and plans made for the annual district meetings the first week in May. Because there was no meeting of the Federation this year, due to the cancellation of the Farm and Home Convention, the executive board voted to continue the present officers and directors in office.

Officers are Mrs. T. M. Johnson, Warren county, president; Mrs. F. M. Triplett, Henderson county, vice-president; Miss Vivian Hardesty, Boyle county, secretary, and Mrs. Will Sloss, Warren county, treasurer.

District directors are: Blue Grass Mrs. Bluch Rich, Kenton county; Central, Mrs. E. Doelckner, Jefferson county. Mountain, Mrs. H. D. Clark, Boyd county; Pennyroyal, Mrs. Percy Webb, Hopkins county, and Purchase, Mrs. J. R. Lawrence, Hickman county.

Miss Weldon, Miss Zelma Monroe, Miss Lulie Logan and Mrs. Helen M. White, ex-officio members of the board, and members of the supervisory staff of the home demonstration section of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, also were in attendance.

MORE BUILDING ON FARMS LAST YEAR

Reports of county agents indicate that 9,084 new buildings were constructed on Kentucky farms last year. The agricultural engineering division at the College of Agriculture at Lexington last year distributed 1,125 building plans among farmers. These included houses, tobacco barns, general barns, dairy houses, poultry houses hog houses, storage houses, lime sheds, water and sewer systems, silos, self-feeders and many other types of buildings and equipment. The college has 329 different plans of farm buildings and equipment. Just at this time requests are being received for remodeling and repairing plans for buildings damaged by the flood.

MORE REPORTS OF BIG TOBACCO PAY

W. G. Marshall, a Montgomery county farmer, cooperated with County Agent Floyd McDaniel in making a demonstration of the use of complete fertilizer in growing tobacco. Using 400 pounds of high phosphate fertilizer to the acre resulted in the production of 3,144 pounds from two and three-tenths acres. The selling price was $52.98 per hundred pounds, the total amount received being $1,665, or nearly $725 an acre.

Cliff Chaney, Powell county, reports a yield of 1,492 pounds of burley tobacco from nine-tenths of an acre, which sold for $460.

Hello, Neighbor

LET'S GET BETTER ACQUAINTED!

As a fellow citizen may I offer my hand in a friendly anniversary greeting!

Eighty-seven years ago today I was born among you. For 87 years I have worked with you—helped you and your fathers and mothers before you to build modern cities, profitable industries, fine schools, beautiful churches, productive farms, happy homes. I have given employment to thousands of your countrymen, contributed millions in taxes to your communities, invested a half-billion dollars in property in your fair land—all to be a useful agency in providing for you an essential service.

Looking backward, they have been vigorous, fruitful years we have spent together. Looking forward I pledge the friendly, courteous cooperation of 26,000 employees to make you feel "At Home on the L&N."

Think of us, won't you, when you have a shipment to move, or a trip to make?

Safer... THAN YOUR OWN HOME

In nineteen years, the L&N has carried nearly 200 million passengers and not a single passenger has lost his life in an L&N train accident. No wonder you feel completely at ease in your "Home Sweet Home On Rails!"

WALTON-VERONA WIN DISTRICT TOURNEY

ers could not see every decision in this particular, but a close study of the rules of the game will clear the matter as to pivot foot plays and what is called running with the ball. Credit should go to the community of Walton and those directly in charge of detail work for the smoothness and courtesy shown throughout the tourney.

A few facts about the various outstanding players will show that both guarding and offensive play was outstanding. Aside from the scores of the Hebron-Walton-Verona and Hamilton-Burlington game, the scoring was held to moderate figures which indicates close defensive play. Occassionally a boy would be let loose as was Demoisey in the Hebron-Walton-Verona game when he scored 26 points. A list of players who stood out will include Demoisey, Chapman, and Osborne from Walton, Moore, Williamson, Carroll, from Hamilton; Reeser and Scott from Florence; Griffith and Sturgeon, of New Haven; Shinkle and Huey from Hebron, and Clore and Snow from Burlington. Of these perhaps Williamson of Hamilton and Demoisey of Walton-Verona made the best showing when all-around basketball play is considered.

It must be remembered that while this regular tournament was being played, there was another B class tourney going along which gave the fans about as much interest as the regulars. The opening game between New Haven and Hamilton was a thriller and drew about as much cheering from the sides as any game in the entire tournament. The outcome of these games were all evidence that there is going to be good basketball in the Boone County schools in the future. The Walton lads only trimmed the Hamilton boys by three points who had in turn defeated New Haven by only 9 points.

Of these younger players perhaps McElroy, a tiny youngster, from Walton-Verona was as good as any. Other boys who looked good were Noel of New Haven; Woods, of Hamilton; Buckler, of Hebron; Vancamp, of Florence; Morris of Walton-Verona; Conner of Hebron; Huey of Burlington; and Aylor, of Hamilton. These boys and their teammates are to be the regulars in the future, and all looks good for them to give a fine quality of basketball to the fans every time they play on the hardwood.

Walton-Verona will meet Falmouth in the first game of the Regional to be played at Dayton this week, while Hamilton, the runners-up will meet the colorful Foster-coached Wildcats of Newport. Walton should come through, but going looks a little tough for the Farmers. After the first round game, the Walton-Verona cagers will have plenty of opposition. Boone County supporters are hoping that one of our representative teams can have the honor of going on to the State meet in Lexington next week.

The trophies for the district winners were donated by the following: Winners: Chambers and Grubbs and J. L. Hamilton, Funeral directors; Runners-up: Dixie State Bank of Walton; B. Team winners, Vest Chevrolet of Walton; Runners-up, Walton Lumber Co.

Tournament scores at half and finals follow:

School	Half	Final
Hamilton	18	32
N. Haven	9	19

FEED LOAN APPLICATIONS

NOW BEING RECEIVED BY C. D. BENSON, FIELD SUPERVISOR OF THE EMERGENCY CROP AND FEED LOAN SECTION.

Applications for emergency crop and feed loans for 1937 are now being received at the Clerk's Office by C. D. Benson, field supervisor of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration.

These loans will be made only to farmers who cannot obtain credit from any other source, as provided by regulations issued by the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration. The money loaned will be limited to the farmer's immediate and actual cash needs for growing his 1937 crops or for the purchase of feed for livestock and in no instance may exceed $400.

Farmers are not eligible for these loans if they can borrow from an individual, production credit association, bank, or other concern. Emergency crop and feed loans will not be made by the Farm Credit Administration to standard rehabilitation clients of the Resettlement Administration whose current needs are provided for by Resettlement.

As in the past, the security for these loans will consist of a first lien on the crop financed if the loan is for the production of crops, and if for the purchase of feed for livestock, then a first lien on the livestock to be fed. Landlords, or others having an interest in the crops or the livestock to be fed, will be required to waive their claims in favor of the lien to the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration until the loan is repaid.

Checks in payment of the approved loans will be issued by the Regional Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at St. Louis, Mo.

CONTROL MOVED TO BURLINGTON

FOR HEBRON TELEPHONE SYSTEM—MUCH BETTER SERVICE IS EXPECTED THROUGH ARRANGEMENT.

E. G. Stephenson, manager of the Consolidated Telephone Company, Florence, has announced that the operator's control board for the people of the Hebron Exchange has been moved to Burlington, and the company is expecting much better service for their patrons there, than in the past.

Mrs. Geo. Porter, Burlington, has been added to the operator's list at the Burlington Exchange, making a total of three at present. Only one operator is on duty at one time, but all work much shorter hours.

Since the installation of the new automatic control board for the Hebron Exchange many people claim that they have not been getting very satisfactory service. The main control has been at Florence until recently.

Mr. Stephenson also added that they have installed almost a hundred new telephones in the past year, and that they have new orders coming in every day.

ACTIVITY IN FARM BUILDING INCREASES

Improved times increased the activity in farm building last year, a total of 9,084 new buildings in Kentucky being indicated by the reports of county agents to the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky. The division of agricultural engineering at the college sent out to farmers of the state a total of 1,125 building plans.

Circular 111 of the college lists 329 plans available to farmers, including poultry and livestock equipment, dairy barns, hog houses milk houses, tobacco barns, general barns, storage houses, dwellings, machine sheds, lime sheds, silos, ridge ventilators, water and sewer systems, self-feeders, etc.

The agricultural engineering division is prepared to help farmers desiring to repair, remodel or construct new buildings, as a result of the recent flood.

4-H CLOTHING PROJECT WORK IS PROGRESSING

The 1937 clothing project work is progressing nicely in nine clubs of Boone County, according to Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. One hundred and twenty-five girls are taking clothing construction. Project work was started during December and January. Closing of the schools retarded the program at least two weeks.

Girls are enrolled in all four units of clothing. Those taking the first unit are learning the beginning fundamentals of sewing, while those in the fourth unit are making a complete tailored costume.

All work is being done under the supervision of the following project leaders: Mrs. R. C. Garrison, Burlington; Mrs. Faye Stephns and Mrs. Orin Edwards, Hamilton; Mrs. Sibbie Reimer, Mrs. Stella Nichols and Mrs. Walter Scothorn, Hebron; Mrs. Norris Berkshire, of Petersburg; Miss Beulah Winans, Verona; Mrs. Jake Cleek and Mrs. Martha Jane Carpenter, New Haven; Mrs. Elizabeth Morehead, Taylorsport; and Mrs. Allan Gaines Walton.

CO. EMPLOYEE RECEIVES INJURY

WHILE WORKING ON BURLINGTON-EAST BEND ROAD—BONE BROKEN IN RIGHT LEG FRIDAY.

Irvin Rouse, Union, was seriously injured Friday while on duty with the County road force on the Burlington-East Bend pike. Rouse was riding on the grader and fell beneath a wheel. The entire weight of the machine passed over both of his legs, breaking a small bone in his right leg.

The accident occurred about 10:30 Friday morning, and he was immediately rushed to St. Elizabeth hospital by Dr. Coe ,of Union. His condition at this writing is reported to be much improved, and is rapidly recovering.

Mr. Rouse has been employed by the county for over fifteen years, and lost his right hand about five years while operating a steam roller.

Mr. Rouse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Rouse, Union, and was born and reared in Boone County.

NEW COVINGTON STORE SELLS LADIES' WEAR

Covington's newest ladies' wear store, owned by The Kentucky Liquidating Co., opened Saturday at 526 Madison Avenue.

The manager of this store Tuesday showed a representative of The Recorder his large stock of 1937 spring garments for women —claimed to be 10,000 dresses, suits and frocks. He said that owing to recent conditions the stock will be sold at amazingly low prices.

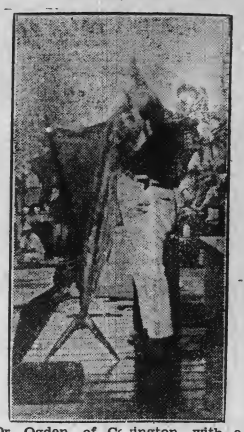
Ladies will be interested in the store's first announcement in this issue, wherein dresses are offered as low as 49 cents.

Birthday Celebration

A most delightful birthday and St. Patrick Party was enjoyed at Ye Olden Inn, in honor of Miss Jennie Bell Retschulte's 15th birthday. The evening was spent in games, dancing and refreshments. Those enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Retschulte and daughter Jennie Bell, were: Misses Dorothy Nell Kendall, Virginia Parsons, Buenta Holtzworth, Mae Campbell, Allie Sayers, Mable Smith; Messrs Alan Holtzworth, Charles Sullivan, Hubert Ryle, Buck Martin, Dick Stevens, Ralph Tanner, Jack Busby and Bobby Smith.

TRANSFERS OF REAL ESTATE MADE BY FLORENCE MAN

John Delahunty of Florence reports the following transfers of property since the first of February: 13 acres belonging to Mrs. Helen Tomlin in Kenton County to Gus Shadler; 134 acres of S. L. Craven, Verona, to Wm. K. Thomas; 60 acres for Rebecca Sleet at Beaver, to Lon Wilson; 100 acres for Rebecca Sleet at Beaver Lick to P. J. Maddin; house and lot for Mr. Colston, in Florence, to Edward Thomas; house and lot for Mrs. Metzger in Florence to Mrs. Georgia Myers.



CELEBRATE GOLDEN WED ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Grant, of Burlington, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at the home of their son, Robert, of near Petersburg.

A lovely turkey dinner was served at the noon hour. Mrs. Elza Poston, of Burlington, baked the delicious anniversary cake which was beautifully decorated with fifty candles.

Four generations were represented on this occasion. Among other guests attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Chester Grant and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant and family, Mr. and Mrs. Barrot Grant and little son, of Hebron, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Montgomery, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., Miss Florence Newman and William Rogers, Jr., of Grant, Ky.

Lovely gifts were presented to this happy couple and everyone wished them many more years of health and happiness.

ARGUMENT ENDS IN FIGHT

YOUTH HELD UNDER $5,000 BOND—FIGHT STARTS OVER SETTLEMENT OF PROPERTY—HODGES IN HOSPIAL.

Frank Robinson, is being held under $5,000 bond, following a fight which occurred last Thursday evening, March 11th at the farm of Harry Harris, East Bend. Examining trail was held Wednesday morning before Judge N. E. Riddell, County Judge, with O. M. Rogers, Erlanger attorney, representing Robinson.

Clem Readnour, first witness for the plaintiff testified that Bob Hodges, who lives only a short distance from the Harry Harris farm, where the fight occurred, came to the Harris farm, formerly occupied by Walter Robinson. to collect for a small amount of corn loaned to Robinson by Hodges during the recent flood. Apparently the corn settlement was made peacefully, but the livestock and poultry on the farm were being divided equally between Walter Robinson and Theodore Hightower, a representative for Harry Harris.

Part of the poultry had already been divided and it seems that four chickens were alloted Mr. Hodges by Robinson for full payment of the corn. The party then moved to the poultry house and an argument occurred pertaining to some feed hoppers. Hodges, who was standing near the doorway of the poultry house advised Hightower not to let Robinson move the feed hoppers unless they were certain that they belonged to them.

Chambers and Grubbs were in charge of funeral arrangements.

SPORTSMEN HEAR BROWN

AT MEETING OF BOONE COUNTY FISH AND GAME PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION HELD WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10.

Approximately fifty sportsmen were present at a meeting of the Boone County Fish and Game Protective Association, held last Wednesday night, March 10th, in the Boone County courthouse at Burlington. A much larger crowd was expected to attend the meeting, but due to inclement weather the attendance was cut considerably.

Major James Brown, state director of the Game and Fish Division, Department of Conservation was the principal speaker. Mr. Brown said, "Kentucky offers a tremendous opportunity in the next four or five years for wildlife conservation, but we must all work."

Motion pictures were shown of many interesting places in all sections of the United States by Dr. Ogden, of Covington, which was enjoyed by all present. These pictures were educational as well as entertaining.

Joseph Brendt, secretary of the Kenton county organization and northern Kentucky's director for the League of Kentucky Sportsmen made a very interesting address, at the close of which he explained how our club could become a part of the State association.

Edmond Johnson, our efficient game warden was present, giving a brief talk, which as usual was to the point and very interesting to the sportsmen. Mr. Johnson is making every effort to see that our streams and fields are well stocked with fish and game.

At this meeting it was voted that all 4-H Club members who were interested in conservation of wildlife would be admitted to the organization as honory club members. It was thought this move would stimulate interest throughout the county.

Election of officers was held, and those selected for the ensuing year were as follows: President, Charles W. Riley; Vice President, A. E. Stephens; Secretary Walter Brown; and Treasurer, Courtney Kelly.

The meeting adjourned at a late hour, after which refreshments consisting of sandwiches, soft drinks and coffee were served at Conner's Restaurant.

The next meeting of the club will be Wednesday, April 7th, and all sportsmen, 4-H Club members and farmers are urgently requested to attend. Much interest is being manifest and the larger the organization, the more game and fish we will be able to secure.

Several pairs of quail were received here this week, which were distributed to farms not to be posted during the next hunting season.

OPENS COVINGTON STUDIO

Edward Watson, of Middletown, O., has opened a photograph studio at Fourth and Scott streets, Covington. Mr. Watson is widely experienced as a photographer, having successfully operated studios at Middletown and Cincinnati. "Bring in the babies" is his message to mothers, because his studio is located on the ground floor and is of easy access.

ADVISORY COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

The Advisory Council of the Boone County Homemakers held their first meeting of 1937 last week. The Council is made up of the presidents of each local club. Miss Lulie Logan, assistan State Leader of Home Demonstration Agents and Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent of Boone County met with the council. Mrs. Jake Cleek, President, presided at the meeting.

The major project to begin September 1937 was selected by the council. Members voted to have four months of Home Improvement and four of Foods study. It was decided to ask Mr. N. R. Elliott, Landscape Architect, University of Kentucky, to have a demonstration tour next fall.

Miss Logan gave suggestions for 1937 goals for the Boone County Homemakers. Her goals were fifteen percent increase in members, fifteen percent increase in clubs, and improved local club meetings. Miss Logan reported that the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers will hold district meetings the first week in May. Miss Mary Sue Wigley, Alabama and Miss Grace Frysinger, Washington, will be the speakers.

The possibility of establishing a Homemakers library was discussed by Miss Gillaspie.

The following members were present: Mrs. Jake Cleek, president New Haven; Mrs. John L. Vest secretary, Walton; Mrs. Howard Huey, Petersburg; Mrs. Marie Coyle, Florence; Mrs. Parker Hollis, Hebron and Mrs. Katherine Easton, Burlington.

"GIRL OF LIMBER LOST" TO BE SHOWN AT FLORENCE

The picture "Girl of Limber Lost" will be shown at the Florence school on Friday night, at 8 o'clock. One show only. Admission 10 and 20 cents.

MUST APPLY FOR CRUSHER EARLY

SAYS COUNTY AGENT H. R. FORKNER IN ORDER THAT ROUTE CAN BE PLANNED—LIME COST 70 CENTS TON.

The greatest problem with farmers using agricultural limestone for pasture, hay and soil improvement, is to secure the limestone when they need it according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The best plan is to have the crushed stone on the farm ready when the day comes that is suitable to spread it.

The cheapest source of agricultural limestone in Boone County at the present time is to pile the stone on the farm and have it crushed in the Boone County Soil Improvement Association program. The association program is available to every farmer in Boone County regardless of whether a cooperator in the Agricultural Conservation Program or any other organization. Farmers may have any amount of stone crushed, after the rock are piled, at a present cost of 70 cents per ton with all labor furnished by the pulver operator.

A definite route must be planned before the pulverizer operator will give this special price. It is therefore necessary that those interested in this work notify the County Agent's office at Burlington immediately so that the pulverizer will stop by the farm when it is operating in that locality.

Act now—don't wait until time to spread your lime before you call. Remember several thousand more dollars would have been earned in the 1936 AC Program if farmers could have secured the lime at the last minute. Don't be late this time.

MAE WEST SOLVES FARM REHABILITATION PUZZLE

The problem of "getting 'em down on the farm," which has been worring sociologists, statesmen, politicians and others, was no problme at all at Corona, California, during the filming of "Go West Young Man," Mae West's latest comedy, which begins on Monday at the Gayety Theater, Erlanger. As a matter of fact the problem was how to get 'em away from the farm.

When news spread through the valley that the glamorous Mae was making a picture at Corona, they began to come in auto, buggies, on horseback, bicycles, and on foot, from far distances as much as sixty and a hundred miles. All day long during the filming, parties would come in, sometimes whole families, with lunch baskets and picnic lunches, prpared to spend the day under the trees watching Miss West in action.

This continued all through the shooting period and it was a reluctant crew who went back to their own farms after watching Miss Wst make love with Randolph Scott in a barnyard—a new locale for the Westian technique.

HAMILTON P.-T. A. TO MEET

In last weeks' issue it was stated that the Hamilton P.-T. A. would meet on March 18th, but this date has been changed and the meeting will be held March 25th at 7:30 p. m.. This will be the regular monthly meeting and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

P.-T. A. CONGRESS WILL CONVENE

AT NEW HAVEN HIGH SCHOOL FOR ANNUAL MARCH CONFERENCE—LOCAL GROUP TO BE IN CHARGE ENTERTAINMENT.

The P.-T. A. of the New Haven High school are preparing to entertain some 300 members and officers of Parent-Teachers Association of the entire Sixth District, at the New Haven school auditorium on Friday, March 19th. This will be regular March conference for all members and officers throughout the entire district.

The meeting will be called to order at 10:30 E. S. T., with luncheon at 12:30. The founders day committee will sponsor the planting of an oak tree in the school yard, and the election of first and second vice-president and treasurer will take place. Polls will be open from 12:30 to 1:30.

Everyone planning to attend this meeting are requested to make reservations with Mrs. Stanley Wilson, Dixie 7531-J.

MISS LACY TO VISIT ROOM IMPROVEMENT MEMBERS

Miss Edith Lacy, field agent in 4-H Club work, will visit all club members taking the Room Improvement project, March 23 and 24th. Fifteen 4-H club girls are taking this project. Miss Lacy and Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie plan to visit each girl and make suggestions for improving the room. This is the first time that Room Improvement has been offered to 4-H club girls in Boone County, according to Miss Gillaspie.

The following girls are enrolled: Eleanor Black, Jean Ann Tanner, Addie Jane Liably, Mae Campbell, Jane Taylor, Josephine Lea, Mildred Catherine King, Lola M. Walton, Mildred Hart, Naomi Myers, Alma Schwenke, Clara Mae Hamilton, Mary Elvena Tupman, Jean Roberts, Winnie Liabley and Mary Rivard.

The Young Men's Bible class of Burlington Baptist Church will give another oyster supper Wednesday evening, March 24 at 7:00 p. m. The committee is planning a very interesting program, outside music and addresses are to be feature of program. All those eligible to this class and those who attended the previous supper are invited to attend.

FARMERS ARE INTERESTED

IN OBTAINING T. V. A. PHOSPHATE—ONE CARLOAD HAS BEEN APPLIED FOR, OTHERS BEING RECEIVED.

Boone County farmers are showing considerable interest in the supply of T. V. A. phosphate on the 1937 ACP allowance, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. One carload order has already been applied for and applications for additional car load orders are being rapidly received at the County Office.

The chief advantages of the T. V. A. phosphate are:

1. Farmers receive the needed phosphate at a considerable saving.

2. No cash except freight and handling charges are required on delivery.

3. The quality of phosphate is of high analysis and is considered to be of highest grade.

4. Practically all Boone County soils will pay big returns from use of phosphate as well as lime.

5. The Agricultural Conservation Program is making soil improvement through use of phosphate, lime and better seeding mixtures. A few years hence those farmers ar carrying out these recommended practices are going to find they have better farm that have increased much more in value as a result of good farming practices.

Farmers are urged to act immediately in order to get their applications for phosphate in early, as the supply will be limited and late applications may get their orders filled too late for efficient use this year. Application orders for T. V. A. phosphate on the A. C. P. allowance are available at the local County Agent's office on request. Cooperators are urged to apply in person if possible.

Mrs. Garnett Tolin spent Saturday in Cincinnati, shopping.

Editorial of the Week

A SPLENDID ORGANIZATION

All organizations composed of citizens of rural sections have always been, more or less, a failure, but it appears that this will not be the case in the Fish and Game Protective Association of Boone County. It is a splendid organization and will expand to a large degree within the next few months.

A meeting was called last Wednesday night, March 10th, which was held in the Burlington courthouse. Plans were made for a very big year, and all 4-H Club members who are interested in wildlife conservation will be made honorary members.

Farmers as well as sportsmen were in attendance at this meeting, and showed that they were really interested to brave the elements which prevailed that night. Many of our sportsmen and farmers remained at home, some fearing that the night was too bad to drive, while others thought that they were not needed—but they were needed, and without their help we cannot hope to maintain the kind of club we are all working for. That has always been the trouble with organizations in the rural sections. Some of us look at it in this light—"let neighbor John go, he will see that my place is stocked with wildlife." This may not prove out as expected, therefore it behooves every one to come out to these meetings and do their share toward its growth.

This organization will far in carrying out a constructive program with the help of all our sportsmen and farmers—the organization needs you and you need the organization. If our wildlife is not protected it will only be a matter of time before the sportsman will have nothing to hunt and no fish in the streams to catch.

Let's all get behind this club and do our part to restock wildlife in Boone County. Show that you are interested by attending the meeting which will be held the first Wednesday in April.

A CAMPAIGN YEAR

This year is a county election year, and it is expected that this year's campaign will be a "hot one." At the present time we have one candidate in the field for State Senator, in the person of P. L. Sidebottom, of Williamstown.

In most county elections there has always been plenty of "mud slinging" and this year will probably be no exception.

We are expecting some of the candidates who are considering making the race for various offices to announce within the next few weeks—then the fight will be on.

This paper will take no active part in the Democratic primary, but will support the entire Democratic ticket in the November election.

JR. O. U. A. M. MEETING

Hebron Council No. 3 Jr. O. U. A. M. met with its regular attendance. The order was honored by an inspirational talk given by one of its members, D. H. Norris, at the last meeting. The entertainment committee served a delicious lunch.

There will be a regular meeting Thursday night at 7:00. Come out and join us.

OBSERVATIONS

What is Law?

Except in connection with government taxing powers "Law" is something almost entirely negative. Most laws are "Thou Shalt Nots" about some phase of human behavior. Only tax laws and military service laws say 'thou shall." But law is really more fundamental than that. Even the "Thou Shalt Not" represent the will of the majority about what must not be done.

The phrase the "will of the majority" is the nub of what constitutes law. Law is and always will be codefied public opinion. It is true that sometimes laws are passed that do not represent public opinion. In those cases they are really not laws. Their proper names are statutes. In the last analysis statutes are not enforceable unless a majority will that they should be. Regardless of what ones personal sentiments are ,it is obvious that the 18th (Prohibition) amendment never was a law in the proper sense of the word. It was enforceable. Accordingly it was necessary that it be repealed in order that the whole structure of society be not undertermined by a contempt for law.

Law is also tradition, and a profession and in some cases a racket. All of which does not deny the essential fact of its being the codified opinion of the majority. Even the magna carta, the character of all our liberties, represented the will of the majority at the time that these fundamental provisions were wrested from the powers that be. It has represented the same will ever since, and is set down in sheep skin volumes of judicial opinions.

And thereby hangs a tale. The present Chief Justice of the Supreme Court once said, long before he was Chief Justice and when he was pleading a case, "The Law is What the Supreme Court once said, long before he was Chief Justice and when he was pleading a case, "The Law is What the Supreme Court says it is."

This observer believes that this was said for the sake of legal argument and does not represent the real beliefs of Mr. Chas. Evans Hughes. For, ladies and gentlemen. if that is true, such a condition would be the worst possible form of tyranny. It means that all our liberties which stem from King John's time, of England, are subject to the whims of old men. It means that battles of centuries for universal sufferage were waged for nothing as long as (possibly) senile old men can nullify the statutes of the elected representatives of the majority. Nay—not statutes but Law in its very real essence.

Readers of The Recorder your Anglo-Saxon liberties lie in the hands of one senile old man. The one reactionary obstructionist who has been the fifth on the reactionary 5-4 decisions. Just so long as the action of the elected representatives of the people can be nullified by a simple majority of a court APPOINTED, not elected, for life we have no democracy. We have a judicial autocracy.

Right or wrong, the laws of the New Deal obrogated by the Supreme Court represent the will of the majority. It is the very essence of democracy that the people shall suffer or prosper (as we all do individually) in a consequence of their own acts as expressed thru their elected representatives. Who, then, is the Supreme Court to set themseles up as little tin Gods to tell us, we the soverign people, what is good for us? If the New Deal laws are mistaken let us, who willed their continuances by our ballots, suffer the consequences. If they represent a step forward in civilization let us be relieved of the obstruction to the progress of life.

This crisis is just as real as any that have ever happened in History. Upon the results of the fight now raging will depend your liberties and that of your decendants from now on. The next few weeks will determine whether a democracy or a judicial olegarchy rules you. It is up to each Recorder reader to write your representative and tell him which of the two possible choices you wish.

This observer believes that Mr. Roosevelt's plan leaves much to be desired; that Mr. Norris' plan which gives the legislature power to override the Supreme Court exactly as it can and infrequently does override the executive veto, is a much better plan of curbing the usurped powers of the Court, than is the President's.

However, the issue has been drawn and while not the best plan, it is incomparably better than continuing to allow the court to get away with the power usurped for it by Chief Justice Marshal. The power of determining what is law MUST go back to those who make the laws, the people.

National Rights vs. State Rights

Back of the present court fight is a conflict of opposing philosophies of government going back to the days of the Articles of Confederation.

The reader will remember that those articles were in the nature of a very loose agreement between the States to assist each other for purposes of common defense. Coinage, tariffs and all other functions of soverign states were kept by the various states. Each saw itself as a little independent nation banding together only in defense of the big bad wolf, Great Britian.

Such a scheme didnt' work and the constitution was drawn up and signed. The states, however, liked the the idea of independence, sovereignity if you like five dollar words, so well that they set up our dual system of government as part of the Constitution, wherein the states have their own law making powers and all are tied into the national government as units thru Senators, State Representatives, really even though elected by popular vote now, and by the obsolete college of electors.

The Civil war was fought over this issue. The courts and various states sought to limit a growth that could not be checked—a growth of the national government that was made inevitable by the advance of science, communications and the irresistable force of a community of national interest.

Today the reactionary majority of the Supreme Court is fighting a battle in the courts, long since decided on the battlefields of the Civil War.

If you do not believe this ask yourself these questions: Is northern Kentucky more a part of the state of Kentucky or of Cincinnati which forms the hub of Northern Kentucky's economic area? Is Gary, Indiana more closely allied to Aurora, Indiana, or to Chicago, Illinois?

In other words, isn't it a fact that when the states were laid out they represented communities of economic interest at that time, now state boundaries are only artificial political boundaries; that there is no reason for retaining State governments any longer—except as administrative divisions of the U. S. Government with our local self-government taken care of by counties enlarged to congressional districts—and except, of course, that it provides jobs for politicians who will do their best to hold them.

Think it over Who is paying for these overlapping governments?

Defeat of the Supreme Court will open the way to abolition of excess governmental units and less taxes.

That's all for this time.

THE OBSERVER.

HOMEMAKERS CLUB

Mrs. Herma Mathews was hostess to the Petersburg Homemakers' Club last Thursday. Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie and President Laura Huey were in charge.

The morning was devoted to the subjects, "Know Kentucky" and "Plans for Lawns and Spring Flower Beds."

At noon we were invited into the dining room, where we enjoyed a St. Patrick's Day luncheon. The table and room were attractively decorated in the conventional green and white

In the afternoon, despite the snow, we were very much interested in the lesson given by leaders, Mrs. L. S. Chambers and Miss Johnna Mae Terrill.

We were very happy to add another name to our roll, making an increase of twenty-seven members since we were organized on Feb. 26, 1936.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Louis Hitfield, April 8th at 10:30. —Club Reporter.

MRS. HELEN L. RICH

She was the widow of Joseph Rich, and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Flora R. Maddox, of Cincinnati, O., two sons, Dr. Sam P. Rich, of Tacoma, Wash., and Robert L. Rich, of Erlanger, with whom she made her home.

She was a faithful member of the Erlanger Baptist Church.

The pallbearers were Harry Stephens, Alfred, Stephen and Ralph Rich, Don Buck and Albert Rich.

Services were conducted at the Erlanger Baptist Church Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, by the Rev. R. D. Martin, pastor, interment following in Highland by the side of her husband.

Funeral director, Philip Taliaferro had charge of the funeral arrangements.

CLEEK SALE REPORTED TO BE BEST OF YEAR

The H. H. Cleek auction sale held last week was said to have been the best of its kind that has been held in this section of the country. A large crowd attended the sale, and everything sold at good prices.

Col. Lute Bradford conducted the sale, and reported one pair of horses to bring $365.00 and another to sell for $350.00. One pair of mules sold for $275.00. Mr. Bradford is among one of the best auctioneers in this section of the state, and states that he has sold $25,000 worth of property and livestock in the last thirty days.

JOHN'S PICTURE OF THE TRIAL AND CRUCIFIXION

LESSON TEXT — John 19: 4-9, 14-18, 25-30.

GOLDEN TEXT — Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. I John 3:16.

PRIMARY TOPIC — When Jesus Died for Us.

JUNIOR TOPIC — On a Hill Far Away.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Christ's Cross and Its Meaning for Me.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christ's Cross and Mine.

The cross is accepted throughout the world as the emblem of the Christian church. The death of the Son of God for the sins of the world is a focal point not only in history but in theology. It is for this reason that we give so much study to the cross and its meaning.

Calvary comes between Christmas and Easter. Jesus came as the Babe of Bethlehem—God incarnate in the flesh. He died for you and me. Death could not hold him. He arose in victory. He is now at the Father's right hand, an Advocate with the Father. He is coming again. Each statement is an indispensable truth!

The assigned text gives only a portion of the moving account of the trial and crucifixion of Jesus but suffices to bring before us in graphic contrast four pictures—

I. Pilate—Convinced but Afraid.

Pilate was in a most difficult position. To turn one way meant to incur the wrath of the Jews he governed. To turn the other meant that he would be accused of disloyalty to Rome. He was convinced that Jesus was innocent, but was afraid to follow his own convictions.

Many there are who follow in his steps. They know what they ought to do with Jesus, but fear the comments of friends or loss of earthly advantage, and take their place with Pilate.

II. The Jews—Hostile and Hard-hearted.

The common people heard Jesus gladly. They loved him and would have followed him. But the Jewish leaders, and those whom they had misled, hated him with malicious hatred.

They are typical of those who in our day have long and repeatedly rejected the claims of the Lord Jesus on their lives. They have hardened their hearts against him until they have become embittered.

Paul says, "They received not the love of the truth that they might be saved, and for this cause God shall send them a strong delusion, that they should believe a lie" (II Thess. 2:10,11).

Let those who have long rejected the Saviour be warned lest they also crucify afresh the Son of God.

III. The Disciples—Remembered by the Saviour.

The thoughtful tenderness of Jesus in providing for his mother even in his own hour of deep suffering, moves upon our hearts and urges us to follow his example. This is a hard world; let the followers of Jesus be tender and kind.

In thus caring for his mother, Jesus gives thought also to the new responsibility of the disciple "whom he loved." What a sacred and responsible trust, but is it not true that we also are called and commissioned by him?

IV. Jesus—The Saviour.

To see the guiltless, spotless Son of God hung on the cross in propitiation for our sins is to bring us to our knees to cry as did Martin Luther, "For me, for me!"

Majestic in the assurance that he laid down his own life, he walks as a King in the midst of all the confusion round about him.

He was

1. Silent. His enemies made great hue and cry against him. Pilate questioned him again and again. Few were the words he spoke, but fraught with more meaning than all the words of men.

2. Strong. All through his life and in his death one is impressed by his strength. All too often sacred art, drawing on its imagination, presents our Lord as an effeminate weakling. No; he was and is gloriously strong.

3. Sympathetic. We have already dwelt on his tender love for his mother. Gentleness is always an attribute of strength, not of weakness.

4. The Saviour. When he cried "It is finished," he did so in no weak submission to an inevitable death. No; he had wrought out redemption, a complete and finished redemption for you and for me.

Now Is the Time

To be always intending to lead a new life but never to find time to set about it, this is as if a man should put off eating and drinking and sleeping from one day and night to another, till he is starved and destroyed.—Tillotson.

Delight in Beauty

The very first discovery of beauty strikes the mind with an inward joy, and spreads a cheerfulness and delight through all its faculties.—Addison.

The homemakers' curb market in Christian county brought in a total of $543 in a three-months period.

The Ewing Von-Allmen dairy company in Jefferson county put on an achievement day program for homemakers' clubs.

FORTY YEARS AGO

From the Files of The Boone County Recorder

ISSUE OF MARCH 17, 1897

GASBURG—Miss Lizzie Gordon will probably teach a spring school in this community.

Born to to James Burns and wife on the 4th inst., a boy. Mr. Burns will move on Mrs. J. L. Carroll's place in a few days.

But two candidates have so far visited this democratic stronghold of the Petersburg precinct, Watts for Assessor and Adams for Jailer, each canvassed this neighborhood some time ago.

RICHWOOD—Frank Rouse, of Burlington was the guest of his uncle J. J. Tanner last Sunday.

E. K. Dickson, of Limaburg spent last Sunday with his father, Henry Dickson.

Charles Scott, of Kenton county is visiting friends here.

Married on the 10th inst., Mr. Bud Craven, to Miss Bettie Jane Stephenson. The happy couple will go to house keeping. We extend our congratulations to the bride and groom, wishing them a bright happy and prosperous journey thru life.

HATHAWAY—Robert Adams expects to occupy his new house by the 15th of April.

Mrs. L. W. Stephens spent several days last week at Bellevue, visiting her aunt, Mrs. Dr. Williamson.

Mrs. Mary Adams, who died some time ago, was placed in the vault at Big Bone, was buried Wdnesday.

RABBIT HASH—Wood sawing was all the go in this party of the country last week.

Ben Stephens shipped 8 nice hogs to Cincinnati, last Thursday morning.

Thirty-five years ago John Calvert canvassed this county for office, and was defeated. Now he asks the people to give him a helping hand as he is a candidate for matrimony.

LOCAL NEWS—J. H. Ryle and J. D. Berkshire, organized themselves into an improvement committee last Thursday, and built a yard fence.

One night last week dogs killed and mangled 28 fine sheep of J. L. Frazier, and 8 for J. L. Huey, of the Union neighborhood.

The residence of John M. Hodges of the Rabbit Hash neighborhood was destroyed by fire on the 10th. It was insured in the Boone County Company.

Mr. Henry P. Gaines, at one time a resident of this county, died in Shelbyville, Ind. He was a son of William and Mary Gaines, and settled in Indiana in 1838. His wife was Miss Matilda Cornelius.

Dr. E. P. Dameron, dentist of the firm of Damermon and Major, 537 Race St., Cincinnati, O., will be in Burlington on the first Monday in each month to do dental work. Teeth extracted positively without pain by the use of odentunker.

ACP Minimum Seed Rates

Requests for the minimum seeding rates that will be allowed for payment under the 1937 ACP are received daily at the County Agent Office. The following minimum rates have been approved by both the County and State offices. Most farmers will want to sow considerably more than these amounts.

Alfalfa 10 pounds.
Red Clover 6 pounds.
Crimson clover 10 pounds
Sweet Clover (hulled) 10 pounds.
Sweet clover (unhulled. 10 lbs.
Alsike 5 pounds
Lespedeza 10 pounds.
Vetch 15 pounds

Grasses—
Blue Grass 10 pounds
Orchard Grass 8 pounds
Red Top 4 pounds
Timothy 8 pounds.

The rates of payment up to the maximum allowance for the individual farm as follows:

Seeding approved seeds of legumes and perennial grasses.
Alfalfa $2.50 per acre.
Red Clover $2.00 per acre.
Mammoth Clover $2.00 per acre.
Sericea $2.00 per acre.
Kudzu $2.00 per acre.
Bluegrass $2.00 per acre.
Austrain Winter Peas $1.50 acre.
Vetch $1.50 per acre.
Crimson Clover $1.50 per acre.
Alsike $1.50 per acre.
Sweet Clover $1.50 per acre.
Annual lespedeza $1.50 per acre.
Orchard Grass $1.50 per acre.
White Clover $1.00 per acre.
Bur Clover, $1.00 per acre.
Crotalaria $1.00 per acre.
Red Top $1.00 per acre.
Timothy $1.00 per acre.

Green manure and cover crops—Plowing or disking under Soybeans, Velvet beans or Cowpeas $2.00 per acre; Crimson clover, Austrian winter peas, etc., small grains, Sudan frass, millet, sorghum and rape $1.00 per acre.

Soybeans, velvet beans, cowpeas, not grazed or pasture nor grain harvested, when all forage is left on land $1.00 per acre.

Lespedeza, not grazed or pastured, when all forage is left on land $1.00 per acre.

Soybeans, cowpeas, sweet clover or a combination of small grains and legumes. clipped or disked and left in commercial orchards $1.50 per acre.

Ground Limestone on crop land or non-crop pasture—1000 to 5000 pounds per acre or 500 pounds per acre when drilled with a perennial or biennial legume or grass. $1.50 per ton.

Superphosphate—100 to 500 lbs. superphosphat, or equivalent, per acre on permanent pasture or green manure crops, or in seeding or maintaining biennial or perennial legumes or grasses, $15.00 per ton. NOTE: Superphosphate should be applied not less than two months prior to the date of turning under the green manure crop, in order to receive payment for both practices.

Phosphate applied with legumes or grasses in connection with soil depleting crops $7.50 per ton.

Boone County farmers last year earned only $19,000 of an approximate $48,000 allowance or approximately 41 per cent. The state as a whole earned nearly 70 percent of the soil building allowance. The soil building allowance should be the major factor in the Soil Conservation program. The program subsidizes and offers strong incentive toward the seeding of idle and soil depleting crop land to soil conserving grass and legume crop land.

The most outstanding need in our agricultural production program today is the more abundant use of better grass and legume seeding mixtures, use of limestone and phosphate in the preparation of our soils to grow these crops and the proper fence and livestock organization on the farm to efficiently harvest the crops produced. The Agricultural Conservation Program has lighted the fires at the starting point. Our job and evry farmer's job is to make every edge cut toward our individual farm improvement as we enter a period of agricultural prosperity.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Walton announce the arrival of a fine seven pound girl, born Monday, March 15th. She has been named Eva Lou.

Johnnie is one of our progressive farmers down on the Burlington-Belleview pike. He is at present, living on his father's farm.

Ky. Schools Enter Contest

SPONSORED BY NATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATIONAL COMMITTEE—UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE AWARDED.

Kentucky high school students are out to win their share of university scholarships to be awarded in two educational events in which two national champions and winners in every state will be selected.

Following the announcement a few days ago of the 1937 meat essay and meat poster contests, teachers in sevent Kentucky cities have already enrolled their students in these events, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board, contest sponsor. Additional entries are expected, since the closing date is not until April 15.

Kentucky cities participating thus far are: Berea, Booneville, Clinton, Dayton, Erlanger, Hazel and Nicholasville.

This is the fourteenth annual meat essay contest to be conducted. Participation is limited to students taking home economics. Contestants have a choice of several subjects all of which give them the opportunity to present in essay form the knowledge they have gained in their classes about the selection, preparation, and food properties of meat. Miss Margaret Hart of Princeton was the Kentucky state champion last year. California furnished the national champion.

The meat poster contest, which was conducted last year for the first time, is open to all high school students. The young artists are telling the story of the place of meat in the diet in their postor compositions. Albert Hardiman, of Paducah won highest honors in Kentucky last year. The national champion came from Kansas.

Nationally known authorities in the field of home economics and prominent artists will select the winners in the two contests, it is announced.

FLORENCE 4-H CLUB

The X-L All club held its organization meeting at Florence school March 2. 1937. The meeting was called to order by our President, Donald Tanner. Miss Gillaspie and Mr. Colville met with us.

The first part of the program was devoted to election of officers for the ensuing year. The following were elected: President, Mary Butts; Vice President, Glenn Stevens; Secretary, Betty Jean Carpenter; Publicity Chairman, Mary Butts and Evelyn Highhouse Cheer leader.

Captains were elected among the different groups and Mrs. Virginia Goodridge and Mrs. Anderson are our sewing leads. After all business was cared for our meeting adjourned.

$2,000,000 Grant For State Instutions

Latter, Replacing Lexington Institution, May Be Located In Boyle, Mercer Counties

Frankfort, Ky., March 11—Governor Chandler announced Monday receipt of word from Washington that the federal government has approved a grant of approximately $1,500,000 to be used in construction of a new prison and a new hospital for the insane in Kentucky. The formal signing of contracts will take place within the next few days, the governor said.

The federal grant will be supplements by 2,000,000 appropriated for building purposes by the 1936 general assembly. With the total, the state will build a new prison near LaGrange in Oldham county. and a new hospital, probably on a site in Boyle and Mercer counties.

The governor recently conferred with President Roosevelt in Washington regarding the grant, which he said he had been seeking "since the day I took office."

Preliminary work on the Oldham county prison already has been started, and plans for the new hospital are practically complete.

Approved by Telephone

Washington, March 11—Senator Alben W. Barkley said Monday night the Public Works Administration and Kentucky had reached a compromise which would make available about $1,500,000 in federal aid in the construction of a new prison and state hospital.

In place of a $1,800,000 grant announced last summer, limited to payment of relief labor only the PWA announced it had offered a straight grant of $300,000 plus payment for labor certified from National Re-employment Service lists by the Works Progress Administration.

Senator Barkley said Governor Chandler approved the arrangement by telephone.

Wm. B. RAINES

William B. Raines, born in Boone County, Ky., Sept. 4, 1848, died March 8, 1937, at the age of 88 years, 6 months and four days.

He was united in marriage to Mary F. Horton Dec. 24, 1868. To this union two daughter were born, one Mrs. Lillie Sharp, preceding him to the grave 44 years ago; his wife also passed away 18 years ago. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Lula Brunner, with whom he made his home and one granddaughter, Mrs. Ottma Schuchart; eleven grandchildren and 4 great great grandchildren. He will be sadly missed by his many friends.

While he suffered, he would not days before he passed away.ETA give up to stay in bed, being in bed only two days before he passed away. He would sit in his chair and pray that God would spare his life to see his little great greatgrandchild, Virginia Brunner come home from the hospital, and God answered his prayer. She returned home Saturday evening and he knew her, and was pleased to know she was home.

It is so sweet to know that dear Grandpa is at rest. I am so glad I could do for him what I did in his hour of suffering. We will miss him. There will be one vacant chair we will linger to caress when we say our evening prayer.

We know dear Grandpa went happy, for he prayed for God to forgive him and take him home, and God is good and ever ready to answer prayer.

He told his daughter he was going home to meet his loved ones gone before.

He said his daughter and son-in-law were his best friends for they waited on him day after day and all night they were always ready to lend a helping hand.

This was written by one who loved him—his Great Granddaughter.

Pendleton county farmers have placed orders for more than 2,500 tons of limestone, and need several more lime pulverizers. Farmers have formed two groups to obtain new equipment, and plan to buy cooperatively.

Burlington Homemakers

Burlington Homemakers club met at the courthouse Thursday, March 4th at 10 o'clock a. m. to 3 p. m. Mrs. Kathryn Easton, president, called the meeting to order, and Mrs. Lou Pope presided as secretary.

When the secretary called the roll, each member responded with a garden hint, which was instructive and valuable at this season of the year.

Miss Mary Gillaspie, our County leader, gave an interesting talk and valuable hints pertaining to the growing of flowers, the care and seeding of lawns, also pruning of rose bushes and shrubs, how and when and general care of same, which was highly appreciated by the club members interested in that special kind of work.

Seventeen members were present, namely: Anna Huey, Floss Blythe, Ada Grant, Ella Jarrell, Hazel Kelly, Nell Garrison, Kathryn Cropper, Kathryn Easton, Lou Pope, Kathryn Brown, Beatrice Huey, Fannie Riley, Helen Clore, Fannie Conner, Alice White, Nettie Kelly and Clara Smith.

The major project was hats and our project leaders, Mrs. Helen Clore and Mrs. Kathryn Cropper, discribed the style of the spring hats and gave a vivid description as to shapes, colors and materials being used this season in the new "tops."

A few members brought in last year hats, which our leaders very ably demonstrated how they could be cleaned, reshaped and retrimmed and made into wearable 1937 styles.

The time of the next meeting will be Thursday, April 1, 1:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m. Roll call to be answered, "What I consider makes an ideal home." The major project will be "Foundation Garments and Posture."

Will each member come and bring some one with you, and solicit new members. Remember the date and place Courthouse, Thursday, April 1, 1:00 to 4:00 p. m.

Clara M. Smith, Pub. Chm'n.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all our daer friends and neighbors for their wonderful kindness and sympathy shown us in the illness and death of our dear father and grandfather. We thank Mrs. Lee Cleek for the nice food she cooked and sent to him; thanks to all the dear friends who came every evening from Ft. Thomas, Newport and Covington, and also attended the funeral during the bad weather; friends came from Cold Springs; we thank Earl Adams for the wonderful care given, sitting up nights and help to care for him. We thank each and every one who was so good to us during his illness and death. We thank the doctor, the minister for his consoling words and the undertaker for the efficient manner in which he conducted the funeral.

The Family

As Lincoln county farmers use approximately 10,000 tons of limestone a year, they plan to get a pulverizer and have it crushed locally.

IN LOVING MEMBRANCES of MARY FRANCES ANTROS

Just one year ago my darling,
When the lights were growing dim,
That you left this world of srrow,
For that bright and glorious realm.
You went to be with Jesus,
And his shining Angels bright,
While our days left sad and lonely,
With the weary darkest nights.
Those little songs you use to sing
We can not hear no more,
But for Jesus you are singing
On that golden shore.
When our work on earth is finished
And we too must Cross the Bar,
We will see those little birdies
And those every blooming flowers,
That you told us at your going,
You saw them from afar.

Sadly Missed by Grandmother

Mrs. Pearl Walston.

BURLINGTON SCHOOL NOTES

On Tuesday of last week, the Freshman class assembled for a class program which was enjoyed by each member of the class.

Mrs. Fowler was unable to teach school last Friday and Miss Laubisch has been out Monday and Tuesday of this week on account of the prevalent head colds. Mrs. Roberts is substituting for Miss Laubisch.

BARKLEY PROMISES AID TOWARD LEGISLATION FOR THE CONTROL OF FLOODS

Paducah, Ky., March 13—Senator Alben W. Barkley today promised his aid in securing national flood control legislation after Maj. Gen. Edward M. Markham told a group of Paducah men that army engineers had ready for presentation to congress a billion-dollar plan that would permanently solve the problem of floods in this country.

Senator Barkley and Markham, chief of army engineers, spoke at a meeting called by the Paducah flood control committee.

Barkley and Markham will leave tomorrow morning for Louisville and will visit flood-sticken cities on the way, Lieut. Col. R. G. Powell division engineer, of Cincinnati, and Maj. William A. Snow, Washington will accompany them.

Markham told the meeting the engineers' plan, calling for reservoirs on the tributaries of the upper Ohio and levees and flood walls for river cities, will be presented to congress within two weeks.

Congressman Will Whittington, Mississippi, chairman of the house control committee also addressed the meeting. He spoke highly of the army engineers' flood control plan and asserted the problem should be undertaken by the federal government without state or municipal aid.

ELECTRIC RATES CONTINUE DOWN

Last year the light and power industry's operating expenses increased by 1 per cent while its revenue from consumers rose 8 per cent.

Main reasons for the difference is that rates were substantially lower than in 1'35. Th domestic consumer's average bill, including curent for modern elctric appliances, is now 9 cents a day—less than $3.00 a month.

Survey Shows 21,661 Farmers Hit By Flood

71 Counties Were Affected By Recent High Waters Says County Agents' Report

A survey made by county agents, home demonstration agents and local committees shows that 21,661 Kentucky farmers suffred losses in the flood, according to a summary of the figures issued by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Reports were received from 71 counties directly hit by flood, and 39 non-flood counties.

NINETY-EIGHT ARE ASSISTED

IN BOONE COUNTY BY THE OLD AGE PENSION ACT, RECEIVING A TOTAL OF $1009.50 PER MONTH.

As Old Age Assistance entered its eighth month of actual existence in the State of Kentucky, the number of aged indigents receiving this aid in Boone County from the State Department of Welfare has been increased to 98 who are getting a total of $1009.50 or an average of $10.30 each, per month, according to an anouncement made this week by Dr. A. Y. Lloyd, director of the Division of Old Age Assistance. The number of old folk to receive aid in this county will be increased monthly until all who have applied are properly cared for.

The steady monthly increase in grants has brought the total up to 17,812 in the 120 counties in the State to receive checks for the month of February. This number cashed checks amounting to $17,988.15, or an average of $10.04 per grant. This represents a State-wide increase of 2,372 grants amounting to $24,125 per month.

Conforming with the grant increase made during the early winter months, the Division of Old Age Assistance has gradually increased the State-wide average per recipient. In August, 1936, when the first grants were made to 238 recipients who drew a total of $1,769.45, or an average of $7.43 per grant.

The Kentucky law does not provide for a maximum grant for each applicant over 65 years old. The grants are made oh a basis need, living costs with only the most destitute allowed the full $15.00. However, a close study of Kentucky's average shows that it compares favorably with other states having the same maximum. It is considerably higher than most Southern Agricultural states. Compared with Mississippi, the Kentucky grants ar exceptionally high. That State, in somewhat similar economic circumstances as Kentucky, is now averaging only $3.58 per grant.

Parties Spent Many Millions on '36 Race

SENATE CAMPAIGN GROUP URGES DRASTIC TIGHTENING OF ELECTION LAWS.

Washington, March 4—The senate campaign expenditures committee disclosed today that political parties, their major candidates, and a host of independent organizations spent $23,973,329 in the 1936 presidential campaign.

It was by faf the most costly in American history.

The report, recommending drastic tightening of election laws, said the total cost of the election might approach $48,000,000, if the "tremendous volume" of money spent by individuals and local organizations could be counted.

The Republican national committee and allied organizations spent $14,198,202, while similar groups supporting President Roosevelt paid out $9,228,406.

The total campaign expenditure averaged 52 cents fo revery ballot cast.

The investigators urged new legislation to halt coercion of voters, clarify reporting of expenditures, and forbid political contributions by labor unions.

The report said labor organizations contributed the "unprecedented" total of $770,324 to the Democratic cause.

Would Amend Act

Noting that corporation already are forbidden to give money to campaign funds, the committee recommended the corrupt practices act be amended "to prohibit contributions of like kind and character from all organizations . . . whose aims or purposes are the furtherance of group, class, or special interest."

Other recommendations by the committee included:

A uniform method of accounting for all national political organizations and national campaigns.

Remodification of varying laws on use of the mails, including franking privileges.

More than one-third of all contributions were collected from 3,240 persons who gave $500 or more each, the committee said.

Questionnaires answered by 2,000 of these big contributors showed that 63 per cent "were in some way affiliated with corporations," while 4 per cent were employed by the federal government.

Other highlights of the report were:

The duPont families of Wilmington, Del., spent more than any other, 12 members donating $510,370 to the Republican party and kindred organizations.

Alf M. Landon, Republican presidential candidate, spent not a single penny in his own behalf, all his expenses being borne by the party.

President Roosevelt's personal expenditures were $20 for postage and $650 in donations to Democratic organizations.

The largest expenditure in the senatorial races was $36,573 by Warren W. Barbour, former Republican senator from New Jersey. William H. Smathers, Democratic victor spent $6,154.

The 1936 campaign cost more than twice as much as the 1928 election, the most expensive on record until last year.

In 1928 the Republicans spent $6,256,000, and the Democrats $5,342,000, bringing the total to $11,598,000.

NEW HAVEN BOOSTERS HOLD MEETING

The New Haven Boosters 4-H Club met on Tuesday, March 9th at the school building. At this meeting, the club established its goal for 1937, which is as follows:

First, that we will attain an enrollment of 60 members, that is eight more than our present number of fifty-two. Second, that we will hold regular meeting throughout the year and a club tour during the summer. Third, and vitally important ,that we have 100 per cent completion of all projects. Fourth, and last, that we have a demonstration team for boys and girls respectively representing us at the county-wide demonstration contest held in May.

After having formulated the aforesaid goal and approved it by an overwhelming majority, we repeated the club pledge and adjourned.

The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 13. All members and leaders please attend.

KENTUCK FARM NEWS

Every homemakers' club in Jefferson county has adopted a homemakers' club leader or 4-H leader who was in the flood area, to do whatever is needed to reestablish her. They have given money, foods, furniture and clothing, and bought a calf for the State dairy calf champion who lost his calf in the flood.

If Marshall county' best interests are looked after, fully 10,000 acres will be returned to forest in the next few years, it was said at a county planning meeting. Already a start has been made by farmers who have ordered 17,000 seedlings.

Goals set up by Marion county farmers: 16,000 tons of limestone spread, 2,000 acres of alfalfa seeded, 75 tobacco barns properly ventilated, 20 tobacco demonstrations, placement of 60 purebred rams, extensive seeding of grass legume pastures.

Boyd Wheeler, Letcher county, took a loss last year on chicks bought in July; they're producing now, when egg prices are low. So by March 1 this year he had 200 four-weeks-old chicks, and plans to have 200 more in the brooder house by the 20th of this month.

Records of dairy herds that were in the Caldwell County Dairy Herd Improvement Association have been summarized as to relative feed cost, cost per 100 pounds of milk, cost per pound of butterfat, income above feed cost, etc. Results are available to farmers.

Government Of Laws, Not Men F. D. R's Aim

President, Addressing Nation, Calls For Speedy Enactment of Reorganization Measure

Washington, March 11—President Roosevelt called for swift enactment of his court reorganization bill Tuesday night to "save the Constitution from the (supreme) court and the court from itself."

In outspoken fashion, the chief executive asserted the high tribunal had "improperly set itself up" as a "super-legislature," and had read into the constitution "words and implications which are not there and which were never intended to be there."

At the same time, he disavowed any intent to "pack" the court with "spinless puppets who would disregard the law" and decide cases as he might wish them decided, and asserted the processes of constutional amendment were too slow for the pressing problems of the day.

His address, a "fireside chat" delivered from the small oval room on the ground floor of the White House, was the second devoted to a fighting appeal for passage of his bill to permit the enlargement of the court unless justices over 70 retire.

"We must find a way to take an appeal from the supreme court to the Constitution itself," he said. "We want a supreme court which will do justice under the Constitution—not over it. In our courts we want a government of laws not of men.

"I want—as all Americans want—and independent judiciary as proposed by the framers of the Constitution. That means a supreme court that will enforce the Constitution as written—that will refuse to ameend the Constitution by the arbitrary exercise of judicial power—amendment by judicial say-so. It does not mean a judiciary so independent that it can deny the existence of facts universally recognized.

Cristicisms Are Answered

A major section of the address was devoted to answering the three most frequently head criticisms of his proposal—that in an effort to "pack' 'the court, that it would create a precedent which a future President with dictatorial ambitions could turn to his advantage and that the solution of the problem lies rather in a constitutional amendment.

Of the "packing" charge, the President said:

"If by that phrase the charge is made that I would appoint and the senate would confirm justices worthy to sit beside present members of the court who understand modern conditions—that I will appoint justices who will not undertake to override the judgment of the congress on legislative policy—that I will appoint justices who will act as justices and not as legislators—if the appointment of such justices can be called 'packing the courts,' then I say that I and, with me the vast majority of the American people favor doing just that thing—now."

Of "precedent:"

"Fundamentally, in the future, if the American people can not trust the congress it elects to refrain from abuse of our constitutional usages, democracy will have failed far beyond the importance to it of any kind of precedent concerning the judiciary."

And of the amendment process:

"It would take months or years to get substantial agreement upon the type and language of an amendment. It would take months and years thereafter, to get a two-thirds majority in favor of that amenment in both houses of congress. Then would come the long course of ratification by three-fourths of the states. No amendment which any powerful economic interests or the leaders of any powerful political party have had reason to oppose has ever been ratified within anything like a reasonable time.

"And thirteen states which contain only 5 per cent of the voting population can block ratification even though the 36 states even though the 36 states with 95 per cent of the population are for it."

Analyzes Opposition

Analyzing the opposition that has developed against his proposal, Mr. Roosevelt said it came from two groups one which "fundamentally objects to social and economic legislation along modern lines"—and a second composed of individuals who "honestly believe the amendment process is the best and who would be willing to support a reasonable amendment if they could agree on one."

Three Reasons Listed

Finally, summing up, he said he favored action by legislation for three reasons:

"First, because I believe that it can be passed at this session of congress.

"Second, because it will provide reinvigorated liberal-minded judiciary necessary to furnish quicker and cheaper justice from bottom to top.

"Third, because it will provide a series of federal courts willing to enforce the Constitution as written, and unwilling to assert legislative powers by writing into it their own political and economic policies."

ONE FARM PRODUCES 7 TOBACCO PRIZES

Of 15 prize sticks, at a community tobacco show at the Lewisburg high school in Mason county, seven were grown on the same farm, by three different growers. Warren G. Stambough, a student in agriculture in the school, won two first and one second prize, and the stick that beat him was grown on the same farm.

Warren sold 916 pounds, produced on an acre, for an average of $60 a hundred, one of the highest prices paid on the Maysville market. He grew No. 5 root-rot resistant tobacco, which was developed at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington.

Charles Mathis, teacher of agriculture in the Lewisport school, arranged the show, and also a tobacco school which attracted 45 farmers.

Dr. Ogden shown in these pictures attended the meeting of the Boone County Fish and Game Protective Association held Wednesday, March 10th, and showed moving pictures of many interesting points in the United States. The pictures shown by Mr. Ogden were very interesting and educational.

The following item concerning Dr. Ogden, while in Florida, was taken from the Kentucky Post:

Outstanding catches have been made by two Covington fishing parties in Florida this season. The largest pompino and the second largest male sailfish and wahoo have been caught, respectively, by Miss Helen Mueller; Dr. Max Ogden president of the Kenton County Game and Fish Protective Association, and Phil Mueller, manager of the Latonia Ice & Fuel Co.

Mr. Mueller and his party, including Mrs. Mueller, two daughters, Helen and Elizabeth, and Mr. Mueller's sister, Mrs. Frank Merkle returned several weeks ago. Dr. Ogden and Charles Haegele Jr., returned last week.

Both parties fished near Miami. The Mueller party fished most of the time for ocean fish, while Dr. Ogden and Mr. Haegele fished but one day in the ocean and angled most of their two-week stay in the Thousand Island district.

In one day Dr. Ogden and Mr. Haegele caught 200 pounds of fish they said. Mr. and Mrs. Mueller landed a varied lot considered one of the best catches along a 100-mile shore front near Miami.

ARGUMENT ENDS IN FIGHT

Frank Robinson, son of Walter Robinson, who was on the inside of the building, spoke up and asked who made that statement. Hodges stepped to the doorway with one foot resting on the ground and the other on the floor, and answered that he said made the statement.

One word brought on another until Hodges told Frank that he was a crook, and that two men from Walton had told him so. Walter Robinson told Frank to hit Hodges, and that he was a coward unless he did. Mr. Robinson then struck Hodges twice with a lantern and they engaged in a scuffle. Frank, the one who struck Hodges on the head with the board was still looking on. According to testimony, it was only a matter of a few seconds until Frank picked up a board, about 7 feet long, 6 to 8 inches wide and one inch thick, (displayed as evidence in the examining trial) and struck Hodges on the head. Hodges was left lying on the floor.

On the outside of the building Frank made the statement that he thought he had killed him.

Hodges was carried to the home of Clem Readnour by Theo. Highhouse, a Mr. Readnour and Frank Robinson. Dr. Coe, Union was called and he was rushed to the hospital, where he remains in a serious condition, reported to be suffering from a skull fracture. He was bleeding from his nose, one ear, and mouth when taken to the hospital.

At the request of Dr. Coe Theo Hightower went to the poultry house and gathered all possible evidence. All that was found was the board, a pocket knife, opened and some blood on the floor.

The trial held Wednesday was only an examining trial, and the only evidence given was that of Clem Readnour, his son and Theodore Hightower, all of whom were present at the time of the fight.

O. M. Rogers, Erlanger, representing Robinson, asked for an extension of time to prepare his case as he did not expect the trial to mature until the condiion of Hodges could be ascertained. Judge granted this extension and all witnesses were summoned to appear before the April 12 grand jury.

DUST STORMS CLOUD STATE

VISIBILITY LIMITED W H E N SKIES ARE BROWNED BY VEIL OF FLYING SPECKS—RAIN FOLLOWS DUST.

A dust storm that came out of the west obscured the sun in scattered sections of Kentucky Saturday.

In Boone and adjoining counties the dust was very low, covering automobiles, clothes. and making breathing difficult at times. Later in the day rain fell, which caused many housewives hours of work cleaning window panes. Visibility was very poor throughout the day.

According to reports received from all sections of the state, heavy clouds of dust similar to a light fog hung over the Kentucky and Ohio River valley.

The Owensboro area of western Kentucky reported a dust storm of considerable intensity.

DEATH CLAIMS CONSTANCE MAN AT AGE OF 91

C. H. Robinson, retired carpenter contractor, died at his home near Constance Tuesday.

Mr. Robinson, who was 91 years old, had been a resident of Ludlow 75 years. He was born in Boone county. He resided with his son in Ludlow for several years, but returned to Boone County in November, when his sons daughter became seriously ill.

In additon to his son J. Blaine Robinson, Mrs. Minta Finley, St. Louis, Mo., and four grandchildren survive him. Arrangements for services are being completed by Bullock and Catherman of Ludlow.

SPRING ARRIVES SOON AFTER MUDDY RAINFALL

A dust storm, rain and a chilly wind ushered spring into Boone County. The vernal season began officially at 6:45 o'clock Saturday night when the sun crossed the equator.

The Paschal full moon will occur this year on March 26, Friday. Easter, therefore will be next Sunday, March 28. The Council of Christian Churches as Nicea in Asia Minor in A. D. 325 decided that Easter should be the first Sunday after the Paschal full moon happening upor or next after March 21.

BAKE SALE

There will be a large selection to choose from, and the price will be right. Everyone invited to come and look over our display. The proceeds will be used to buy books and equipment for room one.

MARCH 31 SET FOR FILING

OF WORK SHEETS—FARMERS PARTICIPATING IN PROGRAM LAST YEAR NEED NOT FILE SHEETS THIS YEAR.

Farmers in Kentucky who did not take part in the farm program last year, and who desire to participate in the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, are requested to file work sheets for their farm not later than March 31, County Agent H. R. Forkner announces.

Those farmers who participated in the program last year need not file worksheets this year. However, if any change has been made in the size of the farm, or if the producer is operating a different farm in 1937, he should notify the county office immediately of such change.

The worksheets for farmers taking part in the program for the first time in 1937 will show the 1936 acreage of each separate crop and land use on the farm.

Under the program this year, the county office will furnish each farmer a statement showing crop bases, the number of acres upon which payment can be received for diversion, and the amount of the soil-building allowance for the farm. With this information farmers can determine early in the season approximately the amount of payment that can be earned under the program. They will be able to plan their farming operations so as to fit the program to the needs of their farms and at the same time qualify for full payments.

Farmers are being urged to file worksheets prior to March 31 so that necessary information about bases, crop acreages, and the soil-building allowance for 1937 can be furnished by the county office in sufficient time to be of greatest use on the farm.

CURB MARKET GROUP TO MEET

Homemakers who are interested in establishing some type of farm market will have a meeting March 26, Friday, 1 p. m. (slow time) at the courthouse. Mrs. Pearl Haak, Foods specialist, from the University of entucky, plans to meet with the group. This will be he second of a series of meetings held in Boone to talk about the possibilities of establishing a market for farm and home produce, according to Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent Committees appointed at the last meeting will make reports. Any one in th county who is interested in a market is urged to attend this meeting.

BOONE COUNTY BASEBALL CLUB

TO HOLD FIRST MEETING FOR ORGANIZATION MARCH 26—SIX TEAMS ALREADY SIGNED TO PARTICIPATE IN LEAGUE.

Plans for a bigger and better baseball league in Boone County this year are being completed, and March 26th, has been set for the first meeting of the representative to this meeting, and feel sure that their community will sponsor a ball club. The towns participating so far are: Burlington, Belleview, Hebron, Big Bone, Petersburg and Bob & Gene. Any other towns or communities in the county who would like to be a member of the county league, are requested to have a representative attend this first meeting. The teams will be made up entirely of local county boys, and no professional or semi-professional players will be allowed to enter. It is to be strictly a county club.

Don't forget the date, Friday night, March 26th, 7:00 o'clock (slow time) at the office of The Boone County Recorder, Burlington. Everyone interested are urged to be present.

TAYLORSPORT 4-H CLUB CLOTHING MEETING

The Taylorsport 4-H Club held their Clothing Project meeting at the home of their leader Mrs. Elizabth Morehead last week. Nelda Sprague presided at the business meeting in the absence of the president, Shirley Berry. After the business, our leader gave us instructions on how to make the phot holder. Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent attended the meeting. The next meeting will be held March 27th. The following were present: Nelda Sprague, Betty Lou Goodridge, Peggy Morehead, Marion Fay Humphrey, Emalie Sprague, Dell Goodridge, June Morehead and Lavinia Humphrey.

USE OF COKE IN CURING TOBACCO NETS MAN $7.46

Artificial heat with the use of coke netted Mr. E. B. Elliott. of Idlewild $7.46 per hundred above average prices, according to David Colville, Assistant County Agentfl This year's average for the whole crop of 6698 pounds was $26.46 when the market for the day he sold was $19.00. Because of unfavorable weather conditions, Mr. Elliott was unable to take his tobacco to market until February 3. At this time the price on tobacco had reached the lowest for the year.

Mr. Elliott has been using artificial heat in curing his tobacco since 1931. He has had such success that he is going to continue to use heat in curing future crops. "I am convinced," says Mr. Elliott, "that by using coke I can average from $7.00 to $9.00 per hundred higher than tobacco cured the old way."

EXPOSION OF OIL CAN FATAL

FARMER DIES, TWO ARE INJURED SERIOUSLY—FIRE CAUSES $4,400 LOSS AT TWO RESIDENCES NEAR INDEPENDENCE

One man was burned to death and four members of his family were injured, two seriously, in a fire that destroyed two homes on Independence Station Road, near Independence, early Saturday.

James Davis, 73 years old, farmer, was burned fatally before members of his family could carry him from the house.

Others injured were his wife, Mrs. James Davis, 59; burns on the chest and legs, condition serious; his son, Harley Davis, 37, carpenter, burns on entire body, condition serious; Mrs. Harley Davis, 17, and James Davis, 5 months old, slight burns.

George Langley, Chief of Kenton County Police, said he believed the fire was caused when the elderly man attempted to start a fire with kerosene. Members of the Davis family said there was an explosion a short time after the elder Davis entered the kitchen of the one-story frame home.

Davis' wife and son rushed to the kitchen to find him enveloped in flames. The mother and son suffered serious burns in attempting to save him.

DAIRYMEN URGED TO COMPLETE BANG'S TEST

Boone County dairy herds have been tested free from Bang's disease to the extent of about 75 per cent. according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Every effort should be made to complete the testing of the remaining 25 per cent of cattle.

Following are some very interesting conclusions of the effect of Bang's disease on production which have been drawn by Mr. Louis L. Merryman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture from records and reports from a number of experiment stations and numerous breeders throughout the country.

1. Bang's disease reduces milk production about 22 percent.
2. Bang's disease reduces the calf crop about 40 percent.
3. Bang's disease decreases calving efficiency by about 40 percent.
4. Bang's-free herds calve every 11.5 months.
5. Bang's-infected herds calve every 20 months.
6. One out of every five cows abouting will become sterile.
7. Bang's disease increases (by breeding double, sterility and mastitis), the needed replacements by about 30 percent.

Those who have not eliminated this ravaging disease from their herds should apply to Dr. Kenneth Ryle, Veterinarian, Burlington, Phone Burlington 39, who is in charge of the testing work in the county. Every farmer should take advantage of their work immediately as the Federal Government at this time is paying all costs of testing and is paying liberal sums on the appraised value of animals that are found affected.

Mrs. Galen Kelly attended the funeral of her uncle at Hebron Saturday.

ANOTHER HAT IN POLITICAL RING

GROVER C. RANSOM ANNOUNCES FOR REPRESENTATIVE OF BOONE AND GRANT COUNTIES.

Grover C. Ransom of Verona, makes his formal bow to the public in this weeks issue of the Recorder as a candidate for Representative from Boone and Grant counties.

Mr. Ransom was born September -., 1884 on a farm near Verona. He received his education under Miss Nannie Hamilton and graduated in 1903 in the League Institute which was founded by Miss Hamilton.

He later went to Chattanooga, Tenn., where he entered the Postal Service in 1906, as clerk, and was promoted to superintendent of the money order department and also served as local secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Commission at Chattanooga.

He resigned in 1918 and returned to the farm at Verona. Served as assistant cashier and director of the Verona bank until 1934 when he resigned to accept the position of state bank examiner, which he held until September 1936. He was a member of the Verona school board 15 years and was elected three terms as magistrate of the Verona and Walton precincts.

Mr. Ransom has served his constituents faithfully and well, and has been an ardent Democrat all his life. We commend him to the voters of Grant and Boone county as a man who will make them a faithful representative if elected.

LOCAL HERD IS SECOND IN KY.

ACCORDING TO INFORMATION RECEIVED FROM THE D. H. I. A.—BUTTERFAT PRODUCTION PER COW WAS 40.7 POUNDS.

Information recently secured from the D. H. I. A. Bulletin lists the herd of Mr. Joel Gray of Burlington as second highest producing herd in the State of Kentucky. The average butterfat production per cow was 40.7 pounds for the month of January. This record is even more remarkable when consideration is made of the facts that there are fifteen cows in the herd and five of them are heifers fresh for the first time.

Berea College ranked first with an average of 40.9 pounds per cow and Mr. Gray second with an average production of 40.7 pounds per cow. This makes the difference of only .2 of a pound per cow average.

Mr. Gray credits this remarkable record to several factors: Good care and management, careful selection of cows, use of purebred sire with high quality production back of him, and by good feeding practices.

The cows are turned out only long enough to drink on cold blustery days and are returned to the barn. This herd receives a good ration of mixed legume hay, corn soy bean meal, wet malt and corn and cob meal.

UNION GARAGE UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

John Hampton, Florence, has announced that he has leased the Union garage, and that he will be open for business April 1st.

Hampton, has been employed by the C. W. Myers Motor Company, Florence, for the past eleven years, and therefore is well experienced as a modern mechanic. All nationally advertised products will be handled, including Texaco gas and oil, and a complete line of Firestone tires. Wrecker service will also be one of the many services offered the patrons of this concern.

Mr. Hampton, well known thruout the county, has placed a small advertisement in this issue of The Recorder and will carry same for several weeks. Read this ad. for complete details of his business.

BULLITTSVILLE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Bullittsville Christian Church is in the midst of the Pre-Easter meeting. Services each evening of this week. Candle light communion service Thursday evening. An Easter pageant will be given Friday evening; Sunrise prayer service Sunday; special music at all services.

We invite you to worship with us in al lthese services. Come and bring your friends.

Noble Lucas, Minister.

JAKE CLEEK IS CANDIDATE

FOR REPRESENTATIVE—IS A FARMER FROM THE BEAVER PRECINCT—IS WELL KNOWN IN BOTH COUNTIES.

The formal announcement of Jake Cleek for representative from the counties of Boone and Grant appears in this issue of The Recorder.

Mr. Cleek is from the Beaver precinct near Walton where he is engaged in the business of farming.

In 1900 Mr. Cleek was graduated from a dental college. During the next seven years he practiced this profession. In 1903 he opened a branch office in Dry Ridge, where worked for several years.

Since he gave up his practice many years ago Mr. Cleek has been a farmer. For the past several years he has been successfully engaged in raising poultry.

Mr. Cleek is well and favorably known in both Boone and Grant counties. At the present time he is a magistrate from the third district in this county.

TAX STOPS APRIL 16 ON POP AND CANDY, GUM AND COSMETICS

Frankfort, y., March 21—The Kentucky state luxury taxes on ice cream, candy, chewing gum, soft drinks, nuts, and cosmetics will not be collected after April 16, the day when the repealer passed by the Legislature January 11 becomes effective.

Governor Chandler had asked that the repeal not be given emergency status, which would have stopped the tax immediately, because the state needed the money.

So the tax ceased to be effective 90 days after the repeal was passed.

LOCAL BOY IS INJURED

WHEN RUN DOWN BY HIT-SKIP DRIVER EARLY FRIDAY MORNING—NO BONES BROKEN.

A. B. Greenup, local boy was injured early Friday morning when run down by a hit-skip driver.

The accident occurred at the big curve, just south of Covington at about 1:30 a. m. Mr. Greenup stated that he had missed the last car leaving Cincinnati and was on his way home. He said that he was walking on the right side of the road and was just rounding the curve, when a car driving at a high rate of speed and hugging the inside of the curve struck him.

He was knocked unconscious by the car, and was picked up by a motorist approximately 20 minutes later and removed to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he remained for one day and night.

Mr. Greenup was able to return home Saturday and is able to be out, suffering only from bruises and torn ligaments.

GRANT TRUE BLUE 4-H CLUB HOLDS SECOND MEETING

The Grant True Blue 4-H Club met last Wednesday for its regular monthly meeting. We are glad to say we have four new members. We set up our goals for this year to have fifteen members. Here are our other goals: Completion 95 percent; at least one party meeting; ten meeting altogether; one summer tour; beach party around June 16; one demonstration.

As our old secretary and reporter resigned we elected Bill Tinkelenberg to fill her office.

Our next meeting will be March 30 at 10: 15 a. m. We adjourned after repeating our 4H pledge which was led by Mr. Colville.

ERLANGER WOMAN IS STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

The condition of Mrs. John Fant, 52 of 308 Cross street, Erlanger, who was injured last week when struck by an automobile at Dixie Highway and Vine Street, Elsmere, is reported not serious.

She suffered a possible hip fracture and internal injuries. Police said she was struck by an auto driven by Rev. H. F. Miller, Chardon, O. She was removed to the hospital by Police Chief E. C. Antrobus.

County Patrolmen Harry Nuxoll and Otto Froelicher and Deputy Sheriff Ed Taylor, who investigated the accident, said Rev. Miller told them that Mrs. Fant came from a store at the intersection and walked into the path of his auto.

BRENT SPENCE ISSUES WARNING

TO FLOOD SUFFERERS TO BE ON GUARD AGAINST ORGANIZATIONS SOLICITING MONEY TO INFLUENCE LAWMAKERS.

In a recent letter from our congressman, Brent Spence, he issued a warning to all those persons in the flooded districts to be on your guard for alleged organizations collecting money for the purpose of influencing legislation in behalf of flood sufferers. Your money will be wasted—you will be the losers.

The letter follows:

Boone County Recorder,
Burlington, Kentucky.
Gentlemen:

I understand there are certain alleged organization who are collecting money for the purpose of influencing legislation in behalf of the flood sufferers.

Those who have been solicited for contributions should be warned that any money given for this purpose will serve no useful end and will be hurtful rather than helpful in the passage of legislation.

Every Congressman from the affected districts understands thoroughly the needs of his people and we all want to assist in every way possible.

I trust you will warn your readers against contributing anything for this purpose.

Very truly yours,
BRENT SPENCE.

The people of this county are proud to have Mr. Spence for their Congressman, as he always seems to have the interest of his people at heart, and is constantly offering valuable advice that will be for the good of his people. We wish to thank our Congressman for his cooperation and suggestions and assure him that any such advice is greatly appreciated.

WOMEN'S CLUB MEET WITH MRS. ANNA HUEY

The Boone County Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Anna Huey for their March program. The hostess read the Bible; the secretary, Mrs. Frank Voshell, called the roll, which was answered with a quotation about Spring. Appropriate to the season were the household hints given by Mrs. Josie Maurer.

March poems were mead by Mesdames Catherine Easton, Neva Sebree and Londa Lee Maurer. Current events were discussed by Mrs. Avalon Walton and Miss Estelle Huey gave Echoes from the radio. For the humorous side Mrs. Lulu Huey gave the reading "Nebachadnezzar" and Mrs. Franklin Huey gave "The Royal Bumper Degree." Mrs. Voshell conducted a Bible contest which was instructive and entertaining.

At the conclusion of the program the hostess served delicious refreshments. The April meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Frank Voshell.

4-H CLUB GIRLS MEET

The Petersburg 4-H club girls held their regular Sewing meeting March 13, at the home of Wilma Huey, sewing captain. Six members were present. Miss Gillaspie met with us. After each girl had finished we adjourned. Games were played by all.

Wilma Huey, Sewing Captain.

PRISONERS PLOT TO FLEE CAMP

TUNNEL FROM FRANFORT TENT ENCLOSURE AND UNDER THE STOCKADE — TRANSFERRED TO EDDYVILLE.

Frankfort, Ky., March 20—A plot of 15 prisoners to escape from the Kentucky State Reformatory was discovered by prison guards today and the convicts were ordered transferred to the Eddyville Penitentiary by Warden James Hammond.

Guards found a tunnel under prison tents leading to the outer stockade. The tent city and stockade were established when the January flood drove the prisoners out of the reformatory proper. The tunnel lacked only four feet of completion.

The names of the fifteen prisoners were not disclosed.

Editorial of the Week

A GIANT OF DESTRUCTION

Every day, somewnere, newspapers carry headlines of disasters, such as these: Exploding Kerosene Stove Wipes Out Family; Man Killed Pouring Oil on Fire; Smoker Dies in Gasoline Explosion.

Apparently the common use of petroleum products in motor cars and stoves has lulled people into a false sense of security while using these fluids. It has caused them to become careless. The record indicates that a warning must be given if lives and property are to be spared.

Here are recommendations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters:

Don't attempt to start fires in stoves or furnaces with gasoline or kerosene.

When using a kerosene or gasoline stove, always follow directions of the manufacturer. Keep the stove clean, extinguish flame after use and allow to cool before filling. Store the supply can outside the house.

Don't smoke while filling the stove.

In order to be sure your stove is safe, buy only those listed as "standard" by the Underwriters' Laboratories.

Don't clean clothes with gasoline naptha or benzine.

Human life is our most precious possession; guard your own and that of your dear ones from this giant of destruction.

Petroleum, properly handled, is one of man's most useful servants. Improperly handled, it can become a giant of destruction. Remember that—it may save your life.

OBSERVATIONS

DETROIT

"There must be something rotten in Denmark" could be changed to, "There must be something rotten in Detroit," if the events leading to the Bank Crash, which started, you will remember, in Detroit, and the present wave of Sit-Down strikes, also centering in the same place, are any indication. Something must be sadly out of gear in the city that spawned two such nation-shaking events.

Your observer believes that there is something out of gear with our whole industrial civilization. All over the country men are displaced by machines and are given nothing to take the place of the job they lost to a soulless collection of cogs and gears. No provision is made for retaining them in some other occupation by the industry that casts them off. No increased wages paid to those who remain even approximate the profits made by the machines. Mechanization has happened faster than society could adjust itself to it. Sit down strikes, bank failures and depressions represent the effort of society to get adjusted to the change which a mechanical world has caused.

Detroit being the center of the automotive industry and therefore the center of the machine production industries is also the center of the disturbance which these industries cause.

* * * *

Sit-down strikes and Supreme Court charges and counter charges continue to catch the headlines. One gets tired of the sameness of the news. Yet, on reflection, one knows that it is good that this is true. All the wisdom necessary to the solution of social and economic problems are not within any one head. As the old saw has it—"Two heads are better than one if one is a cabbage." Time, cool tempers, many, many different angles from as many different people, plus the willingness to compromise is what solves such problems. Perfection is never reached we only can aspire to it. This is true both individually and collectively.

BEAUTY

Last night we saw and heard, beauty, color, romance, glamour and tragedy. We saw "Maytime." The flavor lingers. The spell continues. One is thankful that men live to create fantastics which so revive one joy in living.

But raving over a personal emotional experience is not the purpose of this column. Seeing something significant in present events is.

Maytime has for one of its settings a scene from the sourt of Louis Napoleon. The pomp and circumstance, the glamour, the sophisticatian of handsome supercivilized couples, the little niceities of human conduct, the magnificance of marble halls and gleaming chandaliers—makes one regret the passing of an aristocracy which should produce these things. One has a feeling akin to homesickness for a life he had never known. That is, while the spell lingers.

When the spell leaves, one still regrets the passing of that high culture, but realizes that it thrives on the backs of the downtrodden; that not so many years before this time, one of the jobs of Paris garbage collectors was to gather the scores of new born babies from the moats surrounding the city each morning. Babes thrown there by their parents because of a grinding poverty which made life so cheap that parents would do that monsterous thing. All of this existing at the time of the greatest brilliance of the Royal Courts.

One leaves the theatre and realizses that in that type of society, translated to the industrialism of today, there would have been only Rolls-Royces; no Buicks and no Fords. There would have been vast apartments, privately owned, and no private homes. There would be great estates and no farms. Great factories, railroads and public utilities, but no shareholders save the Crown and his favorites.

Today art and beauty have been captured by industry for the benefit of many. We not only have our Fords, but we have them with a beauty of line and of color worthy of the ancient masters. Even such a minor thing as the fountain pen that writes this piece is a thing of gleaming color and streamline symetry.

It is quite possible that culture and beauty in all their phases do not reach as high a places as they did when held for the benefit of the privileged few. But there is no question but that millions more have appreciation of the finer things than formerly—that the general level of beauty and refinement is incomparably higher than those "bad old days" when there were only two grades in society, terrific wealth and no wealth at all.

Strange it is that the doctrine of Jesus should begin to find their fullfillment as a result of modern industry. It seems to have been God's plan for man that this should be. Surely it must be also in His plan that the plane of man be ever higher lifted toward perfection.

That's all for this time.

THE OBSERVER.

LOCAL NEWS—Born on the 18th inst., to Owen Beemon and wife, an eight pound boy.

Rev. Hall is erecting a tonsorial parlor in the corner of the lot on which his house stands.

The old landmark at the intersection of the Burlington pike with the Covington and Lexington pike in Florence has been razed and a handsome new structure will soon take its place and will be a great improvement to the center of the town.

Thos. Kirkpatrick is circulating a petition soliciting money with which to fence and clean up the old graveyard. He is has got quite a subscription already from the citizens of Burlington and vicinity. His desire is to put the cemetery in nice condition.

Supt. Voshell was in town Monday and began mailing the school trustees blanks for taking the census for the school year 1897-'98. Trustees will find the work is much more complicated than heretofore. To make a correct census it will require considerable care and labor.

FLORENCE—Miss Fannie Carpenter was visiting in Covington Saturday.

Miss Bess Crigler has been the guest of Miss Childress of Erlanger.

Miss Bessi Snyder was visiting with friends at Erlanger, the past week.

Mr. Charles Souther returned to Burgin, much to the regret of his many friends, who expected him to pay them a much longer visit.

Quite a large crowd of young ladies accompanied by Mrs. James Cloud and Mr. Stanley Cloud were the guests of Mrs. Marquess, a few days since. All the party agreed they had rarely ever spent a more delightful day.

RICHWOOD—J. T. Dempsey, of Beaver Lick was here last Saturday.

Mrs. R. Faney died on the 20th of consumption.

BELLEVUE—Dr. Furnish was in town one day last week on a furlow from Gov. Bradley.

The river is in its banks again, and the farmers may safely make preparations for preparing the ground near the river for crops.

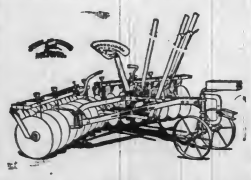
Rev. P. L. Utz and family arrived home last Saturday and were heartily welcomed by their friends. They have been absent for several weeks.

PETERSBURG—The ringing of fire bells aroused our town about 3:00 Thursday morning. Some early arisers having discovered that the rear of the Smith building was on fire. The lower story of this building was occupied by J. T. Carter's new store, while the second story is large hall used for lodge purposes by th Masons, Odd Fellows and Knights Pythias. The bucket brigade soon responded to the alarm and it was not long till what threatened to be a very ugly conflagration was extinguished. Small damage resulted to the building, probably $100. Some of the furniture belonging to the lodges was destroyed. It is believed that the fire was of a incendiary origin, as it was very evident that the kerosene had been used to give it a start. The three lodges that occupy the second story have offered a joint reward of $175 for the apprehension and conviction of the incendiary. This reward will probably be increased $50 by the town and private citizens.

Charlie Cox is somewhat under the weather.

M. S. Walton received fifteen nice cattle from Louisville, one day last week.

Mrs. J. J. Berkshire, of near Burlington, a noted fruit authority, was here last Friday and Friday night.



HATAWAY—Uncle Cage Stephens is very ill.

Sam Smith and Frank Rue made a trip to the city last Wednesday.

UNION—Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Wilson are visiting her mother, Mrs. Hedges.

Your Right To Vote

February 15, 1937

Mr. C. D. Benson
County Court Clerk
Burlington, Kentucky.

Dear M. Benson:

Your letter of the 12th to Attorney General B. M. Vincent, in which you ask the right of a voter to change his party affiliation since the last general election and participate in the coming August Primary, has been referred to me for answer.

While Section 1486bb (sub-section 4) provides for the change of affiliation by appearing before the County Court Clerk between the dates of the 15th day of November and the 10th day of July succeeding, I do not believe that this party change of affiliation would permit the person changing it to participate in a primary of the opposite party. I believe that the opinion of the Court of Appeals, through Judge Thomas, in the Case of Glenn v. Gnau, 251 Ky. 3, 64 S. W. (2d) 168, is authority for the above opinion.

The Model Registration Law of 1930 in cities of the first class has practically the same provision as the General Registration law permitting a registrant to change his party affiliation before the Board of Registration and so requesting. However, Judge Thomas held that this provision must be construed in connection with Section 1550-19 governing participation in primaries and expressly and specifically held that a person could not change his party affiliation since the last general election and thereby participate in a primary of the opposite party. In this opinion, the Court said:

> "On the contrary, we hold that, where a voter in a precinct within a first-class city was registered at the last preceding general election, that registration, as it then stood, is the governing one as to his party affiliations; and fixes his right to participate in the next following primary election."

The Court goes further and says that to hold otherwise—

> "* * * it would open the door to the grossest frauds and most extensive abuses, resulting in making it possible for a sufficient number of the members of one party to participate in the primary election of the opposing party and to dictate its nominees to be voted for at the following general election, and which result it cannot be contemplated the Legislature intended."

The opinion further said that repeals by implication are not favored.

In view of this authority, I am of the opinion as above stated, that a voter cannot change his party affiliation after the last general election so as to participate in a primary succeeding that general election.

In order to reconcile these two sections, it is my opinion that when a person applies for change of registration, the Clerk can mark the change, giving the date and attest it by initial signature; and that the election officers of the primary should not allow this voter who has made since the last general election to participate in this primary of a party other than which he registered and affiliated in the last general election.

I suggest you get the foregoing opinion and read it and I believe it is conclusive in the matter until the courts hold otherwise, which is not very possible.

Yours very truly,
B. M. VINCENT, Attorney General.

LEXINGTON TO LOSE THE STATE HOSPITAL

Governor Chandler Asserts That No Change Will Be Made In Decision

Frankfort, Ky., March 18—Gov. A. B. Chandler said that the determination to abandon the present site of the Eastern State Hospital for the Insane at Lexington is irrevocable.

He declared, however, that this does not exclude from consideration other sites in Fayette county if found to be adequate in size and priced low enough for such use.

The Governor also said, very significantly, that the abandonment of the site for the hospital does not mean the abandonment of the use of the property by the state for other practical and necessary purposes in which it is possible that Lexington may have as great an interest as in the Eastern State Hospital.

COUNTY PLANNING LONG TIME BASIS

Boone County farmers thru representative leaders elected at Community Program of Work Planning meetings have been working for two years on a general long time agricultural program for the county.

This study has resulted in a careful analysis by the farmers with the help of the specialist from the College of Agriculture. The study, however, is not completed and will require continued study and analysis for years to come. The study also does not apply to individual farms but to the agriculture of the county as a whole.

The following points and recommendations, looking at the agricultural productions, were made by the community and county delegates attending the second annual meeting held at Burlington, Feb. 10th.

Tobacco—grow 75 percent of tobacco base acres.

General Crops—Reduce intertilled crop.

Lengthen rotation.

Increase hay and pasture crops.

Improve hay and pasture crops.

Any reduction in intertilled crops will come about largely from reduction in corn or in a limited way in soybeans.

Increase alfalfa.

Cover all intertilled land even though the grain is not to be harvested.

Increase sheep.

Improve dairy and poultry production.

A slight increase was recommended for beef cattle on large farms in the general farming section.

Increase broilers for sale.

Increase horses for use and sale.

Increase livestock only when hay and pasture situation will care for increase.

Maintain acres in truck and vegetable, change up or down as market demands, same as in tobacco.

NEW HAVEN TO GIVE PLAY "DON'T DARKEN MY DOOR"

You can't afford to miss the New Haven senior play this year—a hilarious 3-act comedy by Anne Coulter Marten with the dramatic title, "Don't Darken My Door."

Imagine the laughs in this situation when a girl reads too many romances, what chance has a mere man to win her? Rosemary wanted a lover like the one in "Hearts Aflame" by Jane Perkins and she had no time for Tom. Her admiring maid, Poppy, felt the same way (in fact she read the same romances) and poor Alec, the gardener, was in despair over Poppy's sudden coldness. Then the author of the romantic books appears and sets about repairing the damage her books have done. Under her direction, Tom and Alec are soon spouting romantic speeches and making a hit with the girls. There are strikingly funny scenes as Tom is coached on love-making. Two fluttery spinsters from the neighborhood keep a thrilled eye on the romantic goings-on, and even Rosemary's bachelor uncle begins to notice the good qualities of the author he is entertaining unawares. The finale comes with an elopment in which everybody has a hand, and Alec and Poppy play a serio-comic scene for all it's worth

The play is produced by special arrangement with the Dramatic Publishing Co., with Miss Rebecca Sleet as director.

This play will be given Friday night, April 2nd, at 7:15. Don't miss it.

OLD LEVY TO BE IN EFFECT

ON REAL ESTATE IN KENTUCKY —OPINION HOLDS THAT LEGISLATURE EXCEEDED ITS AUTHORITY IN 1936 ACT.

Frankfort, Ky., March 26—The 1936 legislature exceeded its authority in undertaking to remove all the state tax on real estate, the court of appals held today. The effect of the court's ruling was to reinstate the old tax of five cents per $100 valuation.

The High Splint Coal Company and others attacked the repeal act on the ground it was invalid in that it wrongfully sought to give the state tax commission the right to assess mineral property for local taxation. Appellate court did not rule on the latter question, holding only that the entire act was unconstitutional.

Since the act was invalid, the court pointed out, the 1934 act which it sought to repeal—levying the tax of five cents per $100—is still in force and effect and was not repealed.

The state constitution, the court pointed out, expressly forbids the complete exemption of real estate frm taxation for state purposes.

The court's opinion was written by Judge Gus Thomas, with the whole court membership considering it. It affirmed judgment of Judge William B. Ardery of Franklin circuit court.

The 1936 legislature passed a bill to remove all state tax on real estate, on the ground the cost of collecting the state's pare of the tax exceeded the amount of the tax. The bill was an administration measure and was opposed by anti-administration group on the ground it was invalid. Opponents sought to reduce the tax to one cent per $100 valuation.

Dr. James W. Martin, commissioner of revenue, said the only difficulty occasioned by the court's ruling would be to get the assessments, made last year, on the 1937 tax bills. In view of the act repealing all real estate tax, Dr. Martin pointed out, this had not been provided for. Taxes paid last year were on the 1935 assessments.

BIBLE CONFERENCE AT THE EAST BEND BAPTIST CHURCH

Beginning Monday night, April 5th, at 7:00 p. m. Rev. Raymond Smith, the pastor will speak each night throughout the week on the general subject, "The Tabernacle in the Wilderness." A large chart, 7x15 feet will be used to illustrate and simplify the teachings. On Saturday night of that week the subject will be, "The Dance." In this message the history of dancing will be given, both from the Bible and secular history. The crime, dangers and sinfulness of the dance as a "Mother of Harlots" will be plainly discussed.

HEAR DR. ROBERT A. JACOB

Dr. Robert A. Jacob, a Missionary from China will speak Sunday night, April 4th at the Belleview Baptist Church. Dr. Jacob has been a Missionary for many years in China and will have many interesting things to tell, as well as having great ability to tell it. Everyone is urged to be present.

FISH-GAME MEETING

TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7TH AT THE COURTHOUSE—ACTIVITIES FOR COMING YEAR TO BE DISCUSSED.

There will be a meeting of the Boone County Fish and Game organization at the courthouse, Wednesday night, April 7th, at 7:30 p. m., according to President Chas. W. Riley.

Several officials of the organization are making a trip to Frankfort to discuss several matters of importance with Major Brown, and will have a complete report to bring before the club at this regular meeting. Several projects have been discussed, and will be submitted to Major Brown for his approval, before being brought before the club.

All members and persons interested are requested to be present, and also it would be a good idea to bring your neighbor, as this organization is for his benefit as well as yours.

REVIVAL SERVICES AT FLORENCE M. E. CHURCH

A two-weeks' evangelistic campaign will be conducted in the new Methdist Church at Florence, beginning next Sunday, April 4th. The pastor, Rev. R. R. Rose, will be assisted in the preaching by Dr. J. W. Carter, D. O., of Wilmore, Ky., and one of the general evangelists of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Dr. Carter is considered an able preacher of the Gospel and a cultured Christian gentleman. His messages and presence at Florence are confidently expected to be inspiring and helpful to the congregation and community.

The Reverend Dr. Carter is a successful evangelist of much and varied experience, having conducted revival services in various states of the Union. He has also been an editor and a college professor.

The music will be in charge of the pastor and the local talent of the community. Visiting singers and musicians are expected to be in attendance.

The services will start promptly at 8 o'clock each evening, Eastern Standard Time.

SCOUTS HOLD MEETING

Patrol No. 125 held a meeting at Robert and Edward Stephens' home last Friday night. Nine Scouts were present. Alpha Lee Rogers was elected Patrol Leader.

Business was discussed. We are to have an observation hike Saturday afternoon. The next meeting will be at the scoutmaster's home April 2nd. Scoutmaster Tinkelenburg, closed the meeting with the Scout benediction.

COSMETICS TAX UPHELD

COURT OF APPEALS FINDING REVERSES JUDGMENT OF W. D. ARDERY OF FRANKLIN CIRCUIT COURT.

Frankfort, Ky., March 26—The tax on cosmetics levied by the 1936 general assembly was held valid today by the court of appeals.

The cosmetics tax section of the 1936 "ominbus" tax bill—which has been repealed effective next April 16—was attacked by J. Bacon and Sons, of Louisville, in a suit filed against the state department of revenue. Judge William B. Ardery of Franklin circuit court held the tax invalid.

The rate of the cosmetics tax is 20 percent on the invoice cost plus transportation charges. The tax is levied on receipts of the cosmetics, not on sales. Since it went into effect last July 1 it has yielded $66,326.50.

Judge Ardery ruled the tax invalid on the ground it imposed a tax on interstate commerce.

Appellate court's decision reversing Judge Ardery was written by Judge Virgil H. Baird. The whole court considered it, with Judge William Rogers Clay and James Stites dissenting.

The court concluded that the tax imposed "is not on the articles named in the section, while being transported or while in the control of the taxing power of the federal government, but, on the other hand, attaches after the articles have been received and are at rest in the hands of the retail merchant."

PETERSBURG STUDENT PRINCE WILL PLAY MIDDLETOWN SAT. NIGHT FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The Petersburg Student Prince basketball quintet will meet the Middletown Red Cross Shoes five at the Hebron gym Saturday night at 8:00 (slow time). This game will decide the champions of the Mid-west Conference.

In a recent game played on the home floor of the Red Cross Shoes, Petersburg was defeated by a score of 32-31.

Don't miss this game as it will be the best of the season. Petersburg will be out there fighting for revenge and the championship.

P.-T. A. MEET

The Hamilton P.-T. A. held its regular monthly meeting on March 25. The meeting was called to order by our president, R. E. Kirtley. There were seventeen members present. The association has purchased a wall clock for the school. After a business discussion, the meeting adjourned. Our next and last meeting for the year will be on April 22 at the school building. There will be an election of officers and everyone is urged to attend.

HEBRON PASTOR PASSES AWAY

AT AGE OF FIFTY-NINE YEARS —HAD BEEN ILL ONLY SHORT TIME—SERVICES WERE HELD SATURDAY.

Rev. Charles John Avery, of Hebron, passed away at his home last week, following a short illness.

Rev. Avery was 59 years of age, and had been pastor of the Sand Run Baptist church for the past eight years. He was well known in all sections of the county and the church, congregation and county will miss him greatly.

Rev. Avery was ordained in the ministry more than twenty years ago.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Eleanor Avery; one son; two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Perryman, Covington, and Mrs. Earl Washmuth, Hebron.

Services were held for Rev. Avery Saturday at 1:30 p. m. in the same church in which he served for the past eight years. Rev. W. A. M. Wood, Newport officiating.

Bullock and Catherman, Ludlow funeral directors, had charge of arrangements.

BURLINGTON GIRL HONORED AT GEORGETOWN COLLEGE

Mary Christine Stevens, of near Burlington was chosen as National Representative of the Delta Omicron Music sorority on Georgetown College campus at their last meeting.

She has been an active member for two years and truly earns the honor of being the National representative at the National Convention held in Cincinnati in June.

She has also been prominent in other campus activities. Miss Stevens will receive her degree in music next June.

BET COSTS HUMPHREYS FINE OF $100 AND COSTS

Mayfield, Ky., March25—A bad bet cost State Highway Commissioner Robert Humphreys of Mayfield a fine of $100 and costs.

He was assessed the fine in Graves circuit court when he appeared and failed to plead on a charge of betting on an election.

The commonwealth alleged Humphreys wagered $101 with Curtis Kirkwood, Mayfield laundry owner, that J. C. W. Beckham would defeat Senator M. M. Logan in the senatorial primary last August. Logan—and Kirkwood—won.

The fine was stayed for an unstated period.

The highway commissioner was indicted last fall under an old Kentucky statute.

RESULT OF SPEAKING TOURNAMEINT HELD AT THURSDAY, MARCH 25

The schools entered in the various speaking activities at Ludlow March 25 are listed as follows: Burlington, Bellevue, Campbell County High, Dayton, Highland, Crittenden, Dry Ridge Mason, Williamstown, Beechwood, Lloyd, Ludlow, Piner, Falmouth, Morgan.

The students from the Burlington school were the only entrants from Boone County. Every student representing our school ranked average or above, the highest rank received by any of our students being excellent.

Below is the ranking of the various entrants:

Oratory—Harry Cook, third.

Poetry Reading—Harold Garrison, seventh.

K. E. A. discussion—Keith Vice, tenth.

L. of W. V. Discussion—Pauline Norris, fourth.

Oral Interpretation — Hester Fields, seventh.

Extemporaneous Speaking—Harry Cook, third.

Jr. H. S. Discussion—Geraldine Yelton, sixth.

It is hoped that with this fine showing that more students will join in our speaking activities to make evn a better record for the future.

It is an honor to be a winner in any of these events, for it carries with it a trip to either Lexington or Louisville, depending upon the cones. Valuable awards, some of which amount to quite a sum of cash are given to State winners.

LIME PULVER BEGINS WORK

MONDAY IN BOONE COUNTY—LARGE NUMBER OF FARMERS HAVE LISTED STONE TO BE CRUSHED.

R. W. Auton, lime pulverizer operator, began crushing agricultural limestone Monday morning on the farm of Emmitt Elliott of near Idlewild where he will pulverize approximately 200 tons of lime. Mr. Auton has been crushing stone the past two years in the Boone County Soil Improvement Association program and his services have been highly satisfactory.

A large number of Boone County farmers have listed stone to be crushed at the County Agent's Office at Burlington. Use of agricultural limestone has not only proven a profitable farm practice but one of th best ways to earn payments on the ACP Soil Building Allowance. Limestone will be pulverized this spring for 70 cents per tons with all labor furnished and 80 cents per ton this fall. A payment of $1.50 per ton is made to farmers under the ACP Program.

Farmers are urged to act immediately in getting their stone listed at the County Office for pulverizing, as limestone should be ready for use when opportunity comes from spreading. Approximately 60 tons will be crushed per day and once a community has been served by the pulver it is often some time before the operator will return to that community as a minimum of back tracking is necessary in order to secure the cheapest possible rate of crushing.

CARLOAD OF PHOSPHATE

ORDERED FOR BOONE COUNTY FARMERS UNDER AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM.

The first carload of thirty-one tons of triple superphosphate has been ordered by Boone County farmers, according to David Colville, Assistant County Agent. This car was ordered by the Boone County Soil Conservation Association and will probably arrive in about ten days. All farmers who have ordered phopshate will be notified when it arrives.

A local dealer has agreed to handle this phosphate at the rate of 50 cents per ton at the car. If the phosphate has to be stored to prevent demurrage charges, the cost to farmers will be $1.50. It will be to the advantage of all concerned if the cooperator who are to receive this phosphate will arrange to get it within two days after the car is delivered.

The purpose for this phosphate is for it to be applied on soil conserving crops; that is on grasses and annual or prennial legumes. Any farmer who wants to apply for this phosphate can do so by calling at the County Office and filling out an application.

UTOPIA CLUB MEETING

The Boone County Utopians were very fortunate in having Miss Iris Davenport, Clothing Specialist of the Experiment Station at Lexington, meet with them at their regular monthly meeting held March 22, at the courthouse. Mary Rector, of the Burlington Group, was in charge of the discussion on Clothing and Room Improvement.

There were thirty-five members and six visitors present. Burlington group had charge of the recreational program.

Farm Accounts will be discussed at the April meeting, led by Grant Maddox. We will be entertained by the Florence Group.

We hope that each member will bring someone with them to the April meeting.

FULL PARDON GRANTED BY ACTING GOVERNOR

Frankfort, Ky., March 25—The first full and free pardon granted since the present State Administration took office in December, 1935, was given Tuesday by Acting Governor Keen Johnson to Mose Littrell, who was accused of having interrupted one of King Swop's speeches in Clinton County during the last gubernatorial campaign.

Littrell was fined $300 in Clinton Circuit Court but the Court of Appeals granted him a new trial. He was not tried the second time.

The charge, the pardon order related grew out of a celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of Clinton County. Swope Republican nominee for Governor, one of the speakers on the program sponsored by the Disabled American Veterans, at Albany, purportedly entered into a political address contrary to an agreement that politics was not to enter into the celebration. Littrell, who was in charge of the program, moved a microphone from in front of the speaker.

EASTER SEASON SERVICES WERE OUTSTANDING

Easter season at the Constance Church of the Brethern was one of their outstanding events in the nearly forty years of the church's service here. Friday evening services were well attended and followed Saturday and Sunday by great interest and attendance.

Rev. Orion Erbaugh, pastor, had charge of the program. Special music was rendered by Madge Dolwick, Hazel Reeves and Grace Peeno and Cora Reeves. Miss Phoebe Price and Mrs. O. Erbaugh decorated the church with lilies and candle lighting effects. "Red" Lane presented the services with a beautiful cross.

The Sunrise Easter service by B. Y. P. D. and under Helen Reeves Lundy's direction was an effective part of the program.

MRS. JOHN STEPHENSON IMPROVING AFTER RECENT ILLNESS

We are glad to report that Mrs. John Stephenson, Burlington-Florence pike, is much improved after a short illness since Sunday night.

She was stricken Sunday as the family were gathered after the evening meal. Dr. Huston was called immediately, and it was first believed that she was suffering from a stroke of paralysis, but the doctor is convinced that it was not a stroke, but only a blood clot in the back of the head, having the same effect as a stroke.

At this writing Mrs. Stephenson is much improved, and will be able to be up again soon.

COMMITTEES ADJUST BASES

AT MEETING HELD IN BURLINGTON LAST WEEK—SOIL CONSERVING CROP BASE IS NEW FEATURE.

Community and County ACP Committees met at Burlington the past week to adjust the 1937 tobacco, general soil depleting crops and soil conserving crop base, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The soil conserving crop base is a new feature of the program which rates the allowance of $1.00 per acre for each acre in the base cut causes a deduction of $3.00 per acre in payments if the base is not reached. Crops qualifying in the soil conserving base are grass or legume crops on crop land (crop land means any land from which one or more crops of hay, corn, tobacco or any other crops have been harvested) which has been harvested since January 1, 1930, or the past seven years.

Both the county and community committees have worked ligently in the task to adjust bases fair and equitably between individual farms. The committeemen, however, are human and to equalize three separate bases between 1534 individual farms in the county is almost a human impossibility. However, those who have had a chance to observe the committee the past week will certify that there has been a group of committee men as a whole who have given their time and ability in a more honest, faithful and sincere manner than the ones who have just completed their work.

U. S. COURT PONDERS KENTUCKY ESTATE TAX

Philadelphia, March 25—The Federal District Court Tuesday considered a request to restrain Kentucky and Pennsylvania from taxing the $2,000,000 estate of Mrs. Ella Magee until her legal residence is established.

The Bloomsburg, Penn., woman died at the home of the Rev. Henry W. Bromley, Cynthiana, Ky., leaving half her holdings to him to establish "the Christian Education Association." Her son, Harry L. Magee, is contesting the will.

CONSTANCE GIRL WINNER OF BEE

WANDA MAE FISHER TO REPRESENT BOONE COUNTY AT STATE SPELLING BEE TO BE HELD IN LOUISVILLE.

Wanda May Fisher, age 12, Constance won the County Spelling Bee held at the courthouse Friday of last week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fisher, of Constance.

Those competing in the local Bee were as follows:

Burlington—James Gayle Smith.
Hebron—Lorean LaWorre.
Hamilton—Ruth Janes Jones.
Florence—Mae Campbell.
Petersburg—Frances Deck.
Verona—Wanda Lee Napier.
Walton—Doris Glenn.
Constance—Wanda Mae Fisher.

The winner, Miss Fisher, will reieive a free trip to the Courier-Journal State Bee which will be held in Louisville, Thursday morning, April 15. All contestants in the county were awarded a Spelling Certificate.

D. H. Norris was the pronouncer and R. V. Lents and Miss Scott were judges.

Miss Fisher has won the County and State General Scholarship award twice in succession, being the only pupil to win this award two years in the State Tournament held at Lexington. Miss Fisher is also an accomplished musician.

Boone County has won this same award six out of seven times, Constance winning five consecutive times and Burlington once, with Melicent Ann Berkshire as the winner.

1936 BURLEY BRINGS STATE $59,49,363

Yield From Short Crop Nearly Double That of 1935

For a smaller crop of burley tobacco than they grew in 1935, Kentucky farmers received almost twice as much money for their 1936 output, records of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture reveal.

Burley receipts during December of 1936 and January and February of 1937 totaled $59,449,363.80, data compiled by Tom Middleton of the Department of Agriculture showed. Burley sales ended with the March auctions.

From December 1, 1935 to April 1, 1936, when the 1935 crop was auctioned, receipts to growers totaled $42,225,688.83.

The average paid per 100 pounds for the 1935 crop was $18.66, while the 1936 crop brought an average of $31.77.

During the selling season for the 1935 crop, 172,675,668 pounds of burley were disposed of in Kentucky. This included, Middleton said, approximately 10,000,000 lbs. of resales.

This figure, Middleton pointed out, does not take into consideration that many pounds of tobacco sold on one market probably were hauled to other markets.

P.-T. A. MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Burlington P.-T. A. Wednesday afternoon, April 7th immediately after school, at the school auditorium. All members are requested to attend.

WALTON LAKE TO BE OPEN

FOR FISHING DURING THE MONTH OF MAY—WILL OFFICIALLY OPEN APRIL 1ST—SEASON TICKETS ON SALE.

The management of the Walton Reservoir, Walton, Ky., have recently announced that the lake will be opened April 1st for fishing, and will remain open all during the month of May, due to the fact that it has become overstocked with fish. Rather than try to remove the surplus by nets or other means, the management has decided to open the lake during the month of May, when all other streams are closed, and fishing is prohibited.

Season tickets are now on sale for $5.00 for the entire season, or you may secure daily passes for $1.00 per day, 50c in the afternoon.

Last year the Walton reservoir was among the best places to fish in Boone County and quite a large membership was maintained. This year, with several other attractions, the membership is expected to go far above last year's record.

Editorial of the Week

WE'RE STILL WAITING

Several weeks ago we were informed by the manager of the Boone County Well Drilling Company that Burlington was in line to have natural gas piped in front of our homes. At that time we were assured that a meeting would be called within the next thirty days, but at this time—approximately two months later, we have heard nothing about a meeting.

We have always been of a patient disposition, but it seems that we have waited long enough, and it begins to look that as though we will be waiting for sometime to come. Our town is very much interested in having natural gas, and it probably would be a means of our town growing to larger proportions.

According to reports, it would take a very small sum to place pipe lines in Burlington, and this would help those who own wells considerably, as gas used by Burlington residents would bring them an income each month.

We are still waiting, but are hoping that our wait will not be of long duration.

ASHES TO ASHES

Many otherwise sane citizens become thoughtless fools when they get behind the wheel of an automobile. This paradox cost 38,500 lives in auto accidents last year. In the same period 10,300,000 were injured, of which number 400,000 were more or less permanently disabled.

Such a staggering slaughter of human life could not be much worse if the country were in a state of constant revolution. How can it be curbed? According to the Portland Oregonian there is no answer to the problem "except in more ruthless law enforcement, and that cannot be achieved this side of public indignation." Thirty-eight thousand five hundred lives sacrificed on the altar of recklessness would seem to be sufficient cause for public indignation.

Safe driving campaigns, designed to appeal to the common sense of the individual, have apparently been of little benefit. Speeding, drunken driving, gross negligence in approaching crossings, and weaving in and out of traffic, are increasing every day. The only ones who have been thoroughly cured are the victims, and bitter experience cured them. Lying mangled in hospitals, perhaps clinging to this earth by a mere thread, they have come to realize how precious life is. But the dead will never have another chance. In that split second before oblivion they too realized—but too late!

The next time you hit a cross street at sixty miles an hour STOP AND THINK of what might happen if you had not been alone in your foolishness. Picture yourself being lowered to your final resting place with the clods dropping in on your coffin and the minister chanting "ashes to ashes, dust to dust." If you are blessed with the life loving instincts of the average individual you will approach the next cross street with due caution and trembling knees.

FINANCIAL HEART IS HUMAN

"The CCC camps have done a good piece of work, and I would favor making this organization a permanent part of the government's social service program." Thus spoke Cameron Beck, director of the New York Stock Exchange Institute. He further pointed out that more than 300,000 boys in America have alreay become vagabonds, with the likelihood of their number growing larger unless something is done very quickly to take care of them.

These words, coming from a representative of the country's financial center, may be surprising to people who have been led to believe that Wall Street is an evil ogre living on the earnings of the aged and helpless. The New York Stock Exchange, which is the largest "public market" for securities in the nation, has worked hand in hand with the Federal Government to create and enforce laws for the protection of the investor. It opposes disastrous speculation, and is the "financial heart" of sound American industry. Modern marvels such as the electric light, radio, telephone, motion pictures, automobile, etc., could not have been developed to their present state of perfection and nationwide use if it had not been possible to raise capital through the widespread sale of securities. And the necessary securities could not have been sold except by making them easily available to the public thru central market places.

Yes, indeed the "financial heart" of America, the clearing house for all the "Main Streets" of the nation, furnishes and invaluable public service and the comment of Mr. Beck regarding the CCC boys indicates the public spirited attitude of th egreat majority of our financial and industrial leaders.

RACING EVENT CREATES INTEREST

Detroit, Mich—For the fourth consecutive year, Chevrolet will again co-operate with the leading newspapers of the country in sponsoring the All-American Soap Box Derby, which is recognized by sports writers and enthusiasts as "the greatest amateur racing event in the world."

The Derby started in Dayton, O., four years ago, has grown in popularity and appeal so that today it stands alone as the greatest sporting event for boys. Thousands already are making plans for building their own racers for this year's event.

Last year there were more than 150,000 boys competing in various cities throughout the United States. Champions from 116 cities took part in the national finals at Akron, O.

The national and international finals this year will be held at Akron on August 15, according to an announcement made this week by C. P. Fisken, advertising manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Sales Corporation. City Champions from 120 cities will compete.

Entries from Canada, South Africa, Mexico, and Hawaii are also expected to compete in the international finals. Plans already are under way for enlarging the facilities of the concrete track at Derby Downs, just outside the Akron airport.

The National Champion will be awarded a four-year college scholarship, and City Champions in each instance will win the M. E. Coyle Trophy. Many other valuable prizes will be given to place winners both in the city races and in the All-American race and the International race.

KENTUCKY 4-H CLUB NEWS

Marvin Allen of Wolfe county is the new state champion corn grower. He produced 123½ bushels on an acre last year, and received $129.75 for the crop. Edwin Munday, Carter county, produced 98 bushels and John M. Phelps, Butler county, 96 bushels on an acre.

A Metcalfe county boy who grew one acre of tobacco and received nearly $500 for it will get a free trip to Junior Week. Total poundage for nine crops sold at the district show and sale was 4,000, and nearly $2,300 were received by owners.

Mrs. Frances Rauley of Evansville, Ind., received a divorce from her husband when she testified that he hadn't taken a bath in four months.

"He wouldn't play golf with me, although I'm pretty good at the game," asserted Mrs. Max Fisher of Madison, Wis., when she filed suit for divorce.

Lesson for April 4

GOD THE CREATOR

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 1:1-5, 26-31.
GOLDEN TEXT—In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. Gen. 1:1.
PRIMARY TOPIC—When God Made the World.
JUNIOR TOPIC—In the Beginning—God.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—God the Maker of All.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—God in Creation.

From the completion of the great Gospel of John, which took us back to that time "in the beginning" when the Living Word "was" and "was with God and was God," we turn to the first book of the Bible, which is, as indicated by its title, a book of "beginnings." We find in it not only the record of the creation of the heavens and earth, but of man, and the beginnings of his history, the entrance of sin into the world, the beginning of God's revelation of redemption. It is indeed a most important book, fundamental to an understanding of the rest of the Bible.

Genesis has been the special object of attack on the part of critics, and especially by those who saw in its account of the creation statements which apparently did not square with the announced findings of science. Fortunately, as men make advances in scientific discovery, as well as in the understanding of God's Word, they are beginning to realize that there is no real conflict between the established facts of science and a proper interpretation of Scripture. When there is an apparent clash it will be found that either the Bible has been misinterpreted by men or they have mistaken a hypothesis of science for a fact.

We are in error when we talk about the Bible's being confirmed by archaeology or by science. If the United States naval observatory should find that its master clock does not agree with the observation of the stars, it would not assume that the universe had gotten out of order. It would know that the clock is wrong, and would make correction. Science does not confirm the Bible; the Bible confirms true science.

The account of creation may be considered in two great divisions.

I. The Creation of Heaven and Earth (1:1-5).

"In the beginning God"—what awe-inspiring words! How fully and satisfactorily they state the origin of all things.

Men ask us to believe their theories, but there is no cosmogony offered which does not call for a measure of credulity. Man cannot explain the origin of matter, the origin of life, the origin of rational life. These three great gaps and many smaller ones his theories cannot bridge. Man asks us to take his word for them. But we prefer to take God's Word.

Study the entire account of creation. Space here forbids more than the briefest reference to its perfect order and symmetry, its completeness, the self-evident fact that it is a true account of the working of God. It is so received by thoughtful men and women of our day. Even scoffers have long since ceased to speak foolish words about "the mistakes of Moses."

II. The Creation of Man (vv. 16-23).

"Let us" is an indication that the Holy Trinity was active in creation. God the Father is mentioned (v. 1), the Holy Spirit (v. 2), and without the Son was nothing made (John 1:3).

Man was created in "the likeness and image of God." This undoubtedly refers to a moral and spiritual likeness. Man is a moral being, possessed of all the characteristics of true personality. He is a living spirit, with intelligence, feeling, willpower. This image, no matter how it may have been defaced by sin, is that in man which makes it possible for us to seek him in his sin and beseech him "to be reconciled to God." "Down in the human heart, crushed by the tempter, feelings lie buried that grace can restore."

Notice that God gave man "a helpmeet unto him," that he established the family as the center of life on this earth. He gave man dominion over the entire creation, and his restless pioneering spirit still carries him on to the complete realization of that promise. He provided not only for man's spiritual and social needs, but also for his every physical need. Surely we may say with Moses that "everything that he (God) had made . . . was very good" (v. 31).

A Man of Sorrow

One reason why Jesus was a man of sorrow was that He saw as none other the pain and sin and woe of the world.

A Hard Road

The hard road of sin is always so crowded that it gives little room for turning around and going back.

Determination

He only is a well-made man who has a good determination.—Emerson.

During her marriage ceremony, Judge Hansom of McCook, Ia., asked Ethel Hayden if she would promise to support her husband, and before he could correct his error the bride had consented.

Castle of Crusader Is Old Belgian Landmark

Year in and year out Bouillon, Belgium entertains visitors to see the ancestral castle of Godfrey of Bouillon, one of the most famous of the Crusaders and owner of a miraculous sword, which was supposed to fly out of its scabbard automatically and slay infidels on sight.

The castle, which dominates the village, was old even when Godfrey went there over 800 years ago to be duke of the section, with Bouillon as the capital. He did not remain long however, for in 1096 he joined the first Crusade to recover the Holy Sepulchre, fighting with valor at the storming of Jerusalem in 1099.

The same year Godfrey was elected king of Jerusalem, but he refused that title and took instead the one of Defender of the Holy Sepulchre. Then, presumably with the help of his miraculous sword, which was later enshrined, he completed the conquest of the Holy Land by defeating the Sultan of Egypt, but never lived to return to Belgium for he died a year later.

Bouillon has other historic associations apart from those with Godfrey de Bouillon. Napoleon III stayed in the Hotel de la Poste there after he was defeated at Sedan, and Voltaire, Lafayette, the Empress Josephine, Victor Hugo and many others have visited the town.

Sponges Reproduce Like Certain Kinds of Fish

Sponges reproduce in a manner somewhat comparable with certain fish. Sponges have no lungs. The sponges we are familiar with are merely the skeletons of their living counterparts after the flesh is removed. They can breed and live only in warm water, the sponge capital of this country being Tarpon Springs, Florida.

The largest sponge ever known, according to a writer in the Los Angeles Times, measured about eight feet in diameter, but the largest commerical sponge is of the order of three feet in diameter. One of the latter, it is estimated, will soak up almost a ton of water, or well over 200 gallons.

A sponge authority says the most interesting thing about the animal is its prodigious ability to make currents in the water it inhabits. In life the space and orifices seen in the bath sponge are filled with cells separated by tiny canals. The canals are lined with minute whip-like cells which keep the food-bearing water flowing in and out of the animal in a strong current.

Red Flag

Since 1791 the Red Flag has symbolized revolution. By a decree of the National Assembly then sitting in Paris, the waving of a red flag was to be the final warning to a disorderly mob before the National Guard opened fire. It was flourished that year on the Champ de Mars; the mob did not disperse; several were killed; and the Red Flag became their symbol. It was first hoisted in England by the mutinous sailors at the Nore in 1797. Russia was the first country to adopt it as the national flag though the idea was suggested in the Second French Republic in 1848. Lamartine, the poet and Liberal leader, rejected the proposal, saying: "The Tricolor has been carried in triumph round the world. The Red Flag has only been carried in shame round the Champs de Mars."

His New Name

Every revolution throws up some curious quirks in human nature. In the French revolution they abolished nobility, prohibited religion and made a new calendar for themselves, and the story of M. de Saint-Janvier shows how all three worked out in practice. They abolished the "de" in his name because it smacked of nobility; the "Saint," because it reminded of religion; and the "Janvier" (January) because they had changed the calendar; so his name went down on the records as: "Citizen Nivoso, formerly De Saint-Janvier."

Chows Good Sledge Dogs

Natives of Northern China, born and reared to draw sledges over frozen wastes, the chow's steadfast, purposeful eye is indicative of their inbred ability to keep their gaze on the trail and their minds on the destination ahead. They have an amazing instinct to find their way through a country that is entirely new to them; and if they become separated from their masters in a crowd, they do not become confused as many dogs do, running this way and that, but very calmly and confidently thread their way through the throng until they find the man for whom they are looking.

Anthrax

Anthrax is an acute contagious disease of cattle and other animals. It may even affect man. In live stock it takes the form of acute blood poisoning. Men who handle green hides often get anthrax in the form of a skin disease that leads to a type of boils.

Difficult to stamp out, the germs that cause anthrax may lie dormant for years in the soil. The disease is highly contagious.

Cards have been issued by Justice of the Peace Franklin Mittau of Stamford, Conn., each of which entitles "one couple to have their marriage ceremony performed in 1937 and pay for it in 1938."

Emergency Needs Are Filled By Red Cross

Already 1,500 Families Have Returned to Homes Through Red Cross Aid

Red Cross rehabilitation forces marked striking advances in Kentucky last week, completing the registration of practically all anticipated applicants for asssistance to a number in excess of 73,000 families in this, the largest hit State in the flooded territory.

Although the rehabilitation machine only got into high gear a week ago, due to the large volume of emergency needs which had to be met first and to the fact that in some sections of the State many families have not, even yet, been able to return to their homes, Red Cross workers have already given rehabilitation assistance to more than 1500 families in the State and closed those cases.

This help includes the replacement of home furnishings damaged by the flood, repair and rebuilding of homes of owners who have not the resources to repair their homes.

Practically all of the 73,000 families registered for rehabilitation assistance have already received some form of emergency help from the Red Cross—Food, temporary shelter, medical or nursery care, clothing or blankets.

"This is only a beginning of Red Cross rehabilitation work in Kentucky,' 'declared Richard F. Allen, director of the organization's relief activities in Kentucky in a statement from the State office in Louisville. "In the past few weeks, as the emergency phase of the disaster lessened and more families wer able to leave refugee centers and get back to their homes the Red Cross has been working at top sped to set up the necessary personnel in all counties to administer the rehabilitation job and to secure the registration of all families throughout the State who will need such assistance.

NEW FORD GIVEN SEVERE TEST

Two 1937 Ford V-8 Tudor sedans, one equipped with the new 60-horsepower engine and the other with the 85-horsepower engine, recently were driven from Detroit to Portland, Oregon, in snow and zero temperatures over all kinds of roads. Performance records were kept for the total distance of 4,044 miles. The results were so outstanding that the car owners were prompted to make the records public.

Harvey Commons, Oregon garage owner, said he made the distance in his "60" Ford sedan averaging 24.3 miles on a gallon of gasoline. F. G. Gansle, Oregon farmer, who accompanied Commons all the way ,said his "85" averaged 19.8 miles to the gallon. Both cars were driven the same distance each day at an average speed of 40 to 45 miles per hour.

A daily accounting was kept by the drivers, who said they had officials of the Detroit Automobile Club and the Oregon State Motor Association check the figures. Standard gasoline was used thruout the trip. Amounts were checked by using credit cards for all purchases. The complete log of the trip was presented to the Portland branch of the Ford Motor Company.

At the end of the trip Commons said: "In spite of the icy condition of the highways, which in many cases were so bad that heavy cars and trucks could not make the steep grades, we were able to go through the entire trip without one mishap."

"SPRING"

The sun's and old magician,
Who does the blithest tricks;
He even conjures blossoms out
Upon the blackest sticks.

And he can touch a stricken tree,
Untenanted and bare,
And make a furnished house of green,
With robbins singing there.

And he can lay upon the land—
With gleaming leaves that pass
Over the barren fields or earth—
The vivid spell of grass.

Or with a twinkle of his eye,
A golden finger's thrust,
He lifts the crocuses from clay,
The daffodills from dust.

$31,000 IS DONATED EXPERIMENT STATION

Sum Will Be Used To Further Investigation of Horse Diseases

Donation of $31,000 to further studies and investigations of horse diseases at the University Agricultural Experiment Station was announced by Dean Thomas P. Cooper, of the College of Agriculture. Five thousand dollars was given by the American Thoroughbred Breeders' association and $26,000 by individual breeders.

The fund will be used to expand research work now under way at the Experiment Station, especially investigations of such diseases as periodic ophthalmia, a serious eye disease; the paralysis disease that kills many young foals, and also to further confirm preliminary results in the investigation of abortion in mares, according to Dr. W. W. Dimock, head of the department of animal pathology.

Dean Cooper said that the fund would permit the employment of additional research workers and the enlargement of laboratories. The work will be done in cooperation with breeders in this and other states, and also with foreign horse men, since the British Bloodstock Agency calls Doctor Dimock to Europe every year to consult with veterinarians and breeders.

The work of Doctor Dimock, Dr. P. R. Edwards and other research ment at the Experiment Station already has attracted wide attention, Dean Cooper pointed out. Investigations have been made of many problems of horse breeding, and notable results obtained concerning sterility, abortion and navel disease of foals.

There will be an operetta given by the students of the Burlington graded school, Friday night, April 9th. Over 100 students will participate in costume, accompained by the Rhythm Band.

MR. AND MRS. SPRAGUE AT HOME TO FRIENDS ON THEIR ANNIVERSARY

Some fifty friends of Lockmaster Harley W. Sprague and Mrs. Sprague assembled at their home at U. S. Dam 33, Saturday evening, to share the pleasure of their silver wedding anniversary. Among those present for the happy occasion was Mrs. Sprague's brother, Mrs. Hafer Sprague and Mrs. Sprague, of Dayton, O., and his sister, Mrs. James Dye, of Constance, Ky.

The home was festive with early springtime bloom which was excelled in loveliness only by the huge "wedding" cake, slices of which were served with ice cream and coffee. Rectangular in shape and decorated with silver shot, it was iced in white to improvise a sheat of flowers over which was inscribed "25 years."

Throughout the evening, delicious fruit punch was served, with Mrs. Ray Boone and Mrs. Herbert Kirtley assisting with the amenities.

An ingratiating feature of the evening was the presentation of many lovely gifts of silver to the bride and groom of 1912.

Mr. and Mrs. Sprague (Jane McArthur), were married in Cincinnati by the Reverend Mr. Parrish, Methodist minister. They came to Maysville September 1, 1934, Mr. Sprague having been transferred from Dam 38 to succeed Mr. Perry E. Bennett upon his retirement as lockmaster. Mr. and Mrs. Sprague have two attractive daughters, Misses Lenora and Dorothy.

Mr. and Mrs. Sprague were former residents of Boone County, having been stationed at McVille for several years. They have many friends here who wish them many more happy wedding anniversaries.

ARMY OPENINGS

At present there are a few vacancies in the Army in this Recruiting District for which young men can enlist, who are able to pass the required mental and physical examinations.

Sub-station, Federal Building, Dayton, Ohio.

Sub-station, Federal Building, in Lexington, Ky.

Sub-station, City Building, Charleston, W. Va.

Sub-station, U. S. Army Post, Ft. Thomas, Ky.

Men desiring to enlist should either apply in person or vommunicate with the Sergeant in charge of the station closest to their home.

SOW PRODUCES 33 PIGS IN 18 MONTHS

A sow that produced three litters of 33 pigs in a year and a half gives Charles Lahue, a Grayson county farmer, the right to think that he may own the state's best producer, says County Agent R. T. Faulkner. The last litter, consisting of 12 pigs brought $283, and another litter of 10 pigs sold for $210. One sow, 33 pigs, $804 in 18 months. And now the sow is about to farrow again.

MORE TREES FOR KENTUCKY

The Soil Conservation Service, through its three watershed projects and 14 CCC camps in the state, plans to plant approimately 6,270,000 trees and shrubs in Kentucky this year. During the 1936 fall season the organization planted 619,000 trees, mostly of the the hardwood varieties. In addition to prtecting land against erosion, it is expected that the trees will provide fence posts, fuel and other timber.

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

Land in Morgan county may be productive now, but how will it be 7 years from now? With this question in mind, a group of farmers formed a planning committee, and recommended: more trees; rolling land to uplands cropped only once in every 7 years; most of the bottom land tile drained and plowed once in 4 years.

Believing that they could aid in progress for the whole county, several Oldham county farmers saved 400 heads of No. 5 and No. 16 varieties tobacco seed for free distribution. This seed was screened, and recleaned at the Kentucky Experiment Station.

After three poultry flocks totaling 470 birds were culled down to 368, their Campbell county owners are ready to furnish eggs to an accredited hatchery. Recently several demonstration were held on selecting breeding flocks.

A net profit of $75 in one month is the record of Joe Jackson of Harlan county, who cleared that on a flock of 269 pullets which averaged 180 eggs daily during February.

R. C. Hedges, of Grant county, recently bought two registered Poland-China gilts and one registered boar from a Bracken county farmer. He is planning to start a large herd, using these animals as a foundation.

Three ridge-ventilated Kentucky type tobacco barns are under construction in Lincoln county.

Two portable limestone crushers are in operation in Larue county.

County Agent A. J. Thaxton notes that the 35,147 tons of limetone used by Hardin county farmers last year would make a train of cars five miles long. The soil improvement association of the county has purchased a large pulverizer which is being operated in key quarries to pile up limestone for use in connection with the agricultural conservation program this year.

25 ARE INJURED IN WINCHESTER STORM

Tornado Leaves Over Hundred Homeless As Dwellings Blow From Foundations

Winchester, Ky., March 25—At least twenty-five persons were injured, two probably fatally, in a tornado that wrecked a dozen homes in a small community a mile southeast of Winchester shortly before 6 p. m. Wednesday.

From 100 to 150 persons were homeless as a result of the destruction of the dwelling, most of them small wooden structures.

Among the injured were Mr. and Mrs. James Hall, former residents of Bourbon County. Mrs. Hall was seriously injured and due to her advanced age, nearly 90, she is not expected to recover. They are the parents of Mrs. Carl Hughes of the Cane Ridge road, Bourbon County.

One of the most seriously injured was an unidentified boy about 7, whose scalp was torn off and his leg severely cut. He was not expected to live.

Half an hour after the tornado struck, darkness settled and rescuers were hampered in their search for injured.

Residents of the section who escaped injury. said they saw several children blown fifty to seventy-five yards. Homes were lifted up, carried 200 yards and shattered. The debris blocked the Muddy Creek Pike nearby.

Approximately 50 acres increase in strawberry acreage is anticipated in Crittenden county.

THE FARM AND HOME

(Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station)

People complained about the heat of last summer, and yet they insist on keeping their houses at a high temperature throughout the winter. Living in overheated rooms is debilitating, deuces vitality and resistance to infection, and opens the way for colds and pneumonia.

Beekeepers, whether beginners or old-timers, will find a lot of good information in the new beekeeping circular of Prof. W. A. Price, state entomologist. Ask a county or home agent for a copy, or write to the College of Agriculture, Lexington, for circular 288, "Beekeeping in Kentucky."

Many farmers cooperating in the agricultural conservation program are planning to sow alfalfa this spring. A good practice is to broadcast or drill 300 to 400 lbs. of superphosphate, spread two tons of limestone and sow 12 lbs. of alfalfa seed to the acre.

Horses and mules advanced in price last year, and are expected to be higher still this season. Colt production is increasing, but is not equal to the disappearance of old animals. The use of tractors is increasing.

Money is valued only for what it will buy, now or later. Many things on the market are all right in themselves, but for some families they don't add one iota to long-term happiness or satisfaction. A good rule for spending: buy only those things that make for a more effective life.

ACCOUNTS HELP TO STRETCH FINANCES

After all, babies can get away with a lot of things that grown-ups cannot. For instance, a baby can drink his glass of milk and then be completely, adorably amazed because the milk is all gone. He had it; he drank it; now it just isn't there anymore. Suppose the situation is changed, however. A housewife has means by which she may provide for family expenses, savings, etc. Then with surprising quickness the money is gone he had it; she spent it; now it definietly isn't there anymore. The baby can, in a sense, get away with it; the whole family has to pay if the family money is handled unwisely. Since most people have limited means, good money management depends upon deciding what it is most desirable to buy, according to the home economics department of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Many things are attractive, but money would have to be spent for them and they would not make for more effective living. If some things have to be eliminated it is worthwhile to plan in advance what these things will be; otherwise, the money might go rapidly for non-essentials.

Admitting all this, how can one start planning? The best means is to keep accounts. This serves four purposes: It keeps a record of all money received and paid out; it gives a means of comparing the expenditures for various items; it makes it possible to detect waste easily; and it may serve as a basis for better planning, preferably by the year.

A 10-cent blank book, with properly kept accounts, may make possible good food, a radio, schooling, labor-saving kitchen or other household equipment, and other things that make for year-round family happiness.

WOMEN TO IMPROVE THEIR CURB MARKET

Christian county homemakers are planning to improve their curb market in Hopkinsville where some of them sold nearly $50 worth of home products a month last year. Frances W. Fleming, home demonstration agent, says they will grow early vegetables, and put improved grades of butter, cream, dressed poultry, cheese, fruit and other products on the market this year.

Last year one woman specialized in chicken salad. Another made aprons and collars. Another sold chickens, eggs and salt rising bread. Others used the market to dispose of butter, vegetables, fruit and other products from their farms and homes.

One woman used the proceeds of her sales to buy a refrigerator. Another sold enough produce to pay the grocery bill for a family of four, and still another used a part of her income to pay for a vacation.

Powell county farmers have found a market for corn at $1.30 a bushel.

SPENDING YOUR DOLLARS

By Dr. K. B. Haas, Bowling Green Business University, Bowling Green, Ky.

The question is frequently asked, "Does it pay to own a home?" The answer is, "Sometimes."

In practically all areas of the United States particularly in the industrial East, it has not paid to own a home for the past ten years. It does not pay now—but it may pay next year and for several years after. Real estate values run in cycles. They seem to follow a more or less definite trend. They usually rise after a great depression, or a great calamity, such as the World War, when no one builds. There has been little building during the past ten years—more homes have been destroyed than have been constructed. We have come through a great depression. Some experts believe that the year 1937 will see the beginning of a gradual boost in real estate. They say it should last until about 1940 or 1941. This boom period will be followed by first a pause in building, then a fall in prices, and finally about 1942 or 1943 a great general depression, even worse than the one from which we are just emerging.

Contrary to what most of the public believes and all real estate dealers loudly proclaim, I believe that it does not pay to own real estate in the long run, everything else being equal.

Why?

1. Money placed at six per cent, or even a 'measly" four per cent will earn more than if it is invested in real estate.

2. Rapid style changes in building construction are rendering older homes obsolete and valueless.

3. The great mobility of labor which compels people to leave their homes and lose all their investment. We are living in an unsettled age—a crazy age—when no man can long count on security and a living. This period will last 50 or 100 years—perhaps more.

4. The constantly lowering standard and scale of living of our citizens, due to high taxes and the siphoning of money incomes, will not permit the vast majority of citizens to own their own homes.

5. The introduction of "trailer" homes, collapsible houses, and heaven knows what else, has knocked the home-ownership idea into a cocked hat. It is a corpse already, but will not lie down and die.

6. The violet reaction of consumers to jerry-built construction; poor workmanship, poor materials, high finance costs, misrepresentation and lies nave destroyed much of the market.

7. Excessive labor and material costs have placed home ownership beyond the reach of at least 10,000,000 citizens.

I am well aware of the fact that the home-ownership "yen" is powerful. I know of no urge more compelling since it is life itself I know that no mere preachment will influence those who are "hell bent" on home owning. It seems that everyone has to be burnt on this purchase before he awakens to the disabilities inherent in present-day ownership. But think of the heartache and worry, , the money and time they would have if they would think before leaping!

Cheerful guy, aren't I? But then, economics was ever a gloomy subject and its devotees a bunch of gloomy Gusses who try to tell the truth as it is.

USE CARE IN TAKING SOIL TEST SAMPLES

Frequent notices have been given through the newspapers of Kentucky concerning the proper taking of soil samples that farmers send to the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington for test. These notices stated that no samples should be sent without first obtaining directions from a county agent or the Experiment Station for taking the samples. Unless they are properly taken, they may not fairly represent the land and the analyses may be misleading. Notwithstanding these notices, most of the samples received are not taken according to directions or are not accompanied by the necessary information. These directions are given in Extension Circular 272, which may be had from any county agent.

Analyses are not particularly helpful in making recommendations for fertilizing tobacco. It is better to tell how the land has been managed for the past five years including cropping and the use of manure, lime and fertilizers, and give an estimate of its productivity in terms of how much corn it will produce in an average season.

The chief value of soil tests is to show the need of the soil for lime and phosphorus, to be used as a basis for improving the soil thru the proper use of legumes, grasses, and farm Manure. Extension Circular 272 gives a discussion of these practices.

Many county agents have equipment for making lime and phosphorus tests, and their local experience gives added value to their tests.

FOOD SHIPPED TO FLOOD SUFFERERS

Three-fourths of a million pounds of food products were shipped into Kentucky for flood suffers by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation, in cooperation with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration. Included were 252,000 dozens of eggs, 69,600 pounds lbs. of evaporated milk, 183,000 pounds canned beef and 160,000 pounds of rice. These commodities supplemented large amounts of canned beef, prunes and grapefruit previously turned over to the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration. Large amounts of cloth and clothing also were sent into the state. Most of the commodities were removed from over-burdened markets under the surplus-removal programs supervised by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation an dthe Agricultural Adjustment Administration to stabilize markets and increase returns to growers.

John R. Cooper, 97-year-old Casey county farmer, wants County Agent M. H. Sasser to let him be the first signer of the agricultural conservation program this year. He has always been among the first signers, but this year wants to be the first. Mr. Cooper bought another farm a year ago, and is planning to sow legumes and grass and use limestone and phosphate to improve the land. He also is starting an orchard.

James Rice is constructing a new residence for Geo. Porter. The house will be modern, with five rooms and basement. Mr. Rice placed an advertisement in The Recorder some time ago, and states that he has more work than he can possibly turn out this summer.

THREE INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

WALTER ROBINSON AND SON ARE INDICTED ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT AND BATTERY AND CHARLES WEBER INDICTED.

The grand jury returned three indictments Tuesday afternoon, for the April session of circuit court. There has not been anyone in jail here for several weeks, and according to all reports this will be a very short term of court.

Walter Robinson and his son, Frank, were indicted on a charge of assault and battery in the recent Robinson-Hodges case. Carl Weber was charged with cutting with intent to kill in the recent cutting affair at Pointers and Setters Inn, on U. S. Highway 42.

The members of the grand jury were: Leonard Riggs, D. H. Vest, J. J. Aylor, Charles Snelling, Edgar Taylor, Elbert Scott, Robert R. Robbins, B. F. Elmore, Kirtley McWethy, Vernon Scott, V. D. James, and D. H. Vest, foreman.

Members of the petit jury No. 1 were Ernest Hartman, Harry Howlett, T. H. Easton, Volney Dickerson, Lee McNeely, Furnish Pope, Wilbur Rice and Ima M. Tanner.

Petit Jury No. 2: Jonas Stevens, Bruce Allen, Charles Scott and Omer Kite.

MISS ANNA GURNEY

Miss Anna Gurney, passed away Tuesday afternoon at her home, Erlanger Road, Erlanger, after a long illness. The remains were removed to the Tallaferro Funeral Home for preparation.

She is survived by three brothers, Thomas H., Will L. and John M. Gurney and three sister Miss Nell Gurney, Mrs. M. J. Mitchell and Mrs. Clinton Gaines; one aunt Miss Margaret Gurney.

The pallbearers were R. C. Gaines M. J. Mitchell, J. M. Gurney, W. L. Gurney, G. C. Mitchell and J. L. Mitchell.

Services were conducted Friday at 2:30 by the Rev. G. W. Arnold, pastor of the Erlanger M. E. Church at the Tallaferro Funeral Home, interment following in the Highland cemetery.

DEVON FARMER DIES AT WHEEL OF AUTO

T. R. Carter, 73, farmer, of Devon, Dixie Highway, was a victim of a heart attack shortly before noon Tuesday, St. Elizabeth Hospital attaches reported.

Mr. Carter, it was reported, succumbed to the attack while driving his car along the Dixie Highway.

His wife, riding with him, noticed that he appeared ill. She turned the wheel over to the side of the road, brought the car to a stop. Her husband slumped over the steering wheel, dead.

FORMER SHERIFF PASSES AWAY

WAS WELL KNOWN THROUGHOUT BOONE COUNTY—WAS ILL ONLY SHORT TIME—SERVICES HELD WEDNESDAY.

L. T. Utz, 42, former sheriff of Boone County, and popular Boone County figure, died Monday at 4 a. m. at his home on Lloyd avenue, Florence. He succumbed following a brief illness.

Utz was sheriff of Boone County eleven years ago, after serving four years as deputy sheriff. He was a Government employee at time of his death. He was past commander of the Boone Post No. 4, American Legion, and a member of the F. and A. M. Lodge, Union, Ky.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Jane Garber Utz; one son, Thomas Utz; one daughter, Miss Mary Jane Utz; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Utz, Florence, and two sister, Mrs. Lottie McCoelland and Mrs. A. C. Tanner.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at 11 a. m. at the Hopeful Lutheran church in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends. The American Legion Post No. 4 of Boone County had charge of services at the grave.

Phillip Tallaferro funeral director had charge of funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Ethel Wortford, of Carthage, O., returned home Sunday after several days' visit with her brothers, Bernard and Leslie Sebree and families.

SCHOOLS TO CLOSE FOR K. E. A. MEETING

All schools throughout the county will be closed Thursday and Friday this week to permit members of the teaching staffs to attend the Kentucky Education Association annual meeting at Louisville, according to announcement by Supt. D. H. Norris, Burlington.

Almost all the teachers throughout the county have signified their intention of attending the convention, which opens Wednesday afternoon and will continue until Saturday at noon. Delegations of teachers representing all northern Kentucky schools are expecting to attend.

Convention headquarters will be at the Brown Hotel, while the main part of program will be held at the Municipal Auditorium. Educational problems pertaining to the state and talks by noted educational leaders form the main part of the program.

LOCAL STUDENTS ENTER CONTEST

TO BE HELD AT LLOYD HIGH SCHOOL IN ERLANGER, APRIL 23RD —, MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN BY STUDENTS.

Each year the Department of University Extension of the University of Kentucky conducts a series of Achivement Examinations for high school students over the State of Kentucky.

It has been the custom in the past for the Burlington School to participate in these scholarship contests the same as in other contests which are held from time to time. This year there were more students participating in the preliminary contests than have ever entered before. Interest in scholarship contests is worthy of much attention by friends of young people, for there is a growing tendency for boys and girls to give their attention to the more glamorous phases of school life.

The tests for State competition will be given April 23 at the Lloyd Hhigh School in Erlanger. The following students will represent the Burlington school in the subjects listed:

Eng. Mech. 9 & 10—Ruby Cotton.
Eng. Mech. 11 & 12—Margaret Walton.
Amer. His.—Alvin Clore.
World His.—Mildred Siekman.
Civics—Thomas Hensley.
Gen. Science—Florence Cook.
Biology—Pauline Norris.
Alg. I—William Craddock.
Alg. II—Keith Vice.
Pl. Geom.—Luella Cason.
Literature—Betsy Eddins.
Gen. Scholarship—Harry Cook.

The names of other students who tried out for these places are given below. Only students who ranked high in scholarship entered in these events.

Eng. Mech 9 & 10—Pauline Norris, Keith Vice, Florence Cook, Charles Benson, Mildred Siekman, Florence Newman, Carolyn Cropper.

Eng. Mech. 11 & 12—Betsy Eddins, Harry Cook, Olive Poston, Mary Brady, Luella Cason.

Literature — Margaret Walton, Harry Cook.

Algebra I—Charles Benson, Virgil Gulley, Florence Cook, Mildred Siekman, Florence Newman, Ida Pearl Gulley.

Algebra II—Ruby Cotton, Pauline Norris.

Pl. Geom.—Dorothy Souther, Mary Burcham and Mary Brady.

World His—Ruby Cotton, Keith Vice, Florence Cook, Pauline Norris, Florence Newman.

Biology—Keith Vice, Clayton Clore.

Gen. Science—Virgil Gulley and Ida Pearl Gulley. Florence Cook, Carolyn Cropper, Mildred Siekman.

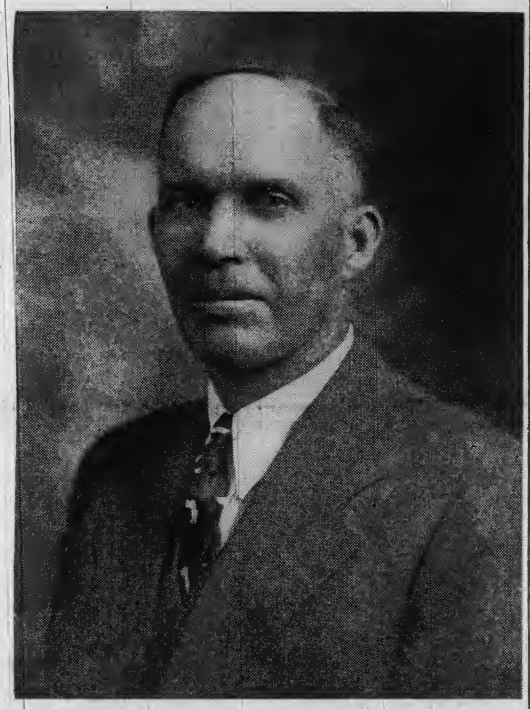
Gen. Scholarship—Betsy Eddins.

Though most of those whose names are in this last list will not go to the State District Contest, they deserve honorable mention because of their interest and effort.

MRS. MARY COX

Mrs. Mary Cox passed away Monday night at her home 114 Elm St., Erlanger, Ky. The remains were removed to the Tallaferro Funeral Home for preparation.

She is survived by her husband, Wm. E. Cox.



The pallbearers were John Meiman, Tony Buxall, Cliff Miller, John Zumbiel, H. F. Childress and Henry Brownley.

Funeral was from the late residence with requiem high mass at St. Henry's Church at 9 a. m. Thursday, interment following in St. Louis cemetery, Louisville, Ky.

Funeral director Philip Tallaferro had charge of the funeral arrangements.

F. M. WALTON FIRST TO ANNOUNCE FOR SHERIFF

WAS A BUSINESS MAN IN WALTON FOR MANY YEARS AND HAS SERVED AS DEPUTY FOR TWO TERMS.

In another column of this issue, Frank McGlasson Walton has announced himself as a candidate for sheriff of Boone County, subject to the action of the primary, August 7, 1937.

Mr. Walton was born in Boone County on a farm in the Belleview precinct March 10, 1895 and received his education in the public school of that community.

For a time he followed the pursuit of agriculture, but early in life he felt the call to the political arena, when at the age of 26 he threw his hat in the ring and was elected magistrate of the precincts of Petersburg and Belleview. This was in the year 1921, and he was probably the youngest magistrate ever to hold office in this county. He held this position for four years.

At the end of this time he moved to Walton, Ky., where for a number of years he was one of the outstanding business men of that community. While there he was appointed to the office of deputy sheriff of Walton and Verona precincts, under Sheriff Herbert Snyder.

At the last county election he became chief deputy under Sheriff W. B. Cotton, whereupon he took up his residence in Burlington, and has continued in that office ever since.

Mr. Walton has always been loyal to the Democratic party. He has conscientiously tried to serve the citizens of Boone County to the best of his ability and has never failed to answer the call of duty either day or night. Now, after serving eight years of apprenticeship as deputy, he feels that he is amply qualified to fulfill the duties and obligations as sheriff of his native county.

His race will be based entirely upon his efficiency and capability which has been previously demonstrated in his position as deputy.

Mr. Walton earnestly solicits the cooperation of his fellow citizens to help him secure the nomination for this office at the next primary election to be held on August 7th.

$50,000,000 FLOOD BILL

FOR DIRECT GRANTS FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS IN THE OHIO AND MISSISSIPPI VALLEYS.

Brent Spence, congressman from this district introduced a bill in the House of Representatives Friday, March 30, whereby he directed that $50,000,000 for relief and rehabilition in the areas devastated by floods of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers be passed. The bill follows:

Authorizing and directing the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to set aside for use under the direction of the President $50,000,000 for relief and rehabilitation in the areas devastated by recent floods of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is authorized and directed to set aside out of funds of the Corporation, and make available to the President of the United States, the sum of $50,000,000, to be used for relief and rehabilitation in urban and rural areas devastated by the floods of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers in January and February 1937.

This fund shall be available for expenditure until expended, under such rules and regulations as the President may prescribe, and by such agency or agencies as he may designate, in providing food, clothing, and other necessaries of life for individuals and families in needy circumstances by reason of such floods, in rehabilitating or providing necessary living quarters and homes for such individuals and families, and in making grants of funds, supplies, or materials to such individuals and families to be used for such purposes.

JOHN M. MOSS

Funeral services for John M. Moss, of near Constance, were held Tuesday at the residence at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Hebron 2 p. m. Burial was in Hebron cemetery. He was 49.

Mr. Moss died Sunday at his home following a long illness. He leaves two sons, Clyte and Chester Lee Moss; one daughter, Miss Edna; one brother, Elmer, and three sisters, Mrs. Julia Kenton, Mrs. Sally Hauck, and Mrs. Fanny Buckler.

Bullock and Catherman, Ludlow, were in charge of arrangements.

PERSONAL PROPERTY OF MRS. B. C. GRADDY SELLS AT HIGH FIGURE

The personal property of Mrs. B. C. Graddy, offered at public auction last Saturday is reported to have brought a high figure.

It was reported that cows sold up to $71.00; corn at $1.53 per bushel and farming implements sold a fair prices.

The sale of Marshall and Monroe held at Walton Friday was also reported as a good sale, with cows bringing premium prices.

Both sales were conducted by the R. G. Kinman Realty Co., of Covington.

DEMOCRATS HOLD SUCCESSFUL MEETING

50-YEAR OLD TYPEWRITER EXCHANGED IN COVINGTON

The oldest typewriter in northern Kentucky is 50 years old.

That's the honest belief of J. S. Mahaffey, manager of the Covington Typewriter Sales and Service Co., Madison avenue, and a resi-Co., Madison Ave. Mahaffey, is a resident of Constance. The machine is on display in the storerooms and was taken in trade last week from John McCoy, 331 East Seventh street, Covington..

The under part is made of wood and the type is arranged in a complete circle beneath the roller. Impressions are made on the lower part of the roller and a typist wishing to watch his or her progress must lift the roller and the paper for an occasional peep.

The machine, a Caligrain, a popular model in its day, was built in 1887 by the American Writing Co. of New York. Mr. McCoy used it until the day he exchanged it. Frank Peeno, assistant manager, persuaded Mr. McCoy to trade it when his original intention was to purchase a new ribbon.

Space bars are on either side and the machine has a double keyboard, one board for capital letters the other board for small letters. The stop warning bell has a sound not unlike a small fire bell. In front of the keyboard is a space, where a weary typist might rest his or her forearms.

BASEBALL MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Boone County Baseball Association Friday night, April 16 at 7:30 in Burlington.

ORGANIZATION OF SPORTSMEN

GROWING RAPIDLY, WITH MANY NEW MEMBERS ADDED AT EACH MEETING — TRAP-SHOOT PLANS UNDERWAY.

At a meeting of the Boone County Fish and Game Protective Association held Wednesday, March 7th many interesting points were brought up for discussion concerning the growth and activities of the organization.

According to E. M. Johnson, game warden, the county has been promised 250 quail, which must be fed and housed during the winter and released in the spring. This will no doubt be quite an undertaking, but Mr. Johnson and all members have agreed to take part in this program and see that the quails are well cared for.

All members were asked to make suggestions as to some means of providing revenue in order that the club could offer a bounty on all hawks and crows which were brought into the club. It was decided that 25 cents would be paid for each hawk and 5 cents each for crows. Hawks must be brought in not less than two days after they have been killed. Harold Conner, one of the members has agreed to take all hawks. However, anyone who desires to collect this bounty must be a member of the club.

Initiation of a plan to organize a council of sportsman organizations in northern Kentucky was announced by E. M. Johnson, district game warden.

Mr. Johnson stated that problems in the four counties of Boone, Kenton, Campbell and Gallatin are precisely the same and can be handled to greater satisfaction through a combined effort of the four counties.

Mr. Johnson's idea is to select representatives of each sportsman organization in the four counties, and to meet preiodically to discuss wildlife problems from a district point of view.

Committees were appointed at the meeting to arrange for trapshoots and the meeting date was changed from Wednesday night to the first Thursday night in each month.

Many new members are being added to the organization, and it seems that everyone is very much interest, which makes for a larger and better club.

Mrs. W. C. Weaver has been quite ill for the past few days.

DEMONSTRATION TEAMS DISCUSSED AT 4-H LEADERS' CONFERENCE

Miss Anita Burnam, State leader of 4-H club girls, met with 4-H Club leaders of Home Economics Projects of Boone County last week. Training of Demonstration teams for Rally Day were discussed by the leaders. Miss Burnam gave an outline that may be used in selecting and training a demonstration team. She stated that a team consists of two 4-H members who are interested in demonstrating an important method to the club.

Each leader worked out a tentative plan for a demonstration. Miss Burnam was assisted by Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent of Boone County. The following leaders were present: Mrs. Sibbie Reimer, Hebron; Mrs. R. S. Garrison, Burlington; Mrs. Faye Stephens Hamilton; Mrs. Carl Anderson, Florence and Mrs. Amanda Yeally, Walton.

TWO STUDENTS ADMIT CHARGES

OF BURGLARY IN LEXINGTON—LOOT IN ONE CASE REPORTED FOUND IN TRANSYLVANIA DORMITORY.

Lexington, Ky., April 8—Two Transylvania College students, Robert E. McCullough, 18 years old, Erlanger, and Sam McEldowney, 18, Stricklett, were held to the grand jury under bonds of $2,500 each today when they pleaded guilty to five charges of housebreaking. They admitted having entered within the last 10 days a drug store, two dry cleaning establishments, a food shop, and a liquor dispensary.

The two were arrested on East Third Street shortly before 2 o'clock this morning by Patrolmen Jesse Williams and Dryden Neil, who found in their possession clothing they admitted they had taken a short time before from Becker's dry cleaning branch at 201 Woodland Avenue, and the Modern Dry Cleaners' plant at 840 East Main Street.

In McEldowney's room at Ewing Hall, Transylvania Men's dromitory, police found loot taken from Saloshin's drug store, Main Street and Clay Avenue, the night of April 1, when merchandise worth $300 to $400 was stolen.

Other places the two admitted having looted were the Food Specialty Shop 652 Main Street East, and Murphy's Liquor Dispensary, Georgetown Pike.

Arraigned before Police Judge Thomas J. Ready this afternoon, McCullough and McEldowney both pleaded guilty. The Judge fixed their bonds at $500 each in each of the five cases. In default of bond, they were committed to the county jail to await action of the grand jury, which will be in session Friday.

4-H RALLY DAY PLANS BEING MADE

The date for 4-H spring rally day has been set for Saturday, May 29. This is an annual event held in the spring to select members to represent Boone County in the state contests at Junior Week in Lexington.

The program for Rally Day will include home practice and farm practice demonstrations by teams representing each of the clubs in the county, judging contests and a style show. Winners in the county health contest for both boys and girls will be selected.

The ten 4-H clubs in the county will be represented at Rally Day, according to Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent of Boone County. The following clubs have been organized in the county: Burlington, Florence, Grant, New Haven, Hamilton, Hebron, Petersburg, Taylorsport, Walton and Verona.

ICE CREAM DEALERS MUST PAY, IS RULE

Frankfort, Ky., April 10—Although the state ice cream tax has been invalidated by a Court of Appeals ruling, manufacturers and dealers still are liable for the tax and must account for it to the Department of Revenue, Commissioner James W. Martin has announced.

In conference with J. W. Jones, assistant attorney general, Mr. Martin agreed that the court's ruling does not become final until April 27. Mr. Jones, however, indicated that the state would seek a rehearing, automotically deferring the date of finality.

The 1936 General Assembly repealed the tax effective after midnight April 16.

MAN KILLED AT WALTON

VICTIM STEPPED FROM CAR TO LOOK FOR WALLET, HE HAD DROPPED UPON RUNNING BOARD.

William G. Riley, 26, of 324 Crescent avenue, Covington, was identified Monday morning as the victim of northern Kentucky's most serious week-end accident.

He was killed one mile south of Walton late Sunday night. He remained unidentified throughout the night. Monday morning investigators found his purse near the scene and through it made tentative identification.

His mother, Mrs. Frances Riley and a sister, Mrs. Mary Roland, viewed the body at Walton and made positive identification Monday.

A coroner's inquest was held Monday morning in the Riley death and Boone county officials released Charles G. Howe Jr., 226 E. Third street, Covington, the driver of the car which struck the Crescent Avenue man.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by Magistrate J. F. Cleek, acting coroner.

Mr. Howe reported he struck Riley when he stepped from his car apparently to look for a lost object on the running board.

J. B. RESPESS TO ENTER HORSE IN KENTUCKY DERBY

J. B. Respess of near Florence, will enter Main Man in the Kentucky Derby. Mr. Respess is working his horse at the Keeneland track and has sent him several miles around the 1:42 mark. Main Man, a son of Hildur bred by Respess, has developed wonderfully over the winter months.

It was back in 1909 when the purple and white was carried by Wintergreen.

B. Y. P. U. ELECT OFFICERS

The following were elected as officers of the Senior B. Y. P. U. at the Baptist Church for the next quarter: President, Virgil Vice; Vice President, Carolyn Cropper; Secretary and Treasurer, James Edward Stephens; Bible Drill Leader, Albert W. Weaver; Group Captain No. 1, Barbara Edwards; Group Captain No. 2, Willard Stephens; Song Leader, Ruby Cotton; Pianist, Olive Louise Poston.

HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Rev. A. R. Abernathy, 61 years old, Dry Ridge, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital recently with a collar bone fracture as the result of an automobile accident in Covington. Herbert Ashcraft of Elliston and Bob Fields, Burlington, the drivers were not injured, according to police.

WALTON GIRL IS HONORED

AT UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY —WAS VALDICTORIAN OF 1936 GRADUATING CLASS OF WALTON HIGH SCHOOL.

Eloise Mayhugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mayhugh, of Walton was recently elected secretary of the pledges for Epsilon Omega chapter of Kappa Delta a social sorority at the University of Kentucky, Lexington.

Editorial of the Week

SHALL WE HAVE A NATIONAL PARK?

Since the inception of the Mammoth Cave National Park movement in Kentucky, The Hart County News has fostered the establishment of this park. As long as seven years ago news articles have appeared in this paper indicating that the Federal Government was about to take over the operation of this property, and periodically since such news has been issued by various officials in charge of Mammoth Cave. These news items have been printed by The Hart County News, along with other newspapers, without question as to verity, but even today, the Federal government is still not in charge of the revenue producing properties at Mammoth Cave. The title of the Mammoth Cave itself and the two hotels run in conjunction with it is still vested in the name of the Kentucky National Park Commission, a body appointed by the Governor of the State of Kentucky. Yet this body does not operate these properties, nor does it decide what is to be done with the large proceeds in this operation. Actually, the income from these properties and its expenditure is directed by a Mammoth Cave Operating Committee, composed of six men from the Commission, the Mammoth Cave National Park Association, and the National Park Service, a situation which puts the official State Commission and the State of Kentucky in a position of minority in the operation of its own holdings. What legal reason the Commission has for turning over the operation of its properties to such an operating commitee has never been presented to the public at large.

In this issue of The News appears a report filed by the Grand Jury of Edmondson county, in which the activities of the Mammoth Cave Operating Committee are condemned and in which charges are brought that it is due to obstructionist tactics perpetrated by this operating committee that the Federal government is not now in control of the Mammoth Cave area. The Congressional Act which provides for the establishment of the Mammoth Cave National Park requires nothing but a minimum acreage and the principal caves within limited boundaries. It does not require the erection of tourist cabins and office buildings. Such developments will be made from Federal funds upon the acceptance by the government of the minimum land requirements which today have not been met. The News believes that all money derived from the operation of the State-owned Mammoth Cave and the hotels, with the exception of the barest operating expenses, should go to the further buying of land, so that the REAL requirements of the LAW can be met in the quickest time.

The people of Kentucky are entitled to know why a fully established National Park does not now exist in the Mammoth Cave area. The people of Kentucky are entitled to know what has become of the huge sums of mone yspent by the so-called operating committees, and what is now being done with the income of Mammonth Cave.

The National Park Idea has been making the headlines for over twelve years, and a staggering sum of money has been paid in to purchase the required amount of land, but we have no National Park, as was promised.

There is something wrong, and the people of Kentucky are entitled to know about it. They are going to find out about it—and it will not be long.

The first thing to find out is—which, what and who is this illegal Operating Committee? Why does such a committee exist, when the State of Kentucky is fully equipped to operate its property, in which it has invested nearly a million and a half dollars, until the proper Federal agency accepts this responsibility? In the meantime, Kentucky is losing untold millions of dollars in state-wide tourist income because of inadequate facilities for advertising and improper management, such as charged the Edmondson County Grand Jury.

The News is convinced that the matter of an early completion of this park will be greatly facilitated if a thorough investigation instituted and the results brought before the citzenery of Kentucky, who are entitled to know the full situation.

The News earnestly solicits the support of all Kentucklans in this effort to actually bring about the establishment of the Mammoth Cave National Park.

OBSERVATIONS

A headline in the Sunday papers refer to the labor "Front." I expect a conflict of ideas which gets out of the idea stage into the action stage is a sort of battle, in fact we know it is. Yet the idea of a "Labor Front' is repugnant to the writer. The present unrest is only a disagreement between American industrial management and American labor, while the third party to the dispute, the general public, who by the way, through their stock ownership really own, but do not control these enterprises, decide the situation by the force of intelligent public opinion.

"Labor Front" smaks of those two completely European Idiocies, Facism and Communism. Newspapers by a stupid fostering of such fotreign catch phrases can do much to turn a purely American family row into a continental "ism."

Too much praise, by the way, cannot be given to the restraint shown by the leaders of these opposing forces—particularly in the Detroit situation.

It is true that the sit-down strike is illegal but—hot heads within might have wrecked machines, would have if they had been dominated by communism; might have drawn blood.

Management, as personified first by Mr. Sloan of General Motors and later by Mr. Chrysler might have resorted, as such men have in the past, to strike breakers—scabs—or by the power of their money and position. (Which don't seem to count so much lately) might have called out the militia.

Or, uninvited, the governor representing the third party to the dispute might have done so.

Seniority

There is one phase of union activities with which this observer is completely at odds.

It is this practice of promoting and paying men on the basis of length of employment rather than fitness for the job.

This runs directly counter to human nature and is no doubt responsible for much of the weakness of the labor movement in the past. Certain it is that if stick-to-it-iveness is all that is necessary for promotion, often the bright will drop out from sheer boredom while he who is too "dumb" to be bored gets the better job.

The Court

The Supreme Court reverses itself. It now says that the states HAVE the power to pass a minimum wage law. A year ago it said they did not.

Thus, kind friends, proving themselves to be—not some God-like tribunal that can do no wrong—but very human, very apt to make mistakes—very apt to play politics—just as they are doing now by making this totally inconsistent decision.fi They too, read newspapers!

This Katey did and Katey didn't of nine old men smacks too much of irresponsible George Thirds and Louis XVth to suit this plain citizen. Justices must never make mistakes when so much depends upon correct decisions and when they are responsible to no one.

Reminds one of the story they tell about the first families of Boston to illustrate their stiff-necked feeling of omnipotence—the Lowells speak onl yto the Cabots, the Cabots speak only to the Lodges and the Lodges speak only to God.

That's all for this time.

The Observer.

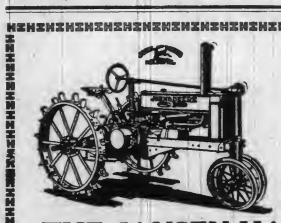
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Avery, of Newport, spent Sunday with their relatives here.

An Open Letter to a Hit-And-Run Driver



WELL, you got away with it. So far, anyway. Of course you're still a bit nervous. You are startled by doorbells; your palm sweats when you pick up the morning paper; your mouth gets dry when a stranger seems to stare at you. For there is just a possibility that some chance passer-by saw you. But your pulse is beginning to behave again. Each passing day brings added safety.

If it will make you feel any better, you may never be caught. But, my craven fellow, you'll never escape yourself! You'll never escape the shame of having killed a child and run away. You'll never escape the aching, burning memory that, faced with the test, you preferred cowardice to courage.

You will live the rest of your days bluffing yourself into believing that you didn't have time to think (although life's crises are not scheduled for men's convenience); that anybody else would have done the same thing (although you don't dare tell anybody else); and that it wasn't murder, but just an accident (as though people hid themselves after accidents). The days will be trying, but not so bad compared with the nights, when you lie awake with your conscience and when, having fallen asleep at last, dreams steal into your tired brain to reenact that scene of secret shame. Yes, the nights will be hard.

A thousand times you will wish to release that pent-up shame, to scream: "I killed a child and ran away!" It would make you feel better, but you won't do it.

Listen: You didn't get away with a thing! And you know it!

Lesson for April 18

THE EFFECTS OF ALOCHOLIC BEVERAGES

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 13:13; 19:23-25; Deuteronomy 32:31-33; Proverbs 23:29-32.

GOLDEN TEXT—At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder. Proverbs 23:32.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Man Who Had First Choice.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Way of Woe.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Science Says About Alcohol.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Scientific Basis of Temperance.

The American people are alert to the forces which threaten the bulwarks of national life, and are ready to take intelligent and effective action against them when fully aroused to the danger. The powers of evil know this to be true and are careful to avoid anything that directs our attention to what is constantly going on under cover. The liquor question is one of our nation's most serious problems. The devastating results of the widespread sale and use of intoxicants will only be known as Christian men and women unmask this wicked business which poses under the banner of congenial and pleasant living, and proudly points to its recognition by the government as a legal enterprise.

The facts are available through various temperance organizations and in such books as "Alcohol and Man," by Dr. Emerson of Columbia university. The Sunday School lessons for 1937 present four opportunities to bring the matter squarely before the adults and children who are in our Bible Schools. We have already (Jan. 31) considered the economic problem, and will later deal with intemperance as a social and moral evil. The lesson for today affords a special opportunity to touch on the scientific side, presenting intoxicants in their true light as a poison. Look up the word "intoxicate" in a good dictionary and you at once have a picture of what beer, wine, and whiskey do to the human body.

The Christian approach to any consideration of the matter is by recognizing that man is a spiritual being, dwelling in a physical body.

I. We Live in a World of Moral Responsibility (Gen. 13:13; 19:23-25).

Life is not a careless drifting from day to day, from pleasure to pleasure, into sin or not as one may choose, with no responsibility for one's actions. Man was created in the likeness and image of God. He possesses the power of choice. He knows right from wrong. If he chooses to do right he has all the resources of the omnipotent God to call upon as his strength and stay. But if he chooses to turn his back upon God and upon Christ, and to go into the ways of sin, let him be sure that there is a day of judgment to come from which he shall in no wise escape. The destruction of the wicked cities of the plain, terrible as it was in itself, is but a prophecy of judgment to come. See Luke 10:10-12.

II. Men Go Two Different Ways (Deut. 32:31-33).

Moses contrasts the Rock in which his people trusted, and the corrupt standards of their heathen neighbors by which they were tempted. One greater than Moses spoke of the two ways (read Matt. 7:13, 14), and pointed out the sad fact that there are many that go down the broad way to destruction, and few who walk in the narrow way of life. Let us seek to win our young men and women away from the sinful ways of this world.

III. The Liquor Way Is the Wrong Way (Prov. 23:29-32).

Skillful indeed are the advertising devices of the liquor interests! They associate their intoxicants (poisons) with holiday festivities, happy family gatherings, social preferment, and so on. They do not picture the bleary eye, the babbling tongue, the "wounds without cause." They carefully overlook the broken-hearted mother, the ragged children, the empty cupboard, and the devastated home life. They say nothing of the men who have lost their characters and their jobs, and of the women who have lowered themselves beyond description because of their love for liquor. Let us in tenderness and heart-broken humility present to our Sunday School classes that picture, which is a disgrace to our nation. The wine may look red, and it may even go "smoothly down the throat" (a possible translation of the words "when it moveth aright," v. 31), but it still has the bite of a serpent and the sting of an adder (v. 32).

Aims and Duties

What are the aims which are at the same time duties?—they are the perfecting of ourselves, and the happiness of others.

Injustice

The injustice of men subserves the justice of God, and often His mercy.—Madame Swetchine.

Doing Good

"Doing good is the only certainly happy action of man's life."—Sir Philip Sidney.

166,650 POUNDS T. V. A. PHOSPHATE ORDERED

Boone County farmers cooperating in the Agricultural Conservation Program have ordered 166,650 pounds of 43 per cent. T. V. A. phosphate or 358,297.5 pounds equivalent of regular 20 per superphosphate for use on soil conserving grass and legume crops, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Additional orders are rapidly coming in to the County Office at Burlington.

Most of the T. V. A. phosphate will be used with agricultural limestone. Experimental work on the average of all experimental fields indicates that on most soils a 200 per cent increase in grass and clover mixed hay might be expected from the combined soil treatment with lime and phosphate.

Farmers are especially interested in T. V. A. phosphate in that the freight and handling charges is the only cash required when the fertilizer is delivered. The first car load of 30.7 tons was delivered to Erlanger on Tuesday, April 6th. The freight to Erlanger was $4.80 per ton and the handling charge was 50 cents per ton making a total of $5.30 per ton.

Farmers interested in taking advantage of the T. V. A. offer are urged to contact the County Agent's Office at Burlington immediately.

12-DAY STRIKE ENDS AT TEXTILES, INC.

Louisville, Ky., April 1—An agreement in the strike at the Louisville Textiles, Inc., has been reached, union and company officials announced last Wednesday.

While terms of the agreement, ending the 12-day strike were not officially announced, it is understood they call for a 10 per cent wage increase; a 40-hour week; no Sunday work; time and a half for overtime, and recognition of the textile workers' organization committee of the C. I. O. as bargaining agent for the employes.

17,000 ON STRIKE IN AUTOMOBILE PLANTS

Detroit, April 1—A sudden outbreak of strikes in General Motors plants that affected 18,400 men at its peak receded today as the company anounced that 7,200 men had returned to work in the Fisher body plant at Cleveland.

Offsetting that settlment, however, was a strike that closed the plant of the Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing Company at Pontiac, Mich., this morning. The company, which employs several thousand men is not a General Motors unit although partially owned by the corporation.

Also closed by strikes were the Fisher body plant at Pontiac and the Chevrolet Motor Company's final assembly plant at Flint, Mich. Closed, or partially closed, because of strikes in other plants were the Pontiac Motor Company at Pontiac and Fisher body plant No. 2 at Flint.

General Motors officials here said the strike in the Cleveland plant, caused by a wage dispute, was of brief duration.

Approximately 17,400 men still were idle; 6,600 in the Fisher plant at Pontiac; 1,800 in the Pontiac Motor Company plant which could not operate its final assembly line without bodies from the Fisher plant; 900 at the Chevrolet plant No. 2 at Flint; 1,100 at the Fisher plant No 2, closed by the lack of storage space for bodies with the Chevrolet assembly line idle, and approximately 7,000 at the Yellow Truck and Coach plant at Pontiac.

Ed Hall, a vice president of the United Automobile Workers, said the strikes were "a protest of the men against the plant managers' refusal to recognize and deal with their committees as provided in the General Motors agreement."

THE HEART AND THE POCKETBOOK

Authorities on safety are finding important parallels between present day efforts to stop traffic casualties and the accident problem which faced industry a quarter century ago.

It is history that in the beginning, management was reluctant to support the industrial safety movement on any but humanitarian grounds. Executives feared that the aceptance of safety standards and procedures, the use of machine guards and other such devices would slow up production. For industry, this reasoning has long since gone into discard.

Oddly enough, however, a large part of society seems to hold the same fatalistic attitude toward the traffic accident problem. Speaking on the subject recently, Albrte W. Whitney, who is in charge of safety activities for the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, struck sharply at the validity of such beliefs in a modern world.

"This reasoning and this psychology are utterly wrong," Mr. Whitney said. "Accidents are certainly not a price we must pay either for industrial progress or for the use of the automobile. Far from slowing up production, safety actually quickens it by increasing efficiency. It is common knowledge today that the causes which produce industrial accidents are also the causes of inefficiency in production. Industry knows that a high accident frequency is a symptom of waste.

"What happened in the industrial field will happen with the automobile. Not only can we solve the traffic accident problem, but in so doing we shall very largely solve the traffic efficiency problem. Communities that are cutting down their accidents successfully are just those communities that are moving their traffic more quickly and more easily."

If America can come to realize that by controlling traffic deaths and injuries it can likewise control traffic economy, the incentive to do both should not be lacking. More and more we realize that the causes which produce traffic accidents also cause us to spend more than is necessary for gasoline, oil, tires, upkeep and insurance, delay us in reaching our business and social destinations and generally slow up the progress of a motorized world. Such reasoning appeals both to the heart and the pocketbook, an irresistible combination.

Mrs. Thelma Arrasmith spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Schwenke and family.

PANELING POSSIBLE FOR SMALL HOUSES

Wood as a finish for the inner walls of houses has until recently been considered a luxury possible only for the large income.

A new process of cutting wood now brings this desirable finish within the reach of the owners of the less expensive homes. The veneer paneling can be applied over old plaster walls or on new construction.

Strips for trim around doors and windows and molding to match the wood of the walls are available.

BIG BONE

Mrs. Tom Black is ill. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Burlington invaded our school Friday to play soft ball. The local team won by a score of 8 to 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller motored to Hazard, last week to get Mrs. Wade's little daughter.

Miss Corinne Williamson spent the week-end with Mary C. Atha.

Mrs. H. E. Miller, Mrs. Ross Atha Mrs. Anna Moore spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Tom Black.

Miss Fay Pitcher is staying with Mrs. Black.

Tom Watkins, retired Government Gauger, who spent over 40 years supervising American distilleries, says:

"Nowhere did I find more rigid standards of scientific accuracy than at Glenmore"

"I've been assigned to a good many distilleries at one time or another. What I remember best is Glenmore. I like their way of making their popular priced Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey—Mint Springs. They use the same grains, same processes, same experienced men—as in making their most costly whiskies."

Tom Watkins' judgment is sound—Glenmore was one of only seven distilleries permitted by the Government to make medicinal whiskey throughout Prohibition.

RETIREMENT OF STATE DEBT AIM

TO BE ACCOMPLSISHED BY 1939—TREASURER JOHN E. BUCKINGHAM LAUDS KENTUCKY "EVEN INCOME" TAX

Frankfort, Ky., April 9—Goal of the present administration, in view of current revenue yields, should be to retire the outstanding state debt of more than $17,000,000 by Sept. 1, 1939, if not sooner, State Treasurer John E. Buckingham declared today.

Mr. Buckingham in a letter addressed to Gov. A. B. Chandler, vacationing in the South, reviewed the rapid reduction in the state debt since January, 1936, and urged as a slogan for the 1938 General Assembly:

"Keep the budget balanced and pay the state debt."

"Under, your superb leadership the revenue laws were ingeniously framed soas to yield a fairly uniform monthly income. Mr. Buckingham told the governor. The income has been of such a flow as to yield a sufficient amount of ready cash monthly to meet all demands even when they are greatest.

$1,300 Monthly

For seven months of the year, the state must pay out approximately $1,300,000 monthly for school purposes. Mr. Buckingham reasoned that if the current revenues are left undisturbed by the next General Assembly, and the budget is left at its approximate present figure "that during the remaining five months of each year an equal amount each month should be available for use in paying state warrants."

On a proportionate basis, this would leave $1,300,000 a month for five months or $6,500,000 during the course of each year, available solely for retirement of the state debt.

Mr. Buckingham recalled that when he assumed office the debt stood at $25,084,6.3417 an all-time high. It was represented by warrants bearing five per cent interest.

Change Plan Evolved

"The public felt that this rate was excessive and should be reduced. No previous administration seemed disposed to tackle the job, so it was up to us to do something about it," he said.

Accordingly the plan to exchange warrants for either cash of three per cent warrants was evolved, and all existing warrants have been either called or exchanged for 3 per cent warrants."

The exchanged warrants have coupons attached to them, which may be clipped and presented for payment eliminating the hazardous risk of the owner sending the warrant itself to the auditor, each six months, to obtain a check for interest, said Mr .Buckingham.

Even Denominations

The new warrants also are in even denominations, lithographed in short term bond form. These features have proven popular with the investing public.

"I feel, as I know you do, that all outstanding warrants should be liquidated during your administration. Then this form of indebtedness can be outlawed, so that the state in the future will be limited to the constitutional debt limit of $500,000, unless a bond issue should be authorized by a vote of the people," the Treasurer wrote.

"This would enable the state to then reduce taxes and invite capital into the state, for he purpose of developing its unsurpassed resources and would enable the state to offer unusual opportunities to business and industry. For these reasons, I believe that the public would rejoice and proclaim it as a major accomplishment of this administration.

ATTACHED GARAGES HAVE ADVANTAGES

Attached garages offer important conveniences regarding heating, accessibility, and economy of space. Heretofore, it was general to think in terms of a single garage, but the advent of low-priced motor cars and increased usage by all members of the family, plus the guest-car factor make it desirable to include two-car garages whenever the family budget permits.

Corn, garden products and poultry will be major projects among club members in Bell county. Goals include an enrollment of 1.500 boys and girls, a camp, achievement day program, and representation at leaders' conference and Junior Week.

FARMERS HOLD SIX MEETINGS

IN COUNTY LAST WEEK TO EXPLAIN THE 1937 SOIL BUILDING ALLOWANCE PAYMENTS—TWO MEETING THIS WEEK.

Two hundred and thirty-five farmers attended a series of six community ACP meetings held the past week to explain the 1937 soil building allowance payments, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Community meetings will be held this week at Hebron on the 14th, Florence School the 15th and Burlington Courthouse the 17 all meeting at 7:30 p. m. (slow time).

Farmers are showing much interest in earning a larger percent of the 1937 allowances for sowing of grass and legume seeds and use of lime and phosphate for growing better pasture and hay hay crops. Indications are farmers will earn between 90 and 100 per cent of the 1937 allowances compared with 41 per cent of the 1936 allowances.

To date farmers have ordered 223,200 pounds of T. V. A. phosphate for use on grass and legume crops with orders coming in rapidly each day. The above amount of phosphate is an amount equal to 479,880 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate or almost one half million pounds. Car loads on requistiion are being delivered to Erlanger, Walton and Verona railroad station.

Farmers are showing particular interest in phosphate because of profitable increase in crop yields and that the phosphate is advanced to cooperators on their soil building allowances with no cash except freight and handling charge required at the time of delivery. The freight is approximately $4.80 per ton and the handing charge is approximately 50 cents per ton, making a total of $5.30 per ton.

The lime program is also progressing rapidly. Approximately 250 tons were crushed the past week with a large number of new applications for pulevirizing received at the County Office. Lime and phosphate on an average of 124 experiments in Kentucky have given an increased yield of 2115 pounds of grass and legume hay on an average 3280 pounds of hay per acre compared with 1170 lbs. on fields not treated.

Lime this spring may be pulverized on the farm at a cost of 70 cents per ton which is the cheapest rate in history, even when compared with the rates of two years ago. Farmers expecting to have limestone crushed are urged to do so this spring as the cost of pulverizing will be higher this fall.

Orders for both lime and phosphate should be left at the County Agent's Ofifce at Burlington or with the community committee men.

NEW HAVEN SCHOOL NOTES

The New Haven debating team, consisting of Mary Elizabeth Senour, Marjorie Curtis and Alberta Craddock, accompanied by their coach, A. B. Moore had the honor of competing in the state contest at Leixngton last week.

The Junior class of New Haven will present Saturday, April 24, at 7:15 p. m. a three-act comedy entitled "Lookin' Lovely." In this play Bill and Jim, two gay young promoters out of a job, happen in at the lovable Winnie's debt-ridden farm. Clytie and Buddie, the impish youngsters, have given the young men a faceful of mud and soon they are promoting that "pay dirt" as beauty clay! Dashing Jenny, once a farm girl, now a successful actress, invites her theatrical friends, the live-wire Moe Dubrowski and the drawling Englishman, Cholly Longacre, down to help.

There is also the old mammy, Persimmon, good at pies and philosophy; the high-hat Esther; the village gossip, Amarilla; and the slow-moving sheriff, Speed Hawkins, whose one desire is to "catch" Amarilla.

Mystery and trouble mix with the fun to assure a full evening's entertainment. The cast of the play will be given in next week's paper. Look for "Lookin' Lovely."

Mrs. Caldwell's room, the fifth and sixth grades, presented a clever home-talent "movie" on Kentucky history, at a chapel program this week.

CHEVROLET NEWS

Five hundred and forty service managers of Chevrolet dealership throughout the United States have been elected to membership in the "85 Club" in recognition of their excellent services to Chevrolet during the past year, it was announced this week.

Presentation of the awards of membership was made during a recent series of meetings in the 47 Chevrolet zones. Each man qualifying for the award received a gold lapel pin, while the highest ranking service manager in each zone received a gold service ring in addition, indicating his appointment as president of the club in his zone.

The "85 Club" was organized by Chevrolet late in 1935 for the purpose of giving suitable recognition to dealers' service managers of exceptional merit. Every month, ratings are given each man on each of 15 points dealing with the management and operation of his department. Those who receive a grade of 85 or better for eight out of 12 months of the calendar year are elected to membership.

The men thus honored play leading parts in the monthly service meeting in each of Chevrolet's zones. Membership in the club is the highest honor in the Chevrolet service department.

BLUEGRASS SEED STRIPPER PATENTED BY J. D. GAY

A patent has been issued by the U. S. patent office to J. Douglas Gay, of Pine Grove, for a device to make possible the operation of grass seed strippers by tractors, says the Lexington Herald.

Mr. Gay used the invention last year but did not apply for a patent until a season's use convinced him that he did not plan commercial manufacture of the device until another season's use had shown whether any improvements should be made.

The device allows the tractor to push the stripper. The tractor also pulls two other stripped, one at each side of the path cut by the tractor and front stripper.

Robert Adam Was Famous as a Furniture Designer

Among the most distinguished furniture designers during the latter part of the Eighteenth century was Robert Adam, favorite of George III, bachelor king of England. Son of an architect, he and his brother James gained fame as architects under the partnership legend of the "Adelphi."

Adam traveled considerable when traveling was fraught with great dangers. Among his many extended trips was the one he undertook to the excavations of Pompeii and Herculaneum. In these ancient ruins he found many decorative and structural motifs which became part and parcel of his exquisite designs.

Most of Adam's furniture shows his architectural leanings. Some of the furniture Adam made was of mahogany with delicate carvings and dainty inlays. He originally introduced the shield back chair, but abandoned it in favor of the wheel-back chair.

During his activities in the building of homes for the wealthy and designing fixtures and furniture for the interiors Robert Adam found time to write and illustrate three volumes of his "Works in Architecture" which were dedicated to his patron, King George III. Adam's designs are frequently reproduced in dining-room furniture and occasional living-room pieces.

Young Giraffes Do Bawl Like the Hungry Calves

Most naturalists long have held that giraffes are voiceless animals, unable to make a sound when in agony. A challenge of this occurs in the report of the Kenya game warden, which avers that a young giraffe, separated from its mother, will bawl and low like a hungry calf, according to a writer in the Montreal Herald.

Whether mute or not, the giraffe is one of the world's most peculiar animals. It has at least two other claims to distinction. It is the world's tallest mammal and one of the most expensive animals found in menageries.

A giraffe's neck, long as it is, contains no more vertebrae than does the neck of a man. It is merely elongation of the vertebrae that elevates the giraffe's head among the treetops.

Possessing few means of defense, giraffes are protected by their coloration. Their irregularly marked coats blend so perfectly with the dappled sunlight and shadows of the trees on which they feed that at a distance they are difficult to detect. Thorny acacias do not prove a trial to them for the animals' tough hides protest them from long thorns, and their elastic tongues taper to pluck leaves without including the trees' piercing armor.

The Skin's Heat

Meters that measure the temperatures of stars, used to test the heat of the human skin, show that, contrary to popular belief, colored skin is virtually no better protection against heat than white complexions. Although black paint absorbs heat, it is found that black human skin absorbs no more of it than white. The star meters, which pick up the human heat rays at a distance and thus do not upset the skin's natural response by contact, show that man's skin measures heat changes as sensitively as the most delicate thermometers. A normal person can feel a temperature rise at a rate of less than one thousandth of a degree per second. His subconscious faculties are aware of the change within three seconds and immediately set his skin "heat regulators" to work.

First California Mail Service

On April 19, 1847, the first regular mail service in California was established when the United States military authorities inaugurated a semimonthly "government express." Army despatches, private letters and newspapers were carried, free of charge, between San Francisco and San Diego by two soldiers on horseback, who started from these towns on alternate Mondays. Meeting the following Sunday at Dana's rancho, near San Luis Obispo, they exchanged mails. Each soldier then started back to the point from which he had come, arriving there in time to begin another trip the following Monday. The rush of settlers to California, following the discovery of gold, necessitated the establishment of Post Office department routes, which supplanted this original service.

"Cattle Resemble Masters"

"Cattle resemble their masters" say the Norwegians and we judge a man by the horse he has and how he treats his, asserts a writer in the Montreal Herald. Some horses are nearly human, some men are pretty nearly horses. By ties of sympathy we are bound to the horse. In his drab working life, the horse awaits and expects a word of appreciation now and then. In return he asks no questions. Like a true friend, he loves you because you are you—that is sufficient He does not criticize you; he adjusts himself to your moods and misunderstandings. He does not gossip or slander you. In the bright June days as well as the bleak December days of life he stands by you unchangeably.

EAT TO KEEP WELL SAYS SPECIALIST

Suggestions on "eating to keep well" are given by Miss Florence Imlay, foods specialist for the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

An emergency diet is usually one that will lower reistance to infections, if continued for any length of time; therefore, the food value should be conserved as far as possible in cooking.

Foods that are laxative in effect should be eaten daily. Some of them are fibrous vegetables, especially onions cooked in an open kettle until they become tender; lemons, grapefruit, apples slightly sweetened, dried prunes, and whole cereals.

The following foods are fairly inexpensive, and are mentioned either as good sources of vitamins or as tending to keep the digestive tract in good condition; kidney, navy and lima beans; yellow soybeans; whole wheat bread; yeast bread; whole cereal; cabbage; lettuce; carrots; celery; tomatoes, and milk.

When vegetables become tender, it is not necessary to cook them any longer. If they are cooked in a heavy utensil, very little water is required.

A coarse vegetable, a raw or slightly sweetened cooked fruit, and a whole cereal may well be included in the diet every day. Whole cereals may be used as a breakfast food or a whole cereal bread.

Persons having digestive disturbances, or young children, should not be given coarse vegetables or whole cereals without the advice of a physician.

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

Kentucky was among 34 states in which price-depressing agricultural surpluses were removed by the federal government last year through a program to stabilize market supplies and prices. Fifty-five thousand bushels of surplus wheat were bought in Kentucky, made into flour and distributed for relief purposes.

A profit of $69 from a flock of 212 White Giant pullets was made last month by Mrs. W. L. Kessler, of Metcalfe county, who fed commercial mash and oyster shells and kept clean water before the birds at all times. Total sales were more than $100.

A cheese factory will be built in Stanford, in Lincoln county, this spring by the Cudahy Company of Chicago, who were interested in the location as a result of a dairy survey conducted by County Agent John R. Killinger. This company will also build a poultry packing plant in Stanford.

A total of 970 tons of ground limestone were bought from the quarry at St. Rose by Washington county farmers. While close to 10,000 tons were used last year in soil improvement, indications are that the 1937 total will be still larger.

Hoisery service, from the standpoint of length of wear, may be increased by 50 percent by proper care, it was found by 100 Kenton county homemakers who conducted a 12-weeks experiment. All of the women washed the hose every day.

Graves county homemakers emphasized the following things during flood refugee work: A diet that would not merely satisfy, but also build up resistance to disease; sanitary protection rules, and first-aid measures.

HOMEMAKERS REMODEL, REFURNISH HOUSAES

Using resources already at hand, members of homemakers' clubs in Oldham county, Kentucky, under the leadership of Miss Lilah Hembree, home demonstration agent, are remodeling their houses and refurnishing them with antiques.

Houses are being improved by removing partitions, thereby enlarging rooms, and by adding windows and doors. Plans call for changing the room arrangements in several old-fashoined farm houses. In some instances electricity and running water will be installed.

It is in the discovery and refinishing of old furniture, much of it made of cherry or walnut wood, that the women find their greatest joy, says Miss Hembree. Old-fashioned sideboards, buffets, cupboards, chairs and other pieces are found in kitchens, attics, cellars and out-buildings. With numerous coats of paint removed, carvings and mirrors taken off, these pieces are refinished to reveal the rare wood which they were made.

In one instance, a woman wanted a china cabinet to complete her dining room furniture. An old kitchen cupboard was dragged out, coats of paint and varnish scrapped off, and its cherry wood proved exquisitely beautiful.

Numerous chairs made of walnut and cherry have been found in the county. They are refinished, and their fiber or wood seats replaced with cane.

HORSES AND MULES HIGH

Spans of good mules have been sellin gas high $550 in Kentucky this spring. Prices for horses and mules have been advancing, and the College of Agriculture at Lexington predicts they will continue high for several years. Colt production is increasing gradually, but it is not yet equal to the disappearance of old animals. Tractor use is increasing and may be considerably accelerated by returning prosperity on the farm.

SAYS 100-BUSHEL CORN POSSIBLE

County Agent C. E. Gabbard is telling Wolfe county farmers that many of them can grow 100-bushel corn. To do this, he would apply two tons of limestone and 500 pounds of superphosphate to the acre, and follow with three bags of 4-84 fertilizer at planting. He also would plant purebred corn. Marvin Allen, Wolfe county boy, won the state 4-H club corn growing championship last year by producing 123½ bushels to the acre.

Postmaster's Stamp Was Tried as an Experiment

Stamps as a postal convenience first were introduced in England in May, 1840, and in June of that year Daniel Webster introduced a resolution in the senate suggesting their use in this country. But it was not until 1847, after postal-reform societies had again and again petitioned congress for stamps and many postmasters had in desperation issued their own, that the authorities in Washington finally consented to a general issue, writes a correspondent in the New York Herald Tribune.

The first postmaster's stamp, that issued by Robert H. Morris, postmaster at New York in 1845, was in reality in the nature of an experiment made at the suggestion of the Postmaster General to convince congress that stamps were feasible, and to make the experiment more general supplies of the New York stamps were furnished the postmasters at Boston, Albany, Philadelphia and Washington for use from their offices. To guard against counterfeiting and as a sure means of identification, Morris or his clerks initialed each stamp in red before selling it.

Following closely in Morris' footsteps, the postmaster at New Haven issued his own stamps, each one signed with his full name "E. A. Mitchell," and at Brattleboro, Vt., the postmaster's initials, "F. N. P.", were a part of the stamp design. The Baltimore stamps were merely long labels with the facsimile signature of the postmaster, "James M. Buchanan," and the values, "5 Cents" or "10 Cents," while the stamps of the Alexandria, Va., office were serially numbered. Other postmasters who got out their own issues were those of Annapolis, Boxcawen, N. H.; Lockport, N. Y.; Millbury, Mass., Providence and St. Louis.

These stamps all came out between 1845 and 1847 but dropped from sight almost immediately upon the appearance of the general issue of the latter year.

Romans Loved Cinnamon; Used It in Their Balms

The strong fragrance of cinnamon greeting our nostrils, gives us pleasure even before we eat the food that it flavors.

The human nose has always responded to this odor and the ancient Romans held it in particular esteem. They used it liberally in their ointments and balms as well as in their cooking, and as the ultimate mark of their appreciation of this spice they set it apart as the incense for sacrificial and ceremonial fires.

When a god was to be appeased, or the shade of a departed spirit was to be honored, it was the perfume of cinnamon wafted heavenward on uprising clouds of smoke that carried the message. No Roman doubted that an odor so pleasing to man could fail to placate the Olympian dieties.

The Roman media of atonement was not buns but bonfires, and their theory was that the more cinnamon consumed, the greater the incense and therefore the greater the pleasure of the diety or the spirit who was being honored.

Robert Cavelier de la Salle

On March 19, 1687, near the Trinity river, Texas, Robert Cavelier de la Salle was murdered by mutinous followers. He had attempted to found a French settlement near Matagorda bay, which he had mistaken for the mouth of the Mississippi, discovered by him in 1682. Disaster after disaster, now culminating in his death, had attended the enterprise. Yet the credit due his former exploit remains undimmed: he had traced the length of a continent's greatest inland waterway, later to become an all-important factor in the development of American travel and communication. Of him the historian Parkman writes: "America owes him an enduring memory; for in this masculine figure she sees the pioneer who guided her to the possession of her richest heritage."

Speed of Comets

The speed of comets, while not perceptible to the casual observer, is much greater than that of the planets, writes Dr. Thomas M. Beck in the Chicago Tribune. Moreover, comets are not limited to any particular part of the sky. They may appear in any part of the heavens and come from any direction. In general they move toward the sun, sweep around it in a wide curve, and then move back in the direction from which they came until they fade into darkness. The most striking thing about them is the fact that as they approach the sun they drag their tails behind them, but as they retreat they push their tails ahead—that is, the tail, instead of following the comet, always points away from the sun.

Cholera Deadly to Swine

Cholera is the most deadly infectious disease of swine. As many as 250 or 300 hogs may be wiped out by it on a large ranch within a few days. It is estimated that this disease causes an annual loss of $25,000,000 to hog raisers in the United States. The symptoms are difficult to describe so that inexperienced stock owners may recognize the disease.

A total of $429 was distributed to members of the Mercer County Sheep Growers' Association for losses in 1936.

QUOTA OF FOUR ALLOTTED CO.

IN CITIZENS MILITARY TRAINING CAMP AT FORT BENJAMIN HARRISON, INDIANA DURING JULY OR AUGUST.

Roy C. Lutes, Florence, Chair-Citizens Military Training Camps, Boone County, has been alloted a quota, by the War Department of 4 young men to be the guests of Uncle Sam at a C. M. T. Camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, during either July or August this summer. Mr. Lutes has detailed information and application blanks and urges eligible youths between the ages of 17 and 24, who are interested in spending 30 days under canvas at government expense to communicate with him without delay. Only early applicants are assured of favorable consideration. Boone county's quota, if not filled in the near future, will be transferred by the War Department to another county.

In explaining the Citizens Military Training Camps. Mr. Lutes said, "these Camps have been conducted annually by the Government for the past 16 years to stimulate citizenship. A youth taking the training is not obligated in any way for future military service. The movement's objective is to improve 'Young America,' physically, mentally and morally. Programs of instruction include various military drills, games and physical exercises during the morning and all forms of athletics in the afternoon. Spiritual and recreational activities are conducted by Chaplains and hostesses. The young men are at all times under the most wholesome influences," Mr. Lutes emphasized.

"The Government foots all the bills," Mr. Lutes continued, "even furnishing rail transportation to and from the student's home. The food is wholesome and exactly what an active youth requires. Statistics prove that practically every young man attending previous C. M. T. Camps has gained weight and improved his chest development."

GRADED LUMBER ASSURES QUALITY

Dependable lumber is essential in providing a substantial framework for a dwelling. Lumber is graded in accordance with quality, the quality being determined by the number of knots, cracks, sap pockets, and other imperfections. The fewer of these the better the grade.

Dryness is essential in lumber, is the less moisture it contains the less amount of shrinkage after the building is thoroughly dried out.

BURNED LIME MAY BE BEST SOURCE

There are communities in many counties in Kentucky where both lime rock and wood occur in abundance. In many of these communities burned lime can no doubt be made the cheapst and most convenient source of lime, especially since burning lime does not require special machinery and since also the farmer can do all of the labor and will need no cash outlay.

If burned lime is used for taking up his Agricultural Conservation Program allowance, the farmer will receive $3 per ton for burned lime where used in compliance with the program. He can in many instances burn lime for less than $3 per ton, according to S. J. Jones of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Under specified conditions, farmers are paid $2.50 per acre for thinning or pruning trees on woodland for forest. Refuse wood resulting from such improvement of forest might be used in burning lime, thus increasing the profit from burning lime still further.

There was a marked increased in the tonnage burned lime used by Kentucky farmers during 1936. County agents' reports show that 947 men in 31 counties used 7,454 tons of burned lime during the year. This was an increase of more than 100 per cent over the tonnage used in 1935. Agents' reports show that 200 limekilns were burned in 23 counties.

Revised circular No. 247 is available to farmers who plan to burn lime. Copies may be had from county agents or from the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

HIGHER PRICES FOR LIVESTOCK

A statement from the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture indicates that higher prices for livestock are in prospect for farmers.

The early spring lamb crop is considered about 10 percent smaller than a year ago, and the lambs are a little later than usual. March prices were the highest since 1929, and prices are expected to continue high during April and early May, or until the main supply from Texas and other states reach the market. The California crop was reduced by unfavorable weather.

Prices of the better grades of slaughter cattle are expected to advance somewhat from the present high levels, and all grades may sell better than last year and may even be higher than in 1935.

Hog prices probably will be maintained during the spring and may be higher in the summer. The prospect is for reduced slaughter during the remainder of the marketing year ending Sept. 30.

The consumer demand for meats has been improved, the statement says. A continuation or improvement of this demand would strengthen the market for all kind of farm products.

DON'T LIME TOBACCO LAND

Applying lime directly to tobacco land probably will do no good and may even decrease the yield and lower the quality, points out W. C. Johnstone of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Lime when used in connection with the growing of legumes in the rotation three to five years previous to tobacco will so improve the general fertility of the soil that improvement may be expected in the tobacco, he says.

BOLT DAMAGES ELSMERE HOME

HAVOC WROUGT BY LIGHTNING PLASTER OFF, LIGHTS AND TELEPHONE OUT—NONE WERE INJURED.

The home of Daniel Hiskle, Main and Buckner avenues, Elsmere, was severly damaged and telephones in the neighborhood put out of commission by a bolt of lightning at 1 a. m. last Thursday morning. None was injured, however.

Mr. Hinkle told Chief Crowell that he was awakened by the sounds of falling plaster and lighting fixtures. Investigating, he discovered that the lightning apparently struck a tin gutter on the roof, traveled down a drain spout into the house and burned out the entire lighting system.

So severe was the charge that plaster in several downstairs rooms was knocked from the walls, fixtures were torn from the ceiling and the roof was bulged.

A fire that started between the kitchen and dining room walls was extinguished by a bucket of water.

Chief Crowell inspected the house thoroughly Thursday but was unable to estimate extent of the damage. No other homes were reported affected.

TRACK AND FIELD MEET TO BE HELD AT HEBRON MAY 5TH

According to a report received at this office Wednesday, a Field and Track meet will be held at the Hebron School, Wednesday, May 5th.

All schools in the county will participate in this event, which will be very interesting.

Each year schools throughout this section are becoming more interested in these events. Many students, through their part in such events have developed in outstanding athletes, and no doubt many more will follow in their footsteps.

HOMEMAKERS STARTING CIRCULATING LIBRARIES

Circulating libraries are being started by local Homemakers Clubs in Boone County, according to Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. Hebron, Petersburg and New Haven have started collecting books and magazines to put in their library. Books are either donated by those interested or purchased by the club.

The local libraries will combine to form a County Homemakers Library after each club has begun one, according to plans made at the last Advisory Council meeting.

4-H GIRLS TO MEET SATURDAY

Four-H club girls taking Room Improvement will meet Saturday, April 24th, 9:30 a. m. at the New Haven School. This will be the first group meeting after the tour conducted by Miss Edith Lacy field agent in 4-H and Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent of Boone, in March.

Plans are being made for each girl taking the Room Improvement project to work on color schemes for their room and to start their scrapbook. All of the girls are using their own room for improvements.

TWO YOUTHS ARE ARRESTED

AT AURORA FERRY AFTER STEALING TWO AUTOMOBILES —ONE AT LEBANON JUNCTION AND ONE AT CARROLLTON.

James Hess, 14, and Robert Green, 15, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., were taken into custody by Sheriffs Cotton and Walton, at the Aurora Ferry last Friday.

The youths were charged with stealing two cars. They first stole a car at Lebanon Junction, driving it to Carrollton, where they exchanged it for a 1934 Ford Sedan, owned by the Carroll County Motor Car Co.

Walton Banks, Sheriff of Carroll County called for the youth, and they were placed in the Carroll County jail, where they will remain until their examining trial.

Mrs. Josie Maurer entertained Sunday in honor of her son, Ralph, it being his 21st birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Maurer, and Jimmy Wondrely, of Florence, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Maurer, Edgar and Edson Maurer.

NAMED AC CAPTAIN OF SOFTBALL TEAM

J. R. STEPHENS PASSES AWAY TUESDAY NIGHT

J. R. Stephens, of the Gunpowder neighborhood died Tuesday night at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 10:30, after a lingering illness.

He leaves his wife, one brother and 7 children.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Florence Christian Church, with interment in the Florence cemetery.

Funeral direction Philip Taliaferro will have charge of funeral arrangements.

REAL ESTATE MOVING SAYS GEO. GRIFFITH

Geo. Griffith called at our office Friday, and stated that he has many good farms listed in Boone County, and also has several buyers for desirable property.

Mr. Griffith also stated that he recently handled the Graddy sale in connection with the R. G. Kinman Realty Co., of Covington, and that Mrs. Graddy was well satisfied with the price obtained for her property.

Mr. Griffith states that real estate is moving fast and that the value of property is increasing each day.

DEMONSTRATION TEAM WORK STARTED

Four-H club boys and girls have started practice on demonstration teams. Contests will be held at Rally Day, May 29th to select the best Home Practice and Farm Practice Team to represent Boone County at Junior Week in Lexington.

A farm practice demonstration on Testing Soil was given by boys at Hebron and Grant last week at local community meetings. According to plans announced at April meetings each of the ten 4-H clubs will have at least one form practice team.

Each club is preparing to have one or more home practice team. The girls will have demonstrations in relation to the projects they are taking in clothing, foods, canning or room improvement, according to Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

NEW HAVEN 4-H CLUB LARGEST IN COUNTY

Boone County's largest 4-H club is the New Haven Boosters Club with a total enrollment of 65 members, according to David Colville, Assistant County Agent.

Thirty-five boys and thirty girls are enrolled in 82 projects for the year 1937. This large membership is due to the cooperation of Mr. A. B. Moore, New Haven school principal, and Misses Lulu Robbins, president and Dorothy Mae Judge, secretary.

Almost all projects have been started and a great amount of interest has been shown. The goals for this year include demonstration teams to represent the Boost-at Boone County 4-H Club Rally Day to be held in Burlington, May 29th. Plans have already been completed for a poultry culling demonstration from this club.

LOCAL HOMEMAKERS TO ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING

Homemakers of Boone County are making plans to attend the District Kentucky Federation of Homemakers meeting to be held in Danville, Friday, May 7th. The district meetings are being awaited with interest because of the cancellation of the state convention last January. Members of local clubs are planning to go to Danville on the train early Friday morning and returning early Friday night.

Miss Mary Sue Wigley, of Alabama will be the main speaker. Mr. Rouper, President of the Virginia State Federation of Homemakers will also be on the program. According to the tentative program, the Campbell County Chorus will present a minstrel.

This will be the first federation meeting that Boone has had an opportunity to attend since they became a member of the state group, according to Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

VOSHELL HAS GOOD RECORD

FORMER BURLINGTON ATHLETE IS MAINSTAY OF EASTERN BASEBALL NINE; BATTED .499 DURING 1936 SEASON.

Starting his second year on the Eastern State Teachers College baseball nine, Leslie "Goose" Voshell has begun where he left off during the 1936 season, when he batted .499 to lead all collegiate sluggers of the state. In the first game of the current season Voshell smacked three singles in four trips against the highly touted pitching of Michigan State. So far this season he has connected for four singles, a double, and a triple in twelve trips to the plate. Besides being a power house at the plate for the Teachers, "Goose" has filled the shortstop position in first class style.

According to many of the local diamond experts, who have watched Earl Coombs, former center fielder of the New York Yankees, Clyde Hatter, Detroit pitcher. Red Phillips and Charley Bryant, class AA pitchers, perform for the Teachers in their college days say that Voshell has the makings of a big timer. His driving power at the plate and fleetness of foot are causing many scouts to take notice judging from several contracts offered the young star during the past few weeks.

Besides being an outstanding baseball player for Eastern, Voshell earned his letter in basketball and has served as head boxing instructor for the College during the past year.

"Goose" attributes his baseball ability to his early training in throwing rocks off the "Woolper" hills; his boxing ability to dodging paper wads in high school and sparring with his roommate for too much publicity in the college paper; and his nickname to his resemblance of "Goose" Goslin, Detroit Tiger star.

Voshell is a former student of Burlington High School, where he made an outstanding athletic and scholastic record. During the summer vacation he toughens up for the college sports season by doing hard work on his father's farm.

SCHOOL STRIKE IS UNDERWAY

FAILURE TO REEMPLOY MARSHALL E. HEARIN CAUSE OF STRIKE—WAS FORMER PRINCIPAL HERE.

Protesting the failure of the school board to reemploy Marshall E. Hearin as principal of the Senior and Junior High School, approximately 200 students went on strike at the Calhoun school last week.

Spokesmen said the pupils locked the doors to the school building and they would not return to classes until the matter was settled.

A number of students marched in parade carrying placards demanding Hearin's reelection. He has been principal for five years. David McEuen, Jr., was named to succeed Hearin.

Mr. Hearin was a former principal of the Burlington High School and made many friends while here.

President of College Escorts Stunned By Quick Success of Dating Bureau

Astounded at the success of Collegiate Escorts, Unincorporated, Preach Smith, president and founder of the organization, said Saturday he and his companions planned to relieve a harassed landlady by moving headquarters to another location and installing a new telephone.

"Our landlady has become so disquieted over the number of telephone calls that have come in since the bureau was opened Friday, we are moving our headquarters to Sterling Owen's apartment," Smith continued. "We'll install a telephone there and someone will be on duty to receive calls during the afternoon and early evening." Owen is the business manager.

Collegiate Escorts is an organization which furnishes its members for social or sporting events. Rates are 50 cents an hour for campus dates—with all expenses paid by the women who sign for the escorts. And there's another stipulation—the charge for full dress attire is 50 cents an hour, whether the escort goes to a night club or sits in Pat hall. But there's been no sitting in Pat hall, according to Smith. All the calls have come from town women and visitors. The college girls seem not to have taken to the idea.

Perhaps the University of Kentucky girls don't have to worry about finding escorts (the boys outnumber the girls two to one at U. K.) or perhaps they are too proud. At any rate, Smith and his companions are not worried about them. He said, "We started this organization primarly for town women and visitors, not for college girls, and we don't care much if members of the latter group don't apply."

Most of the members of the bureau were occupied Saturday night Smith said. In fact they were so occupied that he turned down three requests for dinner dates, telling the would-be patrons that they must give more advanced notice if they wanted service.

The bureau has stipulated that the clients must be of unimpeachable character and that everything is to be "strictly business," so Smith arranges interviews with his prospects to determine whether they are eligible for escorts' services. Then, too, he explains the business plan to them. The plan is simple. It calls for cash in advance. The escort chosen for the occasion presents himself at the address given by the renter. After brief introductions and what-have you, he receives the money which is to pay for the evening's entertainment, together with the stipulated fee of 50 cents an hour.

Yes, sir, strictly business. In fact the escorts insist that there be no love-making—not even a little playful petting. All clients, says Smith, are admonished to behave themselves.

The president of the bureau is a Burlington boy.

NORTHERN KENTUCKY STUDENTS HAVE PART IN EASTERN COLLEGE PLAY

Richmond, Ky., April 16—Eight Northern Kentucky students were included in the cast of "The Merchant of Venice," the third annual Shakespearean play presented by the Little Theatre Club of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College on Tuesday night, April 13, in the Hiram Brock Auditorium at Richmond.

Norbert Rechtin, a junior, of Bellevue, played the role of Bassanio, suitor to Portia. He has taken an active part in the Little Theatre Club, playing in two Shakespearean dramas, "Twelfth Night" and "The Taming of the Shrew," the latter produced last year. He is also president of the organization at the present time.

Charles Warner, a junior, of Covington, played the role of Antonia, a merchant of Venice. He, too, had part in "The Taming of the Shrew" and played in the club's presentatpion of "The Late Christopher Bean" last fall.

James Hart, a junior, of Bellevue played the role of Lorenzo, who was in love with the Jewess, Jessica. Hart, who is business manager of the Eastern chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, also had a part in last year's Shakespearean play.

Kelly Clore, a senior, of Burlington, performed the part of Gratiano, a friend to Antonia and Bassanio. Clore has taken an active part in the club's work since becoming a member, having played in both "Twelfth Night" and "The Taming of the Shrew."

Leonard Stafford, a sophomore, of Covington, and Frank Wilcox, a freshman, of Newport, presented the parts of the Prince of Morocca and the Prince of Arragon, respectively. These two characters were suitors to Portia. This was the first Shakespearean presentation by the Little Theatre Club of Eastern in which they had been cast.

Other Northern Kentuckians who played in "The Merchant of Venice" were Russell Childs, a junior, of Falmouth, who had the part of Selanio, another friends to Antonio and Bassanio; and Ralph Pendery, a sophomore of Ft. Thomas, who played as clerk of Court. Childs played a minior role in the "Taming of the Shrew" last year, and was cast in "The Late Christopher Bean." This was Pendry's first appearance in a play presented by the Little Theatre Club.

"The Merchant of Venice," one of Shakespeare's best known dramas, was produced by a cast of nineteen Little Theatre Club members, under the direction of Pearl Buchenan, director of dramatics at Eastern. The script for the play was prepared by George Skillan, a member of the Stratford-on-Avon Shakespeare Company. Incidental songs and melodies were taken from the traditional music of the play as given in the sixteenth century.

SAMPLE SHOE SHOP HAS BIGGEST DAY

The Quality Sample Shoe Shop, 627 Madison, Ave., Covington had the biggest day's business, Saturday, it has ever recorded, the management reports. The store was crowded all day. So great was the rush that the sales force was unable to take care of many ladies who were eager to participate in the unusual shoe bargains offered.

In appreciation of this record day, the store will repeat the same sale Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week. As usual, all shoes will be taken from the regular stock for this event. See the store's announcement in this issue of The Recorder.

SAFETY COUNCIL TO BE ORGANIZED

IN NINE KENTUCKY COUNTIES —ACTION TOWARD ORGANIZATION INAUGUARTED LAST MARCH 19.

A move to organize a safety council in nine northern Kentucky counties was announced Friday by L. L. Dawkins, executive director of the Covington-Kenton County Safety League.

Action toward organization was inaugurated March 19 by the Sixth District Parent-Teachers Association in a convention at Union, Mr. Dawkins said.

Letters were sent last week to city and county officials in the nine counties, presidents of P.-T. A. organizations and officials of service and civic clubs, Mr. Dawkins said. A meeting will follow in about two weeks.

Counties included in the program are Kenton, Campbell, Boone Gallatin, Pendleton, Owen, Carroll, Bracken and Grant, units presented in the Sixth District P.-T. A. Council.

"Organization on a district basis would increase the potentiality of safety in this northern section of the state," Mr. Dawkins said. "With such an organization northern Kentucky could urge and receive state support in traffic safety.

The P.-T. A. resolution adopted at the meeting recently praised the Covington safety program.

COLLEGE YOUTHS GIVEN PROBATION

SET OF RULES FOR CONDUCT LAID DOWN BY JUDGE KING SWOPE—YOUTH ADMIT GUILT IN SEVERAL ROBBERIES.

Lexington, April 16—Two Transylvania College students were walking the streets today, free of burglary charges, their behavior outlined in a set of rules handed down by Judge King Swope in Fayette Circuit Court.

The youths, Robert E. McCullough, 18, of Erlanger, and Sam McKeldowney, 18, Vanceburg, were given probated sentences yesterday when arraigned in court. They had pleaded guilty on April 8 to the charges of store breaking.

After lecturing the youths, Judge Swope laid down six rules.

1. They must re-enter college.
2. They must engage in student activities.
3. They must attend Sunday school.
4. They must drink no intoxicants.
5. They must be in their rooms at 11 p. m.
6. They must report to him monthly.

OBSERVATIONS

Public Opinion

Those who make a habit of keeping "an ear to the ground" can now observe a phenomenon peculiar, I believe, to America. If not peculiar to America, surely limited to the English speaking democracies.

I am referring to the immense weight of public opinion in this country. Its action can be likened to a slow moving glacier, so slow sometimes that movement is scarcely apparent, yet as inexorable as fate sweeping all before it.

Our Unions found a new weapon—the "sit down" strike. They used it with—to them—gratifying results. The general public at first didn't seem to quite know what to do about it—rather gave the Unions the benefit of the doubt—remembering no doubt, the Mitchells the Morgans and the parade of financial venality sown up by the senate investigations.

As the Unions began to go "hog wild" over the "sit down" opposition began to crystalize. Not, by the way, the opposition of big business, but the opposition of Mr. and Mrs. John Public. It is notable that while the Auto Unions came off first best in the General Motors strike they got the short end of the stick in the Chrysler strike. Public opinion had a chance to "yell" between the two strikes.

Now Henry Ford rounds off from Georgia to the general effect that he will "recognize no union nor, indeed the whole principle of collective bargaining."

Prognostication, to use a two dollar word for prophecy, is the occupation of fools, yet this observer guesses that some idiocy, such as the above, from the world's greatest manufacturer, is all that is needed to swing public opinion back of the Unions again.

The American public as a whole doesn't seem to care much for blind obstinancy—Witness Herbert Hoover ad his three-year cry "Prosperity is just around the corner." They will not like any such "let them eat cake" attitude on the part of Henry Ford either.

Mr. President

In spite of what this observer said in this column a few weeks ago about packing the Supreme Court being the lesser of two evils—evidently not many thinking liberals see it the same way. The only ones who are really with the Presdient are party wheel horses and a few would-be intellectual new dealers.

Overwhelmingly the liberal supporters of the President are turning away from him on this issue. This observer is forced to agree with their logic.

The Court is up with its work. No extra help is needed—because four obstinate old men give evidence of senility, fitting arguments to fit their prejudice instead of the facts, is no reason why five other great jurists should be retired because of age. Justice Holmes, hardly cold in his grave was serving eminently at ninety. Mr. Roosevelt's argument, the element of time—(Those of you heard his broadcast will remember the "now." NOWS) is scarcely valid because the suspicion that he has stirred up by his plan to pack the court will delay action as long as it would take to pass a constitutional amendment.

Perhaps the President has some deep political reason for his persistance in his scheme and will give in at the eleventh hour. If so, it is ill advised for he now is making even his friends wonder at his motives—making them wonder if maybe he has heard Dictator so often that he has concluded to have the game as well as the name.

Some better reason than have been given must be coming forth to disabuse man of us of a vague disquiet that we haven't had before.

And the tragedy is that the real issue is being obscured in personalities. The issue whether we shall have a function responsible democracy or a Judicial olegarchy nullifying legistative and executive acts. The insistence of the President on a pet plan endangers the reform. If he were really inscere in an issue of this kind he would be for any plan whch accomplished the same object.

That's all for this time—except "More good roads for Boone."

Five carloads of hays were ordered by a group of McLean county farmers recently.

A MIRACLE of Silent Freezing

IT SAVES YOU MONEY YEAR AFTER YEAR

ASK ABOUT OUR EASY PURCHASE PLAN

See the modern KEROSENE refrigerator at our showrooms

YOUR own ears will tell you that Servel Electrolux differs basically from all other refrigerators—it's permanently silent! And this is more than a real advantage in itself. It means bigger savings . . . longer service for you. There is no noise, because there are no moving parts in its freezing systems. And for the same reason, there is no wear, no loss of efficiency due to moving, wearing parts. A tiny gas flame does all the work in this remarkable refrigerator. It circulates the refrigerant that, unfailingly, produces food-preserving cold and cubes of ice. Come in today and see the beautiful new 1937 models for yourself. Get the whole story. The more you learn about the modern gas refrigerator, the more you'll understand why owners are so enthusiastic about it.

ANNOUNCES

SPECIAL CLINIC

MAY 3RD TO MAY 8TH INCLUSIVE

I am installing in my office the latest development in diagnosis known as the Radioclast or Human Radio. A special Technician from the Research Laboratories will assist me during this clinic.

Owing to the time required, only a limited number can be accommodated. We therefore urge you to telephone or write early for your appointment.

This modern invention is the result of fourteen years of development and research. It is a precision instrument accurately calibrated, designed for the purpose of measuring the electrical balance of the organs and glands of the body. It is based upon the principle that the human body is an electro-chemical phenomena, and that each tissue has a characteristic vibratory rate. Health results as long as each tissue maintains its normal vibratory rate, while the slightest change sooner or later leads to disease. The Radioclast is so sensitive that it detects any change occurring in the tissue, and thus locates disease, even in its earliest stage.

These Two Facts are Enough

..BUT the Plus-Powered Kelvinator gives you EVERYTHING

Every convenience you would want in an electrical refrigerator is in the new Kelvinator. But that isn't all. Consider the two big facts displayed above. They go down to the very fundamentals of refrigeration. They're what make the really big difference between Kelvinator and others.

They mean better refrigeration service . . . quicker cooling . . . faster freezing . . . longer life . . . bigger money savings for you. You get more real value in the Plus-Powered Kelvinator. Yet it costs no more than ordinary refrigerators. See Kelvinator before you buy!

Only in Kelvinator will you find all of these advantages

- BUILT-IN THERMOMETER...Kelvinator's plus power assures safe refrigeration temperature—always...The built-in thermometer proves this.
- RUBBER GRIDS IN ALL ICE TRAYS ...Kelvinator's plus power gives abundant reserve capacity to provide as much ice as you'll ever need.
- CERTIFICATE OF LOW OPERATING COST...Kelvinator's plus power assures less running time each day . . . only Kelvinator gives you a Certificate of Low Cost of Operation.
- 5-YEAR PROTECTION PLAN...Kelvinator's plus power unit runs less time at slower speed—years of dependable service—certified with a Five-Year Protection Plan

BOONE MAN IS ARRESTED IN AUTO THEFT INVESTIGATION

Warrant Issued in Indiana—Silas Corbin Accused of "Vehicle Taking."

Trials of a ring of automobile thieves operating in Indiana, Kentucky, and Illinois, led into Covington Tuesday when Silas Corbin 50 years old, used auto parts dealer, 1205 Madison Ave., Covington and resident of Boone County was arrested on request of Indiana police authorities.

After remaining in jail the greater part of the day, Corbin was released on $1,000 bond when habeas corpus proceedings were instituted before Judge Johnst Northcutt in Kenton Circuit Court, Covington.

Hearing on the writ was set for Wednesday afternoon. Additional Indiana police will be sent to Covington to offer testimony through which Indiana officials hope to return Corbin to that state.

Corbin was arrested at his home on Burlington Pike, Boone County, early Tuesday by Charles D. Crowe, Kentucky State Patrolman, following a telephone conversation with Indiana police, who said they held a warrant for Corbin's arrest.

Placed in Kenton County Jail, Corbin was being held without bond pending arrival of Indiana officials when Bert J. King, Covington attorney, appeared before Judge Northcutt to apply for Corbin's release.

King, in his application, said there was no warrant, no indictment, or no judgment against Corbin in Kentucky. Bond was signed by C. Dewey Seiler, Covington automobile dealer, from whom Corbin rents the Madison Avenue property.

The temporary writ was issued a few minutes before the arrival of Donald Winn, Indiana State detective, and Police Chief Julius G. Harlow of Seymour.

The Indiana officers produced a bench warrant issued by Judge George W. Long in Circuit Court of Bartholomew County, Ind., for the arrest of Corbin. The warrant charges "vehicle taking." Bond on the warrant was fixed at $10,000.

Win and Chief Harlow said they had one case involving Corbin. Captain Matt Leach of Indiana police said that Corbin is charged with having stolen an automobile from Roland Kamman, Columbus, Ind., according to Associated Press dispatches.

Confronted with the release of Corbin and the habeas corpus proceedings, Winn telephoned to Indiana State Police headquarters. He was told evidence in the case against Corbin would be in Covington in time for the hearing this afternoon.

Winn said efforts would be made to have Corbin return to Indiana voluntarily, but that requisition papers would be obtained, if necessary.

Chief John Putthoff of Covington police recalled that February 21, 1937, police found an automobile, believed to have been stolen, in the rear of Corbin's place of business. This car was released February 24 when Sandefur presented a bill of sale, showing him to be the owner.

Chief Putthoff said he understood the method of operation of the ring was to buy up wrecked cars, thereby obtaining title to them. These titles later would be transferred to stolen cars and the motor numbers altered to fit those of the wrecked cars, Putthoff added.

RADIO USED TO LOCATE DISEASE

RADIOCLAST TO BE FEATURE OF CLINIC AT OFFICE OF DR. C. E. PARSLEY AT ERLANGER, MAY 3RD TO 8TH.

Dr. C. E. Parsley, Chiropractor, of Erlanger, announces that he has installed the latest development in diagnosis, known as the Radioclast or Human Radio, which will be used in his clinic to be held from May 3rd to May 8th inclusive.

According to Dr. Parsley the machine is one of the greatest inventions known, and many medical men have installed this machine as well as the Chiropractor. Mr. Parsley states that the modern Radioclast is not to be compared with former instruments. It now incorporates all of the latest scientific developments of Radio Engineering.

Dr. Parsaley said, "Vibrations can be picked up selectively with the sensitive radio device by tuning them in, as a radio is tuned to a particular broadcasting station. Through a set of vacuum tubes in the instrument, these vibrations are amplified and passed into the photoelectric cell instead of a beam of visible light. This invisible light is caught and focused on sensitive photographic film, from which it can be developed and printed just as ordinary snapshots are made."

The instrument is able to pick up any organ in the body and tell whether that organ is functioning properly, Dr. Parsley says.

He urges that anyone disiring an appointment to write or phone early as only a limited number can be taken care of during the clinic. His advertisement appears on another page of this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sullivan and daughter, spent Saturday in Aurora, Ind.

Local Church Has Supper

More than twenty persons shared a Bishops Crusade Supper Saturday night at the home of D. H. Norris. This supper was a part of a program throughout Southern Methodism to maintain and extend its missionary work.

This get together furnished the social aspects of the movement. Family contributions of money were contributed later. What this congregation did was its part in a churchwide movement under the leadership of our college of Bishops.. When three million of people join in an enterprise, it shall be done.

The Methodists of this community plan to meet once each month solely for the purpose of discussing the program of the local church.

KINMAN SELLS 900 ACRES OF FARM LAND IN WARREN CO.

Col. R. G. Kinman reported this week that he recent sold 900 acres of land for the Columbia Life Insurance Co., of Cincinnati. The property was located near Bowling Green in Warren County. Residents of that section said it was the largest and best sale held in that county for many years.

TATTOOING HALTS CHICKEN STEALING

The Kentucky Poultry Improvement Association anounces that chicken stealing has almost ceased in regions where the tatooing system is being used. Twenty-two hundred farmers now are using a tattoo brand on the webs of the wings of their chickens. This brand cannot be removed, and makes the identiifcation of ownership easy for buyers and law enforcement officers. Chicken stealing had become prevalent, especially in the vicinity of cities.

ALBERT H. BROCKMAN

Albert H. Brockman, aged 66 years, died suddenly Wednesday night while seated in a chair at his home No. 438 Commonwealth Ave., Erlanger. Coroner Dr. J. P. Riffe pronounced death due to heart trouble.

He is survived by one daughter, Miss Eloise Brockman, three sons, Robert, Nathan and George Brockman, one sister, Miss Mame Brockman.

The pallbearers were R. C. Gaines C. C. McCracken, E. Gschwind, H. P. Day, Vernon Nix and Stanley Crouch.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday morning at 10 o'clock by the Rev. R. D. Martin at the Taliaferro Funeral Home, interment following in Highland cemetery.

ROAD SURVEY IS COMPLETED IN COUNTY

During the past few weeks, Prentice Arnold, government surveyor of state and county roads has been travelling the roads of this county. This week his work in Boone County was completed.

Mr. Arnold stated that roads in Boone County were in very bad condition and are badly in need of repair. According to other counties which have been surveyed, our county is at the bottom of the list.

Data is being collected in all counties and will be in the state office at Frankfort by the latter part of October, after which a map will be drawn of all county and state highways. It is thought that several more men will be added to the list in order that this material will be in the state office by the specified time.

BASEBALL CLUB HOLDS MEETING

FRIDAY NIGHT WITH 6 TEAMS REPRESENTED — SCHEDULES FILLED OUT FOR NEXT THREE WEEKS.

Last Friday night six baseball teams were represented at a meeting of the Boone County Baseball Association held in the County Court Clerk's office at Burlington.

President, C. D. Benson presided at the meeting. Schedules were made for the next three weeks, with part of the teams playing on Sunday and part on Saturday.

Much interest was shown at the meeting and it is believed that before the season is over many good baseball teams will be developed. Fans are watching with interest the developments of this organization. Competition promises to be keen.

Here's the way Saturday teams will play for the next three weeks: Burlington at Belleview; Big Bone Bob & Gene's; Hebron at Petersburg.

Saturday, May 8: Belleview at Hebron; Bob & Gene's at Burlington; Petersburg at Big Bone.

Saturday, May 15: Burlington at Petersburg; Big Bone at Belleview; Hebron at Bob & Gene's.

Sunday, May 9: Bob & Gene's at Belleview; Big Bone at Petersburg.

Sunday, May 16: Petersburg at Belleview; Bob & Gene's at Big Bone.

TRACK AND FIELD MEET

AT HEBRON MAY 5—TROPHIES WILL BE AWARDED THE WINNING SCHOOL AND THE RUNNERS-UP.

The schools of Boone County are sponsoring a track and field meet for the first time, to be held in the afternoon of May 5th at Hebron.

For years there has been talk of such an athletic event, but this is the first time it has been actually carried out. The Boone County Athletic Conference has stimulated the broader interest in athletic competition. The meet will begin at one oclock (slow time) and will be open to the public without charge.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning school and to the runner-up school based upon the point system of counting totals. In addition to these school trophies, there will be individual awards to boys winning in each event, and a relay trophy. These awards will be valuable, but the honor which is carried with winning will be of more benefit.

Fololwing is a list of the events:

Track events—
100 Yard dash.
220 Yard dash.
440 Yard Run.
880 Yard Run.
1 Mile Run.
880 Yard Relay.
Field Events—
Running Broad Jump.
High Jump.
Shot Put (12 lb. shot).
Discus Throw.
Pole Vault.

Each school may have two entrants in each event. This means that approximately 100 boys from the six high schools in Boone County will actually be given an opportunity to participate. Many others have taken part in preliminary training in the various schools, thus giving some conception of the physical benefits which will come to the boys in Boone County.

SIGN-UP URGED BY WOOL POOL

LOCAL WOOL POOL OLDEST AND BEST ONE IN STATE—STRICTLY SELLING ORGANIZATION—47,839 POUNDS SOLD IN 1936.

The Boone County Wool Pool would like to have 100% of the wool growers sell their wool thru the County Pool this year, according to H. E. White, President. The larger the cdip the greater the consideration the buyers will give when the wool is sold.

The Boone County Wool Pool is the oldest and one of the most successful in the state. It is operated 100% by Boone County wool growers themselves. It is strictly a selling organization with the entire pooled clip offered for sale each year around June 10th or about the time shearing work has been completed. The clip is delivered in the presence of fellow growers who are interested in seeing that every grower gets equal and fair treatment.

Forty-seven thousand, eight hundred and thirty-nine pounds of wool were sold last year for $18,-332.82 or an average of $39.50 per hundred for clear and $35.50 per hundred for rejections. Wool prices so far this year are much higher than last year and many growers are expecting between $45.00 and $50.00 per hundred or even higher. The pool thru selling of a large volume of high quality wool has always been able to sell $1.00 or more higher than regular market price on the day sold.

Sacks and twine for cooperators may be secured at the following ing places:

Gulley & Pettit's store, Burlington; Tanner's Feed Store, Florence; Hebron Bank, Hebron; Lusby's Store, Walton.

The wholesale price of the sacks is 35 cents each and paper twine ½ cent each. Growers receive 35 cents each for all sacks delivered in good condition when wool is delivered.

Cooperators should list their flocks immediately with their precinct committeemen listed below or with H. E. White, Burlington precinct or Lillard Scott, Grant, precinct.

Precinct committeemen are as follows: O. K. Powers, Verona, B. W. Franks, Walton; Ezra Blankenbeker, Union, C. F. Blankenbeker, Florence, Lloyd McGlasson, Constance; Clint Riddell, Hebron; Charles Stevens, Petersburg; Lillard Scott, Grant, O. Y. Kelly, Carlton, H. E. White, Burlington, John Connely, Beaver.

NOTICE

To all people in our community and vicinity: May 2nd is the day set aside in our State for everyone to go to Sunday School. We wish to give all people in our town a cordial invitation to come to our Sunday School. We sincerely nope that you will come and worship with us. —Albert W. Weaver, Supt.

Golden Wedding Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stephenson, of Burlington celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, April 25th.

All of their eight children were present and seated with them at the table for the noon meal. Six of the ten grandchildren and one of the three great grandchildren were present.

The table was decorated in gold and held a beautiful wedding cake and luscious things to eat. They received many nice and useful gifts including a wedding ring presented to Mrs. Stephenson by the children.

Those present were: Rev. and Mrs. Demoisey, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stephenson, Mrs. Frank Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Stephenson and James Walker Marston, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ambrose, John Ambrose, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown and three sons, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wingate and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Goble Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Rube Houston, Jim Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ryle and son, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fisher, Orpha Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Brown, Miss Mary Mylmn, and Rebecca Stephenson.

All departed wishing them many more years of health and happiness.

CONTESTS ARE HELD

IN MUSIC AND SCHOLARSHIP—LIBBY HOLBROOK OF BURLINGTON SCHOOL RECEIVES SUPERIOR RATING.

It will be of interest to readers of The Recorder to know that northern Kentucky schools are giving opportunity for boys and girls to compete in music and scholarship as well as in athletic competition.

Thursday and Friday, April 22 and 23 were set apart for the contests in these phases of school work. The Highland High School was host to the music contestants, while Erlanger entertained the scholarship contestants.

In the afternoon of April 22, the vocal solos, duets, quartets, etc., were rendered at Highlands, while choruses and instrumental divisions were held in the evening. Boys and girls in the music contests were ranked according to quality as superior, excellent, good fair and poor. Those who received a rank of supriore, which is the highest ranking anyone could receive, will go to the University of Kentucky at Lexington Friday and Saturday, April 30th and May 1, to compete in the state contests.

A feature of the state Music Fesival will be the All-State Chorus which will sing Friday afternoon. This All-Kentucky group of high school singers will number many hundred. It will be an inspiration to sing with the best in the state under the direction of a nationally famous vocal director.

Libby Holbrook of the Burlington school received a superior rating which entitles her to a trip to Lexington. Her vocal instructor, Miss Lillian Faber, will accompany her Friday. Louise Elkins of the Hebron school also received the same rating. These students are both seniors in their schools.

The local school had entrants in all the tests at Lloyd also.

At Lloyd on Friday representatives in the various scholastic subjects met for their competitive tests. These were so arranged as to be administered at the same time, thus eliminating a long session. It will be some time before the results of these tests will be known, since all test papers were sent sealed to the University of Kentucky to be graded. Much credit should go to the State University for its helpful work in cooperation with the high schools through its Department of Extension.

Through contests such as these the spirit of high achievement is maintained in our schools. The men and women of tomorrow who hold places of responsibility will come mostly from the groups who were represented in these recent contests if we are to judge the future by the past.

You better get your reserved seats for "Pleased to Meetcha" if you want to be pleased Friday evening, May 7. Call the school, Tel. Bur. 18.

OHIO RIVER TO REACH 40 FEET

FAMILIES ARE DRIVEN FROM LOWLANDS IN UPRIVER TOWNS—NO DAMAGE EXPECTED HERE.

New floods for the second time this year, swept into the Ohio Valley Tuesday, forcing hundreds to flee from their homes in the lowlands along the Ohio River.

Heavy rains Monday night and Tuesday added to the flood menace in the valley, which has only partly recovered from the record flood of last January and February.

It was reported that Pomeroy, Ohio, was preparing for its third inundation in the past 14 months. It was feared that the greatest damaged would be at Wheeling, W. Va. Residents were warned to prepare for a crest of 46 feet at Wheeling.

According to weather forecasts it is not thought that the river will do any damage to this section, and that the cres is not expeced to reach over forty feet here.

Jury Money Late

A. D. Yelton, Circuit Clerk states he is at a loss to explain why the money to pay jurors for the April term of court has not been sent in by the State Treasurer. The court ordered sufficient money paid to Yelton to pay the grand and petit juries, and two copies of this order have been certified to the auditor, but no money has been received from them.

The delay is out of the ordinary, because for the last two years the jurors have been paid in cash for their services when they were dismissed.

We are informed that checks will be mailed the jurors as soon as the necessary funds are received by the clerk.

LLOYD SOCIETY TO MEET

The Sophia Webster Lloyd Memorial Society will meet Saturday, May 1st at the home on Shelby St., for an all-day meeting.

On account of the serious illness of Mrs. Nanny Rouse, there was no meeting in April, but much to the delight of the society, Mrs. Rouse has returned to her home on Burlington pike. Everyone wishes for her a speedy recovery.

The society has placed the bronze marker on the boyhood home of Prof. J. Uri Lloyd.

Don't forget, Saturday May 1st.

12 SEED CORN DEMONSTRATIONS

EXPECTED TO INCREASE CORN YIELDS IN BOONE COUNTY—EIGHT DEMONSTRATIONS BY UTOPIA CLUB MEMBERS.

Twelve hybrid corn demonstrations to be conducted this year are expected to show Boone County corn growers new ways of increasing corn yields according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Eight of these demonstration will be conducted by Utopia Club members and four farmers cooperating in agricultural community improvement programs of work.

Hybrid seed corn is a cross between pedigreed varieties to produce hybrid vigor and increased yields. The strains used in the demonstration are double crossed by Prof. E. J. Kinney, of the college, and have proven superior in yields compared with commonly used varieties.

Utopia members who will conduct demonstrations with strains No. 69 in their projects this year are Wilton Stephens, B. C. Stephens, Wm. Moore, Robert Graves, Lloyd Siekman, Grant Maddox, Virgil Vice, and John E. Crigler. Community program of work cooperators who will conduct demonstrations with strains No. 69, 72, 76, 75, 79 and 82 are Harry Tanner, Dave Gaines, Noel Walton and D. H. Norris.

Utopia Club members have completed arrangements among members for a cooperative breeding project in the production of hybrid seed corn. This project, if successful, should produce enough seed to produce and plant 300 acres of hybrid strain No. 69 in 1938. The price of seed of strain No. 69 is expected to be around $8.00 per bu. and a bushel of this seed ordinarily will plant around 10 acres. Increased yields resulting from these seed is expected to create a large demand for hybrid seed corn.

Conservative Operation By Highway Department Brings Refund to Counties

Frankfort, Ky., April 28—By virtue of conservative operation in the administration of the Rural Highway Department, each county in Kentucky will have additional funds for rural highway work this year. Less than one-half of the amount allotted the Department for administration purposes was withdrawn from the budget during the last Fiscal year. The unexpended fund, amounting to $113,-164.56 has been apportioned among the 120 counties in the State, Cecil Williams, Rural Highway Commissioner, announced today.

Boone County's apportionment of the refund adjustment was $692.70, which with the $7,386.87 unexpended balance from the 1936-37 allotment added to the $10,949.90 set up from the 1937-38 program gives the county a total available allotment of $19,029.17.

When the Rural Highway Department was inaugurated April 1, 1936, after the General Assembly had made available $2,000,000.00 for use on secondary and feeder roads, 10 per cent of the fund or $200,000.00 was set up for administration purposes, only 4.6 per cent was used. Administration costs included salaries of Central and District office employees, traveling expenses, office equipment, workmen's compensation and incidental items.

When the Department's Fiscal year ended March 31, the administration division had used but $86-835.44. Mr. Williams immediately began the refund adjustment.

At the end of the year the Rural Highways Department had actually expended in cash for road work $1,117,759.38, constructing more than three thousand miles of grade and drain, two thousand miles of surfacing along with the erection and repair of a large number of bridges.

Nearly $800,000.00 allotted and obligated to the county but unexpended due to the fact that the 1936-1937 program was late starting will be available for road construction this year. Of the $1,-800,000.00 set asid for actual road work, $682,445.29 was not used. This with the $113,164.56 unexpended funds in the administration budget gave an actual refund of $795,609.85.

Engineers of the Rural Highway Department are now busy contacting county officials and laying plans for the 1937-1938 program. Contracts for these programs which include new work along with the completion of projects started last year have been entered into with the following counties Fourth District, Breckinridge, Hancock; Fifith District, Boone, Campbell, Gallatin ,Oldham, Pendleton, and Trimble; Sixth District, Bourbon, Boyle, Clark, Fayette, Jessamine, Madison, Scott, Woodford; Ninth District, Clinton, Rockcastle.

The programs arranged in these counties have been approved and work is expected to start immediately. Work in all counties in the State will begin as soon as the programs have been arranged, contracts made and approved by the Commissioner of Highways.

WALLIS IN HIGH FAVOR

The Executive Committee of the County Judge's Association of Kentucky met this week at the Kentucky Children's Home Finding Society, at Lyndon, Kentucky, and during a lull in the proceedings the Board members begun the discussion of an article in a recent issue of the Advocate, relative to the fitness of the Hon. Frede-A. Wallis for the Presidency of Centre College. It so happened that two of the Board were graduates of Centre College, namely, Judge Charles T. Corn, of Harrodsburg and Judge Ben F. Ewing, of Louisville. They spoke in hearty approval of the name of Mr. Wallis, while they were joined in their endorsement of him by Dr. Homer Carpetner, pastor of the First Christian Church, Louisville, and who formerly held pastorates in Central Kentucky and is well acquainted with Centre College and the great work the institution has done and is continuing to do in the most admirable manner under Acting President Dr. J. H. Hewlett. Hon. Barry Bingham, now editor and publisher of the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, whose brilliant father, a member of the Board of Trustees of Centre College, is now American Ambassador to the Court of St. James, also strongly endorse him. Each of these four gentlemen spoke in the highest terms of Mr. Wallis and readily endorsed his name as a highly suitable person person for the vacancy that now exists. Mr. Wallis has had large experience in dealing with men and matters and he is a business executive of great ability and as we see it would make a President of the famous, old institution, that would still further place her in the limelight of world affars.

THE GARDEN

THE FIRST INSECTS

By John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture

Perhaps the part of philosophy would be to welcome the vegetable insect pest as adding zest to gardening, but most gardeners consider them a bore. The fact is, though, that bringing the garden crops past insects attacks does give one a sense of achievement, to say nothing of the satisfaction the succored vegetables themselves provide.

The first few early insects are here, or soon will be, and if they are to be held in check, war upon them must be begun before they have had an opportunity to multiply.

Among the first, are the plant lice on cabbage. In fact, they doubtless were present when the plants were set, particularly on the so-called, "frost-proof" plants. An excellent thing to have done would have been to dip the plants in strong "tobacco tea" made by steeping trash tobacco in lukewarm water ,or else in nicotine made of Black Leaf 40 and water. Even then, the cabbage should be watched carefully and at the first sign of curled-under leaves, the sign that lice are present, spraying with tobacco decoction should be done. A sprayer with an upturned nozzle should be used, to direct the spray against the lice.

If home-made spray is used, some experimenting needs to be done, to arrive at a spray of killing strength. When commercial tobacco extract is used, the directions on the container should be followed. If complete killing does not result in 30 minutes, a second application should be made.

Another cabbage pest now come is the green worm. A chewing insect, its control is to kill it with poison dust, made of Paris Green, one part; lead arsenate, two parts, and fine lime 8, all parts by weight. The dust may be sifted on through a sack, but using a dust gun is better. When the cabbage starts to head, the non-poisonous insecticide Rotenone should replace the dust just described.

Irish potatoes will shortly show first signs of Colorado beetles and black flea-beetles. The control for the Colorado beetle is dusting with a mixture of calcium arsenate and lime, one part to 6, or spraying with lead arsenate and water, two level tablespoons per gallon.

For the flea-beetles, the control is Bordeaux mixture, applied with a sprayer to break it into a mist and cover the leaf surface completely. If both insects are present together, lead arsenate or calcium arsenate may be added to the Bordeaux, to make a dual purpose spray.

THE LITTLE RED HEN

Said the little red rooster, "Gosh all hemlock; things are tough,
Seems that worms are getting scarcer, and I cannot find enough.
What's become of all those fat ones is a mystery to me;
There were thousands through that rainy spell but now where can they be?"

The little red hen who heard him didn't grumble or complain,
She had gone through lots of dry spells, she had lived through floods of rain;
So she flew up on the grindstone, and she gave her claws a whet,
As she said, "I've never seen the time there were no worms to get."

She picked a new and undug spot; the earth was hard and firm;
The little rooster jeered, "New ground! That's no place for a worm."
The little red hen just spread her feet, she dug both fast and free,
"I must go to the worms," she said. "the worms won't come to me."

The rooster vainly spent his day, through habit, by the ways
Where fat worms had passed in squads, back in the rainy days.
When nightfall found him supperless, he growled in accents rough,
"I'm hungry as a fowl can be, conditions sure are tough."

He turned then to the little red hen and said, "It's worse with you,
For you're not only hungry but you must be tired too.
I rested while I watched for worms, so I feel fairly perk,
But, how are you? Without worms too? And after all that work?"

The little red hen hopped to her perch and dropped her eyes to sleep.
And murmured, in a drowsy tone, "Young man, hear this and weep,
I'm full of worms, and happy, for I've dined both long and well,
The worms are there, as always—but I had to dig like H - - l!"

I LOVE MY WIFE—BUT OH! YOU KID!

OBSERVATIONS

The Coronation

I have a feeling that this column is going to be longer this time than it should be. To one interested in Historical phenomina and social customs with a historical background, the English Coronation next month opens up a subject so big it is difficult to limit ones remarks.

Perhaps the most significant thing about the coronation is that millions will be spent to dignify a sham; because in spite of pomp and circumstance, the parading of England might, all the outward symobls of power the English King in fact has less legal power than our Vice President-he, at least, is potentally a President.

The power of the English King is only that of his personality in so far as his governmental functions are concerned. It is true that th late King George is supposed to have exerted a powerful influnce on his times and actually did shape History to his liking. If so, it was only because of his remarkable personal life which gave him caracter to bolster his powers of persuasion. He had not an iota of legal power to accomplish anything. All such powers are vested in the house of Commons and delegated by them to the Cabinet which is elected from their number.

We, Americans, can call the Coronation a sham, and so it is from a legal sense; yet for the English people it is more real than any instition they have, since all their institiuons, legal and social, stem from that. The Kingship is a legal fiction like our own fiction that all men are created equal. We know they are not, yet, because of this fiction we do achieve a measure of human equality impossible without this fiction.

In like manner, the "opwerless" King is by his own being actually the most powerful force in the British empire. He is the British Empire. Without him there would be no such thing. Except India and a few purely Crown Colonies, Great Britian has no hold on Canada, the Dominion of South Africa, Australia, at all, save by their loyalty to the person of the Crown—(Which by the way, partly explains the attitude of the English to Mrs. Simpson.)

Such an indefinable state of affairs would be impossible in America. It would be impossible in any country save in one whose people are as self disciplined and bound by tradition as is England.

Most Americans do no know, for example, that England has no written constitution. Their constitution is an abstraction consisting of all the laws passed by Parliment. Every law—including the bill of rights—could in theory be nullified by any parliment anytime. The thing that makes such a theory only a theory is the fact of British temperament.

Here were are quarrelling over the question of whether or not we will pack the Supreme Court. The British need no such check on their legislative actions and would not tolerate one. All of which leads one to wonder why it is that we cannot trust ourselves; why we must have a body of men whose sole duty is to say "No, No, Naughty, Naughty. Bad little legislature do it this way."

This observer wonders if the difference between British and American temperaments and Institutions doesn't lie in their History.

England at one time was a melting pot as we are now. For several hundred years, however, England has been a homo-genius people. America still is a melting pot—still in the process of digesting some racial elements which may prove to be indigestible.

That's one phase of it. Another is, that people who leave a country to settle in a new country are the progressive, the courageous, the very able who find themselves hampered, as well as the misfits, the failures the lunatic fringe. In other words, all elements except those who have more reason for staying than leaving—except the cowardly, who never venture anything new). England had been exporting the adventurers in her population for generation after generation.

For better or worse American blood is still rather turbulent. There is a lot of yeast in our blood. In England it has largely bubbled out.

Evidence of the fact that it is still bubbling in America, shows in our crime statistics, in our mania for speed, our desire for new models instead of old, in all other evidences of unrest and instability. Some day we too will slow down. The heavy hand of conservatism will have grasped all things into their control. Those of us who still have within us the urge of the pioneer will have to emmigrate or dissolve into those furitive failures, we see on city streets—those who cannot adjust themselves to the changes in socley.

Happily those times are not yet. But they will be and it behooves us to remember that as we plan for the generations who follow us.

That's all for this time.
